The next regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the Commercial club rooms on Thursday evening, Dec. 19, instead of on Monday afternoon, as heretofore announced. An appropriate Christmas program has been arranged and it is particularly desired that all members be present.

One of the most beautiful of all Christmas cantatas, "The Heavenly Child," will be presented under the direction of Miss Evelyn Grindeland, with Miss Laura Forde as pianist. The following ladies will compose the chorus: Mrs. Willis Akre, Misses Blanche Johnson, Ausilga Sorenson, Una Nelson, Ione Thorson, Edna Larson, Carine Landahl, Ella Miller, Zella Zeh, Marian Miller, Gerda Mortenson, Dora Holmes, Viola Nepper, Amelia Hoorn, Josie Weeks, Marian Murray, Doris Brumund, Dorothy Miller, Mary Jackson, Evelyn Cornforth and Henrietta Isaacson.

TAXPAYERS ASK LIGHT FOR CLUB

COUNCIL CHAMBERS SCENE OF LIVELY DISCUSSION TUESDAY EVENING.

ORDER STILL HOLDS GOOD

SPEAKERS FAIL TO BUDGE DETERMINATION, ALTHOUGH STRONG APPEAL IS MADE.

The question of the city furnishing free lights to the Commercial club was up for general discussion again at the meeting of the council Tuesday night, the chamber being filled to overflowing with business men and taxpayers generally, the greater number of whom were members of the Commercial club or the Merchants and Business Men's association.

E. O. Mogenson presented a petition signed by a large number of the members of the last named organizations asking that the council give free light to the club as the association realized the importance and good work it was doing. He elaborated to some extent on the many good points of co-operation of all to make this a better city, pointing out that there is a need for the Commercial club.

Consideration Is Small.

Perl W. Mabey, secretary of the Commercial club stated that the bills for the past three months amounted to less than $100 and that the club had taken steps to use a minimum of current hereafter, having installed individual lights instead of a master system. He gave the following list of associations and enterprises which have made use of the club rooms to the advantage of the good of the city:

Tri-state Flood Control
Liberty Loan Drives, 1, 2, 3, 4.
Patriotic meetings
Old Skating Rink
War Stamp Drives
Red Cross meetings
Recruiting
Food Administration
Safety Commission
Bohemian War Society
Food Price Committee
Health Board
Woman's Club
Wolf Riddance Committee
Conventions
Merchants' Association
Potato Growers' Assn.
Y. M. C. A.
Town of North
County Agent

Not a Square Deal.

Math. Barzen representing both the Merchants' association and the Commercial club, and speaking also for the taxpayers as a whole, then gave a very forceful and enlightening statement of facts, recounting how when the city electric plant had several times been closed down for various reasons the flour mill came to the city's rescue and closed down its plant in order that there might be power for other purposes. In doing this the mill had lost hundreds of dollars, but now when he asked for co-operation from the city he was really rebuked for his efforts.

Amounts to $150 a Year.

The total light bill for any year for the club would not exceed $150, which would not cost any person over three cents each per year. The flour mill alone has suffered a greater loss every year by shutting down to give the taxpayers continuous service.

Personalities were thick at times during the discussion and President O. L. Ihle, to avert further remarks which might not be proper, ordered others matters up for discussion and the council adjourned without an opportunity to settle the question.

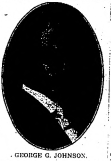
MERCHANTS TO START ONE-TRIP DELIVERIES

STRICT ADHERENCE TO CARRY-YOUR-PARCEL PLAN FOUND INCONVENIENT.

After having for nearly a year followed strictly the government's suggestion that all deliveries of parcels be stopped, the merchants of Thief River Falls are now making plans for re-establishing the practice. The public did not take kindly to the idea at any time but no complaint was made while the ruling was regarded as a war measure. Now that the war is over it is demanded that deliveries be resumed.

The merchants will comply on a modified scale. One man or concern will be given the contract for delivering for all business houses, using preferably a truck in order that the work may take as little time as possible. If the plan now under consideration is carried out there will be one delivery per day to all parts of the city. Notice will be given of the time orders must be in if they are to be included in that day's trip and no diviation from this rule will be made.

The merchants are naturally desirous of doing everything in their power to please the public, but find it inadvisable to go back to the former costly system. The proposed plan will be a great convenience and one that will be fully appreciated.



GEORGE G. JOHNSON.

Have a Dollar Ready for the Red Cross Fund

SOLICITORS WILL START THE ROLL CALL NEXT MONDAY MORNING.

Next week will be known thruout the entire country as Red Cross Christmas Roll Call week.

Everyone should do their share to make it so in fact.

Every man, woman and child in the city of Thief River Falls and Pennington county, as well as everywhere in this land of freedom, should join the Red Cross for 1919.

Have a dollar ready for the solicitors next Monday when they call—a dollar for each adult in the family. Children are to be enrolled thru the schools as Juniors at 25 cents each.

The war is over but the work of the Red Cross goes on forever. Fires, floods and all kinds of disasters come and call for Red Cross assistance.

Here at home there must be relief for families of those who have gone to war. Money will be needed continuously to care for such cases.

Once more: Be ready with your dollar next Monday—men and women of Thief River Falls and Pennington county.

POPULATION DROPS 400 IN TWO YEARS

THIEF RIVER NO WORSE OFF THAN NEIGHBORING CITIES, HOWEVER.

John H. Ley, publisher, is busy delivering the 1918 directory of the city of Thief River Falls. The book contains 2,120 names of persons over 18 years of age, which multiplied by 2½, the usual rate of computation, shows the city's population to be 5,300. Two years ago a population of 5,702 was indicated by the same authority, showing a falling off of almost exactly 400.

Mr. Ley publishes directories at St. Cloud, Willmar, Crookston, Brainerd, Bemidji, Fergus Falls, Alexandria, Breckenridge and Wapheton, and states that in practically every case there is a slump. At St. Cloud a considerable increase is noted, this being due to the large industrial enterprises locating in that city during the past two years.

In Thief River Falls the Johnsons are still in the majority, there being 40 answering to this name. The Andersons and Olsons come next, there being 33 of the former and 31 of the latter. The Smith family, usually so numerous in American municipalities, are here represented by but seven members. Only one Jones appears, although this is also one of the most common names.

Considerable more than one-half of our people are church members, the total owing such affiliation being 2,982, divided as follows: Roman Catholic church, 900; Norwegian Lutheran, 500; Zion Lutheran, 400; German Lutheran, 300; Our Savior's Lutheran, 270; Methodist Episcopal, 175; Presbyterian, 167; Swedish Lutheran, 140; Scandinavian Mission, 100; Swedish Mission, 40.

During the time that Mr. Ley was collecting the data for the directory he noted that a large number of families were moving in. He was in a position to note this to a certainty as the residents are listed in rotation according to their place of residence, this supplementary list forming a valuable addition to the directory.

The directory is gotten up in Mr. Ley's usual painstaking style and is a reliable and valuable reference work.

Rumor Unfounded.

During the past week a rumor has been circulated that Hardy Bothun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bothun, was killed in action in France. Mr. Bothun states that there is absolutely no foundation for the rumor. The last letter received from Hardy was written on Oct. 22 and at that time he was in perfect health.

DEATH CLAIMS GEO. G. JOHNSON

BANKER SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA, FOLLOWING INFLUENZA ATTACK.

WELL KNOWN IN SECTION

REMAINS TAKEN TO RED WING FOR BURIAL BY MEMBERS OF FAMILY.

George G. Johnson, vice president of the First and Peoples' State bank and one of the most widely known men in northwestern Minnesota, died at his home in this city last Friday noon of pulmonary pneumonia. He was 43 years of age at the time of his death. The body was on Saturday night taken to Red Wing for burial in the Johnson family plot in Oakwood cemetery.

Death Follows Relapse.

Deceased was taken down with Spanish influenza about a month ago but apparently recovered and was attending to business as usual when he was again attacked. On Thanksgiving day he developed a cold and from that time onward he grew gradually worse until the end. He put up a wonderful fight but in spite of his own determination and the best care and advice obtainable he was unable to get the upper hand of the disease.

Was Minnesota Boy.

George Gerard Johnson was born at Frontenac, Goodhue county, Minn., July 1, 1875, where he resided until 1893, when the family moved to Red Wing. After going through the public schools and receiving a business training, the young man came north, going first to Argyle and later to Warren, in the vicinity of which city he worked during the summer as a harvest hand. Finally settling in Warren he was made leader of the band, having from boyhood taken a great interest in organizations of this kind. He was deputy auditor of Marshall county for three years and left that position to become affiliated with the First National bank of Warren. Coming to Thief River Falls in the spring of 1912 he became connected with the First National bank as assistant cashier, going later to the First State bank as cashier. He remained in this position until the merger of the First State and the Peoples' State banks, when he was made one of the vice presidents of the consolidated institution.

Married at Warren.

He was married on Jan. 24, 1906, at Warren, to Miss Lucile Shaw, who with three children survives him. The latter are Maxine Elizabeth, 11, George Wayne, 9, and Helen Lucille, 2½ years of age. Besides these the following members of his immediate family survive: His mother, Mrs. Hans Johnson, residing at Red Wing; six sisters, Mrs. J. J. Picha of Kenyon; Mrs. P. H. Clayden, Mrs. C. A. Rassmussen and Mrs. R. W. Steaffens, all of Red Wing; Mrs. H. V. Thompson, St. Paul and Miss Maude Johnson, Owatonna. One brother, Henry M. Johnson, is connected with the state railroad and warehouse commission and residing at New Ulm. The father and one brother died some years ago.

The remains were accompanied to Red Wing by the mother and brother of deceased, who arrived here a short time before his death. H. A. Brumund, of the Elks lodge, went down to attend the funeral as the representative of that fraternity. Dr. O. F. Mellby, for years a neighbor of the deceased, also stopped at Red Wing, after which he continued on to Chicago.

Mr. Brumund returned Wednesday and reported that the funeral was held in Bethel Memorial Chapel, Rev. Knickerbocker officiating. A quartet composed of Misses Dunsmore and Fredericks and Messrs. Gross and Peterson, sang at the services, there being also a beautiful solo number by Miss Dunsmore.

$12,000 RAISED IN WELFARE CAMPAIGN

THIS IS EXPECTED TO BE TOTAL WHEN ALL REPORTS ARE IN.

Pennington county is not going to make its quota in the War Welfare campaign, but at that it is next the top in the district of which J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls is chairman. Polk county heads the list, being the only one thus far reported as having made its allotment.

According to Treasurer Willis Akre there has been reported $10,037.17 by the different chairmen. Of this amount Thief River Falls citizens subscribed $4,139.60, the collections by wards being as follows: First, $1,561.60; Second, $900.40; Third, $650; Fourth, $1,027.67. To this amount should be added the $69.50 collected among the teachers, as well as the $274.50 subscribed by the employes of the railroads, which would bring the city's contributions up to $4,483.60.

A number of the township chairmen have not yet completed their canvass but have reported the results so far as they have gone. Following are the figures: Reiner, $161.50; Rocksbury, $624.30; Black River, $394.25; Hickory, $112; Norden, $276; Silverton, $139; North, $373; Mayfield, $96; Polk Center, $177.50; Deer Park, $198; Wyandotte, $203; Smiley, $204; Cloverleaf, $60; Kratka, $400; Bray, $387; Highlanding, $393; Sanders, $245.70; River Falls, $244.80; Goodridge, vilage and township, $214; Star, $225.50; Numedal, $96; St. Hilaire village, $330.25.

Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, in charge of the Victory Girls, will report in the neighborhood of $1,200, while Mrs. L. G. Larson, directing the Victory Boys, expects her proteges to reach $600. This appears to be something of a difference until it is understood that there are nearly three times as many girls as boys at work in the county.

BADLY HURT WHEN CHEMICALS EXPLODE

An explosion in the chemical laboratory of the college attended by Miss Mary V. Prichard at Evanston, Ill., was responsible for the loss of her right eye last week. She also sustained other minor burns and cuts. Her father, W. W. Prichard, Sr., left at once for Evanston and word from him is to the effect that while the injuries are serious, he expects his daughter to be able to return home by the end of the week.

Miss Prichard was experimenting in the manufacture of chlorine gas when the accident occurred. She had turned away from a glass container in which had been placed the partly completed mixture and was reading over the instructions when a fellow-student took up the experiment. The latter, it is stated, mistook a bottle of sulphuric acid for one of hydrochloris acid and poured it into the mixture. An explosion immediately followed which scattered the container to atoms, a number of the pieces striking Miss Prichard on the side of her face, particles of glass penetrating the right eye.

Everything possible was done by the doctors at the college to save the eye, but it was found necessary to remove it. The patient at last accounts was getting along very well.

PHONE SERVICE TO COST MUCH MORE

INCREASE IN PRICE OF BUSINESS SERVICE IS 50 PER CENT.

E. O. Mogensen, representing the Commercial club and the Merchants' association, appeared before the council on Tuesday evening and stated that both organizations had gone on record as opposing any raise in telephone rates. He suggested that a representative be sent to St. Paul to be present at the public hearings to be held at the capitol. The council appointed City Attorney Theo. Quale as the representative of the telephone users of the city and he will be on hand when the matter comes up for hearing before the railroad and warehouse commission.

In case the railroad and warehouse commission grants the application of the telephone companies of the state to permit the raising of their rates, it will mean an increase of 50 per cent in the cost of the service to the ordinary business house in Thief River Falls, with smaller advances for nearly all other classes of service. The new schedule, as it would apply here, has been received by Manager G. L. Sterns and contains the following explanation of the effect of the proposed advance.

The schedule as submitted would provide an increase in revenue of $406 per month. There are 730 company stations in the city and these would under the new rate increase the company's income by $350 per month, while $56 per month would come from the service stations, of which there are 224.

There are 182 independent business lines in the city and the rate for these would be increased from $2.00 per month to $3.00. The independent residence lines would cost $1.75 per month instead of $1.50, the present price. The same rate of increase would apply to two-party residence lines, but the monthly cost is 25 cents less, being $1.50 per month. There are only 8 of the latter class of phones in the city. Four-party residence lines have been costing each subscriber $1.00 per month and this will also be raised to $1.25 if the application is allowed. No advance is asked for the farm service, this remaining at $1.50. Service stations are raised from $3.00 to $6.00 per year.

PEACE TALK BY DEAN THATCHER

ADDRESS WILL BE FEATURE OF AUDITORIUM PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT.

ALL READY FOR BIG SHOW

WINTER EXHIBITION WILL BE EASILY THE BEST IN HISTORY OF CITY.

The people of Thief River Falls and surrounding section will tomorrow evening have an opportunity of hearing the subject of greatest importance at the present time discussed by one of the most widely known and ablest men in the West. Dean W. R. Thatcher of the University of Minnesota, comes here at the invitation of the associated farm organizations of the county for the purpose of delivering the principal address of the winter fair. His subject will be "The Problems of Peace," and will deal with the questions immediately confronting the American people now that the war is over.

The Farmer's Part.

There is no closer observer of industrial and agricultural conditions in this country than Dean Thatcher. He has made an exhaustive study of the many problems the American people now must solve and has arrived at certain well-defined conclusions. Among these is an absolute conviction that the American farmer—meaning by that term every man and woman who in any manner contributes toward supplying the food requirements of the country and the world—must exert himself to a greater extent than ever before if the direst suffering is to be averted in the devastated lands left helpless by reason of the war. Having studied farming all his life as well as given much attention to the marketing and shipping features of American production he is in a position to explain with telling effect just what seems to be needed at this time.

Admission is Free.

This will be Dean Thatcher's first address since the signing of the armistice and the first time our people have had an opportunity of hearing a man of his prominence discuss after-war matters. His coming here at this time is a high compliment and our people should show their appreciation of the fact by greeting him with a packed house. No charge of any kind will be made for seats and everyone will be welcome. Already requests from outside communities have been received for seat reservations, but this cannot be granted. The meeting is open to everyone alike.

Fine Musical Program.

Prof. J. H. Hay has been requested to officiate as chairman of the meeting and has consented. Besides music by the band there will be a violin solo by Miss Ausilga Sorenson and a piano solo by Miss Laura E. Forde.

Exhibits Coming In.

Since early this morning exhibits for the poultry, potato and grain show have been coming in. County Agent R. P. White states that he now has 200 coops for poultry and that these have all been spoken for. This means that the total number of entries in this division alone will be in the neighborhood of 800.

Potato samples began arriving at the farm bureau office early in the week and it is expected that these will number 150 before the entry books are closed. Grain is not so much in evidence but that there will be a good showing is certain.

Don't Fail to Attend.

Every person in Pennington and surrounding counties, whether engaged in farming or not, should make it a point to attend this show. Over $700 in prizes has been announced for poultry alone and this is sufficient to bring out the best there is.

Will Appoint Carriers.

Applicants for the position of mail carriers on the Germantown and Kratka routes out of Thief River Falls must submit sealed proposals before January 14, according to the notice posted in the postoffice here. The Germantown route is 19 miles and return and the mail is delivered every week-day. The compensation on this job is at present $1,260 per year. On the Kratka route the pay now is $1,020 per year for the same number of deliveries.

ASKED TO RETURN SMILEAGE BOOKS.

D. P. O'Neill, county chairman for the sale of Smileage Books, requests that all unsold books be returned to him by the postmasters who have had charge of the distribution in order that an accounting may be made at an early date. Mr. O'Neill is responsible to state headquarters and must account for all Smileage Books issued in Pennington county. An early compliance with this request will be greatly appreciated.

LEAGUE ADOPTS PEACE PROGRAM

NON-PARTISANS ADVOCATE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND WORLD UNION.

WOULD RETAIN RAILROADS

DEMAND REDUCTION OF FREIGHT RATES—ESPECIALLY ON FUEL, FOOD.

Government ownership of railroads and all other public utilities taken over as a war measure, is demanded as a permanent policy by the National Nonpartisan league, which held a convention of 45 delegates at St. Paul last week. The delegates adopted a "peace program" which includes giving all unemployed men work on government enterprises. It would deny use of the mails for speculative business. The program begins with a solution of international affairs thru a "United States of the World."

End War by World Union.

The entire program, as given out, after the convention, is as follows:

"First—A peace program, ending war by creating world democracy, not substituting one despotism for another. A United States of the World, by consent and not by conquest.

"Second—A reconstruction program providing for the employment of all, reduction of the cost of living, ending monopolistic extortion, and redeeming the state and national governments from autocratic control of monopolies, and in this way making the world safe for democracy.

Ownership, Employment Urged.

"Third—The termination of the present national control of railways, and all other public utilities and industries taken over as war measures, not by return of these properties to private monopolies, but by national ownership.

"Fourth—Employment of the unemployed, in co-operation with organized labor, through government works in such enterprises as road building, forestry, timber and fuel production, flood protection and land reclamation.

"Fifth—Complete enfranchisement of women with equal opportunities with men and equal pay for equal service.

"Sixth—The national government should make loans to the state governments, on state bonds, secured by first mortgages on real estate in order that farmers can get loans from the state at cost.

Lower Rates and Prices.

"Seventh—The immediate reduction of freight and passenger rates, especially on food and fuel.

"Eighth—Immediate abandonment of all interference with political rights of employees in public service, abandonment of the exercise of any further postoffice censorship.

"Ninth—Liquidation of the national debt through reforms in the income and inheritance taxes.

"Tenth—Restoration of the rights of labor, surrendered for patriotic reasons, and the repealing of laws regulating the civil rights of people as war measures.

Would Prevent Speculation.

"Eleventh—All use of the mails, telegraph, telephone and express companies and banks shall be denied for making sales of goods, properties, investments or securities, except for direct delivery by the owner or his authorized agent, and then of the specific goods, properties, investments or securities involved, in order to eliminate gambling and speculation, in necessities of life."

A preamble to the declaration extols the soldiers and sailors who have made sacrifices, and demands that they be given a prior claim on the "properties, industries and civil powers of the nation."

Keep Sidewalks Clean.

In another column will be found the official notice issued by Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken with regard to permitting the sidewalks in the city to remain covered with snow. An ordinance provides that if property owners do not themselves shovel off their walks the city may do so and charge the cost against the property, the assessment to go on the regular tax rolls.

Commissioner Bakken is at present running short handed because of his inability to get men, but says he will secure enough to keep the walks free from snow. If the property owners will look after the matter as far as possible themselves he is certain that there will be no inconvenient and unsightly drifts in the city this winter.

NEWS OF CUTTER'S DEATH CONFIRMED

BODY RECOVERED AND BURIED IN AMERICAN CEMETERY IN FRANCE.

Confirmation has reached here of news of the death in action on Oct. 21 of Lieutenant Edward B. Cutter, formerly of Thief River Falls, son of Mrs. Mary Cutter of Anoka, and brother of the late M. C. Cutter, publisher of the News-Press in this city. He was an observer in the areo service of the Expeditionary Forces and with his pilot, Lieutenant Hugh Broomfield, was seen to fall within the German lines. When the Americans advanced and took the ground held by the foe, the wrecked plane and nearby the graves of pilot and observer were found. The bodies were carefully removed and then identified. Burial took place in the American cemetery at Souilly sur Meuse.

Lieutenant Cutter was born in Anoka in 1887 and was graduated from the Anoka schools and from the state university law school. He became a lieutenant in Company B of Anoka, but shortly before going overseas was transferred to the areo service.

In a letter written to his mother Oct. 17, he seemed to have a premonition that he would not long survive. A few days before his last flight he had penciled on a small slip that was found among his effects, the following statement:

"It is a far, far better thing that I do—than I have ever done. It is a far, far better rest that I go to than I have ever known."

In another column of this issue of The Times will be found a tribute to this well-known young man, and appearing recently in the St. Cloud Journal-Press.

Miss Halvorson in Recital.

Miss Doris M. Halvorson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Halvorson, of 615 La Bree avenue north, who is a student in the Oberlin Conservatory, appeared last Wednesday evening at the weekly students' recital of that institution. Miss Halvorson's number was "Carnival Scene" by Grieg, for the piano, and it was well performed.

Miss Halvorson is studying harmony, ear training, voice and piano. She graduated from Lincoln high school in 1917, receiving sufficient credit to enable her to enter the Conservatory of Music, which now demands the same entrance requirements as the College of Arts and Sciences.

Births of the Week.

An eight pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bredeson, last Wednesday.

A nine pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Prichard, Monday morning.

THIEF RIVER MEN GAIN COMMISSIONS

GEORGE HARDESTY IS ANOTHER LOCAL BOY WHO MADE GOOD.

In referring to the men from Thief River Falls who have received army commissions, The Times last week omitted the name of George Hardesty. This young man was graduated from the officer's training school at Fort Snelling with the rank of second lieutenant, being in the same class with Lieut. H. O. Kjomme. Lieut. Hardesty was formerly employed at the Soo roundhouse as a machinist's helper and was a student at the university at the time the training school was opened. Shortly after receiving his commission he was assigned as military instructor to Beloit, Wis., where he has also acted as chief clerk to the commanding officer.

The addition of Lieut. Hardesty to the list makes four from this city who gained commissions, First Lieutenant Kjomme and Second Lieutenants Ralph Falk and G. Howard Smith being the others. Besides these Glen C. Anderson, who has been chief field clerk with the command of Gen. Barry at Fort Riley, Kas., has the rank of a second lieutenant.

SUGAR AVAILABLE FOR ALL PURPOSES

NO DANGER NOW OF SHORTAGE IN CHRISTMAS CANDY SUPPLY.

Candy and ice cream manufacturers in Thief River Falls will learn with considerable pleasure that they are allowed their usual allotment of sugar. The ban on the manufacture of sherbets, water ices, and frappes has also been removed. Ice cream manufacturers and caterers now may make and sell these products. Bakers, candy manufacturers, and ice-cream makers now receive a 100 per cent allowance. This insures an ample supply of Christmas sweet meats. Heretofore the use of sugar has been denied for other than human consumption. This provision has been cancelled and now manufacturers may secure sugar for industrial purposes such as the making of stockfoods, vermin poison and similar outputs.

Public eating places no longer need use substitutes in bread or other bakery products. However, there is to be no relaxation of the rule limiting the amount of bread to two ounces per person for each meal. Nor must toast be used as a garniture or served under meat or served with the first course.

CHILDREN TO GET CHRISTMAS BOXES

RED CROSS ASKS THAT 15 BE FURNISHED BY JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

The local chapter of the Red Cross is in receipt of a December production order for 15 Christmas boxes to be made by the Juniors. This is but a small proportion of the 1,500 boxes which are to be made for the children of northern Minnesota left destitute by the recent fires.

and may contain toys which are no and may contain toys whiche are no longer of great value to the present owner (or new ones not costing more than a dollar), paper dolls, story books, stuffed animals and dolls, games, puzzles, paint boxes, handkerchiefs, and in fact anything which will appeal to children of 5 and 6 years of age.

The suggestion is made that the school children may have time to make some of the toys, and among such ones might be airplanes, autos, Red Cross ambulances, jumping jacks, kites, doll furniture, jig saw puzzles, etc.

The request is also accompanied by a suggestion that local pictures be taken of the children in the schools as they are making these toys, and no doubt if this plan is followed here some such photos will be taken and sent in to division headquarters.

In Place of Honor.

The Minnesota Public Health Journal has of late been reproducing one photograph each month of those who have taken an active part in the different campaigns innaugurated during the war period and whose work has been such as to entitle them to special recognition. The last issue of this publication contains a likeness of Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city, who is a director of the Minnesota Public Health association. Mrs. Bishop has conscientiously applied herself to the bettering of health conditions in the city, and the honor is merited.

Shop and Railroad News

On Eight Hour Schedule—The car repair crews were this week placed on an eight-hour schedule. This necessitates the working of three shifts but as the yard forces have for some time been working only eight hours it only means the addition of eight or ten men to the force.

Depots Consolidated—The Soo and Great Northern railways now use the same depot at six different North Dakota stations. The equipment of the former road is being used at Omemee, Bisbee, Rolette and Conway, while the Great Northern depot is the one used at Ardock and Lansford. The Soo personnel is retained at Lansford, Bisbee and Omemee, while the former employes of the Great Northern are in charge at Rolette, Ardock and Conway.

Hog Embargo Raised—The embargo against the shipment of hogs to the stock yards was lifted on Monday after having been in effect for one week. The stock was coming in faster than the yards were able to dispose of it and a halt was called until such time as things could be cleared away.

Had Narrow Escape—James Farley, foreman at the roundhouse, was rather severely injured while assisting in the placing of a spring in the draw bar of a car the other day, but he considers himself lucky to get off as lightly as he did. This spring, which is 1¼ inch in diameter, is compressed from a length of ten inches or so to less than four when placed in position. While in this contracted condition and while being put in place, something suddenly slipped and the coil shot out as if fired from a cannon. A small piece of iron struck Farley in the mouth, cutting him badly and loosening a number of teeth. A section which luckily missed him struck an iron upright and made a deep dent. Had this hit anyone it would have gone clear through him. Mr. Farley was so badly injured that he has been forced to lay up and Master Mechanic G. W. Hendry is looking after things at the roundhouse. Peter Jacobson, who was at work on the same job and was standing beside Mr. Farley, escaped with a few scratches.

Division Jottings.

Mrs. M. Helen Montgomery, operator at the Great Northern depot, visited with relatives at Crookston over Sunday, returning Monday morning.

The Soo passenger depot in this city has been getting a thorough fumigating every day during the past month. This is a wise measure during a time of such danger from disease.

M. J. Dwyer, section foreman at Omemee, died of the flu on Sunday and was buried at Green Isle, Minn., his former home, Sunday afternoon.

C. E. Etrock relieved Agent A. L. Huffman at Norma this week, the latter being on the sick list.

M. L. Parsons resumed his position as agent at Funda this week, relieving O. R. Dtavenau, who was transferred to Green, N. D., as permanent agent.

D. M. Hemmesh checked in as relief agent at Winger, relieving B. J. Thorn, who was transferred to Balto, N. D., where he in turn took the place of C. E. Palmer. The latter went to Fillmore to relieve S. M. Rodderick who will take the place of Agent K. O. Johnston at Dahlen, he having reported being sick.

B. C. Guyer, day operator at Alexandria, resumed work last week after having been laid up for some time with influenza.

L. M. Halvorson was put on as night operator at Henning last Thursday.

Foreman G. J. Conklin has made a number of changes in the car department during the week. Louis Gruette has been hired as coach cleaner to take the place of Miss Olson, who resigned. Halvor Oftelie and Jens Alanson have been put on as additions to the car repair crew.

John Kassa, car repairer, is reported unable to work because of a severe attack of rheumatism.

The rotary snow plow is being overhauled in the expectation that it will soon be needed. The hope expressed around the yards is that the coming winter will be as easy on this piece of machinery as was 1917-18. There were very few calls for the plow last season, the winter being one of the best in this respect in the history of railroading in this section.

H. A. McGuire, machinist, has resigned his position and moved with his family to Hot Springs, Ark. The winters in this section bring on severe attacks of rheumatism for Mr. McGuire and he hopes to escape these by moving south.

Hans S. Peterson, machinist's helper, is some butcher. The other day he put up his winter's meat, and did it in a hurry. He had two hogs, one of which weighed 240 pounds and the other nearly as much. Starting work about 9 o'clock in the morning he had the meat dressed and hung up by 11 o'clock.

Supt. W. A. Barnard left for Minneapolis Monday to attend to business matters.

Make this a Red Cross Christmas

The happiest, merriest Christmas the world ever knew is almost here. But in the rejoicings of peace and freedom there is one note of seriousness, that America must not forget—there is misery and distress and sickness in war-torn Europe. Relief must be given. The work of the Red Cross MUST go on. And to carry on, the Red Cross MUST have the support of your membership.

Distress calls!

The misery and sickness and destitution throughout the world make relief work necessary, on a scale never before dreamed of.

Now, the Red Cross calls!

The annual Christmas Roll Call of members echoes throughout the land this week.

When your name is called, you are going to answer "HERE!"—because you know your duty, and you'll do it.

BETTER STOCK IS ASSOCIATION AIM

RED RIVER VALLEY BREEDERS ENGAGED IN WORK OF GREAT IMPORTANCE.

The newly organized Red River Valley Live Stock association held a meeting at Crookston recently at which time important action regarding the live stock interests of northwestern Minnesota was taken. The association is managed by a board of directors and an advisory council, consisting of members from the twelve northwestern Minnesota counties. For Pennington county, Fred Boerbower is a member of the board of directors, and Paul Engelstad is a member of the advisory council. W. V. Gousseff of the Northwest School of Agriculture, was elected secretary.

This association is duly incorporated and will soon be the proud possessor of a $25,000 exhibit pavilion including quarters for live stock sales and exhibits, and also for poultry. Funds for this building are being collected at the present time. The committees in charge of the canvass in each county are meeting with encouragement from farmers and business men alike who realize the need of stimulating live stock raising and especially of getting into all parts of the Valley high-class dairy and beef cattle, sheep and swine. As time goes on there will be many local organizations working for the same purpose. These will but emphasize the need of a central clearing house where the live stock men may secure superior sires and breeding individuals and where in turn they may dispose of the surplus stock not readily taken up at the local sales. The history of other organizations like that of the Red River Valley Live Stock group shows that such central sales have been the first step in advancing live stock interests.

The unanimous response that has been tendered this movement has greatly encouraged the promoters, who are men prominent in agricultural and business circles in the various counties. Without the backing of the different organizations and individuals the undertaking to provide a $25,000 building would have been impossible. It speaks well for the spirit of the Red River Valley that this thing can be done.

Can't Get Along Without It.

Alfred Swanson, formerly a well-known resident of Pennington county, writes from Warnock, Sask., to renew his subscription. He says: "Of course I cannot very well get along without The Times. It surely is a remarkable improvement over the old News, for which I subscribed over fifteen years ago."

Four Pounds Per Person.

County Food Administrator C. A. Pitkin has been notified that while the restrictions as to the use of sugar have to some extent been removed, there are still certain rules which must be observed in connection with the purchase of the staple. The limit of consumption has been raised to four pounds per month per person and certificates are no longer required in order to enable retailers to secure their alotment, but economy in its use is still urged.

PAY ONE-THIRD OF WHAT WE GET

COUNTY RECEIVES $26,804 FOR SCHOOLS—PAYS $7,670.00 STATE TAX.

TOTAL FOR COUNTY $94972

Pennington county school districts were this week helped to the extent of $26,704.37 when the treasurers received the October school apportionment checks from the office of County Auditor T. P. Anderson. Of this total $16,957.62 was the regular state aid, and $9,746.75 from the division of tax collections.

The state collected from the county in taxes $7,670.72, of which sum $5,737.88 represented its share of the regular 3.8 mills state tax, $75.59 was for the teachers' retirement fund, and $1,857.25 for the state school fund.

Besides the tax division there was also sent out at the same time the sums due the districts from the November tax division; the total of the two amounting to $52,028.75.

For County Funds.

For general county purposes the total returned is $33,028.90, divided as follows:

Revenue fund	$ 7,152.73
Roads and bridges	5,135.42
Bond and interest	19,727.61

Cities and Villages.

The one city and two villages in the county come in for $15,161.89, apportioned to the following funds:

Revenue	$ 1,698.65
Road and bridge	5,575.36
Poor fund	610.51
Special taxes	1,659.72

The school moneys were derived mostly from special taxes, the local one mill tax accounting for but $1,512.20, while special taxes amounted to $29,815. To this is added the amount received as penalty, interest and costs collected on delinquent taxes, amounting to $946.08, and the interest and principal on state loans from the tax list of 1917 and former years, which totalled $3,050.04. This makes the total received from the state for the tax settlement and school aid $94,927.57.

The Townships' Share.

The city of Thief River Falls gets more than half of the total returned to the subdivisions outside the schools. The total is $24,678.49, apportioned as follows:

Bray township	$ 433.80
Black River	278.94
Cloverleaf	433.33
Deer Park	148.82
Goodridge	172.99
Highlanding	539.19

Total	$24,678.49

Big Sum for Schools.

Out of a total of $52,028.75 coming to the county schools, District No. 18—which includes the city—secures $27,422.43. District No. 8, in which the village of Goodridge is situated, comes in for $3,286.41, while District No. 102 (St. Hilaire), gets $1,836.25. Following are the amounts credited to the different districts:

Two Cent Stamps Again.

Repeal of the increased postage rates has been approved by the Senate finance committee.

Amendments to the war revenue bill were adopted to abolish the zone increase on second class rates, with a proviso that the rate shall be 1½ cents per pound beyond a 200-mile radius, and also for repeal of the extra cent per ounce postage on letters.

He Slept in Jail.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich spent a night in jail at Holt the first of the week. He was not there as the result of any misdemeanor, however, but simply because the place offered somewhat better accommodations that the streets or nearby fields. The doctor had been up north on a professional visit when his car broke down. It was late at night and as he did not wish to disturb anyone he simply stayed in the jail until M. T. McFarland arrived to bring him back home.

Don't be Bashful.

Warroad Pioneer: Someone, evidently bent on cutting the high cost of living, paid a visit to Hans F. Hanson's woodshed a few night ago and carried away half a dressed hog and the best parts of a calf Mr. Hanson had butchered the day previous. If the needy one will make himself known, Mr. Hanson will be glad to donate some of the ordinary cuts which the thief evidently overlooked, and also let him have the use of his meat grinder.

Follow Suit, of Course.

Warren Sheaf: Thief River Falls is advocating paving for the city streets. They have tried graveling, but that has not proven satisfactory. What is Warren going to do to improve its streets?

A True American; Mother and Son

(St. Cloud Journal-Press.)

Lieutenant Edward B. Cutter, in the aviation service of the United States, at the front, with his pilot, Lt. Hugh Broomfield, while on a special mission of observation over the German lines, on October 21, made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Lt. Cutter was the only son of Mrs. Mary Cutter of Anoka, and he was a worthy son of a most devoted and heroic mother.

We were privileged to read letters that he had written his mother from the Mexican border, where he served as lieutenant of the Princeton regiment, and later in this war from Camp Cody, where he served as judge advocate, from Fort Sill, where he received training as an air observer, and France. They are the most beautiful and inspiring letters we have read during these great histric days—letters of a man who loved and appreciated his mother, who had been companion, mother and father to him. Through everyone there is the spirit of a youth who loved his country and was ready to serve it to his fullest capacity, not recklessly, but with that steady quality of duty and intelligence that was characteristic of him.

He had the true soldier's heart, and there was never a word of complaint of the hardships, and always the appreciation of his comrades. As an aviator he told of the high quality of his associates, the finest type of young men, eager to serve, who had been selected by the severest tests, for this special service. "They are the finest type of young men," he writes, "keen to do their best, too wise to drink, with clean minds, and splendid character." But his love for the aviators did not blind him to the quality of the men in the other branches of the service. He describes meeting the soldiers, who had been in the front trenches during the great American advance. "Great lads they are, and they have been making good in a great way."

He describes some of his trips in the air, and how close a bond of friendship is formed between the pilot and the observer, in their flights in the air, and he paid a tribute to his companion of many trips among the clouds, Lt. Broomfield, a steady, capable man, who never courted danger, and never flew away from it.

His commanding officer and a brother lieutenant in letters to his mother pay him the highest tribute for his splendid character, efficiency, and his quiet bravery. "While he never discussed religious subjects, we soon came to know that he was a man of deep religious convictions." "He had been sent out on important observation trips, and his reports were always accurate, reliable and showed the highest intelligence. He quickly won the entire confidence of his squadron and his officers."

Of his last trip, the commander writes that the weather was unfriendly, with low hanging clouds, and shifting winds that were favorable for surprise attacks. He was next on the list to make a flight over the enemy lines, and both he and Lt. Broomfield responded with alertness, although realizing the peril of the undertaking.

A few days later the Americans advanced over the ground where he fell, and he is at rest in the American cemetery, by the side of many other brave Americans who gave their lives for the flag and humanity.

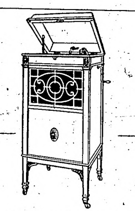
"We are proud of his friendship, of his service to his country, in the Ninetieth Aero Squadron, and of his death for his country," is the testimony of his commanding officer.

The closer brotherhood that the war has brought about is noted in the final act of love by his comrades. He was a faithful member of the Episcopal church, but the only available chaplain was a broad minded Catholic priest, who feelingly read the beautiful Episcopal service, as he was given to immortality.

Lt. Cutter was a graduate of the Minnesota University, a lawyer by profession, and a well trained newspaper man, having been associate editor of the Thief River Falls News-Press for two or three years. His forbears were of New England, and Lt. Cutter had the steadfast type of character of the true descendants of the Pilgrims, broadened with the tolerance and progress of the west.

In all the sacrifices that have been made in this war, that of the mothers of the brave soldiers is the greatest. God in his great justice and kindness must have in reserve for these earthly angels great happiness, in the postponed meeting of the self-sacrificing and loving mothers and their heroic sons.

God bless them all.



AEOLIAN-VOCALION
The New Musical Phonograph

THE Vocalion is the new instrument of music in the home. In this remarkable instrument the phonograph principle has been brought to such high perfection that every reproduced tone has true musical quality and value.

This is the reason that the Vocalion is attracting people who never before have cared for phonographs. It is the reason also that the Vocalion is replacing the talking-machine in so many homes of culture and refinement.

Perfection of tone control obtained by means of the Graduola—the distinctive Vocalion feature—is the added touch which makes the Vocalion the most universally interesting of all modern musical instruments.

A VALUABLE CITIZEN GONE.

The epitaph of George Gerard Johnson might appropriately read: "Whatever he undertook to do, to that particular task he gave of the best there was in him." And to this should be added that many—a great many—of his undertakings were for the good of the community in general. No man ever presented a worth-while proposition at which George Johnson balked. He gave of his time and of his means freely and looked for little in the shape of reward.

Few men in Thief River Falls possessed George Johnson's faculty for "getting things done." His enthusiasm was infectious. Having an unbounded faith in his city and section, he was willing to contribute to the extent of his ability toward bringing about an early realization of the great things he believed them destined to achieve. His faith never wavered even when the outlook caused others to draw back.

There are not enough men of George Johnson's type in any city, and when one such answers the final summons, particularly in a small community, his place is found hard to fill. This applies less in a business sense than in the broader aspect of general citizenship.

The dead banker was one of the kindliest and most genial of men. He was a good husband and father, upright in all his dealings with his fellow citizens, and above all, helpful to those who were comparatively new to the section and who needed someone to set them right and extend assistance in the numerous difficulties that beset them as beginners. It is among these that he will be remembered longest and with the kindliest feelings.

TO OUR VISITING FARMERS.

The winter show has brought to this city a large number of farmers with their wives and children. A mighty good show has been provided for them by the Farm Bureau association, but they will be missing something equally as good if they do not take this excellent opportunity to inspect the exceptional holiday stocks offered by the merchants of the city.

Everything has been provided for the Christmas season as usual. In some instances it may be that the articles are not exactly like those of former years, but something just as good and serviceable has been found. Even in toys there is a vast and interesting assortment, although importations from Germany have been stopped for three years. The boys and girls will simply be provided with American toys, which is the better method anyway.

The lid has been removed and everyone is urged to act very much as usual with reference to the making of gifts. It is suggested that all presents be of the useful variety, but this entails no hardship and is to be commended for many reasons.

The sooner we forget the war and get back to living in the ordinary manner the better it will be for us. Making Christmas a season of general rejoicing and good will is one sure way to help this along.

But whether or not you intend to follow this advice, you should not deny yourself the pleasure of inspecting the holiday goods. It will surely be worth your while and the merchants will make you welcome.

A RINK FOR THE KIDDIES.

For the first time in some years Thief River Falls has failed to provide an ice skating rink for the children—and the grown-ups too, for that matter. Ice skating is one of the established forms of exercise and recreation for people residing in this latitude and practically every municipality worthy of the name does something in the way of furnishing a suitable place in which it may be enjoyed.

Last year the equipping and maintaining of a rink was undertaken by means of private subscription, but the plan was not a great success. The policing of the place and looking after the property generally was not very well attended to, as is liable to be the case except where the properly constituted authorities have charge. The intention was good but the outcome was not as satisfactory as in previous years.

Properly conducted, a rink is not an expensive proposition to maintain. That it would be a most popular move for the city council to make the provision without further delay is certain.

COMPARING THE COSTS.

Whenever and wherever the question of paving is discussed—and it is being discussed more generally than many believe—the subject of cost is sure to come up sooner or later. This is a most excellent thing, as nothing of a public nature should be undertaken without due consideration of the outlay involved. The trouble is that nearly everyone who brings the subject up figures only on the expense of doing the work and gives no thought to what it is costing the citizens every year to do without the improvement.

It would perhaps be impossible to make our streets more costly than they are at present. Leaving to one side all items such as appearance and convenience, it is an assured fact that our streets are costing more every year in their present condition than would cover the amount required for the annual payments for paving. No man can start out along our thoroughfares with a full load. It makes no difference whether he is using a truck or horses. More trips are necessary in order to do a given amount of transferring than if the streets were in good condition, and this is a matter of dollars and cents. If the exact loss were figured out it would be found much greater than anyone has any idea of. Ask any man engaged in the draying and general transfer business.

The wear and tear on vehicles, whether wagons or autos, is another item the objectors seldom consider. If these same people were forced to drive their machines over country roads maintained in the condition of our streets they would howl their heads off because of the expense of equipment upkeep forced on them. In the city, however, they seem to think it is all right and something they are forced to put up with because of the expense connected with getting the streets in proper shape for travel. Outside they figure evidently no one has to pay the cost of maintaining roads and that they therefore have a right to kick as much as they like when things do not suit them.

This matter of cost is never looked at right by these objectors. The payments may be spread over a period of twenty years, making the annual assessment very light. During all of these twenty years they would have the use of fine streets, with the increased business, comfort, convenience and lessened cost of upkeep this would mean, but it seems impossible to make them look at anything but the total cost of the finished job.

Unless the people of Thief River Falls want their streets to become a standing joke all over the state of Minnesota they will give the matter of paving their attention now. There will never be a better time for getting ready. Even a late start is better than no start at all.

LAST AND MOST IMPORTANT.

A campaign for the enrollment of the entire American people in the ranks of the Red Cross will start next Monday morning and continue for one week. The aim will be to secure one dollar for each and every man, woman and child, the whole population being in this manner joined under one banner for work in the great humanitarian task which the organization has to perform.

During the war there never was any trouble in securing whatever funds the Red Cross found it necessary to ask for. The danger now is that people will get the idea there is no further need for anything of the kind and fail to meet the demand with the same enthusiasm that characterized the former requests for aid.

The truth of the matter is the Red Cross is now needed more than ever. This will in all probability be the last time a national campaign for funds will be necessary, but the requirements at this particular time are most urgent. It must be remembered that large numbers of persons in allied and friendly European countries will starve and freeze this coming winter unless the Red Cross comes to their assistance. These people have suffered untold hardships during the past four years and it is largely due to the work of the Red Cross that any of them are still alive and in condition to take up the hard tasks confronting them. We cannot desert them now, after having stood by them so long. It would have been almost as well to have abandoned them at the outset.

And then it must also be remembered that wherever our soldiers and sailors may be, the Red Cross will stay with them until they are demobilized. Nothing which can be done will be left undone, either for the men in the war zone, for those returning, for those in the camps and hospitals, or for their families at home. To the latter will continue to be devoted the ministrations of the Rer Cross Home Service.

We must not fail them now—neither our own soldiers nor the detsitute of other lands. Both are looking to us for assistance which can come from no other source. The opportunity is offered us to make this the one holiday season they will remember with gratitude toward America all the days of their lives.

PROTECTING THE FARMER.

Maintaining the wheat price guaranteed by President Wilson for the 1919 crop is liable to prove an expensive matter for the country. Because of the termination of the war the grain stocks of South America and Australia are now available and this will have the effect of bringing the price down in a very marked degree.

In order to make the loss as light as possible it is proposed to give Julius Barnes, head of the United States grain corporation, the power and the money necessary to buy the entire American crop. This young man is perhaps as reliably informed as to world wheat conditions as any to be found, and he believes he sees a way in which the loss can be minimized.

American observers believe it is the British intention to buy just enough wheat abroad to fix the price in Liverpool and compel the American price to conform to it.

The move to appropriate a large sum of money so the grain price guarantee can be made good assumes that if Mr. Barnes can sit tight in his bargainings with the world powers, he can hold back until the European buyers have to come to him. It is felt there is justice in this since the American price fixing was done to insure a sufficient food supply for Europe and the advanced price would have had to be paid if the war had continued.

America fixed the price of wheat in order that production might be stimulated and the people of England and France be thus saved from starving. There will be no objection in this country if Mr. Barnes can now find a means whereby those countries will have to help foot the inevitable loss. It would seem as if they should be both willing and anxious to do this. To ask America to stand the entire cost of a policy inaugurated for their especial benefit hardly accords with this country's notion of fair play.

The former German crown prince says he hopes that when it comes time to sign the peace treaty America will not forget that Germany was once her friend. He needn't worry about that. America will also remember just what his country did to our citizens while still claiming to be friendly.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

F. McCormick submitted a proposition to the city council, offering to furnish electric lights for public lighting at the rate of $6 per month for the arc lamps. He also asked permission to erect poles along the streets for the purpose of carrying the necessary wires.

An athletic club was organized in the city with a good membership. It was announced that the club was formed for the "development of the muscles."

Two sleighloads of local Modern Woodmen visited the St. Hilaire camp of the order.

A party of friends surprised Phil Zeh at his home and spent a very pleasant evening. The surprise was to remind him of his birthday.

The Modern Woodmen elected the following officers: Venerable counsel, I. C. Richardson; worthy advisor, C. A. Robbecke; excellent banker, Herman Ohm; clerk, J. Mickelson; escort, K. M. Hanson; watchman, E. K. Aasen; sentry, F. J. Stebbins; manager, M. P. Bakken; camp physician, H. Grundy; delegate, A. M. Langseth; alternate, J. Mickelson.

Ten Years Ago.

The first market day in the history of the city was a great success.

A big timber wolf entered the yard of John A. Dahl, residing on the St. Hilaire road, while the latter was away from home, and Mrs. Dahl drove the marauder off with no other weapon than a common house broom.

The river was at a very low stage and there was not sufficient power developed at the dam to keep the city electric light plant going. There was a general demand for auxiliary engines.

The Indians at the Red Lake Agency were petitioning for permission to sell their pine. They claimed that risk of fire was so great that they preferred to have the timber cut and place the money out at interest.

Train service over the Great Northern to Warroad was scheduled to begin on Dec. 21.

State Agricultural Conference.

The annual Farmers' and Homemakers' Week inaugurated by the agricultural division of the University of Minnesota will be held from Dec. 30 to Jan. 4. Every person interested in the success of farming is urged to attend these meetings. The expense is small and the profit and pleasure of the trip, lecture and demonstration very great. Among the subjects to be handled are taxation, farm crops, farm management, soils, livestock, dairying, vegetable growing, fruit raising, plant pests, farm engineering, poultry, bees, and animal diseases. There will be general conferences of the Federation of Farmers' clubs, also women's meetings and lectures of interest to creamery managers, stockmen, poultry raisers, potato growers, etc.

There are no fees or requirements as to previous schooling. The course is free to any man or woman in Minnesota.

Farmers Paid Three Million Dollars an Hour for Livestock

Three million dollars an hour, $21,000,000 a day, $120,000,000 a week is the record-breaking sum paid farmers of the country in the month of November, 1918, for live stock used for meat purposes, according to an estimate made by experts at the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Fair, which closed in Chicago Saturday.

Producers received more than $37,000,000 for hogs sold in the Chicago market last month. This estimate is based on the arrival of 900,000 hogs at the local stock yards, the minimum market price of which was fixed by the government at $17.50 per hundred pounds. The figure would have reached a million were it not for the embargo restrictions put into operation toward the end of the month.

Live Stock experts declare that the farmers are now receiving more than twice as much for their hogs as before the war and their shipments are from 10 to 15 per cent above normal. The price of cattle and sheep also has enormously increased compared with pre-war figures.

These estimates are based on a seven-hour live-stock buying day at the Chicago Union Stock Yards and six-day week.

Dont let them get it; Keep it safe in Our Bank.

IF YOU HAVE MONEY, MUCH OR LITTLE, YOU'VE FOUND OUT THAT EVERY TIME YOU TURN AROUND THERE'S SOME HAND OUT.

OH, IT DOESN'T SEEM MUCH HERE OR THERE, BUT IF THOSE LITTLE SUMS WERE ALL IN THE BANK THEY WOULD MAKE A BIG SUM IN A YEAR.

The seriousness of one— the happiness in the obligation of the other

Put your flag in your window—let your neighbors know you haven't forgotten Belgium—and France—and our boys who remain overseas.

But both are badges of honor—one standing for exceptional valor on the battlefield—the other, for membership in the greatest of all humanitarian organizations, your American Red Cross.

The work of the soldier is practically finished.

Your membership and the moral support such membership gives are essential in carrying on Red Cross activities.

Let us all realize that in our happiness of another Christmas of Peace and Plenty—let us not forget the sufferings and privations of our war-torn friends across the sea—let us make our Christmas festival a Red Cross Christmas with full membership in every American home.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

WHEREAS, a great loss has been suffered by the business and civic interests of the community through the death of George G. Johnson, which is keenly felt by the Merchants Association of Thief River Falls and the Thief River Falls Commercial Club, of which organizations he was a member,

BE IT RESOLVED, that this organization and club give public expression to the deep appreciation of its membership of the high measure of service rendered by Mr. Johnson to his community during his residence in it. Mr. Johnson's tireless energy, his clear business vision, his contagious optimism, his cheerful disposition and his unselfish loyalty to his community and his country, have been potent factors in the development and advancement of Thief River Falls and Pennington county and an inspiration to his fellow citizens. Not only do we mourn his loss as a business man of high qualifications whose place in the community will be hard to fill, but our grief is deep for his loss as a loyal friend and delightful companion.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that these resolutions be published in the Thief River Falls Times, and that a copy thereof be presented to his widow and children, to whom we express our deep and sincere sympathy.

Pennington Poultry

WHEN you visit the Winter Fair being staged this week by the farmers of Pennington County, you will be agreeably surprised to learn how rapidly this territory is establishing its position as a producer of high grade poultry.

THE exhibition should teach a valuable lesson to others who are interested in the dollars-and-cents side of farming. Townsfolk, too, will take the hint. They rrealize that many a dollar can be hatched out in a little chicken coop in the back yard.

THE managers of this bank will do what they can to encourage men who wish to profit by the object lesson which the Poultry Show has given them.

Make this a Red Cross Christmas

The happiest, merriest Christmas the world ever knew is almost here. But in the rejoicings of peace and freedom there is one note of seriousness that America must not forget—there is misery and distress and sickness all over the world. Relief must be given. The work of the Red Cross MUST go on. And to carry on, the Red Cross MUST have the support of your membership.

GOVERNMENT NEEDS WAR STAMP MONEY

IMPORTANT THAT ALL PLEDGES BE LIVED UP TO THIS MONTH.

Those who believed that there would be no further need of money by the government, now that the war is over, will have to revise their opinion. Cash is more urgently required at this particular moment than at any time since the war started. Billions more will be asked and it is going to take all the nation's resources to get along until another loan can be floated. For this reason the War Certificates and Stamp pledges must be kept. There is only three weeks left in which to secure the quotas subscribed, and a number of communities are still far behind. Among this number is Pennington county. The quota here was $219,000 and it is doubtful if more than one-half of this amount has been forthcoming. In order to show just how important this matter is, Secretary McAdoo has sent to S. D. Culver, director for Minnesota, the following appeal:

"I most earnestly urge upon you that your organization make every possible effort to the end that pledges for the purchase of War Savings Stamps be fulfilled before the close of the year. The government's monetary requirements were never greater nor more pressing than they are today. Expenditures for November were greater than in any similar period. These expenditures growing out of the war must be met by borrowing from the people, and their magnificent response heretofore to the government's requirements makes me confident that they will not fail to continue their support to the end, that all payments resulting from war necessities will be promptly met. Much remains to be done. Our brave troops must be maintained and paid until their work is fully accomplished and they are returned to their homes. This is not a time for us to relax our efforts and the Treasury Department is making plans for larger and even more important work during the coming year. Please make every effort to bring this statement before the people in your district and to urge upon them the continued holding of their war savings certificates, the fulfilment of their pledges and additional purchase as their means permit."

Low Meat Prices vs. High Cattle Prices

If the farmer cannot get enough for his live stock, he raises less, and the packer gets less raw material.

If the consumer has to pay too much for his meat, he eats less of it, and the packer finds his market decreased.

The packer wants the producer to get enough to make live-stock raising profitable, and he wants the price of meat so low that everyone will eat it.

But all he can do, and what he would have to do in any case to stay in business, is to keep down the cost of processing the farmer's stock into meat so that the consumer pays for the meat and by-products only a little more than the farmer gets for his animals.

For example, last year Swift & Company paid for its cattle about 90 per cent of what it got for meat and by-products (such as hides, tallow, oils, etc.)

If cattle from the farm were turned miraculously into meat in the hands of retailers (without going through the expense of dressing, shipping and marketing), the farmer would get only about 1⅛ cents per pound more for his cattle, or consumers would pay only about 2¼ cents per pound less for their beef!

Out of this cent or two per pound, Swift & Company pays for the operation of extensive plants, pays freight on meats, operates refrigerator cars, maintains branch houses, and in most cases, delivers to retailers all over the United States. The profit amounts to only a fraction of a cent, and a part of this profit goes to build more plants, to give better service, and to increase the company's usefulness to the country.

Neighborhood NEWS

ST. HILAIRE

At a business meeting of the Norwegian Lutheran Ladies Aid, which convened at the church Friday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. S. J. Amble, president; Mrs. C. M. Grimsrud, vice president; Mrs. B. E. Burkee, treasurer; Mrs. O. Adberg, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Allen were Sunday guests at the Theo. Johnson home, south of the village.

Misses Emma and Eda Brink visited with friends and shopped at Thief River Falls between trains, Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson returned to Crookston early last week, after having spent several days in this village, while recuperating after a siege of illness.

Cecil Olson arrived Thursday from Little Falls, Minn., for a visit at the home of his uncle, H. A. Olson, and with other relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. J. G. Wilson and two children Esther and Stanley, Mrs. Paul Ortloff, Miss Alma Engh, and G. I. Fellman, were among the Thief River Falls visitors Thursday.

E. Evenson, an aged pioneer settler of this part of the country, recently passed away at his home in Wyandotte township.

Mrs. Hans Rod was at Thief River Falls from Thursday until Friday.

Miss Huldah Gigstad returned early in the week from Crookston, where she had spent about ten days with friends, after having completed a course at the Moorhead Normal.

Hans Kittleson, one of the early settlers of Rocksbury township, answered the summons of death, Saturday at the Home for the Aged, at Sauk Centre, Minn. The deceased was 87 years of age at the time of death, much of which time he had spent in this county. Until about a month ago he and his sons, Erick and Christian have lived at the family home in Rocksbury township, his wife having preceded him into the great beyond a few years ago. Erick Kittleson left Monday for Sauk Centre to bring the remains here for burial, but at this writing no funeral arrangements have been made.

SATISFYING RELIEF FROM LUMBAGO

Sloan's Liniment has the punch that relieves rheumatic twinges

This warmth-giving, congestion-scattering circulation-stimulating remedy penetrates without rubbing right to the aching spot and brings quick relief, surely, clearly. A wonderful help for external pains, sprains, strains, stiffness, headache, lumbago, bruises.

Get your bottle today—costs little, means much. Ask your druggist for it by name. Keep it handy for the whole family. The big bottle is economy.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

"What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have corns need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

COUGHS AND COLDS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Dr. King's New Discovery used since Grant was President Get a bottle today

It did it for your grandma, for your father. For fifty years this well-known cough and cold remedy has kept an evergrowing army of friends, young and old.

For half a century druggists everywhere have sold it. Put a bottle in your medicine cabinet. You may need it in a hurry. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Bowels Acting Properly?

They ought to, for constipation makes the body retain waste matters and impurities that undermine the health and play havoc with the entire system. Dr. King's New Life Pills are reliable and mild in action. All druggists.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is enclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

CHILDREN TO MAKE MITTENS AND RUGS

ASKED TO BRING MATERIAL SUITABLE FOR ARTICLES OF THIS KIND.

There will be a great demand for regular old-fashioned rag carpets this winter. The Red Cross has undertaken to furnish such floor covering for our hospitals in France, where it is badly needed. Pennington County Chapter has been alloted a certain percentage of the total to be secured and the gathering and preparing of the rag strips will be the share of the Junior Red Cross.

The schools will be collection points for this material and all children are asked to bring in anything that may be turned into carpet rags.

Another class of material wanted is heavy denim, such as overalling, canvas, ducking, etc. This class of goods will go to make up mittens, of which there will be a serious need among people whom the Red Cross will have to look after for some time to come.

Here is one department in which the children can do more effective work than anyone else. The undertaking is most important, a general call having been issued for the materials.

Card of Thanks.

We hereby wish to extend our sincere thanks to the Royal Neighbors, Eastern Stars and Masons, who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. We also wish to thank these friends for the beautiful floral offerings.

Why Farmers Should Join Farm Bureau

AN OPEN LETTER TO CITIZENS OF STATE BY A. D. WILSON, FOOD ADMINISTRATOR.

To Farm Families in Minnesota: Are you a member of your County Farm Bureau? If not, why not? Are you familiar with the aims and work of the County Farm Bureau? If you are not, will you not take time to read this letter? We believe it is worth your while.

The Farm Bureau represents a definite plan of organization for each agricultural county in the United States. It is fostered and supported by the United States Department of Agriculture and by the Agricultural Colleges of the different states. The Farm Bureau is the recognized official organization with which these Federal and State institutions will co-operate in all extension work to be done. Co-operation and organization are the key notes of present day progress. The farmers of the various states and other tax payers have supported for years the great Department of Agriculture at Washington and the State Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. These institution have worked for years and are still working on problems connected with farming and farm life. Until recently these institutions have been like manufacturing plants that turned out great quantities of products without means for selling except to the few people who visited the plants.

During all the years that farming has been conducted a great fund of very practical and very useful information has been developed right on farms by farmers themselves. This information, like the information developed by agricultural institutions on crop and livestock production, control of plant and animal diseases, insect control, marketing and improved cultural information may become easily enough and simple enough and valuable enough, have not been generally distributed and made use of. There is much knowledge of value that farmers have and that colleges of agriculture have and that the United States Department of Agriculture has, that is not widely enough distributed.

It is believed that with an educational institution in each county, like the Farm Bureau representing the farm folks of the county and controlled and directed by them, and then co-operating with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural College in all Extension work, that all this vast sum of agricultural information may become easily available to every farmer. Likewise now problems are constantly coming up that all are interested in solving. With such an organization in each county ready to bring these problems to the attention of State and National institutions whose business is to work them out, all new and vital problems may be quickly worked out.

As a result of the need of increased production and conservation during the war, a County Farm Bureau was organized in every county in Minnesota. As a result of one year's experience in all counties during the war and several years' experience in a few counties, it is felt that the County Farm Bureau idea is worth continuing and developing. Up to date the County Farm Bureau organization has consisted only of men and not nearly a large enough proportion of them. Now it seems desirable to develop the organization to include the women and the young people as well, so that it can be an organization that can truly represent all interests of the Farm and Home.

While the war is over, the problems of the farm and farm home continue. A hungry Europe must be fed. Their livestock has been very seriously depleted. Likewise, their soils and machinery. It will not only be profitable, but it is the only humane thing to do to help both the Allies and our former enemies to get started again.

Believing as we do the things we have stated above, we are in co-operation with your County Farm Bureau officers, planning a campaign for the week of December 2 to 7, 1918, during which time it is hoped that every family in each county in Minnesota will be visited and given an opportunity to join the local Farm Bureau. There are now about 30,000 members of Farm Bureaus in the state. There should be at least 100,000 members. We hope every family will join the movement. Any and all membership fees paid are retained in the county and used solely in the county and only for purposes determined by the local Farm Bureau officers.

A Farm Bureau, or similar organization, is as essential in every county as a Farmers' Club or other local organization is in every local community. Your co-operation and support will be appreciated.

Railroaders Warned.

Director General W. G. McAdoo has warned railroad employees thruout the country that there is a definite limit to wage raising, and that this limit has been about reached. In a letter to Chairman G. H. Hines of the board of railroad wages and working conditions, Mr. McAdoo said:

"Numerous protests against increased rates to pay increased wages warn us that we must keep our demands within reasonable limits, because there is a point beyond which the public will not sustain us in raising wages."

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to express our thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and after the death of our parents and relatives.

Production work is still a part of the activities of the Red Cross, and the local chapter has just received an allotment of 100 undergarments for boys of 12 years of age.

This order is to be ready by Jan. 1, and thus Red Cross workers will have plenty to do through the month of December in addition to the regular Christmas work done at this time of the year.

HERE AT HOME.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Thief River Falls citizen:

E. T. Emerson, retired farmer, 417 La Bree Ave. N., says: "I was greatly annoyed with a lame, aching back and pains across my loins kept me in misery. My kidneys were weak and didn't act as they should. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Curtis' Drug Store and two boxes gave me splendid relief. I recommend this fine remedy highly."

Mr. Emerson gave the above statement March 16, 1912 and on December 1, 1917 he added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is permanent. I am glad to again recommend them."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Emerson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILL LIGHT TREE AND PROVIDE RINK

COUNCIL STILL REFUSES ILLUMINATION TO COMMERCIAL CLUB, HOWEVER.

Although the council did not grant free lights to the Commercial club they did grant them for the Good Fellows Christmas Tree to be erected at the corner of Third and LaBree, and also for the skating rink on the river. The city street commissioner was also instructed to keep the rink clear of snow. Permanent street lights were also ordered in for the two intersections on Atlantic avenue where it is crossed by Fifth and Seventh streets.

The council meeting Tuesday night, outside of the discussion of the free lights for the Commercial club, the raise in rates of the Northwestern Telephone company, and the advisability of paving the business streets next year, was of a routine nature.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and approval of same the monthly reports of the city clerk, treasurer, chief of police and municipal judge were received and ordered filed.

The financial report as of Dec. 1 showed that on Nov. 1 there was a balance in the treasury of $48,500. That during November the receipts were $3,287.01 and the disbursements $4,525.89, leaving a balance Dec. 1 of $47,261.12. On Nov. 1 the uncollected light accounts totaled $428.62 as against $594.78 Dec. 1, with only $19.70 uncollected for water.

The report of the chief of police for November showed but two arrests, one for assault, which resulted in a fine and costs netting the city $10, and the other on a charge of selling liquor without a license, the accused being liberated on a $200 bond till the next term of court.

The request of the library board for an increase in salary for the janitor of $10 a month from Oct. 1 to May 1, giving him $35 a month during the winter months, was granted.

Mayor G. A. Penney stated that an emergency had arisen last Saturday which required him issuing credentials to Dr. Mellby to represent the city of Thief River Falls at the Chicago health meeting, and the council informally approved of the same.

Moving permits were requested by Andrew Field and Olaf Ramstad. The former wished to remove a small building from Conley avenue south outside the city limits. Mr. Ramstad wished to remove the old dry kiln from the sash and door factory outside the city limits and a barn from block 3 to outside the city. Both requests were granted.

A public hearing was ordered relative to assessment of costs in construction of sidewalks on Davis avenue, between Third and Fifth streets, the time being set for Jan. 14 next.

Mrs. Judith Dablow and her brother, Knute Swanson, returned to this city last Wednesday evening from Blackduck, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Dablow's daughter.

Hardesty-Rose.

The Minneapolis Tribune for Tuesday contained the following notice of the wedding of a well-known Thief River Falls young man. In another place in this issue of The Times attention is called to his having been made a lieutenant in the army:

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Rose, 1127 Sixteenth avenue southeast, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dewey Evelyn, to Lieut. George H. Hardesty of this city which took place Saturday night. An informal reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, after the ceremony, for a few intimate friends and relatives.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Hardesty left for Beloit, Wis., where Lieutenant Hardesty is in charge of the S. A. T. C. at Beloit college."

Smith Soon to Return.

Lieut. G. Howard Smith, who visited with former neighbors and friends here for a few days during the week, has returned to St. Paul for the purpose of being mustered out of the service. He finished his course in the officers' training school at Camp Pike just in time to miss the war and will now return to the practice of law. Before his enlistment he was secretary of the Commercial club and Merchants' association and it is expected that he will again take up this work upon his return. He will return with his family to make his home here about the first of the year. Mrs. Smith and their little daughter have been living in St. Paul during the time Lieut. Smith has been in the army.

Masons Elect Officers.

At the regular meeting of Northern Lodge No. 236, A. F. & A. M., held on Monday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Herbert Fuller, W. M.; Nels A. Nelson, S. W.; Ove E. Berge, J. W.; T. L. Molgaard, treasurer; G. L. Sterns, secretary; J. Q. Cronkhite, trustee for one year.

A committee was appointed to confer with the Eastern Star lodge with a view to holding a joint installation of officers shortly after the first of the year. The Eastern Stars elected their officers last evening.

Mrs. Albert Richmyer.

Mrs. Albert Richmyer passed away at her home at Walker, Dec. 2, the cause of death being due to pneumonia following influenza, after an illness of a week. She was born in this city July 9, 1882 and lived here most of her life. Her maiden name was Hattie B. Swanson and she was married five years ago. Deceased leaves a husband and son, Craig, and her mother, Mrs. Judith Dablow, to mourn her death.

POSTON REPORTED KILLED IN ACTION

NO LONGER DOUBT CONCERNING FATE OF THIEF RIVER FALLS MAN.

The fact seems to have been finally established that George S. Poston, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Poston of this city, was killed in action in France early in November. The casualty list this morning contains his name among those who were previously reported missing in action, now reported killed. Conflicting information concerning the fate of this young man has kept the family in a state of suspense for a month.

Poston was a national army man and left here with the February, 1918, contingent. He had been in France since early summer.

Wounded on Last Day.

Oscar Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oluf Dahl, was this week reported wounded in the fighting in France on Nov. 10. This was on the last day of actual hostilities and probably within the very last hours. Nothing concerning the nature of his injury is known.

Relatives of James Havel have been notified that he was slightly wounded in action on the 26th of September. Letters have been received from him since that time and as he says nothing concerning his injury it is thought that it is not of a very serious nature.

Edward Klementson of Hazel, is another listed among the casualties, he being also in the slightly wounded class.

Local Boys Returned.

Arthur Liden, Carl Gulrud and Louis Heckne were among those from this city who arrived in New York Dec. 2nd from overseas. They are now in camp where they will remain until mustered out, which will undoubtedly be some time before Christmas.

H. A. Brumund received a wire from his son, John, this morning stating that he had arrived safely in New York from overseas. John says he will probably be home for Christmas.

The Public Forum

Slackers Take Notice.

A surprise party Thanksgiving night was given Andrew Ellingson, postmaster and storekeeper at Highlanding. The above party who claims to be a citizen of the United States subscribed for a third and fourth Liberty loan bond but if rumor is correct he has made no effort to meet payments on either.

He has refused any contribution to the Red Cross or United Workers funds. The surprise was in the nature of a canary colored coat of paint covering store windows and building. Mr. E. spent a greater part of Thanksgiving day trying to remove the traces of the well-needed rebuke he received at the public's hands.

The country is too small for his kind and the sooner he makes it his country the better.

CITIZEN.

Simon Warring.

Simon Warring passed away at his home in Excel township, Marshall county, December 9. He was born Sept. 1, 1846 and was 72 years 3 months and 8 days old at the time of his death. The remains were buried in the Greenwood cemetery, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. H. Barnard.

Harriet O., wife of Lynden H. Barnard, died at the Physicians' hospital last Wednesday evening. About a week previous to her death she underwent an operation for appendicitis and was apparently getting along well when complications affecting the stomach and appendix developed.

Deceased was born July 25, 1888, at Minneapolis. She was married to Mr. Barnard about six years ago and moved to Thief River Falls, this city continuing to be her home since that time. She has a large circle of friends and acquaintances who are deeply grieved at her untimely death. Besides the husband there is one daughter, five years of age.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL

WANT CHILDREN AS THEIR GUESTS

GOOD FELLOWS MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR A GREAT CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.

WILL BE WONDERFUL TREE

PLAN IS TO HAVE LADIES' CANTATA MEMBERS LEAD IN THE SINGING.

If any child in Pennington county is prevented from having a good time on Christmas afternoon it will be the fault of someone besides the Good Fellows. These latter have provided for a Christmas tree celebration that will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted in this neck of the woods. They have the funds, thanks to the liberality of our citizens, and they will not be niggardly in spending them for such a good purpose.

Contributions Most Liberal.

For once a committee found it a pleasure to go around gathering money. Wherever their errand was stated the response was immediate and generally substantial. A public Christmas celebration seems to be the one particular thing on which all our people can unite and boost for with enthusiasm.

The pleasure with which the project was hailed about the city was gratifying to those in charge, but the real surprise came when they approached the railroad men. The shop employes and trainmen of the Soo line went down in their jeans with such abandon that they almost equaled the amount collected from all other sources.

Monster Tree Coming.

One of the finest evergreens ever grown in northern Minnesota is being sent to Thief River Falls from near Clearbrook. Supt. W. A. Barnard, of the Soo, has this important feature of the celebration in charge and states positively that the tree will be here in time. It will be erected at the corner of Third street and LaBree avenue and 100 electric lights will be scattered through its branches. The city will furnish current and do the wiring free of charge, it being one of the stipulations in joining the Good Fellows club that no services of this kind are to be charged for.

Distribution at 4:30.

It is figured that the children will wish to eat their Christmas dinner at home and will thus be in no shape to meet Santa Claus until about 4:30 in the afternoon. This will also give those from the country a chance to get here. At that time the presents and good things will be given out and any boy or girl who misses the treat will have cause for being sorry.

The Ladies Will Sing.

It is a hard matter to announce any set program for an occasion of this kind. Everybody is supposed to have as good a time as possible and to help see that others enjoy themselves. A feature of the afternoon, however, will be the music. The ladies who are to sing in the Christmas Cantata of the Woman's club will be asked to lend their services, and as they are the very best kind of Good Fellows there is no danger of their refusing.

It will be a great afternoon.

INDIAN VOLUNTEER IS AMONG WOUNDED

CASUALTY LIST FOR WEEK IS SMALLEST IN LONG TIME.

The first among the Indian soldiers from the eastern end of Pennington county to be reported as a casualty is Alex Alex, whose home address is given as Neptune. He is among those wounded, degree undetermined.

E. G. Sandberg of Hazel, is the only Pennington county man reported seriously wounded since the last issue of The Times. He is a son of A. P. Sandberg, farmer, who has also another son in the service.

Melvin Hansgaard of Wanke, appears as having been slightly wounded. He is not among those who left from this county and must have joined the army while a resident of some other place.

According to reports the last of the casualty list will have been reached on Dec. 20, and the reports from now on will be watched with greater interest than ever.

NORTHWEST SLOW ON WAR SAVINGS

PLEDGES MUST ALL BE REDEEMED BY THE FIRST OF THE YEAR.

Pennington county has fallen from second to fourth place among northwestern counties in the amount of War Savings Stamps and Certificate pledges redeemed. Out of the allotment of $219,000 there was reported collected on Nov. 1 but $73,677.92, which leaves a rather staggering balance to be secured before the first of the year. The county now stands seventy-first among the 84 in the state.

A special effort will have to be made to secure the payment of the pledges. Chairman Theo. M. Thronson, who has taken charge of the work since the death of Geo. G. Johnson a couple of weeks ago, urges everyone to make an effort to meet the payments before Dec. 31, which is the date set by the government for the closing of the campaign.

The per capita standing of the nearby counties is as follows: Beltrami, $2.82; Clearwater, $3.18; Kittson, $11.44; Mahnomen, $6.51; Marshall, $10.09; Pennington, $6.71; Polk, $7.23; Red Lake, $13.41; Roseau, $1.74.

FEAR VOICED THAT RIVER MAY GO DRY

MEETING AT CROOKSTON FRIDAY TO DISCUSS MEETING THE DANGER.

A meeting has been called at the Crookston Association rooms for Friday to discuss the matter of flood control and the advisability of forming a drainage district under the Minnesota law which was passed at the last legislature, says the Crookston Times.

This question is one that has been discussed for the past two or three years, but it has never reached a point where any definite work could be accomplished for the reason that it involves several questions in regard to drainage, and river improvement effecting Minnesota, North and South Dakota that are more or less conflicting.

The main question upon which an effort will be made to reach a conclusion at the meeting Friday, is whether this section will endeavor to secure the relief demanded by organizing a drainage district under the Minnesota law, or try for a direct appropriation from the state, or whether it will enter the larger scheme of making it a tri-state proposition and endeavor to secure a federal appropriation.

The question this section is most interested in is that of putting in a controlling dam at the outlet of Red Lake and straightening the Red Lake river near its source, thus controlling the even flow of the river and at the same time reclaiming many thousands of acres of land which are now over-flowed during the spring freshet.

Red Lake has fallen nearly six feet in the last ten years and it is claimed by engineers that a fall of another two feet would dry up the Red Lake river. At the present rate of fall the river would practically be without water in two years.

Senator D. P. O'Neill and O. A. Naplin, senator-elect, will be representatives from Pennington county in attendance at the meeting.

GETS THIRD PRIZE IN BUTTER CONTEST

L. HAZELRUD OF LOCAL CREAMERY SCORES NEAR TOP OF LIST.

The feature of the closing session of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association last week was comprised in the awards in various contests promoted by the association.

The highest scoring butter was made by D. J. Aamodt of Flom, Norman county, with a score of 95. S. C. Boe of New York Mills captured second prize, his score being 94.5, while third prize went to L. Hazelrud of Thief River Falls with a score of 93.5.

In the dairy cow judging contest, a team of dairy farmers composed of H. Willets of Bemidji, L. Jensen of Clearbrook and A. Larson of Park Rapids, won medals.

The convention announced the record of the various creamery associations and the annual report showed Pelican Rapids first, Wadena second and Shelly third. The silo contest went to Pelican Rapids which has 72 of them in use.

H. J. Hughes of Minneapolis, editor of an agricultural paper, and H. Sandholt, of St. Paul, secretary of the Co-operative Creameries and Operators' association were speakers.

With the exception of the Second vice-president, all the officers of last year were re-elected, L. B. Anderson, of Clearbrook, being elected to succeed N. B. Stensgaard, of McIntosh, as second vice-president. The officers for the coming year are: President, C. G. Selvig, of Crookston; first vice-president, N. P. Hanson, of Westburn; second vice-president, L. B. Anderson, of Clearbrook; secretary, Leonard Housko, of Halstad; treasurer, C. M. Davidson, of Climax.

Boys Nearing Home.

Max Goldsmith, who recently returned to New York from service in France, is now at Camp Dodge and expects soon to be able to return home. No report has come from the other boys who landed in New York with him, but as they were in the same company it is probable that these also have been sent West ere this.

DISTRICT PAYING COST FOR STATE

THROUGH LARGE NON-RESIDENT ENROLLMENT OF HIGH SCHOOL.

SUPT. HAY PRESENTS CASE

SHOWS PRESENT SYSTEM TO BE UNFAIR TO TAXPAYERS OF CITY.

(By J. H. Hay, Supt. City Schools.)

Some interesting figures relative to Minnesota state high schools are presented in the report of the state educational department for the school year ending July 31st, and recently issued.

There were 233 high schools in Minnesota. Leaving out the twelve in the Twin Cities and Duluth, the enrollment in the largest ones was as follows: Winona, 535; Mankato, 508; Austin, 417; Fergus Falls, 409; St. Cloud, 405; Hibbing, 404; Rochester, 387; Albert Lea, 386; Virginia, 384; Stillwater, 383; Faribault, 350; Thief River Falls, 349; Northfield, 346; Red Wing, 343.

It will be noted that only five of these are located north of the Twin Cities. The enrollment in neighboring high schools is submitted: Warren, 122; Crookston, 303; Detroit, 199; Ada, 95; Fosston, 133; Moorhead, 210; East Grand Forks, 106.

Figures are Compared.

To maintain these schools the assessed valuation of each as compared with its enrollment throws considerable light upon the sources of school taxes. For instance, Thief River Falls has a valuation of $1,489,000, while Fergus Falls has $2,374,000; St. Cloud, $3,861,000; Crookston, $2,276,000; Bemidji, $1,932,000; Hibbing, $13,281,000; Virginia, $41,033,000. Aside from the last two, the tax rates in all the others are almost as high as in Thief River Falls, despite the lower valuation locally and at the same time the heavy burden of attendance.

Non-Resident Enrollment.

An added source of cost in Thief River Falls as compared with other towns, is the expensive high school non-resident enrollment. It ought to be understood that all high schools must be free and open to all citizens of school age in the state. In the grades, there is practically no non-resident attendance, as it can be and is prohibited by the imposition of a tuition fee of $3.50 per month.

Last year 124 non-resident pupils were enrolled at Thief River Falls, while Virginia had only 31, Winona 57, Crookston 58, Faribault 50, Hibbing 10, Bemidji 50. Some high schools had as low as two or six or ten non-residents.

Unfairly Burdened.

All high schools receive a flat state aid of $1800 annually. This is supposed to make them free high schools. Where the per capita annual expense of a student runs from $60 to $80 it is evident that districts in Thief River's class, with large non-resident enrollments, are indeed burdened and unfairly treated. To equalize this burden, the state makes a provision whereby it pays a part of the tax rate above 20 mills, but this is so small that it cannot reach the nub of the proposition.

State Should Pay.

The state ought to pay all the expense of its wards, the non-residents, and not force any community to burden itself with the high school training of the children from outside districts. Were this idea translated into law it would save the local district from $8,000 to $10,000, and reduce taxes accordingly. Already this year the Thief River Falls high school enrolls 136 non-residents, so this expense promises to increase rather than diminish. A weak high school, or one organized so as to eliminate special and vocational training might tend to repel rather than attract students from abroad.

Ten towns dropped the normal training departments last year, while the local school enrolled the usual large classes. All these departments were cared for by one instructor each, except Thief River Falls, Fergus Falls and Faribault, where two instructors were required.

Receipts From Special Aid.

The local schools are organized so that they receive every special state aid which it is possible for any high school to receive. For last year this amounted to $8,066, but a shortage of appropriations required this to be cut seven per cent. It is expected that the next legislature will adjust appropriations so that all arrearages in state aids will be made good.

Last year 189 high schools reported the teaching of German, 12 teaching of Swedish and 27 of Norse. It is probable but few schools are teaching German the current year. But three schools taught military drill last year, four taught salesmanship, one had printing, twenty-eight took up public speaking, and only twenty-three taught penmanship. Eleven schools were forced to drop agriculture last year and more will discontinue it this year. The call of war occasioned this change.

Changes are Imminent.

An examination of the state department's report is convincing evidence that changes in high school organization are imminent. The health of the students and of the community, vocational and industrial training, a change in state aids, and a modification of the school terms, are some of the subjects compelling attention just now. The Thief River Falls school has always given a conservative, but consistent support to a progressive educational program, and will do so in the future.

Will Recount Ballots.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson received notice the first of the week requesting him to send all the ballots cast at the late election to St. Paul. There is to be a re-count of the votes cast on the dry amendment to the constitution and for some reason the entire set, state and county votes included, must be gone over.

WHAT WILL WE DO IN HONOR OF BOYS?

MATTER OF THEIR RECEPTION TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING SOON.

Pennington county soldier boys are already returning from the camps in this country and it will be but a short time until those who have been in France are again among us. What are the citizens of Thief River Falls and Pennington county going to do about it?

That something should and will be done is certain. Every man, woman and child is interested in seeing that they are given a reception in some degree indicative of the pride with which we view their achievements, but there is at present no agency in existence with authority to take the initiative.

Mayor G. A. Penney proposes to remedy this by calling a mass meeting of citizens, not only of Thief River Falls, but of the entire county, to gather at the Auditorium shortly after the first of the year. At this time the matter can be discussed and some plan formulated.

The idea would be to include all the boys who have been in the service, regardless of whether they were called to France or not. It is realized that it was not the fault of those who remained in camps in this country that they failed to get into the fight in time. They are entitled to be regarded as soldiers, willing to go wherever they were sent.

It would be impossible to hold any kind of reception before at least a considerable number of the boys have returned. They are coming every day and it would have to be a continuous performance if all were to be treated alike. For this reason it is thought better to wait until later and then include them all as honor guests at one big blowout.

McFarland Gets To 'Em.

M. T. McFarland, agent for Ford autos and other Ford products in this city, expects to leave this week for Dearborn and Detroit to be present at a meeting of the concern's salesmen. In order to make certain of Mac's attendance at this conclave, the president of the company looking after Mr. Ford's interests in this state, M. H. Schmelzel of St. Paul, telephoned to him, just as a reminder. Mac was busy soliciting funds for the Red Cross and refused to talk to the St. Paul man until the latter had authorized him to enter his name on the list for a contribution of $2.00. Mr. Schmelzel said to go ahead as he had never turned down a Red Cross solicitor in his life.

33 CASUALTIES IN DRAFT LIST

NATIONAL ARMY MEN FROM PENNINGTON COUNTY WHO WILL NOT RETURN.

EIGHT KILLED IN ACTION

ELEVEN DIED OF DISEASE AND THIRTEEN ARE REPORTED AS WOUNDED.

Of the total number of National army men inducted into the service from Pennington county during the late war, just about ten per cent are thus far recorded as casualties. According to the figures of the local registration board there have been in the neighborhood of 860 men sent from the county and of this number 33 are thus far reported as killed, wounded, missing or dying of disease. In the list and coming under the latter classification are also included those who died in camp.

The total number of men from this county who have been sent to France under the selective draft law is not known, so their percentage of loss cannot be given out at this time. Nor is it likely that the entire report is yet in, it being stated that it will take until Dec. 20 to get the completed list. So far the casualties for the county are divided as follows: Killed, 8; wounded, 14; died of disease, 11.

The List of Killed.

Those killed in action and thus far reported are as follows: Albert Seeland, St. Hilaire; George S. Poston, city; Casper E. Crown, city; Axel Borgie, Hazel; Elmer J. Ecklund, city; Gustav Solum, city; Oscar C. Bakken, city; Frank Sinkey, Hazel.

Those who died of disease, in the field or at camp in this country are as follows: Joseph Myers, city; Henry L. Anderson, city; Harry Stucy, city; Robert Dempsey, Rudell; Henry Svaare, Erie; C. H. Hermanson, city; Carl Vake, Erie; Herbert Garceau, Red Lake Falls; Casper G. Hanson, St. Hilaire; Ole Mossestad, city; Elmer A. Dahlen, city.

Following is the list of wounded: Harry Bakken, city; Arthur Helgeson, Kratka; Selmer H. Lund, Kratka; Gustaf H. Akerlund, Wylie; Edward Klementsen, Hazel; John G. Hanson, Neptune; Halbert Halvorson, city; Osmund Ordahl, city; Sidney Ells, city; Oscar M. Dahl, city; Craven C. Calloway, city; Andrew Feragen, city; James Havel, city; Peter Schaltz, city.

Only two of those who died of disease were with the army in France at the time of their death, the others being distributed among the camps in this country as follows: Dodge, 1; Jefferson Barracks, 1; Grant, 2; Jackson, 1; Hancock, 2; Oglethorpe, 2.

Concern Branches Out.

L. B. George of the plumbing firm of Holt & George, has moved from Thief River Falls with his family and is now located at Washburn, Wis., where the company has put in another shop. He will continue to look after the business in the Wisconsin city while Mr. Holt stays in Thief River Falls. The latter says that it was not lack of business here that prompted this move, but simply a desire for expansion.

Christmas Celebrations in Thief River Falls Churches

Christmas celebration announcements at the different churches of Thief River Falls have been held in abeyance until the last minute in order that it might be certainly known whether or not the influenza situation would be such that gatherings of this kind would be permitted. For this reason a number of Sunday schools did not get their programs completed in time for publication this week, but all will have Christmas trees with the usual order of recitations, songs, addresses and distribution of presents and candy.

Following are the announcements of the different churches for Christmas week:

Methodist Episcopal Church.

The services in the Methodist church next Sunday, Dec. 22, will be as follows: In the morning at 11 the pastor will deliver the Christmas sermon. Subject: "The Gift of an Only Son." The Sunday school will meet at 10:00 a. m. In the evening at the hour of the usual service at 8 o'clock the children will render their Christmas program. This program is a message from the little folks and strictly in keeping with the spirit of the day. It is the purpose of the Sunday school to make it a giving Christmas and the children and older folks are urged to bring an offering which will be used for the Armenian sufferers. The public is invited to attend. Following is the program:

The Telephone Hearing.

City Attorney Theo. Quale returned Tuesday evening from St. Paul where he had represented the city in the telephone hearing. He states that Minnesota municipalities were represented in force and that the overwhelming sentiment was against granting the raise in rates asked, at least until more is learned concerning the situation. He is of the opinion that some concession will probably be made, although just what this will be is uncertain. The strike of the telephone girls in the twin cities and the action of Postmaster General Burleson in fixing the long distance toll rates helped to confuse the issue. Mr. Quale is of the opinion that one of the first things to be demanded by the commission is that the actual valuation of the telephone properties be ascertained.

PAYS LIGHT BILL; SPURNS DISCOUNTS

COMMERCIAL CLUB SECRETARY INSISTS ON PAYING EVERY CENT DUE.

If the Commercial club of Thief River Falls must pay the city for lights used in the club rooms while these are being held open for purposes in which the community as a whole is interested, it will insist on paying the entire sum. At least that is the view of Secretary Perl W. Mabey, and he will receive the endorsement of every member in the stand he has taken.

When it became evident that the council would not recede from its position of making the club pay, Mr. Mabey called at the office of City Clerk A. H. Akre and laid down the money. Mr. Akre, who had nothing to do with the matter except acting in the capacity of accountant, offered to allow the ten per cent discount, figuring that as the matter had been in controversy he would be justified in doing this. Mr. Mabey, however, refused to accept this basis of settlement and insisted on paying the entire sum. He stated that it was the 11th of the month and as the discount period expired on the 10th the city had no business accepting anything but the full amount. Not satisfied with this, he also added 77 cents to the total as interest on the past due account.

It is to be hoped that everybody is now satisfied.

The Times last week made a mistake in stating the amount of the bill the city council insisted was owed by the club. The paper stated that the account totalled nearly $100 and that it represented the charge for lights for three months. It now appears that the amount was $92 and covered the period from March to November. It is thus disclosed that the club light bill is about $10 per month instead of $30.

AVOID CROWDS, IS PHYSICIANS' ORDER

FLURRY OF INFLUENZA CAUSES DOCTORS TO ISSUE FURTHER WARNING.

That there are more cases of Spanish influenza in the county at the present time than for some weeks past is certain, although just how much of a foothold the disease has gained cannot be learned. The present flurry is evidently of a mild nature and none of those reported on the sick list are regarded as in any danger.

Because of the public gatherings usual about Christmas time, the health authorities have deemed it advisable to issue another warning. While the situation is not such as to make the closing down of schools, churches and theatres necessary or even advisable, yet the danger is not past and everyone is asked to exercise all the care possible.

Thief River Falls doctors who attended the meeting of health officers at Chicago last week say that reports from nearly every other section of the country indicate that the disease has been very much worse in most places than in Thief River Falls. It is certain that no place in the state has been so fortunate in escaping. This is a record the authorities are very anxious to maintain and ask the assistance of the citizens in so doing.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician, says that one of the things to avoid is becoming excited over the situation. If people will keep cool and exercise a little judgment as to getting caught in mixed crowds he believes the flurry will soon pas. The official report of Dr. O. F. Mellby on the recommendations of the Chicago meeting will be found in another column of this issue.

Sends Home Trophy.

Sergt. Lawrence A. Lindblad, serving with a depot brigade in France, has sent a German shell home to his mother, Mrs. Nanny Lindblad, 319 Knight avenue south, as a trophy. It is 14 inches in length and covered with very excellent examples of the engraver's art. This work was, of course, done after the shell became the property of Sergt. Lindblad as it is not probable that the Germans took pains to decorate their cartridges. The young man reports himself in good health and spirits.

700 ENTRIES AT POULTRY SHOW

POTATO IS POOR SECOND

NO REASON GIVEN FOR LACK OF INTEREST IN THIS DEPARTMENT.

It looks very much as if the poultry exhibition will have to go it alone at winter shows in Pennington county hereafter. At any rate the attempt to include potatoes and grain as a part of the exhibit did not this year turn out to be a great success.

The poultry exhibit itself was a wonder. There were 61 exhibitors, showing 179 coops with a total of 700 entries of all kinds. The chicken display was naturally the largest and most interesting, although turkeys took up a large share both of the available space and the attention bestowed by visitors. J. C. Brown of Crookston, who did the judging, stated that the turkey section was one of the best he had ever seen while the show as a whole was superior to any at which he had officiated in more than five years.

Conklin Sweepstakes Winner.

The prize for having the largest number of high-scoring fowls at the exhibition went to F. B. Conklin of Thief River Falls. His exhibit was so far superior to any of the others that it was given a score of 79 points while the second and third highest only managed to reach 39 and 38 respectively. The winners of the last two awards were K. T. Delager of St. Hilaire, and Earl Develling of Thief River Falls. Six other exhibitors came within five points of reaching the score gained by Mr. Develling's entries.

The Class Sweepstakes.

The Highest Scores.

The highest scoring bird exhibited at the show was a White Plymouth Rock hen, owned by G. A. Krueger of Plummer, this entry receiving 95 points. The best pullet was a Single Comb White Leghorn, exhibited by Dennis McGinn and scoring 94¼. The high-scoring cock was a Rose Comb Rhode Island Red, entered by T. H. Bjerke, which received a mark of 93¾. The best cockeral was a Rhode Island Red from the flock of Olaf Neset, which received a score of 93¾.

Grain and Potatoes.

There were only about one-half as many potato exhibits as last year, this being a condition general all over the state, according to reports. Just why this should be so no one seems to be able to tell.

In the Early Ohio class F. B. Conklin received first prize; Ben Rosenthal, second, and James Mulhall, third. Burbanks—John Myers, first; Ben Rosenthal, second; Joseph Votava, third. Irish Cobblers—F. B. Conklin, first; C. W. Correll, second; E. H. Stevens, third. Open class—F. B. Conklin, first; Carl Johnson, second; Hans Anton, third.

The Evening Meeting.

There was a fair crowd present to hear Dean R. W. Thatcher of the State University discuss "After the War Problems" at the Auditorium on Friday evening. His remarks dealt largely with the importance of agriculture and agricultural training at this time. He pointed out that Europe must be fed by America for a long time to come and touched upon certain features of the late war. The audience appreciated his remarks, which were along optimistic and constructive lines throughout.

A very much appreciated feature of this meeting was the musical program. There was a violin solo by Miss Ausilga Sorenson, played in a manner that fairly captivated the audience, which insisted on an encore. Miss Laura Forde played a piano solo in her usual brilliant manner, acting also as accompanist to Miss Sorenson.

Supt. J. H. Hay officiated as chairman of the meeting.

CANTATA POSTPONED.

The Christmas cantata and musical program of the Woman's club, advertised for this evening, has been indefinitely postponed. Miss Evelyn Grindeland, chorus leader, is sick and this has interfered with rehearsals. In view of the threatened recurrence of the influenza epidemic it has also been deemed safest not to encourage large gatherings where no great inconvenience will result from a postponement.

Letters from the BOYS

RAILROADING IN THE FAR EAST

TOM ROWAN SAYS SIBERIA TAKES PRIZE FOR SLOW TRAINS.

SOO CONTINGENT IS WELL

THIS ONE TRIP ENOUGH AND THE BOYS WISH THEMSELVES HOME.

Lieutenant Thos. Rowan, formerly a despatcher at Soo division headquarters in this city and who has been with the American railroad contingent sent to Siberia early in the war, has had all the traveling he wants for some time and will be glad to get back home again. At that he seems to be having a rather interesting time. In a letter to Mrs. Rowan, who is now visiting relatives at Empress, Alberta, he writes, among other things:

"Have just finished up the wire work with the cities between here and the ocean and have nothing to do but kill time until 5 a. m., when I am going up to the barracks and wake up a couple of the boys who are going out west on No. 3 to work. The train is seven hours late but this is the only time she has been behind her schedule for months. This is about the only train that ever is on time. The others are from five to 18 hours late and always crowded to the roof so that traveling is a frightful experience. It takes so blooming long to go even a short ways. Only half the people can get seats, the rest standing up, eating dust and imagining they are having a hurrah of a time.

Poor Daytime Sleeper.

"Hinton and I are working the third trick, and as it is almost impossible to sleep in daytime we work one night and are off one night. He worked Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and I the other three nights. In that way we can get by and keep in good health and spirits. The other tricks are O. K. and we enjoy them, but as there are ten of us in one big barracks room no sleep can be had in the daytime at all. We used to sleep in the hospital but now there are always some of the boys there sick.

Taken Suddenly Sick.

"We consider it quite a joke. All the trainmasters and traveling engineers were in fine health until about a week ago, when they were put out to ride all the trains. Now only about half of them are able to be around at all, complaining about bad colds, stomach trouble and fifty other ailments. We sure do josh them, saying that if they did not have to work they would soon be in good condition again. The Soo line bunch has been very happy, not one of us having yet been seriously sick.

Many are Sent Home.

"We are located in a big city and have an exceptional chance to show our ability, even tho we havn't as yet got started right. Twenty-four of the boys have thus far been sent home on account of sickness. This is about 12½ per cent of the total in a year, which is going some. I am afraid the high percentage was caused a great deal thru too many old timers coming over here and getting away from their steady way of living. They were unable to stand the new food and changes of climate to which we have been subjected during the past year.

Heard Ambassador Speak.

"We had the pleasure of hearing our ambassador to Japan, Mr. Morris, make an address today and sure did enjoy his talk, feeling more encouraged after listening to him. He went to Tokio from here and I expect we will hear some news soon, but nothing has reached us yet.

"A car left Vladivostock last night with light overcoats, new trousers, shirts, sox and winter underwear, and our new serge uniforms will be made up in about four or five weeks. My two last winter's suits are almost as good as new and I am still wearing my khaki, this being warm enough as yet. We will soon be fixed out and if they don't furnish us the new overseas officers' caps I am going to buy one myself as I think they are nifty, jaunty, dressy affairs and will set the uniforms off in fine shape.

Poor Hog Killers.

"I saw some Russians kill a hog today and is was sure funny the way they went about it. After catching the poor devil they made mighty preparations and one of them made about 15 tries for his heart with a sword. Then they piled a lot of hay around the carcass and set fire to it. After all the hair was burned off on one side they rolled him over, piled on more hay and set fire to it again. Then they scraped the hide with knives and hatchets. That pig was some sight when they got through as they left it on the ground all the time they were at work.

American Troops Fine.

"Twenty-five American troops arrived here the other night and every time I see them I thank God I am from the good old U. S. A. Our soldiers are head and shoulders above every other kind we have seen here, and we have seen a lot of them. Our men are better drilled, better dressed, have a better appearance generally and are not drinking and in trouble like the soldiers of other nations. The French boys who are here are always hunting vodka and are generally most successful in their search.

Has Had Enough.

"I will not come over here for another war if I can help it. Let us hope that when this one is over there will be no more wars for all time. Hinton has had no Chicago paper and I no Thief River Falls paper for months now, and I sure do miss The Times with its home dope. Occasionally the St. Paul papers show up and we pounce on them for news of the injured and other things connected with home. So far the only name I have run across of a Thief River boy is that of Fred Scanlan.

"It is 3:15 a. m. and I will have to ring off, walk down to the station and try to wake up."

ENTERTAINED BY FRENCH OFFICERS

NOTHING WAS TOO GOOD FOR THE YANKS AFTER PEACE DECLARATION.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hermanson have received a letter from their son, Dan, who is with the medical department of the 100th Areo Squadron in France. The letter follows:

"I will drop you a line to let you know that I am fine and dandy as far as my health is concerned. The only thing that worries me now is how soon I can come home. I do not think it will be long before I am among you all again, and believe me, I will be a happy kid.

"I suppose you had some time in the States the day the armistice was signed. As for us, we sure had a nice time. The French people were jubilant and wherever we went you'd here them say: 'American good comrade.'

"That night three other boys and myself were invited to supper by three French officers living in a little village near where we were stationed. Two of those present could speak pretty good English and they certainly entertained us.

"Our boys in France have certainly played their part in the great war. As for my part, I would not take anything in the world for what I've seen and for what I've experienced. America has taught us the meaning of real brotherhood. True to her humanitarian ideals, America has welded together her sons from every state, of every nationality, professing every creed, having different thoughts and teachings, so that they may look into the better nature of their fellow men.

"Such soldiers as America has trained through her great melting pot are the ones to whom the world will be indebted for the safety of posterity."

A merry Christmas

Christmas, this year, has a deeper significance than ever before. It means the subjugation of self for the benefit of your fellow man. As individuals and as a Nation, we are now perfectly justified in wishing each other a "Merry Christmas."

The Season's Greetings to our many friends and patrons.

THE WAR IS OVER; JOHNSON IS GLAD

FORMER MEMBER OF HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY ANXIOUS TO GET HOME.

IN FRANCE FOR SIX MONTHS

TOOK PART IN ALL DRIVES NEAR END—POIRIER SENDS POEM.

There is one note characterizing all letters received from the Pennington county soldiers in France these days. They are glad it is over. No matter how highly they praised the service while the war was in progress, all are well satisfied that the end has come.

Sergt. Albert I. Johnson, formerly science instructor and athletic coach at the Lincoln high school in this city, expresses the feelings of practically every one of the boys in the following letter to William Poirer, writing under date of Nov. 16:

"Yes, I guess it's over. Just thot I would tell you in case you hadn't heard of it in that country yet. The war is over. I can't see how or why the Boche should wish to reopen hostilities. The war is over.

"I am about tickled to death and there are about two million more Yanks in France at the present time who feel the same way, to say nothing of Frogs, Blithers and Boches. I don't see how people stood it as long as they did and have an awful lot of respect for the Frogs. I have seen the things they have done in this war and no one but a Frog could have accomplished them.

Heard the Last Gun.

"I heard the last gun fired and now things are awfully quiet. Why, the people have lights on their autos up here now, carry lanterns and act careless generally. It is the first time in four years they have been able to do these things.

"I have seen a large share of northern France. It is all so torn up and devastated that there's little worth while left. It may seem impossible that for miles and miles the shell holes are so thick that they touch, but I have seen them. Vast fortunes have been shot away in shells alone. It is only too bad most of them had to fall in France.

Hope to be Home.

"We are hoping to be home soon but fear it may be five or six months before we are through. Every one of us is more than ready to pull out. There are rumors of going in a month, or service in Germany and many other things, but they can't get me back to God's country too soon to suit me.

"Just a week before the end came the Boches shelled us. They dropped ten or twelve shells in our camp, killing two of our sergeants and wounding six men. We were lucky at that. You should have seen me hug the ground when the shrapnel whistled over our heads. I never was closer to the ground in my life. It's a great feeling wondering where you are going to get hit.

Has Service Stripe.

"We put on our chevrons the other day showing six months service in France. We have been pretty busy, having been with all the drives made in this neighborhood during the past four months. Believe me, we are happy now—happier than in years. La Guerre est fini. C'est bien ca. Now to come back and get a good shave, turkey, etc.

"Greet all the boys from me."

IS RATHER SEVERE ON THE SLACKERS

VERSES GIVE AN IDEA OF HOW SOLDIERS FEEL ON THE SUBJECT.

Alfred L. Poirer sent his father some verses written by the poet laureate of Headquarters Co. 52nd Am. Tr. C. A. C., First U. S. Army. It is entitled "Why He Can't Join the Army," and the young soldier asks if there are any to whom the words may apply living in Thief River Falls. He also states that he may make a trip to Germany before coming back, evidently hoping that his company will be ordered there for service. The poem is as follows:

You say he can't join the Army,
The life is too rough for him;
Do you think he is any better
Then some other mother's Tom or Jim?

You raised him up like a girl;
He don't smoke or drink, is your brag.
If all the rest of the boys were like him,
What would become of our Flag?

You say, let the rough class do the fighting,
They are used to beans and stew,
I'm glad I'm classed with the roughnecks
Who will fight for the Red, White and Blue.

You say that his girl could not stand it—
To send him away with the rest.
Don't you think she'd be glad he enlisted
When she feels a German's hot breath on her breast?

Think of the women in Belgium,
Of cruelties they had to bear.
Do you want the same thing to happen
To your innocent daughter so fair?

You can thank God that the stars in Old Glory
Are not blued by that kind of stain,
Because there are ten million roughnecks
Who have red blood pumped in their veins.

They go out and drill in bad weather,
And come in with a grin on their face;
While your darling sits in the parlor
And lets another man fight in his place.

Maybe we do smoke and gamble,
But we fight as our forefathers did;
So go warm the milk for his bottle—
Thank God, we don't need your "kid."

PLACE SOLDIERS ON FARM LANDS

STATE IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONER OUTLINES PLAN FOR OWNERS TO FOLLOW.

INSPECTORS WOULD DECIDE

GOVERNMENT TO BUY LAND, GIVING SOLDIER LONG TIME FOR REPAYMENT.

The proposition to make the owning of farms an easy matter for the returning soldier is being given the most careful consideration by men in high places all over the country. In every state which contains considerable tracts of unoccupied agricultural land the officials are devoting much time to the matter of getting these into the hands of the men returning from the war and doing so under conditions that will be deemed attractive.

Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration for Minnesota, has advanced a scheme which has many features to recommend it. He says that all the details are not yet worked out but believes that these should not present any insurmountable obstacles to its adoption.

Government Would Buy.

His plan is that the government should purchase the land outright, selling it back to the soldier on long time and easy payments. Following is the procedure proposed by the Minnesota official:

"The government to establish in each state, particularly the states, where large tracts of uncultivated lands are available, some kind of a government land office. The officials in charge of this office would permit land owners to list their lands suitable for agriculture, in that office, to be offered to the returning soldiers. As an example:

Would Decide Value.

"You are the owner of 3,000 acres of land, which you hold at $20.00 per acre. You list this land, giving its legal description by section, town, and range, as well as a general description of its character, at the time of listing and set your price of $20.00 per acre. When this land is listed, government appraisers visit the land and examine it thoroughly. If they conclude that your price is too high or that the land for various reasons is unfit for agriculture, being too swampy, too stony, too sandy, or too far from markets, they could refuse to list your land, while on the other hand, if they conclude that the land was fit for agricultural purposes, but the price too high, they could set a price which they consider fair and then it would be an option to leave it listed or withdraw it. When the soldiers return, everyone would be privileged to visit the land office in each state, receiving a description of the lands listed and then select such tracts, 40, 80, but not to exceed 160 acres, then return to the land office and notify the officials that he had decided to purchase a quarter-section of your land at the appraised price of $20.00 per acre. Upon receipt of this application the government to purchase the land from you and turn the same over to the soldier selecting it with the provisions that he can have twenty, thirty, or forty years to pay for it at 4 per cent interest and also that he is to reside upon the same five years and make certain improvements.

Method of Payment.

"The method of payment for the land by the government would not necessarily be cash, but could be in government bonds, running for a period of twenty, thirty or forty years at 4 per cent interest, for in Minnesota there are any amount of land owners who would be glad to sell their lands, accepting government bonds in payment, and I presume that these conditions exist in practically all of the states.

"There should also be a safeguard as to the lands that would naturally fall back on to the government's hands. For example: If a soldier filed upon a quarter section of your land and the government purchased it from you and the soldier for various reasons could not make good on the land, he would simply relinquish back his rights to the government and the government would put it up once more for filing to other soldiers, but in connection with this, a plan must be worked out whereby an unscrupulous land owner, aided by an unscrupulous soldier, could not dispose of his land to the government by simply making a deal with some soldier to file upon the land until the owner received his pay and then relinquish back the land, for if this was not safeguarded, the government might accumulate a large amount of undesirable land.

But I think this could be checked by having the land carefully cruised by competent examiners and making sure before allowing the land to be listed, that the price was fair and that the land was not only suitable for agriculture, but was sufficiently well located, etc., to be attractive to anyone wanting a farm. Under this plan I do not confine operations to any one section of the state or to any class of land. Improved farms may be listed as well as the undeveloped lands. This will give the soldier the privilege of selecting a ready made farm, anywhere in the state or a piece of raw land."

BIDS WANTED!

Propositions for doing the delivering for the seven grocery stores of Thief River Falls will be received up until the 28th of December, 1918. Two trips per day, one south and east, and one north and west. Bids may be made for the month or year. Bond will be required for the faithful carrying out of the contract.

DISTRICT FAILS TO REACH QUOTA

RAISES $130,000 IN WAR WELFARE DRIVE WITH $200,000 ASKED.

ONLY THREE HIT THE TOP

PENNINGTON COUNTY, WITH HEAVY ALLOTMENT, SECURED THREE-FOURTHS.

Reports thus far received from headquarters of the Seventh collection district of Minnesota for the war welfare drive indicate that the ten counties are going to fall short of their quota. The final result is not in but it is doubtful if there will be much change from the latest figures published. These show subscriptions to have been $130,000 while the quota was $200,000. Following were the officers in charge of the campaign: C. G. Selvig, Crookston, chairman for men; Mrs. A. A. Miller, Crookston, chairman for women; Mrs. Charles A. Pitkin, Thief River Falls, chairman for Victory Girls; Supt. J. H. Hay, Thief River Falls, chairman for Victory Boys.

Raise Three-Fourths.

Pennington county made a very good showing as compared with some of the others, securing three-fourths of the amount alloted. Only three counties reached their quota and only one went over the top. The credit for this latter achievement goes to Mahnomen county, but the allotment there was very small. Following is the record:

	Raised	Allotted
Polk	$ 45,000	$ 60,000
Marshall	15,000	30,000
Beltrami	15,000	20,000
Norman	10,000	21,000
Kittson	3,000	18,000
Roseau	10,000	15,000
Mahnomen	5,500	4,500
Clearwater	4,500	4,500
Red Lake	10,500	10,500
Pennington	12,000	16,000
Total	$130,500	$200,000

The work in Pennington county was in charge of the following chairmen: C. David Gustafson for men, Mrs. J. M. Bishop for women, Miss Olive Booren for Victory Girls, Mrs. G. Larson for Victory Boys.

Following is a list of the helpers for the United War Work Drive, both in city and county. The chairmen wish at this time to extend thanks to these people who under most adverse conditions rendered such valuable aid and without whose assistance the work could not have been so successfully completed. With almost impassable roads and much sickness in the county the township helpers deserve much credit for their patriotic, enthusiasm and earnest effort in this worthy cause:

The City Workers.

First ward—Fred Herrick, J. Provencher, Mrs. Maurice Giller, Miss Laura Stopple, Miss Una Nelson, Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, Mrs. Geo. Biddick, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich. Amount raised, $1,561.60.

Second ward—N. J. Silk, A. S. Sapero, Mrs. Mike Connelly, Mrs. J. Sether, Mrs. J. J. Richter, Mrs. Scott Laird, Mrs. R. B. Shetler, Mrs. L. N. Peck, Mrs. R. E. Fillmore, Miss Gertrude O'Neill. Amount raised, $900.40.

Numedal—Olof Larson, Amount raised, $100.00.

Highlanding—C. E. Rowberg, Mrs. Wm. Korstad. Amount raised, $405.50.

St. Hilaire—Gust Fellman, Mrs. Biglow. Amount raised, $330.25.

Total for city and county, $10,064.97.

This amount does not include the fund of Victory Girls and Boys which will bring the total for county up to $12,000.00.

The record of Black River township is still the best. Several townships have raised larger amounts, but none have gone farther over their allotment. The Victory Girls have not only exceeded their allotment but have exceeded the 50 per cent increase asked. This gives great credit to the earnest work done among the girls by Miss Olive Booren.

Following is the report of the Victory Girls of Pennington county up to date. This report will not be complete until Jan. 1st:

City	$ 892.50
Polk Center	16.50
River Falls	21.00
Goodridge	10.00
Star	30.00
Black River	20.00
St. Hilaire	28.25
Wyandotte	15.00
Kratka	10.00
Highlanding	5.00
Total	$1,050.75

HOME GUARD MAY STILL BE RETAINED

ORIGINAL PLAN WAS TO MUSTER OUT VOLUNTEERS WHEN WAR ENDED.

If the wishes of the state military authorities are deferred to the home guard companies of Minnesota will not be mustered out at once. At the time these companies were organized the members enlisted for the duration of the war and would automatically go out of commission now that the conflict is over, but there seems to be a general demand that some provision be made for continuing at least a part of the guard as a sort of state constabulary. Capt W. B. Fuller of the Thief River Falls company, has received no orders relative to the matter directly, but the following letter has been sent to battalion commanders by Maj. William C. Garis, chief of staff, at the request of Brig. Gen. Rhinow, commanding the state forces:

"It is very hard to say at this time what the future holds for the home guard of Minnesota. Personally, I am very much of the opinion that a greater portion of the present home guard organization will be retained. It seems to me a very necessary organization; they have demonstrated to the citizens of Minnesota, most clearly, their usefulness and I don't know what would have happened to the unfortunate citizens in the fire district had we not had the efficient home guard organization which we have.

"I would keep up the enthusiasm among the individuals of the organization, for it is quite likely that some means can be devised for taking care of the greater portion of the home guard organization."

Mrs. Wm. Warner, who had been visiting with her sister, Mrs. R. C. Rupprecht for a few days, returned to her home at Holt Saturday morning.

ALL DRAFT BOARD RECORDS COMPLETE

EXTRA CLERKS ORDERED TO CAMP DODGE TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

Clifford Loken of Ada, who was assigned to the Pennington county registration board as extra clerk, finished his work on Monday and left for Camp Dodge where the men engaged in this class of service will be mustered out during the week. Mr. Loken will probably go back to his old job as clerk in a bank at Lockhart.

Victor Polman of this city, who has been filling a similar position with the board at Bemidji, is expected back here as soon as he is mustered out. He was clerk in the office of Master Mechanic G. W. Hendry at the Soo offices here before joining the army and will in all probability be offered his old position.

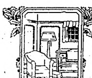
George Werstlein, clerk for the board at Roseau, was formerly employed in the insurance office of Daniel Shaw and will without doubt assume his former post.

Secretary N. D. Baker and the general army staff have rejected the proposal made by Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder that the draft boards be utilized in demobilization of the American armies.

Disclosure of their decision came through the issuance by General March, chief of staff, of a general order directing the discharge of enlisted men i semmpdan s TAOIN listed men in camps and cantonments.

Remodeling Hotel.

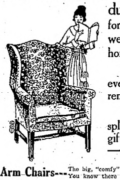
Landlord George Leimers of the Ogahmah hotel, is having the interior of the place remodeled, paying particular attention to the dining room. A number of changes are also being made about the exterior of the building which will make a great improvement in the general appearance of the property



GIVE FURNITURE

Useful, Lasting and Appreciated

The Government asks us to confine our gifts this year to the more useful and practical kind, thereby helping in the conservation of resources. The pleasantest way to obey this request, and at the same time give Christmas joy, is to give Furniture---useful, beautiful and durable---a gift that will last a lifetime. Whether for family or friend, it is always appropriate, in fact, a most welcome gift to receive, for it adds comfort and charm to the home, as no other gift can.

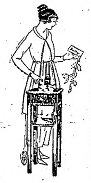


Our store is filled with the most desirable of gift pieces for every member of the family, or for any friend you wish to remember with a particularly fine piece of good Furniture.

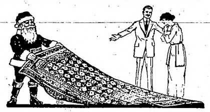
The suggestions offered here are only a few examples of the splendid values to be found at this store. A visit will solve your gift problem in a way to please both yourself and the recipient.

Kitchen Cabinets
What could be more welcome to the housewife than a kitchen cabinet. It would, more than anything else you could give, convince her that some thought was given to the drudgery of kitchen work and that her efforts were appreciated. A kitchen cabinet means a saving in steps, work, food and disposition. These cabinets are made to last forever. Securing one for your home will prove one of the best investments you ever made.

Arm Chairs--- The big, "comfy" kind for dad to rest up in. You know there is nothing he likes better than his own fireside, after a hard day's work. You can make it very pleasant for him with one of the many overstuffed or mahogany and cane Arm Chairs we have for your selection.

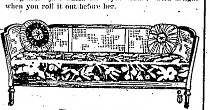


Pictures
We have a fine assortment of pictures for every room in the house. Game and fruit sets for the dining room, scenes in oil, steel engraving, pastel and water color for the parlor and sitting room; small, exquisite, subdue trifles for the bed chamber. We are prepared to make the frames for these at a very small cost.



Have Santa Bring Her a Rug
Uncle Sam says: "Give useful gifts."
And, what more useful gift could you give than one of our handsome Rugs?

It will add cheer to any room—its beautiful blended coloring will delight any eye—and, as for the joy it will bring Her—just watch her eyes dance with delight when you roll it out before her.

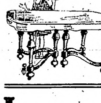


Davenports
A Davenport might easily be termed the "gift de luxe." It is certain that nothing more welcome or appropriate could be given. Unless you look over our large stock and get our prices on these goods before deciding on what to buy you may be making a mistake. We take a great deal of pride in this department of our business.

Rockers--- There is solid comfort in this big, cozy Rocker. You'll never know whether mother likes it best for its beautiful sturdy strength, or the comfortable rest it brings her. But you can be sure of her perfect delight, at receiving such a longed-for-gift. It will be easy to choose one from the great variety we show.

Lamps
As useful as it is ornamental, and always acceptable—a Lamp. We present a great variety, making it an easy matter for you to decide upon the style you want and the amount you care to spend.
Floor Lamps, Reading Lamps, Table Lamps, Piano Lamps, Boudoir Lamps.

Smokers' Stands --- When hubby can enjoy his after-dinner smoke without having to get up for matches or ash-tray, it will be doubly enjoyable. The graceful lines and fine finish of the Smoker's Stands we are showing, make them a welcome addition to the furnishing of any room.



Tables
Whether for Parlor, Sitting Room or Kitchen, we have them in endless variety and at all prices. Extension tables, round or square, Mission Library Tables—in fact tables for every possible purpose.

Writing Desks --- Some young hero will hardly have time to chase the Boche, sister will keep him so busy reading letters. But who could resist writing, when pen, ink and paper are spread out on such an inviting desk as this? Graceful lines are only good measure, for the fine cabinet work and beautiful finish are works of art in themselves. Many other delightful styles.

Cedar Chests
The woman does not live who would not be proud to own one of these beautiful and convenient chests. Moth and dust proof, finished in burnished brass, made substantial throughout. We carry them in a variety of styles, sizes and prices. Take a look at the beautiful sample in our south show window. Nothing finer can be found anywhere.

THE NORTHWEST'S OPPORTUNITY.

Soldiers at the close of the civil war were responsible for the settlement of the northern Mississippi valley states. Returning from the conflict they found land was to be had almost for the asking in Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and other states and they took advantage of the opportunity offered them through the homestead law to become farm owners.

The situation right now is not so very different from what it was at that time, except that there are no longer vast stretches of land to be homesteaded. There is still plenty of it needing development, but some other method must be employed in order to get it into the hands of the soldiers. The latter are coming back, just as they did in 1865, and thousands of them will be looking for farming opportunities just as was the case at that time.

Organizations in several states have already taken this matter up and are working on plans for aiding the soldier in finding the location and pursuit for which his training and inclination best adapt him. The Immigration Department of Minnesota has announced a program, an outline of which will be found on another page of The Times this week.

The success of this plan is largely up to the men having farm lands for sale. If they neglect to have lists of their holdings sent to the agencies in charge of this matter there will be no way for the soldier to discover what they have to offer except through the usual tardy channels. On the other hand, if landholders promptly comply with the suggestions made it may mean that our prairies and cut-over areas will be settled by young men who will have every inducement to make a success of whatever they undertake.

This offers an opportunity to northwestern Minnesota such as will never again be found. The lands in this section will appeal to the returned soldier far more favorably than will those of wooded areas. With the aid it is proposed to give him he can at once begin farming, the extent of his operations being practically only limited by his own ambitions.

There is already much land that is sure to be favorably reported on by the examining board, but much more can be made available at comparatively small cost. In this section there are large stretches to be reclaimed through drainage. The cost of undertaking this work is too great for private enterprise and some of it does not come within the province of the state, being still controlled by the government. This latter is mostly situated on the Indian reservation, and being at the source of the trouble, must be attended to first. When this is done, the remainder will be easily taken care of.

If congress is anxious to reclaim as much farm land as possible in order that the soldiers may be provided with homes, no more sensible course can be pursued than reclaiming those lands. Nowhere else can so much good soil be made available at so small a cost as right here in northwestern Minnesota. We already have the natural drainage reservoirs and the water courses for carrying off the surplus. What is needed is that these latter be straightened and deepened. This work in itself would provide employment for many soldiers until such time as the lands were drained.

Unless our people see that this matter is properly presented both to congress and to whatever governmental agency has the investigations in charge, they will be overlooking a wonderful opportunity.

THE BEST POULTRY SHOW.

The poultry department of the Pennington County Winter Show was easily the leading feature. In fact, it was practically the whole show. Visitors stated that it was the best exhibit of feathered stock ever seen in this section of the state and J. C. Brown of Crookston, who was the judge, said it was the finest he had seen in many years. It was a better poultry show than the state fair boasted this year.

All of which is very gratifying. Pennington county people did not go into the business of poultry raising to any extent until about three years ago. At that time an organization to boost the work was formed and membership in the state association sought. The progress made since that time has been remarkable.

The chicken display was of course the object of greatest interest, but turkeys were a close second. No one had any idea that birds of such size and general excellence were to be found in the county and the display will have the effect of stimulating the raising of this class of fowl to a decided degree.

The show was a success from every point of view, a fact that will be attested to by every person who viewed it. Much of the credit for this is due to Ross P. White, county agent, who worked hard to bring it about. The exhibitors are entitled to great praise for the interest taken and for the care evidently exercised in getting their birds into exhibition shape. Citizens of Thief River Falls also come in for their share of credit for the support they gave the enterprise.

The poultry show was without question one of the best things ever attempted in the county. The prediction is made that instead of 200 coops there will next year be more than 500.

GET READY FOR PAVING.

When the petition asking that the business streets of the city be paved was presented to the council last week, it was not supposed that the matter would be disposed of at once and that the work would be undertaken forthwith. This could not be done even though the council members were as anxious to pave as were the citizens presenting the petition.

There are, however, a number of things that can be done and must be done before the actual work of permanently improving our streets can be undertaken. The only part of the program on which we all seem united at this time is that the streets should be paved. What this would cost, what other work is first necessary, the kind of paving most desirable and the general plan of procedure has not been given any serious consideration. All these things must be looked after before anything of a definite nature can be begun.

The very first thing on the program is the engaging of a competent engineer. This is a matter of the highest importance and the best man obtainable would in all probability be the cheapest in the end. It would be his duty to see that the sewers and water mains are so laid that there will be no necessity for tearing up the streets to make corrections or repairs. He would find out just how much will have to be removed from the surface of the thoroughfares as they now stand. His job would include the making of estimates and the recommendation of material. In fact, there is nothing that can be done until a competent engineer has made a report.

The council members seem to be favorably inclined toward the project. They admit that the paving should have been done years ago and that the longer it is put off the more it is liable to cost. Business men, almost without exception, have signed the petition to have the work begun and the taxpayers generally realize its importance and desirability.

Now that such a good start has been made let us keep on until some definite result has been obtained. Every citizen can do his share in getting this matter under way by backing up the council when the time comes for that body to take definite action.

MUST WORK TOGETHER.

Unless the citizens of Thief River Falls quit quarrelling and quibbling over insignificant matters they are liable to retard the growth of the town, block all progressive enterprises and split the community into two camps. Where this condition is permitted to exist, all advancement stops.

The spectacle presented last week of supposedly level-headed and substantial citizens appearing before the council to protest against the Commercial club being furnished lights free of charge by the city is one that would have made a visitor from the outside smile. The amount involved was so small that one cannot help wondering just how much of a row would have been raised had the matter really amounted to anything. The objectors could certainly not have confidence on the score of expense alone, as this was a matter of practically no importance. Their stand must have been taken because they wished to make things as unpleasant and difficult as possible for the club itself.

The Times does not, however, care to discuss the merits of this particular case. What is of far greater importance is the spirit behind the attitude of the objecting citizens. They simply were prepared to buck anything that would in any manner help the Commercial club and must naturally be opposed to anything undertaken by that organization.

This means a division of purpose, something that should be avoided at any cost. If we go to squabbling among ourselves over little matters of this kind it will be but a short time until we are split into two factions on every subject coming up, and that means an absolute stoppage of every effort to make Thief River Falls a bigger and better town.

For some years the people have been working together, and these have been years of advancement and general prosperity. If we want this condition to continue we will have to settle our differences without such a display of ill feeling as has been in evidence during the past couple of weeks.

CHRISTMAS.

Since the earliest times of which we have any knowledge a festival has been celebrated toward the end of December. The early Romans and Britons observed it in honor of their heathen deities, the date for their observance falling at about the time of the holiday now honored by Christian nations as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth. The custom is therefore much older than even Christianity itself.

In every country and at all times the event has been a feast of thanksgiving and rejoicing. Whatsoever the event commemorated or whichever deity it was calculated to honor, the fundamental idea seems to have been the same. It was a period of general good will and gladness.

Seldom has the anniversary occurred at a time when all peoples have such great cause for happiness as just now. For more than four years not one single nation on the earth's surface has escaped feeling in some degree the depressing influence of a great war. During this time nearly all hopes and prayers have centered about the wish that there might be an end to the conflict and consequent suffering. It has been brought to a close, and the end has come in a manner most gratifying to the nations who have at all times regarded Christmas as the greatest and most significant of holidays.

The war in time will be forgotten, but the festival of Christmas will continue to be the great annual event for more and more of the earth's population. It has been celebrated for ages and will continue to be observed as long as mankind inhabits the earth. It is a season of kindly greetings and affectionate remembrances. It is the one day of the year which means the same to all of us.

The selection of W. I. Nolan as speaker of the next house of representatives will prove highly satisfactory to the people in the northwestern part of the state. Mr. Nolan has made numerous trips through the section and has a large number of personal friends and admirers here. He believes in Minnesota and is proud of the old state, has had long years of experience as a legislator, is capable, fearless and impartial. He will make a popular and efficient presiding officer.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The thermometer ranged nearly the entire length of the tube during the week. On Monday it was 30 degrees below zero and on Thursday it was 40 above.

Carpenters Bourque and Jubb were making extensive repairs to the residence of Mrs. Wendt.

Miss Julia Moylan, with several others, started the first of the week for her claim on the reservation, having installed a heating plant in their sleigh.

T. A. Rod of Grafton, N. D., passed through the city on his way to Germantown, near which town he had secured a claim.

Christ Orten of Germantown, was in the city soliciting financial aid for the erection of a school house in his neighborhood.

Gottfried Adolph, night miller at the O. K. Flour mill, had his arm caught in a pulley while putting on a belt, breaking the member in two places.

Postmaster Ira C. Richardson went to Crookston where he had his tonsils removed in the hope that it would improve his general health.

The citizens were discussing electric lights. Municipal ownership seemed to be favored and it was figured that $2,500 would supply a plant, poles, wire and everything needed to start. The revenue was estimated at $200 per month and the cost of operation at $150. Residence light would cost 25 cents each and store lights 50 cents per month.

Ten Years Ago.

Patents were granted to two Thief River Falls men during the week. Anton Pederson secured a patent on an adjustable alligator wrench, and H. T. McAnulty, superintendent of Schools, secured the rights to manufacture and sell an educational devise for displaying cards in a school room.

Following a custom among the old-timers, a gathering was held at the Phil Zeh residence to talk over events of bygone days.

Peter Engelstad returned from attendance at the meeting of the National Creamery association at Chicago. On his way back he visited relatives in Ottertail county.

Manager Sterns of the telephone company, stated that the equipment would be moved into the new quarters secured in the McGinn block some time in January.

George Dixon, colored, the old janitor in charge of the Dobner-Meehan block, suffered a stroke of paralysis and nearly died before being discovered by one of the tenants.

The marriage of Miss Ila Ramstad to George W. Reynolds was announced for Dec. 19, and a number of social functions were given in honor of the bride.

Bond Payments Due.

The third payment of the Fourth Liberty Loan is due today. The amount is 20 per cent of the amount subscribed and it is more important than ever that it be paid at once.

After this there are two more payments to be made on the fourth issue, one on Jan. 16 of 20 per cent and one on Jan. 30 of 30 per cent.

BETTER ROADS.

In providing for discharged soldiers and sailors and munition workers, road building offers a solution of many problems. The United States as a whole is behind most foreign countries in the matter of good highways. Poor roads are a reason for high prices of farm produce in many cases. They are a reason why more automobiles are not purchased and used. They are a reason for heavy upkeep cost of vehicles of all kinds. They are a cause of many accidents. They are a hindrance to suburban and country real estate in country sections; a reason, in short, for slower development of national industry and production than should be expected of a country as progressive as ours claims to be.

Colonel Robert H. Tyndall of the 150th Field Artillery, U. S. Army, writing from France says: "There will be a couple of million real road war boosters when the war is over." He spoke in glowing terms of splendid highways they found in France comparing them much to the detriment with the average highway found in the United States.

In the same article containing Colonel Tyndall's view, it was stated that there is undoubtedly a big road plan developing in this country. Chairman George C. Diehl of the A. A. A. Good Roads Board says: "$100,000,000 a year appropriated by the Federal Government on a definite tangible highway system will work wonders in the form of from 5,000 to 10,000 miles of splendid hihway, partly made up of sections rebuilt and partly or entirely new construction. State and local appropriation should be encouraged and the construction of federal roads should enormously increase road expenditures. The thousands of otherwise unemployed labor can be used to the most excellent advantage in this way."

The vast sum that would otherwise have been spent in destruction can beneficially be expended for highway construction to the end that trade can be increased between rural sections and urban points. Hundreds of thousands of returning soldiers and men that have been employed in munition plants can be employed profitably to themselves and to the communities of which they are a part in this highway work with the result that tradesmen will enjoy increased trade, laborers will be contented, the farmers will have more accessible markets and the community as a whole will enjoy increased prosperity.

Miss Dorothy Bottleson returned to her home in this city, Saturday evening from Minneapolis and other places where she had been visiting for some time.

THE NORTHWEST'S OPPORTUNITY.

Soldiers at the close of the civil war were responsible for the settlement of the northern Mississippi valley states. Returning from the conflict they found land was to be had almost for the asking in Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and other states and they took advantage of the opportunity offered them through the homestead law to become farm owners.

The situation right now is not so very different from what it was at that time, except that there are no longer vast stretches of land to be homesteaded. There is still plenty of it needing development, but some other method must be employed in order to get it into the hands of the soldiers. The latter are coming back, just as they did in 1865, and thousands of them will be looking for farming opportunities just as was the case at that time.

Organizations in several states have already taken this matter up and are working on plans for aiding the soldier in finding the location and pursuit for which his training and inclination best adapt him. The Immigration Department of Minnesota has announced a program, an outline of which will be found on another page of The Times this week.

The success of this plan is largely up to the men having farm lands for sale. If they neglect to have lists of their holdings sent to the agencies in charge of this matter there will be no way for the soldier to discover what they have to offer except through the usual tardy channels. On the other hand, if landholders promptly comply with the suggestions made it may mean that our prairies and cut-over areas will be settled by young men who will have every inducement to make a success of whatever they undertake.

This offers an opportunity to northwestern Minnesota such as will never again be found. The lands in this section will appeal to the returned soldier far more favorably than will those of wooded areas. With the aid it is proposed to give him he can at once begin farming, the extent of his operations being practically only limited by his own ambitions.

There is already much land that is sure to be favorably reported on by the examining board, but much more can be made available at comparatively small cost. In this section there are large stretches to be reclaimed through drainage. The cost of undertaking this work is too great for private enterprise and some of it does not come within the province of the state, being still controlled by the government. This latter is mostly situated on the Indian reservation, and being at the source of the trouble, must be attended to first. When this is done, the remainder will be easily taken care of.

If congress is anxious to reclaim as much farm land as possible in order that the soldiers may be provided with homes, no more sensible course can be pursued than reclaiming those lands. Nowhere else can so much good soil be made available at so small a cost as right here in northwestern Minnesota. We already have th would be undertaken forthwith. This could not be done even though the council members were as anxious to pave as were the citizens presenting the petition.

There are, however, a number of things that can be done and must be done before the actual work of permanently improving our streets can be undertaken. The only part of the program on which we all seem united at this time is that the streets should be paved. What this would cost, what other work is first necessary, the kind of paving most desirable and the general plan of procedure has not been given any serious consideration. All these things must be looked after before anything of a definite nature can be begun.

The very first thing on the program is the engaging of a competent engineer. This is a matter of the highest importance and the best man obtainable would in all probability be the cheapest in the end. It would be his duty to see that the sewers and water mains are so laid that there will be no necessity for tearing up the streets to make corrections or repairs. He would find out just how much will have to be removed from the surface of the thoroughfares as they now stand. His job would include the making of estimates and the recommendation of material. In fact, there is nothing that can be done until a competent engineer has made a report.

The council members seem to be favorably inclined toward the project. They admit that the paving should have been done years ago and that the longer it is put off the more it is liable to cost. Business men, almost without exception, have signed the petition to have the work begun and the taxpayers generally realize its importance and desirability.

Now that such a good start has been made let us keep on until some definite result has been obtained. Every citizen can do his share in getting this matter under way by backing up the council when the time comes for that body to take definite action.

MUST WORK TOGETHER.

Unless the citizens of Thief River Falls quit quarrelling and quibbling over insignificant matters they are liable to retard the growth of the town, block all progressive enterprises and split the community into two camps. Where this condition is permitted to exist, all advancement stops.

The spectacle presented last week of supposedly level-headed and substantial citizens appearing before the council to protest against the Commercial club being furnished lights free of charge by the city is one that would have made a visitor from the outside smile. The amount involved was so small that one cannot help wondering just how much of a row would have been raised had the matter really amounted to anything. The objectors could certainly not have confidence on the score of expense alone, as this was a matter of practically no importance. Their stand must have been taken because they wished to make things as unpleasant and difficult as possible for the club itself.

The Times does not, however, care to discuss the merits of this particular case. What is of far greater importance is the spirit behind the attitude of the objecting citizens. They simply were prepared to buck anything that would in any manner help the Commercial club and must naturally be opposed to anything undertaken by that organization.

This means a division of purpose, something that should be avoided at any cost. If we go to squabbling among ourselves over little matters of this kind it will be but a short time until we are split into two factions on every subject coming up, and that means an absolute stoppage of every ef-

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The thermometer ranged nearly the entire length of the tube during the week. On Monday it was 30 degrees below zero and on Thursday it was 40 above.

Carpenters Bourque and Jubb were making extensive repairs to the residence of Mrs. Wendt.

Miss Julia Moylan, with several others, started the first of the week for her claim on the reservation, having installed a heating plant in their sleigh.

T. A. Rod of Grafton, N. D., passed through the city on his way to Germantown, near which town he had secured a claim.

Christ Orten of Germantown, was in the city soliciting financial aid for the erection of a school house in his neighborhood.

Gottfried Adolph, night miller at the O. K. Flour mill, had his arm caught in a pulley while putting on a belt, breaking the member in two places.

Postmaster Ira C. Richardson went to Crookston where he had his tonsils removed in the hope that it would improve his general health.

The citizens were discussing electric lights. Municipal ownership seemed to be favored and it was figured that $2,500 would supply a plant, poles, wire and everything needed to start. The revenue was estimated at $200 per month and the cost of operation at $150. Residence light would cost 25 cents each and store lights 50 cents per month.

Ten Years Ago.

Patents were granted to two Thief River Falls men during the week. Anton Pederson secured a patent on an adjustable alligator wrench, and H. T. McAnulty, superintendent of Schools, secured the rights to manufacture and sell an educational devise for displaying cards in a school room.

Following a custom among the old-timers, a gathering was held at the Phil Zeh residence to talk over events of bygone days.

Peter Engelstad returned from attendance at the meeting of the National Creamery association at Chicago. On his way back he visited relatives in Ottertail county.

Manager Sterns of the telephone company, stated that the equipment would be moved into the new quarters secured in the McGinn block some time in January.

George Dixon, colored, the old janitor in charge of the Dobner-Meehan block, suffered a stroke of paralysis and nearly died before being discovered by one of the tenants.

The marriage of Miss Ila Ramstad to George W. Reynolds was announced for Dec. 19, and a number of social functions were given in honor of the bride.

Bond Payments Due.

The third payment of the Fourth Liberty Loan is due today. The amount is 20 per cent of the amount subscribed and it is more important than ever that it be paid at once.

After this there are two more payments to be made on the fourth issue, one on Jan. 16 of 20 per cent and one on Jan. 30 of 30 per cent.

BETTER ROADS.

In providing for discharged soldiers and sailors and munition workers, road building offers a solution of many problems. The United States as a whole is behind most foreign countries in the matter of good highways. Poor roads are a reason for high prices of farm produce in many cases. They are a reason why more automobiles are not purchased and used. They are a reason for heavy upkeep cost of vehicles of all kinds. They are a cause of many accidents. They are a hindrance to suburban and country real estate in country sections; a reason, in short, for slower development of national industry and production than should be expected of a country as progressive as ours claims to be.

Colonel Robert H. Tyndall of the 150th Field Artillery, U. S. Army, writing from France says: "There will be a couple of million real road war boosters when the war is over." He spoke in glowing terms of splendid highways they found in France comparing them much to the detriment with the average highway found in the United States.

In the same article containing Colonel Tyndall's view, it was stated that there is undoubtedly a big road plan developing in this country. Chairman George C. Diehl of the A. A. A. Good Roads Board says: "$100,000,000 a year appropriated by the Federal Government on a definite tangible highway system will work wonders in the form of from 5,000 to 10,000 miles of splendid hihway, partly made up of sections rebuilt and partly or entirely new construction. State and local appropriation should be encouraged and the construction of federal roads should enormously increase road expenditures. The thousands of otherwise unemployed labor can be used to the most excellent advantage in this way."

The vast sum that would otherwise have been spent in destruction can beneficially be expended for highway construction to the end that trade can be increased between rural sections and urban points. Hundreds of thousands of returning soldiers and men that have been employed in munition plants can be employed profitably to themselves and to the communities of which they are a part in this highway work with the result that tradesmen will enjoy increased trade, laborers will be contented, the farmers will have more accessible markets and the community as a whole will enjoy increased prosperity.

Miss Dorothy Bottleson returned to her home in this city, Saturday evening from Minneapolis and other places where she had been visiting for some time.

To Stop Spread of Spanish Flu

(By Dr. O. F. Mellby, City Physician)

Having been delegated by the county commissioners and the city of Thief River Falls to attend the annual convention of the American Public Health association held at Chicago last week, I will give a short report of the most important topics discussed and conclusions arrived at. Influenza being one of the principal topics discussed it naturally will be of most interest at this time.

The convention was attended principally by health officers and men interested in the public health work in civil life as well as in the U. S. army. Doctors from all the principal cities in the United States were there and gave their experiences during the last three months in the fight against the Spanish influenza epidemic that has crept from coast to coast, practically no community in the entire United States having been exempt.

There was one thing especially striking. The great difference of opinion as to the method of controlling the disease and the small difference in the death rate when different methods were employed. The questions of closing of schools, theatres and churches, quarantining, the wearing of masks, vaccinating, stopping of public gatherings, was given a great deal of attention and though there were differences of opinion as to this it was agreed by the majority that closing of schools where school inspection was in use, had accomplished very little of anything in lessening the spread. It was also a question if closing of churches, theatres and public gatherings had accomplished very much when such gatherings were properly handled with respect to over-crowding, ventilation, etc.

Quarantining was generally considered of no value whatever. The mask was lauded in San Francisco, abolished in New York and condemned in Detroit as filthy. However, the mask was considered to have its place as a protection measure against coughing, but its continuous use was not advisable.

Vaccination was generally considered the best protective measure we have at the present time and generally was advised. One thing was established—the cause of the disease is unknown. A great many scientists throughout the entire world have been trying to isolate the germ which causes the disease, but so far with no success. This being the case it is a difficult matter to know just what methods to pursue. There are, however, a few measures that should be brought to every one's attention. It is probable that the disease spreads from hand to mouth and from forced experation or coughing. If such is the case, care should be exercised in cleaning all cups and glasses used in public places.

Public drinking cups and towels should be abolished.

Crowding should not be allowed in public gatherings.

Anyone having a cold or cough should stay at home or away from others.

One of the big men in public health work made the statement that: "You can go no farther in public health than the public will follow you."

If men who have spent the greatest part of their lives in public health investigations say disease is better controlled by not closing schools during epidemics then the public should follow such advice and not believe their judgment better than those who make it their life work.

It was agreed by practically all that the school children are not nearly as great a factor in the spreading of the disease as public eating houses.

Theatres and churches when properly ventilated are comparable safe places.

Depots, stores and in fact any public place should be considered a greater source of contagion than those well regulated. Dr. John Robertson, health officer of Chicago, struck the nail on the head when he said: "This is a time when you should keep your feet warm and your head cool.

Obituary

John Newbury Dead.

Word was received in this city last week announcing the death at Butte, Mont., of John Newbury. He died of influenza after a short illness, at the age of 31. Deceased resided in Thief River Falls for many years, being engaged in the auto livery business. Two years ago he went to Montana and was employed as a surveyor by the Milwaukee railroad. Among the relatives present at the funeral were the father and mother of deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newbury of Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ostby and Ray Newbury, also of Spokane; Miss Blanche Newbury of Great Falls, and Miss Carrie Hanson of Roseau, Minn. George, a brother residing in this city, was not notified in time and could not be present.

Andrew Jopprue.

Andrew Jopprue passed away at the Emergency hospital in this city, Dec. 13th. He was about 45 years of age at the time of his death.

Joseph Larson.

Joseph Larson, son of Rev. and Mrs. George Larson of this city, passed away at his home Wednesday evening. He was two and a half years old at the time of his death and was ill for some time. The remains will be interred in the Greenwood cemetery, Thursday.

Omer Warring.

Omer Warring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Warring, was buried last Thursday. He passed away at International Falls on the day of his father's funeral, the cause of death being influenza. The remains were brought to this city and interred in Greenwood cemetery, Tuesday.

Mrs. John Sorum.

Mrs. John Sorum passed away at her home near Silverton, Wednesday. The cause of her death was pneumonia following an attack of influenza, after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Sorum was 35 years old at the time of her death. The remains will be shipped to her home Thursday for burial.

Esther Gothe.

Esther Gothe died Dec. 14th at her home, 501 Horace avenue. She was one year, six months old at the time of her death. Deceased is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Gothe. Besides her parents she leaves one sister.

The remains were laid to rest in the Greenwood cemetery, Monday, Rev. I. T. Aastad officiating.

PERSHING'S CRUSADERS AT PRINCESS THEATRE

PICTURE ENDORSED BY THE GOVERNMENT SHOWS WHAT THE BOYS WERE DOING.

The great spectacular production, "Pershing's Crusaders," will be shown at the Princess this evening. This is what has been termed the "national movie," depicting as it does all the great scenes and happenings of the past four years. The film may almost be termed a history of the war, or at least of America's part in it, so closely does it follow each happening of note. It is a wonderful picturization following the events that were responsible for America's entry into the war step by step and then continuing through all the wonderful scenes of preparation and embarkation to the actual battle lines. Munition plants are shown in operation, the loading of ships, the part the women of the land have played in the world drama, the working of the selective draft, training camp activities, ship yard scenes—in fact everything connected with the great enterprise is depicted on the screen. The photographs were taken by the United States signal corps, the official navy photographers and the French general staff. They are as near authentic as it is possible to get anything of this kind. Tonight only, at the Princess.

The program for the balance of the week is in keeping with this great feature. On Friday night Ethel Clayton comes in "Women's Weapons," being the story of a wife who had the nerve to invite a vampire to come and stay right in her home.

The fourth chapter of "A Fight For a Million" will be seen on Saturday, the other attraction being "A Man's World," featuring Emily Stevens. This is claimed to be "a picture of the better sort."

"The Goat," Fred Stone's first big production under Artcraft management, comes on Sunday and Monday nights. This will be a new one for Sunday night audiences but fully up to the standard.

Constance Talmadge is the star in "Sauce for the Goose," Tuesday night's offering. Constance is a strong favorite with our people and this play is one of her best.

Thomas Meighan is regarded by many as one of the best leading men in motion pictures. He has the stellar role in "Missing," the Blackton picture on the boards for Wednesday.

IS RAILROADING IN FRANCE NOW

ARTHUR SENSTAD WRITES INTERESTING LETTER TO FORMER PALS.

MET MANY OF THE BOYS

ALL ARE WELL AND RATHER ENJOYING THE WORK OVER THERE.

Arthur M. Senstad, at one time clerk in the Soo depot at Noyes and later a brakeman running out of this city, is now in France and has written a letter telling of his experiences and impressions. The communication is addressed to N. J. Silk, but is evidently intended for "the bunch." As Mr. Senstad was a resident of this city for about five years, during all of which time he was a Soo employe, there are many who will be interested in hearing what he has to say.

"The way your Uncle Sam can take a man and move him around knocks out a Soo Line boomer in the way of quickness and getting it over with. We had a very good trip across the ocean. Practically no rough weather and no excitement. The novelty of the trip soon wore off and the everlasting sky and water was very monotonous, so that when land was finally sighted it sure was welcome. We left our port of debarkation and are now at Tours, working with the Paris and Orleans, (P. & O. railway.) Most of our men are on the road but just at present I am working at the roundhouse with a pencil. Back at the old trade. The report I make out every day calls my job engine dispatcher, so I suppose that is what I am.

Many Soo Boys There.

The Soo Line is sure well represented in this camp. When we landed here I ran into Hankins, Roy Ericson and W. J. Brown. I also hear that Gyb. Larson went west, but I suppose they have heard of it at Thief River Falls. The Paris edition of the New York Herald had Elmer J. Eklund in the list yesterday. I didn't know him. Hankins and Roy left here to go farther up, but Nooky Brown works out of here steady. Another bunch of railroad men hit camp here two days ago and here was Roy McMillan, a fireman from Enderlin, and Harold Eide. It sure was great to meet Harold for he and I used to have quite a time around Fordville when he was helper there. I don't know whether I told you or not, but in my own company Geo. Adams is with us and A. R. Molleson, first trick dispatcher at Enderlin, is a Second Lieutenant, so I really haven't had time to get lonesome yet. Tours is quite a large city and there are many interesting places about it. There is a church here built in 1147 and a bridge across a river built by Napoleon. Haven't been up to see the church yet as I work every day, Sunday included, but figure on seeing them before I leave.

Railways Behind Time.

"The railways over here are about 100 years behind. No automatic couplers and no air except on passenger trains. The first class cars are quite swell and the night express carries a sleeper and diner, same as in the States. But going back to freight trains. Over here the station agent is the whole works. All the conductors and the brakemen do is ride, just that. If there is a car to set out or pick up at a station the agent does it and the train crew just sits down and watches him. When you stop at a station you cannot go until the agent says so. He toots a horn, the conductor blows a whistle and then the engine blows another whistle and you are off. They turn a nasty wheel here at times though, at that. You very seldom flag, as everything is double track and positive manual block protected. If you do flag you are not called in but they go off and leave you. You remain 15 minutes after your train departs then walk in to the next station, get on the first train going your way and go in to your terminal.

Get Good Grub.

"I am feeling fine and getting fat over here. Our grub is good and all you can eat. We have fresh bread every day, and clear white, too.

"Give my regards to Stoughton and Jack Robinson and the rest of the old heads that generally worked on your car. Also to Jim Barnett. Am going to write him. On the whole I am glad I'm over here. I know the boys who are hiring out now are making good money but our rights are going right on, so they will have something to worry about when this job is over, so they had better work every day while they have a chance for there sure will be a bunch of us coming back."

ADVISES KEEPING ROADS FIVE YEARS

M'ADOO BELIEVES ANY OTHER COURSE WILL PROVE DISASTROUS.

Extension of the period of government control of railroads for five years, until January 1, 1924, has been recommended to Congress by Director-General McAdoo.

Advantages of this, Mr. McAdoo said, are that it would take the railroad question out of politics for the present, give time for carrying out an extensive program of improvements, and provide opportunity for a fair test of unified control to indicate the permanent solution of the railroad problem.

"The President has given me permission to say that this conclusion accords with his own view of the matter," Mr. McAdoo concluded.

The letter was addressed to Senator Smith of South Carolina, and Representative Sims, chairman, respectively, of the Senate and House Interstate commerce committees.

Would Injure Lines.

Mr. McAdoo explained that to continue government operation for twenty-one months after formal conditions would mean disruption of declaration of peace under present morale among employes and officers, and could not enable the government to go ahead with improvements and purchase of equipment.

Another alternative, the prompt return of the railroads to private control, without legislation to permit elimination of the old wasteful competition, would be "hurtful alike to the public interest and to the railroads themselves," he said, and the difficulty of obtaining immediate legislation providing a permanent solution, is apparent.

Division Jottings.

Louis Gruette has been added to the payroll as a coach cleaner.

Joseph Guden, blacksmith, was a business visitor at Bemidji this week.

J. E. Thorson is back at work after having been laid up for a month with influenza.

Engineer John Lund is back at the throttle after wrestling with the flu for a week or ten days.

L. M. Halvorson has been put on as operator at Alexandria, relieving B. Bergsten, who is taking a layoff.

Engineer Andy Ekbom is on the sick list and his is one of the few cases in which the flu is not to blame.

L. H. Barnard, machinist, returned this week from Minneapolis, to which city he had accompanied the remains of his wife, who died here last week.

Anton Eklund, track laborer, returned to work Monday after a spell of sickness. On Tuesday he was again missing, having started too soon.

The Red Cross solicitors made a very good record this week. Every man but one on the rip track came across, the same being the case in the roundhouse.

There are very few changes in the crews of the different railroading departments these days. The men are evidently satisfied and content to remain where they are.

The sympathy of the roundhouse crew is extended to Henry Goethe over the death of his little daughter, which occurred in this city last week. She was one and a half years of age.

Gus Fritag, locomotive fireman and Carl Nordquist, machinist apprentice, returned this week from Camp Cody where they had been in military training. They will resume their former posts with the Soo within a day or two.

The grain movement these days is very heavy. There is not so much local wheat being shipped, but the states to the west are more than sending it through. All embargoes are off and the shippers are making up for lost time.

James Farley, foreman at the Soo roundhouse, who was injured about the face while placing a bumper spring last week, is back to work. He wears a few patches and is shy a couple of teeth but otherwise seems to be O. K.

Oscar Paulson of Nielsville, Minn., is a new relief agent on the division. His first job will be that of agent at Kremer, where he will relieve E. E. Blair, who comes to the station in Thief River Falls as operator in the dispatcher's office.

Machinist A. J. McGuire, who with his family started last week for Hot Springs, Ark., has returned and will resume his old job for the present. Business affairs at Bemidji make it necessary for him to remain in the neighborhood for some time to come.

The station at Alsen was closed to telegrams from the 11th to the 17th, because of the illness of the agent. He had the influenza and it was impossible in the same fix for the same reason possible to find an extra-man to relieve him. The Harlow station was for three days.

L. M. Rayson, chief clerk in the office of Division Superintendent Barnard, is in receipt of a letter from Lieut. T. J. Rowan, now stationed at Harbin, Manchuria. He says that all the Soo boys are getting along fine and says that W. D. Boyce and G. P. Hinton, formerly with the line here, are with him. A Russian train sheet was enclosed in the letter and the boys here have been having all kinds of fun trying to make it out. Tom says that he has heard Russian spoken so long that he has almost forgotten how to express himself in United States.

A Friend's Tribute

Written in memory of George G. Johnson, by Sam H Clark, Editor of Jim Jam Jems, and sent to Mayor G. A. Penney.

"Memory oft' may start a tear." Yet who has not looked backward with a sigh? We were boys together—pals back there in the sunlit paths of long ago. And throughout the years that carried us apart in following where fortune beckoned—tho' we met only at irregular intervals—the friendship and palship of boyhood clung to us and grew sweeter with the passing years.

And now my friend is dead. The message came from another pal just a day or two ago. "George Johnson died this morning. Pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Funeral at the old home, Red Wing, Sunday."

Just when the season of tragedy seemed at an end; when the terrible war with its sickening grief of the past five years bid fair to end in peace and happiness—this black-robed pestilence stalks throughout the length and breadth of the land, and its toll o'ershadows battle-field and forest fire.

Many, many times, in the past few months, have we bowed our heads in sorrow when news came of the death on Glory's field of some smiling lad we had known. And then again it would be some close friend, or perhaps a relative, or maybe a brother, a husband, a father. Yet somehow the death of one of the boys "over there" in that struggle for Liberty did not cause the heart to sink in the anguish of despair. There was a certain pride and glory that crept into the heart with the sorrow and shut out despair and hopelessness. But this insidious pestilence that creeps into the strongest life-stream—that smothers the strength of giants in health and leaves Death and Desolation in its path—strikes terror to the heart and brings anguish to the soul. In gathering its toll it has taken this friend and pal of my youth, and I ask privilege to pay simple tribute to his memory.

If I have gauged the life and character of my friend correctly, those who were near and dear to him—either friend or relative—can have no regret except that he is dead.

> "His life was gentle, and the elements so mix'd in him that Nature might stand up before all the world and say, 'This was a man.'"

George Johnson was blessed with the sunniest, happiest nature I have ever known. His heart was always young and his whole life and nature seemed attuned to happiness. As a boy he was the life of every gathering; a musician of rare ability, his services were ever sought and always available; he led the village band and the orchestra; music, melody, harmony flowed from his lips and radiated from his whole being; he had a cheery word for everyone; the little tots knew George as a big brother, and he never passed one by without a smile; the old folks knew him too, and he always had a kindly greeting for them; and every man in every walk of life felt the warmth of George's nature for it bubbled forth wherever he chanced to be. George literally won his way with a smile. I watched him climb from a small clerkship in the county courthouse to a position of wealth and affluence as a banker. Just as he led the ball team and the band and all the fun when a lad, he led the civic bodies, the business-men's committees, the commercial club—he took his place in the business world as a leader just as naturally as he took it in the world of fun before responsibilities came to him.

When I said that his friends and those near and dear to him can have no regret except that he is dead, I mean just that. George lived clean. His wife, his babies and his home were the blessed trinity of his whole existence. He worked for them, he lived for them, his whole life and being were centered there.

And it was just in "the sunniest, happiest hour of all the voyage" that Death came and claimed him for the great sacrifice.

Dear Old George! I look back over the years that we spent together in the hallowed relationship of pals, and it is hard to realize that the white rider has come for you. I have watched the wicket gate close behind friends many, many times. But never, old pal, have I felt a keener grief or deeper sorrow than your untimely death has brought me. And the memory of your splendid self—clean and good and wholesome and true—will grow green above the ashes of Time.

Best Christmas Wishes

In wishing the people of Northwestern Minnesota a Merry Christmas, permit us to venture the hope that they will now devote their splendid energies to the pursuits of peace with the same enthusiasm and success that has attended their efforts during the war. The future is full of bright promise. Let us all assiduously strive to do our share in whatever direction our duty may point.

Christmas Greeting

HAVING safely and with signal honor passed through the gravest crisis in the history of our country, let us now turn to the works of peace with renewed vigor and confidence.

The future is most bright for those who will take advantage of the wonderful apportunities presented. That the nation will be prosperous is certain and the foresighted will make preparations for securing their share of this prosperity.

The past year has been very satisfactory from a business standpoint, and for this we wish at this time to thank our friends and customers. In the future as in the past it will be a pleasure for us to aid them in every way at our command, realizing that only through their well being and prosperity can we prosper.

Merry Christmas and
Happy New Year

ROSEWOOD

Monday.

Mrs. Frank Olson, J. Chenley and John Remmem were evening passengers to Thief River Falls.

Gust Opseth has been busy sawing wood at the station here and will ship another carload to Warren by Wednesday.

Tuesday.

Sam Husby, accompanied by his daughter, returned this morning from Thief River Falls and vicinity where they had been visiting and attending to business for a few days.

The annual meeting of the Rindal Lutheran church is held this afternoon at that church and also the yearly business meeting of the Norwegian sewing society. A large number of persons were present and a dainty lunch was served by the ladies. It was decided on account of the prevailing diseases to suspend the customary Christmas tree festival this year and the only gatherings during Christmas will be a service on Dec. 26 at 11 a. m.

Wednesday.

Miss Annie Bloom returned home from Rocksbury this morning where she has stayed a week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Crown, during the latter's visit to Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Nordhagen and Mrs. S. Nordhagen left this evening for Thief River Falls where they will visit with the A. B. Remmem family for a few days.

Thursday.

Christ Storholm of Thief River Falls arrived here this morning to attend to business between trains.

P. Woldness left this morning for Angus where he will be working with his brother in the future.

O. J. and Oscar Dahl drove to Thief River Falls this morning to attend to business matters.

Being that both Christmas and New Years day will be on Wednesdays this year, cream will be shipped from the local station on Thursdays only on these two weeks.

John Bloom returned this morning from St. Louis county, where he has spent a couple weeks visiting with his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Phil.

Friday.

A meeting of the directors of the local Live Stock Shipping association has been called at the office of the Hanson & Barzen Milling Co., for next Saturday evening, Dec. 21st, commencing at 5 o'clock.

P. Sorenson is at Warren today to contract for the sale of a few carloads of dry cord wood.

Miss Esther Thoreson left this evening in company with the local teacher, Miss Ida Legvold, for Thief River Falls where they will visit with relatives over next Sunday.

Henry Lappegaard went to Thief River Falls this evening where he will shop and call on friends for a couple days.

Mrs. O. M. Holson, following a week and a half visit with her daughter, Mrs. Carl Mellem, here, returned to her home at Warren this morning.

Swen Swenson and Iver Westby, Sr., are at Thief River Falls today.

The second annual meeting of the Rosewood Live Stock Shipping association is held this afternoon at Rosebank, 11 members being present. The meeting was opened at 3 o'clock by President O. Opseth and the reports of the secretary, treasurer and manager were considered. During the last year there has been shipped out 128 head of cattle, 16 hogs and 42 sheep valued at $5,763.98. The election of directors took place and John Sjolsvold, Olof Opseth, Selmer Sorenson, Swen Haugen and Emil Blomberg receiving the majority votes were elected. Joel Shoberg was re-elected secretary-treasurer. By a majority vote it was decided that hereafter the pro-rating of all shipper's statements be done by the commission firm instead of as hitherto by the manager, and that in shipping mixed carload lots the freight rates of sheep shall be the double that of cattle and of hogs one and one-half times as much as that of cattle.

Marshal Flann returned this evening from Park River, N. D., where he had been visiting with a sister, Mrs. Oscar Arans, for some time.

C. R. Halgrim went to Thief River Falls this evening to visit over Sunday with the W. W. Prichard, Sr., family. Mrs. Halgrim has been in Thief River Falls for a week.

Henry Stengelson is home between trains from school work at Thief River Falls to visit with his parents.

A telegram dated Oct. 26th was received this week from France by Iver Westby, stating that his youngest son, Iver Jr., had been wounded shortly before while in action at the front. The telegram was very brief and did not state any particulars nor condition of the patient, and as can be expected the Westbys are in great suspense over the outcome. It is to be hoped that the wounds were very slight and that Iver is by this time in full service again.

Sunday.

O. Fossen of Edmore, N. D., arrived here today from Grand Forks where he had brought his oldest daughter, Gudrun, for medical treatment and will spend a few days visiting at the G. J. Nordhagen home.

Axel Bloom took a bunch of the local youngsters to Steiner this evening where they will visit at the Harvey Copp home.

Monday.

RESOLUTION.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, held on the 10th day of December, 1918, Alderman M. N. Benson, seconded by Alderman S. Brandon, introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the sidewalk ordered to be built and constructed on the East side of Davis Avenue from Third Street to Fifth Street, in the city of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, State of Minnesota; by resolution duly adopted on the 13th day of August, 1918, by the City Council of said City, was not fully done and completed within the time and manner prescribed by said resolution, and

WHEREAS, by said resolution adopted on the 8th day of October, 1918, the City Council did order the said sidewalk to be fully completed and the work done by Lars Backe, Sidewalk Contractor, under the terms of his contract with the City, for the construction of sidewalks and crossings and the entire expense thereof to be paid out of the general revenue funds of the city, and

WHEREAS, the said sidewalk was by said city under its said resolution adopted on the 8th day of October, 1918, as aforesaid, duly completed and approved on the 26th day of November, 1918; be it therefore

RESOLVED, that at the City Council rooms in the Auditorium Building in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County and the State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of January, 1919, at Eight o'clock in the afternoon of said day, the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls will hear testimony of all persons interested or affected, and ascertain the amount of benefits to property fronting said East side of Davis Avenue by reason of the construction of said sidewalk on the said Davis Avenue from Third Street to Fifth Street; and further, that this resolution shall be duly served on or before the 20th day of December, 1918, upon the owners of all lots, parts of lots, and parcels of ground fronting the said East side of Davis Avenue from Third Street to Fifth Street, where said sidewalk has been constructed as aforesaid, and whose names appear in their respective holdings in the said resolution adopted August 13th, 1918, by the City Council of the said City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, said service to be made in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided.

Roll Call: Aldermen voting Yes; Froseth, Benson, Myhrum, Brandon and Ihle. Aldermen Voting No; None.

DON'T NEGLECT A RHEUMATIC PAIN

Apply a little, don't rub, let it penetrate, and—good-by twinge! Same for external aches, pains, strains, stiffness of joints or muscles, lameness, bruises.

Instant relief without mussiness or soiled clothing. Reliable—the biggest selling liniment year after year. Economical by reason of enormous sales. Keep a big bottle ready at all times. Ask your druggist for Sloan's Liniment.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"

Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.

You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." Don't be insulted by imitations. See that you get "Gets-It." "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

COUGHING SPELLS BREAK YOUR REST

Put a stop to them with old reliable Dr. King's New Discovery

That raw, hoarse throat must be soothed. That phlegm-loaded chest must be loosened. That cough must be checked so you can sleep.

Dr. King's New Discovery has been relieving colds, and coughs for half a century without the least disagreeable after-effects.

Your druggist has it because it is well-known and in big demand.

Try this for Constipation

Keep the bowels on schedule time with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the system freed from poisonous wastes, the complexion clear, the stomach sweet, the tongue uncoated, the breath untainted. Mild yet positive in action.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules at once. They are an old, tried preparation used all over the world for centuries. They contain only old-fashioned, soothing oils combined with strength-giving and system-cleansing herbs, well known and used by physicians in their daily practice. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are convenient to take, and will either give prompt relief or your money will be refunded. Ask for them at any drug store, but be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Accept no substitutes. In sealed packages. Three sizes.

Says Germany Made Mistake.

Geneva, Dec. 17.—Germany made a great blunder in entering the war and should admit she was in the wrong, declared Grand Duchess Anastasie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, mother of the former crown princess, in an interview today. The grand duchess, who is a Russian and a cousin of the late Russian emperor, came to Geneva at the outbreak of the war and now is about to go to the Rivera for her health. She had many relatives fighting against one another on all fronts.

INOCULATION WILL PREVENT THE FLU

THIS IS OPINION OF DOCTOR ROSENOW, WHO PRESENTS FIGURES.

Ninety per cent of deaths from influenza and penumonia are preventable when a properly prepared vaccine is used, according to an address by Dr. L. C. Rosenow of Rochester, Minn., before the annual meeting of the American Public Health association at Chicago Monday.

Surgeon General Blue, head of the United States public health service, also a speaker, said that nearly 350,000 deaths occurred among civilians from September 1, 1918, to December 1, 1918, from influenza and pneumonia. He had no figures on the epidemic in the army camps.

Dr. Rosenow read figures on the results of inoculations around Rochester, showing that after the third inoculation there were nine cases of influenza per thousand against 220 per thousand among the uninoculated and one and eight-tenths cases per thousand of pneumonia against 14 per thousand among those not inoculated. Over 20,000 persons were given the three inoculations and their cases were compared with 61,000 not given the treatment. The deaths from influenza and pneumonia among those inoculated were one-tenth those among the uninoculated, Dr. Rosenow showed.

"By the use of a properly prepared vaccine it is possible to afford a definite degree of protection during the course of the present epidemic," Dr. Rosenow declared. "The results of our inoculations have afforded a definite degree of protection for the past six weeks and how much longer it will last no one knows."

Watch next week for a map showing where Europe must get its food. It is of special interest to the people of the United States.

THIS IS THE HUNGER MAP OF EUROPE

LOOK AT IT WELL—OBSERVE ITS MARKINGS AND WHAT EACH MARKING MEANS AND THEN ASK YOURSELF IF YOU WILL SAVE.

Here is the hunger map of Europe. Study it well and then determine for yourselves whether there is need for food saving in America this coming year.

Just before Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, sailed for Europe on Saturday, Nov. 16, he made this statement:

"The food problem in Europe today is one of extreme complexity. Out of 420,000,000, practically but three areas—those of South Russia, Hungary, and Denmark, which comprise some 40,000,000—have sufficient food supplies to last until next harvest without imports. Some of these must have immediate relief. We can acquire a surplus of some 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons of food in the United States if we are economical. The food situation abroad can be handled if this and the other small surpluses in the world can be transported.

"Arrangements have been made long since whereby the big Allies—France, England and Italy—will be provisioned. This covers 125,000,000 people. Our first and deepest concern NOW must be for the little Allies—Belgians, Serbians, Roumanians, Greeks, Zecks, Jugo-Slavs and others. They represent another 75,000,000 people, and must be helped at once.

"Our next concern must be to relax blockade measures as far as possible that the neutral states in Europe, all of whom now are on short rations, may be able to care for their people and so prevent the growth of anarchy. This takes another group of 40,000,000.

"Still another concern, which confronts the countries where food is plentiful, is to be found in North Russia, where there are 50,000,000 people, many, many millions of whom face starvation this winter because, through anarchy and the breaking down of transportation, they may not be reached.

"Finally, there is a great problem in the situation of the enemy people—some 90,000,000. This problem is not one of going to their relief but of relaxing the water-tight blockade (which continues through the armistice) to such an extent that they may secure for themselves the bare necessities that will give stable government. Famine is the mother of anarchy. Justice requires that a government be established which is able to make amends for wrongs done and it cannot be accomplished through the spread of anarchy. I would certainly approach this problem with mixed feelings, having long been a witness to the robbery of food from women and children and the destruction of millions of tons of food at sea and to the misery suffered under the German yoke. Unless anarchy can be put down and stability of government can be obtained in these enemy states, there will be nobody with whom to make peace and nobody to pay the bill to France and Belgium for the fearful destruction that has been done."

Something over 200,000,000 people now are in social disorder. LIBERTY IS NOT SAFE as long as social disorder exists. The best boys of the world have FOUGHT—and DIED—for LIBERTY. Will you continue to SAVE for it?

Cash For Cream

For Butterfat

Is now our cash price for cream. Butter may go still higher if the shortage that exists in the butter market is not relieved. But a break in the prices is also apt to take place at any time and force prices down. Don't hold your cream in anticipation of a higher price. It is just as likely to drop.

CITY FOLKS SIGN RED CROSS ROLL

CAMPAIGN ENDS SATURDAY

REPORTS FROM COUNTRY DISTRICTS INDICATE SATISFACTORY PROGRESS.

Indications are that the total amount collected during the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call will be 100 per cent greater than that secured at the time of the former drive. Secretary Scott Laird, who is personally in charge of the work in the city, says that every team thus far reporting has made almost a perfect score. Chairman Thomas A. Way, under whose direction the county solicitors are working, states that while only a few townships have been heard from, he is satisfied that the work is progressing in a most satisfactory manner.

People Rather Busy.

The work of soliciting is still going on, it having been found impossible to close it up in the time originally intended. The nearness of the holidays is generally responsible for this condition, people being very busy with their shopping and other enterprises. The solicitors also have to do the work during their spare time, and just now their own business affairs require attention even more than is generally the case.

Very Few Refusals.

The solicitors report very few absolute refusals. People generally seem only too glad to donate toward the maintenance of an organization which they have come to regard as essentially their own. The plan of only asking one dollar from each individual is working out very well and will in the end result in the securing of a larger sum than would have been possible under the former method of collection.

School Will Contribute.

While the original intention was that every member of the family should be accounted for in this collection, this has been impossible here and it is likely that other places have found the plan unworkable. To collect a dollar from the head of the house for each member of the family would be very liable to throw the heaviest burden on the citizen least able to stand it. The membership fee has therefore been made a dollar for adults, the children being asked to contribute 25 cents. This part of the campaign will be taken care of through the schools.

List of the Workers.

The city was divided into districts and teams appointed to make the collection, as follows:

Team No. 1—Isaac Helseth and Maurice Gillor. Team No. 2—P. W. Sharp and Willis Akre. Team No. 3—John Bratrud and G. W. Connell. Team No. 4—Dr. C. R. Crandall and L. A. Lamport. Team No. 5—A. S. Sapero and W. H. Frederick. Team No. 6—R. J. McGinn and L. DeCremer. Team No. 7—H. C. Johnson and Albert Lieberman. Team No. 8—F. F. Haynes and C. A. Pitkin. Team No. 10—E. O. Mogensen and H. O. Loken. Team No. 11—Dr. G. A. Penney and John Morgan. Team No. 12—W. B. Fuller and Emil Zeh. Team No. 13—W. W. Prichard, Jr., and Julien Provencher. Team No. 14—P. J. Keating and Lars Backe. Team No. 15—O. L'Ihle and N. W. Tarrant. Team No. 16—Daniel Shaw and Joseph Perlbeck. Team No. 17—L. J. Ackerman and Andrew Bottleson. Team No. 18—C. Christofferson and R. H. Ross. Team No. 19—H. W. Protzeller and Dr. G. W. Booren. Team No. 20—Supt. J. H. Hay and G. L. Sterns. Team No. 21—W. A. Barnard, J. W. Hendry, H. D. Keene and N. J. Silk. Team No. 22—C. J. Conklin and other Soo line men.

Pan Stock Gets Bump.

Pennington county holders of Pan Motor company stock will be interested in a decision handed down by the Capital Issues committee at Washington this week. The committee disapproves of the proposed sale of $1,8000,000 of additional stock by the Pan Motor company of St. Cloud, Minn., "as incompatible with the national interest." The committee referred to the Pan company's stock sale project as "the type of promotion scheme that should be suppressed."

"The enterprise," the exhibit accompanying the committee's report says, "was conceived by an individual having no previous experience in the business and without models or designs or definite plans for production."

District Board Disbands.

The district registration boards which were in session almost continuously all during the war, have been disbanded and all the records returned to the several counties. In a letter to the Pennington county board Chairman O'Brien thanks the members for their co-operation all through the trying period and compliments them upon the evident care taken in making the selections in order that no unnecessary delay might be encountered by those who were to pass upon their fitness finally.

John Brumund Returns.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brumund this week received word from their son, John, stating that he had arrived safe in New York after having been in France as a mechanic with the aviation corps since last July. He reports himself in first class shape physically and that he has had some wonderful experience. According to the letter, he is not at all sure that he cares to go through it all again.

Masonic Meeting.

There will be a regular communication of Northern Lodge, A. F. & A. M., on Monday evening, Dec. 23. Work in the first degree is scheduled and other matters of importance will come up. A full attendance is requested.

Births of the Week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Carlson, 418 Conley avenue south, Dec. 14, a girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Sever Weslen, 222 Kendall avenue, a girl.

Notice For Bids.

Sealed bids will be received by the County Board of Commissioners of Pennington County, Minnesota, up until Four (4) o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday, the seventh day of January, 1919, for the publishing of the Financial Statement for the year 1918; also the Delinquent Tax List, Commissioners' Proceedings and all other legal notices and publications required by law for the year 1919.

Bids may be mailed to the County Auditor at Thief River Falls or handed to the County Board at their regular meeting on the above date.

Dated at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, this 18th day of December, A. D. 1918.

By order of the County Board.

CONTROL WORKS AT HEADWATERS

THIS PLAN SEEMS MOST FEASIBLE FOR CONTROL OF SPRING FLOODS.

IS DISCUSSED AT FARGO

ENTIRE VALLEY INTERESTED IN FINDING SOME SOLUTION OF DIFFICULTY.

That controlling works at the outlet of the Red Lakes is the first requisite for preventing untold damage from spring floods throughout the Red River valley was the conclusion arrived at by representatives from three states who met at Fargo for the purpose of discussing the matter. Minnesota, North and South Dakota are interested in this matter and the foremost engineers of the three commonwealths have for years given careful study to the best plan for meeting the difficulty.

In discussing the meeting Senator D. P. O'Neill, who was the representative from this section, upon his return stated that there was a general disposition on the part of those present to look upon the establishment of control works as the first requirement. Other plans, principally with reference to the management of spring floods in the sections near Lakes Traverse and Big Stone were also discussed, but it was agreed that the entire program hinged on what was done to control the tributaries of the Red River of the North, of which the Red Lake river is the most important.

Must Hold Water Back.

During the meeting Senator O'Neill maintained that in order not to overtax the capacity of the Red Lake river it would be necessary to hold the water from the northern tributaries back until such time as the spring overflow from the southern feeders had been gotten rid of. The trouble, according to Mr. O'Neill, is that Lake Traverse as well as the Ottertail river and other streams to the south break up earlier than does the Red Lake and the big natural reservoir which forms its source. Just about the time the surplus water from the southern streams reach Fargo and Grand Forks the more northern stream lets loose and the Red is unable to discharge the volume. This places Grand Forks in particular danger, while Fargo is threatened in but slightly less degree by reason of the water in the main stream being forced to back up.

Control is Necessary.

If the waters at the outlet of the Red Lakes could be controlled until such time as the overflow from the south has been gotten rid off, making it necessary only for the Red Lake river to convey the natural overflow in its own valley, all this would be done away with, in the opinion of experts. Later on the surplus in the Red Lakes could be gradually released. In this way not only would the floods be prevented, but there would be an ample flow all through the year for the power plants scattered along the course of the stream.

For United Action.

The Indians on the Red Lake reservation are anxious that something be done to control these floods and are seeking permission from the government to devote a portion of the tribal funds to the work necessary for flood prevention. The legislatures of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota will take the matter up at the next session with every prospect of something being done towards affording relief. The communities benefitted and the private enterprises depending upon a steady flow of water in the Red Lake and Red rivers may also be depended on to do their share.

WILL CO-OPERATE WITH FARM LINES

MEETING TO BE HELD IN CITY TO DISCUSS TELEPHONE PROPOSITION.

Steps have been taken to form a joint organization composed of the various farmers telephone companies in the county and the Commercial club and Merchants association of Thief River Falls. This is for the purpose of taking care of the matter of the increase in rates asked for by the Northwestern Telephone Co.

It has been generally thought that the proposed increase in rates would affect only the city users of telephones but it is now apparent that if the increase in rates is granted the company, the present rate paid by the farmers will be practically doubled. This, it is asserted, will be done in the way of the connection charge. Upon learning of this, E. O. Mogensen, president of the Merchants association, immediately took steps to form an organization of the farmers and city organizations. Notices have been sent to the various farmers telephone companies to send representatives to a meeting in Thief River Falls to take up the matter.

HELPING SUPPORT BOHEMIAN SOCIETY

That the citizens of Bohemian extraction residing in the United States should take a lively interest in the efforts now being made by people of their race in the old country to establish an independent republican form of government is but natural. In every section funds are being collected for the purpose of aiding the struggling nation to get on its feet and the total will be a very substantial sum.

A short time ago a branch of the Bohemian National alliance was formed for Pennington county and the organization is doing effective work. The members thus far enrolled are: John Malafa, J. J. Vorachek, L. J. Cerny, Barbara Cerny, Mary Vorachek, Fred Hincik, Jake Hincik, Charles Vorachek, Albert Lamac, Kathrina Lamac, Joseph Dostal, John Havel, Jr., Martin Bozdeck, Katrina Bozdeck, Joe Votava, Chas. Horejsh, Anna Moravec, Joe Moravec, Joseph Vorlecky, Anna Vorachek.

Besides these there is a good list of contributors to the fund who have not as yet affiliated themselves with the organization. These are: Martin Bozdeck, Joseph Novak, Karel Prucha, Anton Kozojed, John Vokac, Joseph Vokac, Albert Lamac, John Havel, Jr., W. J. Janda, John Frost, Joseph Vorlecky, Joseph Moravec, Anton Horacek, Alois Srnsky, John Havel, Sr., Fred Ptacek, Joe Ptacek, Albert Ptacek, Frank Swobodny, J. W. Knadle, L. J. Cerny.

BOYS RETURNING FROM THE CAMPS

ONE FROM FRANCE AND FIVE FROM ENGLAND ALSO AMONG ARRIVALS.

ENGINEERS MAY REMAIN

EXPERIENCED MEN NEEDED WHILE OTHERS WILL LIKELY BE SENT HOME.

The past week has seen quite a number of Pennington county boys return home after serving terms of various lengths in the military establishment of Uncle Sam. While the movement from the camps in this country is now rapid, it is expected that it will be greatly hastened after the first of the year. Men are also coming over from Europe by the shipload every day, but there is no way of anticipating when any given unit will be released for transport home.

The general impression seems to be that the engineers will be the last to leave France. Their services are badly needed in the devastated sections and it is probable that they will be kept on the job instead of releasing them and breaking in new men to take their places.

Six From Across.

Otis Teal, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Teal, returned last week from service in France. He was sent back as a casualty, having been gassed, but has not as yet been discharged from the army.

Five aviation mechanics returned this week from England. They were part of the contingent who left on Aug. 4 for special training at the University of Pittsburgh, where they stayed about two months. The war came to an end while they were awaiting their call. They are: Herman M. Jackson, St. Hilaire; Arthur Eiden, Carl Gulrud, Lars Heckne and Max Goldsmith. The first four are now at their homes while Goldsmith will perhaps not return to Thief River Falls but will stop with relatives either at Chicago or Minneapolis.

D. C. Karwand, formerly cashier of the bank at Hazel, and Ed Arveson, who were members of the Pittsburgh bunch, are in France, being attached to the Fourth Air Park and engaged during the fighting in the repair of airplanes just behind the lines. When they will return is not known.

From the Camps.

It is a difficult matter to keep track of the boys arriving from the different camps in this country as no provision was made for their registration upon returning. Had this been requested it would prove a great aid in keeping track of them and in getting a history of Pennington county's share in the war. So far as The Times has been able to learn the following have returned home:

Camp Hancock, Ga.—Harold W. Hicks.

Camp Lewis, Wash.—Fred Leimers.

Camp Benj. Harrison, Ind.—Olaf M. Thompson.

Camp Grant, Ill.—Andrew Breznay, Nicholas Olson, Alfred Steene.

Camp Dodge, Iowa.—Tellef Volden.

Camp Forest, Ga.—George D. Brink, Gustav M. Freitag.

Mechanical Department, Dunwoody Institute—Ben Bergen, Lloyd Huddleson, Samuel Rouze, Ernest H. Johnson.

FOUR ARTILLERYMEN ARE STILL INTACT

BOTHUN, LANGSETH, PROVENCHER AND SCANLAN COME THROUGH FIRE.

The first four boys to leave Thief River Falls as volunteers for the war are coming back but little the worse for wear, according to reports received this week. All are artillery men and members of the famous Rainbow division. One of them, Fred T. Scanlan, was gassed in his first fight and has since been doing clerical work at headquarters in Paris, much to his disgust. Hardy Bothun, Harold Provencher and Martin Langseth have all been heard from this week and are with the army of occupation in Luxemburg. All are feeling fine and only one of them seems to have been wounded. Langseth must have been scratched up some, according to reports, but it could not have been at all serious as his name has never appeared in the casualty lists. He was never hurt bad enough to make him quit fighting.

In a letter to his parents Hardy Bothun says that after the session with the Boches in Argonne forest the old Rainbow was pretty badly disfigured and had to be sent back for reorganization, but that it was still going good when the end came. The record of this division is one of the most brilliant of any in the war. So far as known Provencher and Bothun came off without an injury of any kind.

> AN APPRECIATION.
>
> The Thief River Falls Times, is deserving of much credit for the splendid and liberal help given the United War Work campaign for this county. This paper has been our greatest single contributing factor in bringing the work before the people and in the fine showing we have succeeded in reaching. In this campaign more than in any other ever put on, it has been the written word that counted, and therefore we wish it to be known that the United War workers appreciate this.

LAND BANK PLAN TO BE EXPLAINED

PUBLIC MEETING WILL BE HELD AT CLUB ROOMS ON JANUARY 14.

A meeting of much interest to the farmers of the neighborhood will be held at the Commercial club rooms at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday, Jan. 14. At this time a representative of the Federal Lank Bank of St. Paul, will be in the city and will explain the workings of the land loan plan.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of Valhall National Farm Loan association, the local branch of the organization, and anyone interested is invited to be present. The meeting is open to the public generally but farmers are particularly urged to attend.

The Valhall branch has been one of the most active in the state and has a large number of applications on file. There is some misunderstanding as to just what is required in order that the government plan may be taken advantage of, and the visit of the state official is made for the purpose of clearing this up.

OUR COUNTY FAIR AVERAGES UP WELL

TOTAL RECEIPTS NEAR THOSE OF POLK AND GREATER THAN MARSHALL.

The annual report of the State Agricultural society shows that Pennington county's fairs occupy a high place among similar events in northwestern Minnesota. The general impression has always been that while our annual farm exhibits have been very creditable for a small and comparatively new community, they have never reached the prominence or importance of those held in nearby counties, particularly Polk and Marshall. The report at hand shows that these calculations have all been wrong.

The total receipts from all sources at the last fair were $5,921.58, of which $1,875 represented money taken at the gate. The amount received from all sources by the Polk county fair at Fertile was $6,499.96, but of this amount the gate receipts only represented $1,822.45, or a little less than Pennington county. In this total is included $843.45 received as state aid, while Pennington county secured nothing.

In Marshall county the gate receipts were higher but the total was lower, the former item footing up $2,365.56 and the latter $4,789.55. Marshall county gets no state aid but an appropriation of $1,000 was voted by the county commissioners as against $600 in Pennington county.

Joint Installation.

Northern Lodge No. 236, A. F. & A. M., and Winslow Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a joint installation on Monday evening, Jan. 6. The officers to be installed by the Masons are: Herbert Fuller, W. M.; Nels A. Nelson, S. W.; Ove E. Berge, J. W.; T. L. Melgaard, treasurer; G. L. Sterns, secretary; J. Q. Cronkhite, trustee for one year.

The newly elected officers for Winslow Chapter are: Edith Haynes, worthy matron; Frances Larson, associate matron; Anna Quale, secretary; Edith Bottleson, treasurer; Effie Hanry, conductress; Adelaide Quale, associate conductress; Nettie Booren, marshall; Edna Larson, pianist; Lillian Cronkhite, chaplain; Minnie Mogensen, Adah; Una Nelson, Ruth; Gladys M. Lampert, Esther; Helen Gambell, Martha; Anna B. Kinghorn, Electa; Minnie Yotter, warden; Fred Gobler, sentinel.

Besides these the following committees will be initiated into their duties: Finance, G. L. Sterns, Mrs. T. A. Way, Mrs. C. A. Nason. Flower committee: Mrs. J. O. Yotter, Mrs. B. E. Dalquist, Mrs. Carlson. Relief: J. Q. Cronkhite, Mrs. C. R. Crandall, Mrs. Turnbaugh. Refreshments: Mrs. G. W. Booren, Mrs. F. A. Gobler.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Johnson arrived here Tuesday from their home at Lake Park, this state, to spend Christmas at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rustad.

RED CROSS LIST MAY REACH 5000

INDICATIONS ARE THAT THIEF RIVER FALLS WILL FURNISH 1,200 NAMES.

FEW COMPLETE REPORTS IN RESULT BETTER THAN IN FORMER CAMPAIGN BY 100 PER CENT.

On account of the press of holiday matters the various teams soliciting memberships for the Red Cross in Thief River Falls have not had the time that is necessary to make a thoro canvass as yet, but returns so far received by Secretary Scott Laird are very satisfactory.

Out of 21 districts into which the city was divided, 10 only have made complete reports and three partial reports, these 13 districts having produced 584 members up to Christmas eve. The eight remaining districts should do as well proportionately—in fact better, it is anticipated. If so the membership would be about 900, but it is confidently expected that when a careful checking up is made and new lists given to clean-up teams the total membership will be about 1,200.

Few Branches Heard From.

The Branches throughout Pennington county have also been working under handicaps and up to Christmas eve only three had turned in their reports. These three branches have enrolled 211 adult members and 52 Juniors. Taking these three townships as a guide it is believed that the adult membership of the 22 branch chapters the coming year will be 1,500, which is fully double that of 1918.

There has been no effort made as yet in the city or in several of the townships to work a Junior membership campaign but beyond any question when this is undertaken in earnest later there will be as many Juniors as adult Red Cross members throughout Pennington county. The officers in charge are hopeful that the grand total membership will this year reach 5,000.

Wins Third Prize.

Miss Igna Harmy, who is teaching school near Thief River Falls, was winner of the third prize in a contest recently inaugurated by the Delineator. The subject assigned was "The Teaching of Americanism" and was open to teachers in every section of the United States. Being awarded one of the capital prizes in a competition wherein there were so many contestants, is an honor of which the young woman may well be proud.

WILL CALL GRAND JURY IN SESSION

REGULAR WINTER TERM OF DISTRICT COURT CONVENES ON FEBRUARY 5.

Judge Andrew Grindeland will preside at the winter term of the Pennington county district court, which will convene on Feb. 5. It has been deemed advisable to impannel a grand jury and this body will begin its deliberations on the fifth. The talismen were this week selected by Sheriff W. J. LaBree, Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund and Justice C. W. Nelson of Mavie, the following being drawn:

Grand jurors—John Aos, August Brown, Olaf Ramstad, city; F. T. Satre and John A. Johnson, Rocksbury; C. O. Wahlin and Peder Refness, Reiner; Carl Haug and Gilbert Haave, North; Ben Anderson, Norden; Christ Thompson, Hickory; C. A. Melin, Polk Center; Elias Angell and C. P. Beck, Smiley; Olaf Wahlberg and Fred DuChamp, Cloverleaf; R. M. Johnson, Kratka; Hans P. Rud, Silverton; C. A. Nelson, Bray; Ole B. Trontvet, Star; Halvor Olson, Numedal; G. W. Hooper, St. Hilaire; Syver Holm, Highlanding.

Petit jurors—W. A. Bishop, W. W. Prichard, Jr., L. D. McAdams, Halvor Loken and Martin Benson, Thief River Falls; Nels Aarness, Cloverleaf; Halvor Johnson, Numedal; G. G. Olson, Star; H. C. Jarr and Ole Wedul, Mayfield; A. B. Newton and O. M. Peterson, Smiley; A. E. Anderson and Huber Buck, Rocksbury; A. S. Wilson and Peter Bursted, St. Hilaire; E. H. Besancon, Goodridge; Oscar Johnson, River Falls; Walter McAndress and Helmer Finstad, Highlanding; L. O. Kongolf and P. H. Wright, Kratka; Victor L. Swanson, Silverton; John Bolstad, Deer Park.

Winter Term Opens January 2.

The Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston is continuing its sessions during the holiday season excepting on Christmas Day and the day following due to interruption earlier in the term on account of flu. There are no flu cases there now and prospects point to a large attendance at the winter term which opens January 2nd. Mr. Carl A. Berg, recently returned from Camp Cody, has been added to the staff of instructors who will teach gasoline, tractor and automobile engineering, making this course one of the strongest in the Northwest. A course for Dairy and Stock Herdsmen will be offered also. Dressmaking will again be given under the competent instruction of Miss Glise.

The school auto service recently established is proving very popular with the students as it provides a substitute for street car service to and from the school. With splendid equipment, a competent faculty and other advantages, the Northwest School is ready to welcome young people who desire an education. Better think it over and plan to attend during the winter term.

> MUST REDEEM PLEDGES.
> There is yet outstanding in the neighborhood of $3,000 subscribed in Pennington county for the War Welfare Campaign. The drive has closed and it is necessary that all the money be paid in at once. Headquarters is demanding that a settlement be made at once.
>
> The money should be paid over to Willis H. Akre, campaign treasurer, First National bank.

WINTER PATRONAGE AT CREAMERY GOOD

PATRONS NUMBER ABOUT 450 PER DAY—PRICES ARE STILL HIGH.

Butterfat is still bringing 69 cents per pound at the Thief River Falls creamery and there is every indication that the price will remain at about this figure. There is always the possibility that it will go down and those who are holding off shipments are as liable to lose as to gain by such tactics.

Receipts still continue good for this time of year. There are about 450 patrons of the creamery at present, 150 of whom are home producers and 300 shippers. Some of these are receiving very substantial checks in spite of the fact that this is the poorest season of the year for milk production.

The record for the month of November shows 20 still remaining in the $50 or better class, some receiving twice and three times that amount. Those with the high mark are as follows:

Production work in the Red Cross rooms is not completed as many seem to have imagined. To show that there is still more work for this organization, so humanitarian in its aims, need be cited only the last allotment assigned to the Pennington County Chapter—100 pinnafores for children four years of age.

In this connection those in charge of the work wish to point out that the goods are now furnished without charge. For that reason only memberships are now sought to carry on the work of the chapter. Therefore, if you have not already been solicited for your membership step into the office of either Mr. Melgaard, Mr. Way or Mr. Laird and be enrolled as a 1919 member. The cost is but a dollar.

NOTHING FURTHER ON POTATO HOUSE

PLAN IS NOT DROPPED, BUT POSTPONEMENT FOR PRESENT CONSIDERED BEST.

There were but few members of the Pennington County Potato Growers association present at the meeting last Friday afternoon, although it had been announced that the matter of erecting a co-operative potato warehouse would be taken up. There seems to be a tendency on the part of the potato growers to let the matter rest for the present.

The project of erecting a new building or buying and converting a building already constructed to the purpose of the association has been given a great deal of careful consideration. A committee of growers made a special trip to potato centers in this and other states last summer for the purpose of gathering data as to the best mode of procedure. The members came back enthusiastic over the prospects held out for a co-operative shipping plant and even went so far as to look into the matter of available sites.

Potato conditions just at present are not the most promising and the growers have evidently concluded that it is advisable to wait another year before embarking on an enterprise involving so great an outlay.

ONE SON KILLED; ONE IS WOUNDED

OSCAR BAKKEN DIES FIGHTING ON LAST DAY OF GREAT WAR.

HARRY SHOT THROUGH ARM

OVER TOP FOUR TIMES WITHOUT SCRATCH; FIFTH PROVES JONAH.

When the credits are finally distributed among those who have given all they could to the country's service, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken of Thief River Falls, will stand high among the citizens of this section. One son, Oscar, died fighting on the last day and almost at the last moment of the great war. His case is one of those which must wait for the details to be divulged. All that is known now is that he met his end while the command of which he was a member was facing the foe and the terse and unsatisfactory explanation, "killed in action" must suffice for those who would fain learn more of the circumstances.

Brother is Injured.

Harry L. Bakken, brother of the above, is now in New York, according to word received by his father this week. This young man was wounded in one of the engagements toward the end of October. He has been in a hospital overseas since that time but is now in this country and hopes to reach Thief River Falls before the new year. In a letter written just before leaving France, he says:

"As they have set aside this day as Father's Day I will try and write a short letter. The censorship has been lifted and I can tell you of my troubles and hardships over in France.

Arm Getting Well.

"To begin with, my arm is getting along pretty well. Have been waiting every day to be sent back to the United States and I do not think it will be very long before I will be back in a civilized country again. When I land I am going to send you a telegram. It might beat this letter at that.

"Well, to attempt to tell you all I have gone through this summer would be useless. I will say this much, however: Had I not been wounded and had I gone thru it all right, I certainly would not sell my experience for any money. As it is I can only thank the good Lord I am alive. I have seen something here that I had no idea I would see when I left home last February. One thing I hope it will do is to make a better man of me in the future.

"As far as my health is concerned, I never felt better in my life. I have not heard from Oscar at all but hope that God has protected him as He has me."

Was His First Drive.

Speaking of how he received his wound, Mr. Bakken says: "It was our first time in a drive, although we had been holding a line on the front since the first of July. We were called out of our defense positions during the last months of the war and sent up to the Verdun front. There is where I got mine. We went over the top four times in one day and I came out all right. I never got a scratch during the first four days of fighting and began thinking I was one of the lucky chaps. The fifth time over they got me in the left arm—and here I am waiting to be sent home. I sure hope to be over there by Christmas."

Third Son Home.

Ole P. Bakken, a third son arrived this week in time to spend Christmas at home. He has been working in a munition factory in West Virginia.

NEWS TO FRIENDS IN ENEMY LANDS

RED CROSS UNDERTAKES TO SEE THAT COMMUNICATIONS GET THROUGH.

The Red Cross Home Service, as part of its work of helpfulness in the community, has made arrangements to send messages to relatives living in enemy countries. Regular mail service has not been open to Germany or Austria or Russia, and it may not be open again for several months. With the war over, people here are more anxious than ever to have some word from their loved ones in the home land. In one of the counties of Minnesota, a workman from Galicia, or Austrian Poland, had not heard for four years from his wife and three little children. It had been impossible to send them the money saved from his wages. The army had swept again and again over the region near his old home. Four long years, and not a word to tell whether they were living or dead. Some one directed him to the Red Cross. The Home Service Information bureau wrote for him a letter in English on the prescribed form, to be sent to Switzerland, translated there into Polish, and mailed to Poland. "How much shall I pay?" the man asked. "Not a penny, not even a postage stamp. The Red Cross of this county is glad to help you." "I'd give a thousand dollars if I could hear from them." And no doubt he has heard by this time, for thousands of answers have been coming back through the same channel. Take this, like all your troubles, to the Red Cross. Mrs. J. J. Richter, Thief River Falls, is chairman of the Pennington County Home Service.

> PRESIDENT SENDS CHRISTMAS MESSAGE.
>
> President Wilson in Paris sent to the American people the following message on Christmas morning:
>
> "I hope that it will cheer the people at home to know that I find their boys over here in fine form and in fine spirits, esteemed by all those with whom they have been associated in the war, and trusted wherever they go, and they will also, I am sure, be cheered by the knowledge of the fact that throughout the great nations with which we have been associated in this war public opinion strongly sustains all proposals for a just and lasting peace and a close co-operation of the selfgoverning peoples of the world in making that peace secure after its present settlements are formulated.
>
> "Nothing could constitute a more acceptable Christmas reassurance than the sentiments which I find everywhere prevalent."

NONE FROM HERE IN LIST OF KILLED

SEVERITY OF FIGHTING TOWARDS END INDICATED BY LATEST REPORT.

The long string of casualties published daily indicates that Minnesota boys were in the thick of the fighting in France toward the end. None of the soldiers from Pennington county have been reported as killed in action during the past week, but there is quite a number from the neighborhood in the list of wounded.

The War Department issued a statement some time ago to the effect that all names of casualties would be received in this country by Dec. 20, but the indications are that another month will be necessary in order to clear the slate entirely.

The Serious Cases.

There are three Pennington county men in the list of seriously wounded, these being Henry Johnsrud, Oscar W. Dahl and Peter Shalz. Herman C. Fisher of Germantown, is also cited in this classification.

The slightly wounded are Oscar Borge and Olaf R. Ness. Two from this immediate section are missing in action and further reports as to their fate is anxiously awaited. They are Andrew Ferngen, Thief River Falls and Frank Linder, Plummer.

In the list is also found the following from this neighborhood: Opfus Torgerson, Radium, killed; Jim J. Nomeland, Grygla, killed; John A. Sarher, Middle River, wounded severely; Henry J. Brunelle, Red Lake Falls, wounded, degree undetermined.

SEES OPENING FOR ANOTHER ELEVATOR

NEW COUNTY COMMISSIONER SAYS NEED EXISTS AT GOODRIDGE.

G. W. Hunt of Sunbeam, county commissioner-elect from the First district, evidently thinks there is not enough elevator accommodations at the eastern terminal of the Minnesota Northwestern electric railway and wants the farmers to build one of their own. He says in his publication, the Sunbeam:

"As we are always looking out for the betterment of eastern Pennington county, we have come to the conclusion, that it is time for the farmers of this end of the county to join hands and build a farmer's elevator at Goodridge. We have heard some of the prominent farmers of Deer Park, who have shares in the Oklee farmer's elevator, express the opinion that they were willing to take stock in a farmer's elevator to be built at Goodridge. Some of them are now hauling their wheat to Oklee, a longer distance, on account of the extra price they get, and their rebate as share holders in the farmer's elevator. Now is the time to start this movement, and a meeting will be called to meet and talk the matter over at Goodridge in the near future. There is no use to wait until next fall, when the teams are dammed up a mile long waiting to unload wheat at Goodridge, but let us get together this winter and get stock enough subscribed to start building a big elevator next spring. The last week of November demonstrated the fact that there should be another elevator at Goodridge, and we want to see it built and operated by the farmers of eastern Pennington county."

Council Meeting Tonight.

The city council meets this evening, the session having been postpone because of the regular date coming on Christmas Eve.

THOUSAND KIDS ARE MADE HAPPY

SONG PROGRAM OMITTED

CHILDREN UNABLE TO BE PRESENT ARE REMEMBERED BY SANTA CLAUS.

The main idea behind the Good Fellows' municipal Christmas tree project was that every child in the city and as many from the outside as cared to come should have reason to remember the visit of Santa Claus. If any missed it, it was their own fault, as there was plenty of well-filled sacks to go around. After everybody who came to the tree had been served the three representativs of Santa Claus took the remaining sacks on a truck and visited every part of the city, being particularly careful to call at homes where children were known to be sick. There still remained some sacks undisposed of this morning and the Good Fellows have notified the churches of the city that these will be sent to any address suggested.

What Sacks Contained.

The sacks were all filled exactly the same, containing one big orange, two apples, a goodly quantity of peanuts and a handful of candy. The Good Fellows had interested the merchants handling these Christmas necessities in the plan and absolutely refuse to divulge the price paid. It is understood, however, that in most instances it was enough to pay the freight on the goods.

No Singing Program.

The Christmas cantata singers of the Woman's club were scheduled for a selection or two, but the weather did not favor outdoor singing and it was thought better for all concerned if nothing was introduced which would have a tendency to make the people stand crowded together for any length of time. The warning against crowds was remembered and the safety of the public taken into consideration.

The visit of Santa Claus was announced for 4:30 in the afternoon and this proved rather late for any very large number of children to get in from the country. Those who did come, however, were well treated and had every cause to be glad they made the trip.

STATE SENT 95,000 MEN TO WIN WAR

OF THIS NUMBER 67,000 WERE SELECTED FOR NATIONAL ARMY.

Minnesota had 94,787 fighting men in the forces of the United States in the world war and contributed 210,000 men to the war forces, including those serving with the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other organizations in special service. The figures are given out by Adjutant General Rhinow in a report which covers the first part of the compilation of the state's records in the war.

Men called to arms from this state included 67,022 drafted voluteers who placed Minnesota high in the recruiting lists, and 8,246 officers and men of the Minnesota National Guard. Of the large list of enlisted men 9,051 joined the army, 8,312 in the navy and 2,156 in the Marine corps.

Wet-Dry Count Under Way.

The recount of the ballots cast on the state prohibition amendment is under way at St. Paul.

E. C. Garrigues represents the contestants and John Everall, assistant attorney general, represents the State of Minnesota. W. A. Lancaster, W. A. Koon and B. H. Schribner are attorneys of record. All the ballots cast on the amendment issue will be inspected and counted. There are three sets of inspectors of three each, the contestants and the state each appointing one of each set and they naming the third of their set. There are also three reserve inspectors who will serve in case of the inability of the others to do so on account of sickness or otherwise.

Misspelled the Name.

In the official publication of the city council proceedings last week it was stated that a "Mrs. Kassa" was being aided by the municipality. This was a mistake and the name should have been "Kaasa." This brought a complaint from John Kassa, who states that no one connected with him in any manner has found it necessary to make application for aid of any kind.

Gets State Appointment.

Milo C. Drake, formerly engaged in farming in Sanders and Black River townships of Pennington county, has been appointed assistant state auditor of South Dakota, according to reports received from Pierre. Mr. Drake is still the owner of a farm in the town of Black River.

IN FRONT LINE DURING ATTACK

DOCTORS' WONDERFUL ART

SAVING MEN WHEN THERE SEEMS NO POSSIBLE CHANCE FOR THEM.

Among the many interesting soldier letters received in Thief River Falls during the past week is one from James Havel. It is dated Toul, France, Nov. 25, and is to his father, John Havel, Sr., 501 Duluth avenue south. The censorship had been removed at the time of writing and this communication is therefore one of the most interesting yet published here. This soldier says:

"Today is the 25th of November and every soldier is supposed to write to his father. I wrote to mother the other day and expect that the letters will reach you at the same time.

"The war is over now and I expect we will all be back in a couple of months. I was wounded once and was in the hospital for over a month. It happened on the 26th of September. We made a drive on the Germans about five o'clock in the morning and soon had them on the run. They had a lot of machine guns and artillery on our front, and this is pretty hard to face, but we finally started them retreating and pushed them back several miles.

Was Put to Sleep.

"All of a sudden something hit me and put me to sleep and when I woke up the blood was running down my face. A machine gun bullet had just clipped the top of my head and cut a gash in my scalp. I was sent to a hospital, the doctor sewed me up and I am all healed over again.

"I have been in some pretty hot fights and tight places before I got hurt, but came through it all pretty lucky.

Doctors are Wonderful.

"There are sure some wonderful doctors in the army hospitals. I have seen men shot in every possible place on the body, some having as many as six or eight bullet holes, and the doctors saved them. One of our men had both legs broken and one arm taken off by machine bullets, but he is getting on all right. The doctors took out one chap's heart, looked it over and put it back again. He is living today and promises to keep right on. They cut a hole in one soldier's right side, big enough so they could stick their head in, and took out the head of a 3½ inch shell which went through his chest and lodged against his ribs at the back. He is still alive and well. One fellow had his whole jaw shot off and they made a new one for him out of one of his ribs. There are hundreds of cases just as bad or worse in which the wounded soldier is coming out all right.

Would Take a Book.

"I will not try to write about all the things I have gone through or seen, as this would take a whole book. I'll wait until I get home and tell you about it. I am not with my company at present, as when I came out of the hospital they sent me and some others to a replacement camp where they classify all the soldiers who have been wounded. I have been in the camp for almost four weeks now and haven't been ordered back to my company yet. I hope they will be sending us home as there are several thousand other soldiers here. They are from different divisions and I see by the papers that all casualties and soldiers in replacement camps are to go home. My division (the 90th) is now in Germany, guarding the border and I don't know whether I will be sent to join or returned to America with the other casualties.

Taking Things Easy.

"I am not worrying as to what they will do with me. This is a pretty good camp and I get my three square meals a day and have a good place to sleep. The camp is located at Toul, a city about twice the size of Grand Forks, and I can go out and take in the sights whenever I want to.

"I am afraid a carpenter would starve to death in France as everything is built of stone. All the roads, even in the country, are paved with stone and the houses are all made of this material, with walls two feet thick. I have seen good sized towns like Thief River Falls near the front all shot to pieces and laid level with the ground by the artillery bombardments, which is one of the worst things we have to contend with. The guns can shoot anywhere from one to 25 miles and the shells vary in size from three inches to 16. They use the three, six and eight inch artillery the most, and that is bad enough.

Terrific Explosions.

"When one of the six or eight inch shells explode the shock is to terrific that it shakes the ground and as the shells are made of iron the pieces, called schrapnel, fly about. When one of these shells hit a tree two feet through it cuts it off like nothing. When the explosion takes place close to a soldier, if it doesn't kill him, the concussion knocks him crazy. They call it shell shock. I saw some men in the hospital who were suffering from shell shock and they didn't know or feel anything. The doctors could stick pins in their legs or arms anywhere and they were not conscious of it. They will get well in time, but it will take a year or two.

The Airplane Menace.

"When we are at the front the Allied and German airplanes are continually flying overhead, away up in the clouds. When our observers see a company of soldiers camped anywhere they signal to the artillery and the gunners send several hundred shells over to where the enemy is. The Germans have every hill and every large tree numbered and all the roads and paths through the country spotted. As soon as a signal reaches them from the airplanes they know just where to throw the shells, so we have to lay low during the day and do all our moving around at night. Sometimes it has been so dark one couldn't see an inch ahead.

Were Shelled Steadily.

"The main roads where there is a lot of artillery and traffic and trucks is sometimes shelled by the Germans almost steadily night and day. Their work is so accurate that they can hit any road any time they wish. There is a time fuse on the shells and this can be set to explode when they are about 20 feet over the road. The schrapnel flies all over, killing the horses and men. We all wear steel helmets when we are at the front as a protection agains this. The Americans could shoot even more accurately, but the Germans had the advantage as they knew the country.

In the First Line.

"On September 12th we made a drive against the enemy, but before the infantry went into action the artillery put down a five hour barrage on the Huns. I never heard such bombardment as that was. All the heavy guns seemed to be booming at once. In the morning the infantry went forward. I was in the first battalion of our regiment so we were in the first line of battle. We drove the Huns out of the country on the dead run. About half of them are still there and will never be up to any more deviltry.

Supply Teams Killed.

"We didn't have anything to eat for two and a half days as the teams on the field kitchen wagons were killed three miles behind our position and no food or water could be gotten to us. When they did get it up there in big tin cans it sure was good."

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

BACKUS IS CITED ON TWO COUNTS

FORMER THIEF RIVER BOY RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE FROM GEN. PERSHING.

RISKS LIFE FOR COMRADE

SHOT DOWN THREE ENEMY PLANES IN BATTLE, PREVENTING ESCAPE.

While the fortunes of every boy from Thief River Falls who has taken any part in the war have naturally been followed with a great deal of interest, it is doubtful if any have been watched more closely than those of David H. Backus. The almost spectacular rise and success of this young man forms one of the brightest chapters of Minnesota's part in the war.

Backus was a member of the Thief River Falls hockey team in 1916, when that aggregation held the championship of the Northwest. He was always intensely interested in all forms of athletics and was a particularly good fellow in every respect. He became a resident of St. Paul only a short time before the war broke out and from that time has been almost a national character because of his success as an aviator. He has been cited for bravery in action by Gen. Pershing, the St. Paul Dispatch giving the following account of his achievements:

Lieutenant David H. Backus, 578 Holly avenue, has been cited by General Pershing for extraordinary heroism on two different occasions.

In the official government report Lieutenant Backus is officially given credit for bringing down four different German aeroplanes. The official government citation said:

"For extraordinary heroism in action near Etain, France, September 26, 1918, Lieutenant Backus is cited. Lieutenant Backus as one of a patrol of five monoplanes that were attacked by nine enemy planes—Fokker type—in a superior position.

Went Back to Save Comrade.

"The American patrol leader, seeing the futility of giving combat, turned toward our lines with the enemy in close pursuit. One of our patrol, however, fell behind and the enemy planes drove upon him.

"Lieutenant Backus, although beyond danger, on seeing the predicament of his comrade, turned and alone attacked the enemy, destroying one and dispersing the others.

"A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in action in the region of Landreville, France, October 23, 1918. A patrol of American monoplanes attacked an enemy formation of a superior number.

"Lieutenant Backus, flying rear position, maneuvered above the attack to prevent other enemy planes from assisting their companions. In the midst of the combat Lieutenant Backus saw three planes escaping from battle. He immediately gave chase and shot down all three of the enemy."

Lieutenant Backus is 25 years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Backus. Mrs. Backus conducts the Backus school for girls on Holly avenue.

L. W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad, was largely instrumental in getting Lieutenant Backus to France. Lieutenant Backus drove an ambulance and was cited by the French government for bravery; then took up flying before the United States entered the war.

Lieutenant John Upham, of St. Paul, who fought in France, went up in the air with Lieutenant Backus and predicted he would make a great aviator.

Mother Hopes He Will Quit Air.

Mrs. Backus said today that she is proud of her boy, but hopes he will not fly any more.

"I have three boys—Clinton is an observer in an airplane and is in France. David is flying an airplane and Homayne is cutting spruce in Washington to make airplanes. They are all in the United States army."

Irving Roth of Minneapolis, a former student of Macalester college, is said to have been the aviator that Lieutenant Backus turned back to save when he drove off nine German machines.

Elling Wargdahl and sister, Christine, visited with their sister at the Oakland Park Sanitorium for two days and returned to their home at Holt, Thursday.

WRITES HISTORY OF TRIP ACROSS

L. A. HERMANSON GIVES INTERESTING DETAILS OF JOURNEY TO FRANCE.

WHERE BIG GUNS ROARED

EVEN BAND MEN HAD STRENUOUS TIMES DURING THE BIG MOVEMENT.

While Times readers have from time to time been given short accounts of army life by the boys who have been in the service, it has remained for Lawrence Hermanson to tell something of the method employed in getting the fighting men over to the scene of trouble. His letter, written home on Father's Day, does not contain as much of battle experiences as some of the others, he being a musician, but it is highly interesting nevertheless. He says:

"Today is Father's Day and this is your Christmas letter. The A. E. F. has certain privileges today that we have not before enjoyed and the substance of this letter will surprise you. Today we can tell where we are, where we have been and what we have been doing, so this will no doubt be the newsiest letter I have written on this side. The censorship is lifted. Whether it's for this day only or for good I don't know, but I am not going to take any chances and you shall know all today.

"We are still in France of course, and expect to stay here for awhile as we have no orders to move. We hope to be on our way back soon, but whether it will be in three weeks or three months we do not know.

Story of the Trip.

"Here is the way we left Dodge: On Aug. 8th we boarded Pullmans and at 11 o'clock started on our journey for overseas. We passed through Iowa and across Wisconsin. Hitting Chicago at night we saw very little of it. In the morning we woke up in Indiana, where we had breakfast. We ate our dinner in Ohio and stayed in Erie two hours, the whole trainload getting off and taking a dip in Lake Erie. Then aboard train again. Having our supper in the neck of Pennsylvania, we went to sleep in western New York and woke up in the morning in the Catskills. While at dinner we came to the banks of the Hudson and about five o'clock set foot on land in Jersey City. Boarding the boat we floated down the harbor, under Brooklyn bridge, passed the Statue of Liberty, noted the famous New York sky line and continued up the river to Hoboken. Getting off our train we boarded another for Camp Mills, where we stayed until completely outfitted.

On Ship Fifteen Days.

"On the morning of the 15th we boarded the cars again to embark. At 12 o'clock we went aboard the Asconius, an English boat, on which we stayed 15 days. The first night we slept on board in the harbor, waiting for the convoy to form. At 12 bells next noon the convoy of 16 boats set sail for France. Airplanes and observation balloons followed us out to sea and stayed with us until the next morning, when they turned around and beat it back for God's country.

Uneventful Voyage.

"There is not much to report on our trip out except that we ate three square meals a day, stewed by an Englishman, and at night went to our little hammocks. On the twelfth day out we sighted the first boat. Everyone was excited for we were then in the danger zone, but it turned out to be a convoy of torpedo boats sent out to meet us. Later airplanes and balloons began watching over us. That night we steamed into Liverpool and at noon the next day set foot on English soil. We marched through Liverpool right to the station and at 4 o'clock the train started out across England. At 12 that night we got off the train at Winchester and marched to a camp in the outskirts of the city. Next morning we again shouldered our packs and marched back to the train, landing at Southampton at noon. At five o'clock we boarded a cattle boat and at night crossed the English channel.

Arrival in France.

"We landed in France at 8 o'clock and immediately marched to a camp called LeHavre and stayed there two days and a night. Continuing our journey we stayed in a little village called Bussy La Grande, where I wrote my first letter in France. We stayed here about two weeks and on the evening of Sept. 15, left again in box cars. Next day we got off at Hericourt, a little way from Belfort on the Alsace frontier. We marched to Meroux and from there to Chevremont. After staying there a while we went to Rougemont and then to Montreaux Chateau.

Within Range of Guns.

"All this time we were within range of the heavy guns and continually the roar of battle could be heard. From Montreaux Chateau we crossed into Dutch territory and stayed at Manspach while the regiment was in the trenches. From Manspach we marched 18 miles to Roppe, where we were the day the armistice was signed. We marched through Belfort, the largest city in that part of the country. You will find it near Switzerland in the eastern part of France.

"On the night of the 12th of November we landed at Lucy, the town we are now in. We have been here over two weeks and don't know where we are going. The village is about 4½ miles from Toul in a northeasterly direction.

"Now I hope I have made it clear where I am and where I have been. If this letter is all cut up you will know that these names did not get by the censor.

Many Interesting Sights.

"The time we have been over here has been very interesting and though of course it has not been like staying in the parlor at home, we have had plenty of fun and there will be many things we shall never forget. We visited Belfort the day before we left. There we had our first real meal and had a chance to see many things of interest. The Lion du Belfort is a big statue of a lion carved out of the side of a cliff and is a fine piece of work. There is a big American cemetery in Belfort and we visited this also. We hoped to be able to make a visit to Toul but today when we did have a chance passes were not issued, so we had to stay at home.

"This morning we played for the services by our chaplain. This afternoon we are staying close to the stove and every one of us writing a letter to dad. Next year we will all be able to spend Christmas together."

MONTH'S PAY TO HOME-COMING MEN

RETURNING SOLDIERS WILL ALSO BE ALLOWED RAILROAD FARE.

In order to remove the uncertainty of the pay feature in the arrangements made for the demobilization of troops, the Public Safety Commission has issued the following statement:

"Returning soldiers will be given one month's pay plus transportation allowance of three and one-half cents mile from point of demobilization to home town. Their railroad tickets will cost two cents a mile by direct route. Demobilization will be from nearest army camp to home section of majority of men in each unit."

BIG PAY

Students of the Union Commercial College, Grand Forks, N. Dak., earn big pay. You can do the same. Tremendous demand for young women and men with a business education. Write for our free catalog and find out how little it costs and what a short time it takes.

Live Stock Exhibit Plans.

The premium list for the winter live stock exhibit to be held in connection with the Farm Crops Show at Crookston February 10-14 has been prepared and will be mailed upon application to your county agent or to Supt. S. G. Selvig at Crookston. Breeding of pure bred stock in the northwestern Minnesota counties are invited to show their cattle, swine and sheep in the new buildings now going up next to the Crookston Armory. Breeders who have pure bred dairy and beef cattle, sheep and hogs for sale are urged to write to Supt. Selvig listing the stock they wish to consign. This sale will be held February 12 and 13 at the opening of the new live stock pavilion when hundreds of men and women interested in live stock will be present. Every effort will be made to make this the top-notcher live stock event of the year to reflect properly the growing importance of northwestern Minnesota as the coming live stock section.

A GOOD TIME TO BEGIN.

New Years is the accepted time for the making of good resolutions. These are not always lived up to, but the fact that they are made is an admission that there is need of improvement.

One resolution the people of Thief River Falls should make—and keep—is that the Commerical club shall be rejuvinated and maintained. There are enough projects of importance in sight right now to keep the club going at full speed ahead until another New Years day, when another set of resolutions will be in order.

For instance, there is the return of the boys from the war. All are agreed that a little something should be done to let them know we are glad to see them and proud of what they have accomplished. All the people will naturally be included in whatever form the memorial takes, but the arrangements and details will have to be left to some committee of citizens to work out. It would be perfectly safe to leave this matter to representatives appointed by the club.

The legislature will be in session this winter and there are several matters in which our people are very much interested. In order to secure any kind of concerted action meetings and discussions will be necessary. The club room is the first place thought of in this connection.

The club is the municipal clearing house for the crystalization of opinions and sentiment. Here all may air their ideas with the hope that the best will be adopted. It is a good place to go for the purpose of finding out what your neighbor thinks.

Thief River Falls people will have many interesting problems to solve during the next two or three years. One sure way of helping to solve them correctly is to get the Commercial club into active and aggressive condition.

Let us have a meeting as soon after the first of the year as possible and get things started.

A SERVICE OF LASTING VALUE.

It might prove a good thing if we were to form a habit of doing certain things now only thought of under unusual circumstances. This has been brought home to many thinking people through a consideration of the reports made by examining physicians and boards having charge of the young men entering the army and navy during the past two years.

So far from our boys returning in any manner injured in general health by their experience, they are liable to be greatly improved. They will have a better knowledge of themselves, of what to avoid and what to encourage than ever before.

This applies with even greater force to those who were found unfitted for military duty. These latter have learned that there is something the matter with them, very often unsuspected, and have been told how best to escape any serious consequences from its presence. Suggestions have been made to many who were lacking in some particular detail as to how to proceed in order to insure a return to health and avoid future trouble.

Many of these men had their teeth examined by competent dentists for perhaps the first time in their lives. Their eyes were tested and any trouble in that direction pointed out. Advice as to what neglect might mean was given and the importance of immediate attention impressed upon the men, with the result that they have expert knowledge of themselves.

The value of this is apparent. The men examined were all young and but few troubles could have been of long standing. Knowledge of their existence in a large number of cases will mean that thier cure will at once be undertaken with the result that much future misery will be avoided.

Finally these men are liable to become impressed with the importance of having a knowledge of themselves and will make it a point every so often to see if they measure up to standard. If this is done it will save trouble and prolong life. In such cases the war experience of the men will prove of great and lasting value.

AN UNFAIR BURDEN.

Those who pay the taxes that go to support the Thief River Falls high school are paying about $1,000 per month for tuition of pupils whose parents do not reside in the district. This is according to the figures submitted by J. H. Hay, city superintendent, and published in The Times last week.

Our people are proud of their high school and of its record among similar institutions in the state. The enrollment here is often compared with that in nearby cities and the figures used as a basis to prove its popularity and efficiency. This is all very well but Supt. Hay points out that it is costing the district a very large sum of money.

Under existing conditions it is probable that it will cost $80 per pupil to run our high school this year. When school opens after the holidays it is expected that there will be 150 non-resident pupils in attendance, which means an outlay of $12,000 for the year. The special aid paid by the state to help in covering this cost only applies when the tax rate is in excess of 20 mills and is of small value in reducing the big sum.

One of the conditions of this aid is that pupils from anywhere in the state shall be enrolled free of charge. This makes the Thief River Falls school available to anyone who wishes to employ it, with the result that there are representatives from every county in northwestern Minnesota on its rolls.

So far from objecting to this, we are rather proud of it. But the state should pay the cost of the pupils' schooling. The counties wherein their homes are located are spared the expense of educating the children belonging to them, while those living in Thief River Falls must pay it. This is wrong and works a hardship on the taxpayers here.

There is hope that the next legislature will see the injustice of the present system and provide some aquitable plan.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The Arlington block, located about where the Auditorium building now stands, was destroyed by fire on the night of Dec. 23. The building was occupied as a hotel by S. Blaazza. It was the first big fire in the history of the city.

Paul Middleigh was preparing to open a meat market in a building opposite the Ogaimah hotel.

Ole Peterson purchased a stock of goods in this city and intended opening a store at Spruce Valley. A petition for the location of a postoffice there had been sent to Washington.

Mrs. J. Weirus left during the week for Eau Claire, Wis., for a Christmas visit with relatives.

C. Kretzschmar announced the leasing of the O. K. Roller mill to Louis Hanson and Math Barzen.

On Monday morning the editor of the Press found a card attached to his door bearing the signature of a number of citizens which seems to have been of an unusual character. The editor states that he is glad he was attending divine service when the raid was made.

Ten Years Ago.

It was announced that there were good prospects of the Canadian Northern getting behind the Thief River Falls-Roosevelt line projected by G. W. Hunt. The announcement was also made that the actual terminal of the road would be three or four miles north of the city at the crossing of the Great Northern and Soo.

Mrs. Julien Provencher died at her home in this city after an illness extending over three years.

The Red Lake river was reported at the lowest point reached at any time since records were kept.

An ordinance introduced in the city council provided for the raising of all curtains in saloons on Sunday and after closing hours at night. The ordinance was also intended to do away with wine rooms in saloons.

At the Pine Island camp of the Thief River Falls Lumber company cutting was reported finished and 600,000 feet of logs ready for hauling weather.

Anton Peterson was buried under a load of hay which tipped over into him while he was hauling it into town. He was unconscious when dug out at the end of three-quarters of an hour.

Flax seed reached the high water point during the week, $1.35 per bushel being paid at the local elevator. Wheat was 99 cents.

Six creamery patrons reached the $40 mark during the month of November, the highest being Peter Engelstad, whose check was for $63.06.

Good Roads Coming.

(Duluth Herald)

At the recent election the people of Pennsylvania voted to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000,000 to build paved roads.

At the same election the people of Illinois approved the issue of $60,000,000 in bonds for the same purpose.

These states have taken advanced steps which all states must come to. What of Minnesota?

The Illinois plan provides for a wheelage tax on motor propelled vehicles, this revenue to be made immediately available by the bond issue. A similar tax in Minnesota, based on the number of motor driven vehicles now in the state, would take care of a bond issue of $40,000,000, would pay all interest and retire the bonds at the end of 20 years. Forty million dollars would build 2,000 miles of 18 foot road of the most approved type of construction.

The use of heavy motor trucks, which has come and which can't and shouldn't be stopped, makes necessary a complete revolution in road making in this country. It presents a problem that can only be solved by bond issues. Bonds issued for good roads would pay enormous dividends. Minnesota, how about it?

The Most Fertile Soil.

Behold an advertiser went forth to sow, says the Mazeppa Journal. And when he sowed, some seed fell into hand bills and dodgers, and the street cleaner came in and gathered them up. Some fell among concert and theater programs, and the people being interested in the performance and not in the bargains, they were left on the seats or crumpled up and thrown on the floor. And some fell among fake schemes and gift enterprises and popular contempt sprang up and choked them. But some fell into legitimate newspapers which found their way into the homes of the people who had time to read them, and they brought forth fruit; some a hundred fold, some sixty fold and some forty fold. Who hath ears let him hear.

Is Appreciated.

Sunbeam: That Electric Line from Thief River Falls to Goodridge is certainly appreciated by the farmers of eastern Pennington county this fall, as it would have been an utter impossibility for them to market this year's crop at Thief River Falls. We expected to see a little let up in the string of teams unloading wheat this month, but they are jammed up as bad this month as they were last month, unloading wheat and more wheat.

Slow! Guess Not.

St. Paul Dispatch: Thief River Falls isn't so slow. They had a chicken show up there with 700 entries, and they all were fine feathers, too, according to the Times.

Elmer Tandberg returned to his home in this city Saturday morning from Minneapolis where he has been discharged from military service at the University.

The Public Forum

Deplores Performance.

Dennison, Minn., Dec. 18th, 1918.

Editor Times:—We noticed in your last week's issue a communication sent in by some one who had the nerve to call himself "A Citizen," after being one of the guilty party that took part in the lawless yellow paint stunt pulled off at Highlanding on Thanksgiving evening.

"A Citizen" means a man who respects the law, who lives up to the law himself and believes that in law there is justice for all. Any man who takes upon himself the responsibility of disfiguring another man's property, as a yellow-paint stunt, "is not a citizen," but a low coward and a sneak, whose work is on the level with the prussianized huns of Germany, who placed acts of lawlessness above law in their reign of horrible deeds.

Minnesota has already been disgraced to the limit in this kind of work and it is high time that we turn the light in on this band of lawbreakers and show them up to the public. This yellow-paint path is already stained with innocent blood and no doubt some day there will be a Yellow Paint Book showing up the crimes of this kind of citizens.

Slackers of all kinds should be accorded the right of hearing and trial—their guilt or innocense should be determined by law in court of justice and not by mob rule. In this way can and will we be able to make citizens out of slackers.

W. A. SWANSON.

Meetings Postponed.

Farmers' and home-makers' week at University farm, December 30 to January 4, has been abandoned for this year, and the score or more of meetings of state-wide organizations which were to have been held during the "week" have been indefinitely postponed.

This action was decided on to protect the public in so far as possible from the influenza. Those in charge did not wish to bring together hundreds of persons, many from epidemic smitten parts of the state, and then send them out at the end of the week to spread the influenza. The action was not taken because the disease is epidemic at University farm.

Happy New Year

WITH THE JOY OF VICTORY to thrill us, the blessings of Peace to gladden us and the wonderful example of "our boys" to guide us, the Joys of the New Year should be manifold.
We wish each one of you your full share of the New Year's happiness.

Let Us Now Turn to the Works of Peace---

It was our patriotic duty to make every other enterprise secondary to the winning of the war while the fight was in progress. We met the requirements nobly.
It is now as much our duty to turn to the works of peace in order that the country may get back into its normal stride as quickly as possible.
The postponed building operations should be at once resumed. The construction you planned on a year or two years ago should now be undertaken and carried out. Our boys will be back soon and ready to take their places in the ranks of the producers again. We can help them most by creating a demand for their peace services.
When you are ready to go ahead we will deem it an honor to be consulted as to the project in hand. We have plans and estimates at your service in our office and our experience is yours for the asking.
Wishing all a Happy and Prosperous New Year, we are,

Yours to command,

Shop and Railroad News

Carl Rossman, day yard clerk, made a business trip to Argyle Monday.

John Dahl, car man, is laying off for the Christmas holidays because of illness.

K. O. Johnson, night baggageman at the local depot, is reported on the sick list.

Fireman Arthur Rambee is visiting at his old home in Wisconsin over the holidays.

F. J. Gorman, warehouseman at Oslo, visited with his parents at Buffalo, Minn., over Christmas.

P. G. Economon, section foreman at Dahlen, is in Minneapolis this week consulting a specialist with regard to his health.

B. Bergsten has been put on as night operator at Plummer, relieving R. E. Preston, who has a leave of absence for the holidays.

Carl Isaacson and Julius C. Olson are taking care of the coal chute this week, John Jordahl, the regular man, being down with the flu.

Lewis Gruette went to work as car cleaner last week and this week had to quit temporarily because the flu marked him as a victim.

Berger Wold, repairman, who has been in the hospital for some time, is reported as improving rapidly and will soon be back on the job.

J. O. Herrick, agent at Warren, and E. H. Gulden, agent at Conway, spent Christmas with relatives and friends at Thief River Falls.

P. S. Favrow, night foreman at the roundhouse, is spending the week in the cities. John Gassow is looking after his shift in the meantime.

The employes in the car repair department this week took up a collection to aid John Kassa, who has been on the sick list for a long time. They secured in the neighborhood of $100.

John C. Bird, who recently returned to his old post as pipe-fitter after being discharged from a British army camp at Winnipeg, is down with the flu.

Miss Albina Doncet, bill clerk in the office of city agent H. A. Pratt, left Monday evening to spend Christmas at the home of her parents in Oklee.

Earl B. Blair has been put on as second operator in the dispatcher's office in Thief River Falls. He was formerly stationed at Kremar as agent, his place at that post being now taken by Oscar Paulson.

Carl Ryan, storeroom man, underwent an operation for appendicitis this week and his place is being taken by Nels Nelson, until recently a resident of the Peace Region in Canada.

K. O. Johnson, agent at Dahlen, who has been on the sick list, returned to work Saturday, relieving L. M. Rodrek, who has been transferred to the Wisconsin and Peninsula division.

C. A. Johnson, carman, for many years a resident of this city, has resigned and moved with his family to Duluth, where he will go to work in the shipyards. His place on the rip track has been taken by Alfred Hermanson.

John Reed, who has been off duty for about two months because of having undergone an operation, will report for duty in the car repair department right after New Years.

O. P. Johnson is acting as relief agent for J. A. Shafer at Ottertail, for a few days while the latter is getting his family settled at Minneapolis, to which city they will move because of the high school facilities offered there.

The grain movement continues heavy and is much more steady than usual. A large amount of wheat has been shipped since the restrictions were removed but it is estimated that from 40 to 50 per cent of the crop is still in the hands of farmers and in country elevators.

Fred Brendeke, Great Northern fireman, who lost a foot in an accident in the yards here about two months ago, has been discharged from the Physicians hospital and is able to be about. Mrs. Brendeke, who has been with her husband since the accident, is still here and it is probable that the couple will stay in Thief River Falls during the winter.

At the Princess.

Tonight beautiful Marion Davies is featured in one of the most delightful photo dramas of the year, "Cecelia of the Pink Roses." This is taken from the novel by Katherine Haviland Taylor, and is peculiarly adapted to the style of the young star.

Vivian Martin comes on Friday evening in "Miranda Smiles." This is a wild western story of a scrub girl who wins out against great odds.

The fifth episode of "A Fight For Millions," with William Duncan in the lead will be shown on Saturday, together with "The Winning of Beatrice," starring May Allison.

Little Mary Pickford comes on Sunday night in "How Could You, Jean?" Mary has never attempted anything finer.

Nell Shipman and Alfred Whitman will appear on Monday in "Baree, Son of Kazan." This is a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature from James Oliver Curwood's famous story.

On Tuesday evening Madge Kennedy will be seen at her best. The play is "The Fair Pretender," and one of the very finest in which this charming actress has appeared.

And then comes "Private Peat." He is here on Wednesday night and if the reception given this picture in other places is any indication, one of the largest audiences in the history of the Princess will be present. Private Peat appears in this picture and gives a realistic version of his expression, "two years in hell and back again."

First Aid In Influenza Prevention

At the first sing of a cold see that the bowels are open. Colds cannot gain a start if the system is free from food-waste.

When the bowels are inactive and food-waste lies in the system it ferments, creating dangerous poisons which are absorbed into the blood. Then the kidneys, lungs and skin pores are not equal to the task of getting this poison out of the system and disease gets a quick start.

Colds Precede Influenza

The colds that follow blood sluggishness, due to the poisons created by constipation, leaves the body an easy prey of influenza and after that —PNEUMONIA!

Ask any doctor what precaution you should take against colds, influenza and pneumonia and he will tell you to take a thoro laxative. But tablets and vegetable compounds are only partly effective.

Your druggist has a product called SALINOS that is a thoro laxative which will completely empty the entire digestive tract, including the lower bowels, where most poisons are formed.

SALINOS is really pleasant to take, pleasant in taste and pleasant in action.

You can get a bottle of Salinos for a Quarter (larger sizes, Fifty cents and a Dollar.)

Be Safe! Get It Today! Use It Tomorrow Morning.

Half a Century Ago

Half a Century Ago, every community could be supplied to some extent with locally dressed meat, drawing on live stock raised nearby.

Now two-thirds of the consuming centers, with millions of people, are one to two thousand miles away from the principal live-stock producing sections, which are sparsely settled.

The American meat packing industry of today is the development of the best way to perform a national service.

The function of providing meat had to develop accordingly. Those men who first grasped the elements of the changing problem created the best facilities to meet it—large packing plants and branch houses at strategic points, refrigerating equipment (including cars), car routes, trained organization, profitable outlets for former waste—which became the natural, inevitable channels for the vast flow of meat across the country.

If there were a better way to perform this necessary service, American ingenuity and enterprise would have discovered it, and others would now be using it.

During 1918, Swift & Company has earned a profit on meats (and meat by-products) of less than 2½ cents per dollar of sales—too small a profit to have any appreciable effect on prices.

Obituary

Miss Rachel M. Schrepel.

Miss Rachel M. Schrepel passed away at her home, 501 Riverside avenue, Dec. 24, after an illness of five days. Miss Schrepel had been teaching in the school near St. Hilaire and returned to her home Friday evening to spend her Christmas vacation. She was not feeling well that evening and came down with the influenza, which latter developed into pneumonia.

Miss Schrepel was born at Elenwood January 24, 1883, and was 35 years and 11 months old at the time of her death. She has been a resident of this city for fourteen years and was well known and liked by everyone. She taught school in or near this city for twelve years, but for the past three years she has been staying at home most of the time.

Deceased leaves a mother, Mrs. Minnie Schrepel, and one brother, Lawrence, a resident of Raymond, and a sister, Mrs. B. H. Wagner, who lives in Kansas.

The funeral arrangements will not be made until Lawrence Schrepel arrives.

John Hillrud.

John Hillrud, depot agent at St. Hilaire, passed away at his home on Dec. 23. His death was caused by pneumonia following influenza, after an illness of about nine days. The remains were shipped to Halstad for burial.

MAIL ORDER HOUSE PRACTICES AIRED

The Federal Trade commission has issued a complaint against Gordon-Van Time company, a mail order concern, charging unfair methods of competition. The Federal Trade commission charges this concern with widely circulating a false advertisement containing a gross misrepresentation of the terms of an order and decision issued by the Commission, the object of such false advertisement being to create in the mind of the public a suspicion that the retail lumber dealer is not dealing fairly.

Secret Bonus Condemned.

This concern is also charged in the complaint with secretly and without the knowledge of the purchaser or consumer, offering and paying to local contractors, builders and carpenters, a bonus, or so-called commission, as an inducement to influence such contractors and builders to push or favor the sale of defendant's lumber and building materials over those of the retail lumber dealer. The complaint cites the defendant to appear in Washington on January 9, 1919, to answer the charges of unfair competition and misrepresentation.

For Better Practices.

A prominent Thief River Falls retailer commenting on the complaint, said: "The retail lumber dealers have been assailed by many of the catalog houses and mail order concerns, who have taken advantage of their extensive advertising facilities and cheap mail rates, to make charges similar to those which are referred to in the complaint. The retail lumbermen have felt that the methods of many of the mail order concerns were grossly prejudiced to the interests of the consumer as well as the retailer. It is hoped that the filing of the complaint against the mail order concern will result in cleaner advertising and better business practices by mail order concerns generally."

Silver Wedding.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jorgen Eide of the town of North, paid a visit to the home of that worthy couple without being previously announced on Saturday evening, Dec. 14. It was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eide and friends from city and country gathered to do them honor. After a most pleasant evening, during which refreshments were served, the host and hostess were presented with a purse of silver coins by the company.

WILL MEET AND DISCUSS PAVING

COUNCIL ASKS THAT BUSINESS MEN APPEAR AT SPECIAL SESSION.

TO GO OVER SITUATION

PROPOSED ORDINANCE WILL BE READ AND ENGINEERING OPINION SOUGHT.

Whether or not Thief River Falls will undertake the paving of its business streets in the spring may be decided at a special meeting called by the city council for Friday evening, Jan. 10, at the council rooms.

At the meeting held last Thursday evening the matter came up for informal discussion and it was decided that the sentiment of the property owners should be sought before anything further is done in the matter. In order that all may have an opportunity of being heard it was decided to call a meeting for Friday of next week at which the property owners would be invited to meet with the council for the purpose of discussing the matter.

Will Submit Ordinance.

City Attorney Theo. Quale was instructed to draw up an ordinance covering the paving matter and this will be read to those who attend the meeting. In this manner a concrete basis for discussion will be presented and any alterations deemed advisable pointed out before the matter comes before the council for final action.

The Sewer Problem.

It is generally admitted that one of the first things that will have to be definitely known is just to what extent the present sewer system is able to meet the requirements of the city in the future, so far as this pertains to the thoroughfares under consideration for paving. There are those who maintain that these outlets are inadequate to handle the overflow and must be enlarged before anything of such permanent nature as paving can be undertaken. Others—and among these are competent engineers—say that the demands upon the capacity of the downtown sewers is less at this time than ever before because of the number of other channels of outlets that have been provided. The council deems it advisable to secure the opinion of the property owners on these matters before going ahead.

Engineer Necessary First.

The general impression is that no one is competent to pass upon this subject except an engineer of experience, and the engagement of one such is undoubtedly the first thing the council would look to.

That the sentiment in favor of paving is overwhelming is certain, the main thing being now to find out how best to go about it. The meeting next Friday night ought to bring out some suggestions.

One thing is evident. The council stands ready to go ahead with the work if such is the desire of the people.

NEW AGRICULTURAL TEACHER SECURED

LIEUT. L. R. HIAT TAKES CHARGE OF DEPARTMENT AT HIGH SCHOOL.

After having been without an agricultural instructor for some months the department has again been placed in commission at the Lincoln high school. The new teacher is Lieut. L. R. Hiat, until recently stationed at Camp Lee, Va.

Lieut. Hiat entered the army as a private and was later accepted as a student at a training school for officers. He is a graduate of the Kansas Agricultural college and has been engaged in practical farm work in Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. He was accompanied here by Mrs. Hiat, who is a graduate of Washburn college, Topeka, and the couple will be quartered for the winter at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Halvorson, 616 LaBree avenue north.

The new agricultural instructor has not yet had time to get his proper bearings but gives the impression that when his department gets fully going there will be no lack of energy displayed in arriving at results.

FAIR ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

MATTER OF NEW STOCK PAVILION WILL BE UP FOR ACTION.

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Fair association will be held at the court room on Wednesday evening, Jan. 8. It is the time for election of officers and the receiving of reports on the affairs of the association for the past year.

One of the matters to come up for discussion is that of providing a new live stock pavilion at the fair grounds. The subject has been discussed for some time and very favorably commented upon. It is certain that the money could be raised without any difficulty and there is no doubt of the need for such a building.

The live stock industry is rapidly becoming the most important in the county and a first-class show pavilion is a necessity if the surroundings are going to keep pace with the excellent stock displayed. The need for a place of this kind has long been felt, but was more than ever noticed at the time of the stock sale here this summer.

Pennington county fairs occupy a high place among similar institutions in the state and the association members are convinced that with proper housing facilities the annual show could easily be made the premier event of its kind in this section of the state.

CHARGES SLANDER; DEMANDS $10,000

SEN. D. P. O'NEILL CHARGES SWAN JOHNSON WITH MAKING FALSE ASSERTIONS.

A suit was filed in the district court this week wherein State Senator D. P. O'Neill demands damages in the sum of $10,000 from Swan Johnson, a farmer residing near St. Hilaire. The complaint alleges that some time during the late campaign defendant made assertions derogatory to plaintiff's character and that he has thereby been injured to the extent of the damages demanded.

The complaint alleges that Johnson made a statement before others wherein he claimed that in the year 1913 Senator O'Neill accepted the sum of $5,000 from the business men of Thief River Falls for use in securing the location of a normal school in the city. Johnson further stated, according to the complaint, that O'Neill also accepted the sum of $8,000 from Bemidji interests to be used in securing the same school for that city.

The case will come up for trial at the January term. E. M. Stanton is attorney for plaintiff and Theo. Quale for defendant.

WILL KEEP FAITH WITH THE FARMER

WHEAT PRICE GUARANTEE WILL STAND AS ANNOUNCED FOR 1919.

Chairman Lever of the house agriculture committee announced on Tuesday after a conference with Secretary Houston that legislation to insure the maintenance of the government wheat guarantee price for the 1919 crop was being drafted by the department of agriculture and that he would introduce it in congress within a few days.

Mr. Lever said the legislation would authorize the president to continue operation of the food administration's grain corporation or create a new agency for buying, selling and storing the 1919 crop. A revolving fund of $600,000,000 for the use of the corporation also would be provided.

"The government," Lever said, "will buy all of the 1919 crop and sell it at the world price, whatever that may be."

He added that the government might lose a large sum of maintaining the price, but that it was necessary to keep faith with the farmer.

While the world wheat reserve soon to be released was not now known, Mr. Lever said, Australia has a supply of 300,000,000 bushels and Argentina, India and other countries probably have large stocks, the sale of which might affect the export demand and reduce prices.

SEVERE SENTENCE FOR BOOTLEGGING

A. B. REMMEM OF THIS CITY PLEADS GUILTY BEFORE JUDGE GRINDELAND.

One hundred dollars fine and sixty days in the county jail at Warren was the sentence handed out to A. B. Remmem, a liveryman of this city, by Judge Andrew Grindeland at Warren on Tuesday. Remmem's preliminary trial was held before Judge Tarrant of the municipal court in this city and he was bound over to the grand jury. He signified his desire to plead guilty and was taken to Warren by Sheriff W. J. LaBree for this purpose.

Judge Grindeland stated that the case presented no features that would warrant him in showing leniency. Several checks were offered in evidence, it being asserted that these had been paid to defendant for whiskey sold to different parties at different times.

Woman's Club Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Woman's club held at the Commercial club rooms next Monday afternoon.

NEW OFFICIALS AFTER TUESDAY

FOUR COUNTY DEPARTMENTS WILL CHANGE HEADS ON THAT DAY.

BOARD'S ANNUAL MEETING

WILL ELECT CHAIRMAN AND ORGANIZE FOR HARD YEAR'S WORK.

The board of county commissioners will convene at 10 o'clock next Tuesday for the purpose of organizing for the coming year. At two o'clock in the afternoon the officials chosen by the people at the election last November will enter upon their duties and those whose places they take will return to private life.

Four departments of the county administration will have new heads after the preliminaries have all been attended to. John Gullingsrud will assume the responsibilities of the county treasurer's office when these are laid down by Theo. H. Liden, who has served faithfully and well for four years. I. C. Richardson will succeed Wilhelm Michelet as judge of probate, an office held by the latter for six years. Theo. Quale will assume the duties of the county attorney's office, relieving E. M. Stanton, who has held the post by appointment since the regularly elected incumbent, Lieut. Hans O. Kjomme, joined the army. George M. Gunderson will be the new county superintendent of schools, E. A. Mostue stepping down to make place for him.

The Old-Timers.

T. P. Anderson will continue to look after the important duties of county auditor, beginning his second term. W. J. LaBree, who has been sheriff since the establishment of Pennington county, will keep right on giving the post his best attention as heretofore. N. J. Anderson will be found at his old job in the register of deed's office and will be as genial and obliging as ever.

The term of Adolf Eklund, clerk of court, does not expire at this time and he will continue in his present position for another two years.

The Board Meeting.

There will be two new members on the board of county commissioners—G. W. Hunt of Sunbeam, from the First and Gus Naplin of Polk Center township, from the Third district. R. M. McGinn of the Second, and J. S. Roy of the Fourth, hold over, and O. J. Peterson of the Third was reelected. The latter has been chairman during the past year.

After the organization of the board and appointment of standing committes the annual grist of business will be gone through and the usual contracts awarded. This is expected to take the greater part of the day.

2,400 SUBSCRIBERS TO FOURTH LOAN

GOOD RECORD FOR TOTAL BUT FALLS DOWN ON DISTRIBUTION.

Pennington county will not have a battleship named in its honor because of the record made in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, but the showing is one which the people may well be proud of nevertheless. Among northwestern counties Pennington stands second in the percentage of allotment subscribed, being beaten only by Kittson. The record is as follows: Kittson, 114 per cent of allotment; Pennington, 110; Polk, 108; Marshall and Roseau, 107; Red Lake, 104.

The total number of subscribers in the county was 2,493, which credits 23.7 per cent of the total population with being bond buyers on the records at state headquarters, this being a little below Polk and a little above Red Lake county.

Pipestone county, to which will go the honor of having the ship named after it, received exactly the same credit for oversubscription as did Pennington, but was awarded 69.10 per-cent on distribution. The largest oversubscription was reported from Cook county, where the total reached 222 per cent. The percentage distribution, however, was only 15.1.

Benton, Norman and Carver were the only counties in the state failing to reach their quotas.

OFFICE IS PLACED ON SALARY BASIS

MUNICIPAL JUDGE'S POSITION WILL HEREAFTER PAY $85 PER MONTH.

While the position itself is perhaps of even more importance now than ever before, the municipal judgeship in Thief River Falls has of late failed to pay enough in fees to warrant a man's putting in his time at it. The judge was paid under the fee system and when there were no fees he received no pay. This is the only city in the state, so far as known, where such condition are obtained and the council evidently considered it time to make a change.

At the meeting last week Judge N. W. Tarrant presented a petition requesting that the fee system be abolished and a straight salary paid. The petition was signed by every attorney in the city and had the implied support of nearly everybody. The council voted unanimously to grant the request.

During the old saloon days the fee system was generally preferred, but things have changed somewhat and no man can be expected to give his time and attention to the position for the amount this would now bring. Judge Tarrant states that last year his total receipts amounted to less than $500, while three or four years ago it was $1,200. All receipts of the office will hereafter go to the city.

NATIVE GUERNSEYS BRING FANCY PRICE

BUYER PAYS $350 PER HEAD FOR COWS IN WOOLSON HERD.

The highest price ever paid for native cattle was this week reported to The Times by County Agent R. P. White. The purchase was made by Carl Lampher of Kimball, Minn., who in company with Mr. White made personal selection of the cattle. The price paid was $350 each for two pure bred Guernsey cows, $100 for a pure bred heifer and $50 for a grade heifer. The animals were all taken from the herd of Harry Woolson, which comprises some of the best Guernseys in the Northwest. Mr. Lampher is a business partner of C. Morkassel of Warren, who has acquired a reputation as one of the most successful breeders of Shorthorn cattle in the state, and expects to return to this section in two or three weeks for the purpose of securing a carload of grade animals.

CREAMERY REPORT SHOWS BIG GAIN

INCREASE IN BUSINESS FOR THE PAST YEAR PRACTICALLY $75,000.

When the report of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association for the past year is issued to the patrons and stockholders it will be shown that the total business for the year was over $225,000. Last year it was $150,000, a gain of $75,000.

This gain is greater than the entire business of the creamery for either of the years 1912 or 1913 and is almost twice what it was in 1915.

The record of this institution is one of steady growth ever since it was opened. In some years the gain was not great but there never yet was a season when the business went backward. Beginning with 1912, the first year of business for the creamery, the record of business has been as follows: 1912, $40,000; 1913, $50,000; 1914, $90,000; 1915, $120,000; 1916, $140,000; 1917, $150,000; 1918, $225,000.

When these figures are given closer consideration it is found that during the past year the business of the plant amounted to $4,327 every week, or $720 per day.

The management does not intend to allow anything to interfere with the progress of the creamery and the circle from which supplies are drawn is steadily being widened.

HAD TO MAKE GOOD ON MISTAKE IN AD.

LOKEN BROS. TAKE LOSS OF 39 CENTS PER YARD FOR ONE HOUR.

The Loken store would have had a very good business day last Monday were it not for the fact that $51.38 in actual cash was lost on one item. In the big double page advertisement announcing the annual clearance sale which appeared in The Times last week it was stated that for one hour—from 10 to 11 on Monday—silk crepe de chene taffeta would be placed on sale at $1.00 per yard. The figure should have been $1.39 and the responsibility for the mistake is still a matter of controversy between H. O. Loken and The Times. However that may be, the reading public made no mistake and no sooner did 10 o'clock arrive than a most unusual demand for this particular item was noted. Before the hour was up there had been sold just 131½ yards and the actual loss was as above stated.

Several customers admitted realizing that a mistake must have been made, but Mr. Loken insisted on standing by the advertised price and kept right on supplying all comers until 11 o'clock when the time for this particular sale was at an end.

These hour sales are an innovation in Thief River Falls, although big city stores have long employed them to stimulate early buying. The plan has proven very successful thus far and it is likely that the idea will be carried on as a permanent feature of the Loken business policy.

PHOSPHATE MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

MANY WILL TEST OUT RESULT OF THIS FERTILIZER ON PEAT.

ONE SACK FOR HALF ACRE

COST WOULD BE ABOUT $3.50 AND EFFECT SHOULD EXTEND OVER 3 YEARS.

A few months ago the four banks of Thief River Falls put up $1,000 for the purpose of financing the purchase of a carload of phosphate to be used to further throughout the Red River valley the work on the peat land reclamation, using the results of the Golden Valley experimental plots as a basis. The local farm bureau has had charge of this phosphate. County Agent R. P. White has shipped 3,200 pounds into Marshall county, for eight different co-operators; 800 pounds to Clearwater county for two co-operators, two tons to Polk county for seven co-operators; 400 pounds to one cooperator in Roseau county, and one ton has been divided in Pennington county among six co-operators. About one-half the car is being held to supply the demand of those who will co-operate with the state department in the conducting of experimental plots. The rest of the car will be sold out to those first making application, it being understood that the farm bureau will have access to figures and data relative to results obtained.

Phosphate on High Land.

Several Pennington county farmers are going to try phosphate on their upland soil in small tracts, drawing their conclusions from the results obtained on the Hill plots conducted along the Great Northern some three years ago. It is desired, however, that as much as possible of this phosphate shall go to those who are farming peat land and every such farmer should secure at least one sack of phosphate, which is enough to treat one-half acre. This would cost $3.50 and is sufficient to furnish some very definite data.

Proven By Experiments.

Many of the crops grown on the Golden Valley experimental plots gave an increase in yield sufficient to more than pay for the fertilizer the first year and Dr. J. N. Alway of the university farm, under whose direction this work is being conducted, states that an application of 400 pounds to the acre will give very gratifying results for at least three years. Those who saw the crops on the Golden Valley plots are enthusiastic over the results of this fertilizer.

PEOPLE ARE URGED TO AVOID CROWDS

DANCES ARE PARTICULARLY ADVISED AGAINST AT THE PRESENT TIME.

There is still considerable sickness in the city, with Spanish influenza the preponderating ailment. While there has been but one death during the past week directly traceable to this cause, there are perhaps as many cases as at any time since the outbreak. The cases are all mild, according to the doctors, and no great alarm is felt.

Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, says that people should not become excited over the situation. He calls attention to the fact that there is always more or less sickness under any circumstances at this time of year, the only difference being that more attention is given the subject just now because of the general influenza situation in the country. Ordinary colds which under other circumstances would be treated by the patient himself are now cases for the doctors to investigate. Dr. Mellby believes this to be a very good thing as it insures medical advice at once in cases where the trouble happens to be influenza.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician, issued orders preventing a dance advertised for Mavie on Tuesday night from taking place. He states that it is at such needless gatherings that the disease is spread and cites the condition at St. Hilaire as proof of his assertion. There are perhaps a hundred sick with the flu in the neighboring village and the spread of the disease can easily be traced to a dance given there not long ago. He advises strongly against all unnecessary gatherings at this time and has placed an absolute ban on dances.

Over 1,000 Members.

Based on the returns from 17 teams which had reported in their Red Cross membership solicitation for 1919 it is evident that the total will be just above the one thousand mark.

The 17 teams which have reported show a total of 778, or an average of 45.77 members to a list. This carried out would make the total 1,007 members. Inasmuch as there are several who were missed by the solicitors no doubt they will be enrolled when the territory is gone over a second time, or when the people voluntarily offer their memberships at the downtown enrollment booths.

To Discuss Telephone Rate.

The proposed telephone rates will seriously affect the farmer lines throughout the country and unless something is done for their protection the order may wipe them out entirely. If the contemplated switching charges are inaugurated it will be impossible for these lines to connect with the city exchanges and the phones will be practically useless. It is proposed soon to call a meeting of officials of all lines doing business in Pennington and nearby counties for the purpose of discussing the best method of combating this feature of the rate order.

TELEPHONE RATES GO OUT OF SIGHT

LONG DISTANCE TARIFF FROM THIEF RIVER FALLS MORE THAN TREBLED.

The minimum charge for a telephone call to Minneapolis from Thief River Falls will be $2.60 if the schedule promulgated by Postmaster General Burleson is adopted. The new rates go into effect on Jan. 21 and have been announced as reducing the charges, but really will mean increases ranging from 100 to 300 per cent over the prevailing rates in Minnesota, where the distance is more than 32 miles, according to James W. Howatt, telephone supervisor for the state railroad and warehouse commission.

Comparison of the proposed schedule with the prevailing rates made by Supervisor Howatt, showing the inequality of the new schedule has been placed before the commissioners. It is understood the state commission will file a protest and make an effort to have the proposed long distance rate schedule withdrawn.

Under the new order two schedules are proposed, known as "station to station" calls and "person to person" calls. The rates for the "person to person" calls are approximately 25 per cent higher than the "station to station" calls, where a number only is called but the caller is not guaranteed that he will obtain connection with the person desired.

The former rate between Thief River Falls and the twin cities was 80 cents and a more than threefold increase is going to meet with serious opposition. The Merchants association has already taken steps to protest.

Knitting Suspended.

Having recently made a careful inventory of the stocks of knitted articles on hand in all divisions and camp warehouses, National Headquarters has found that these are sufficient to care for the needs of all men now in camps and those returning from the other side, besides allowing a generous shipment to the Foreign Commissions for Civilian Relief work. Therefore, the Red Cross will suspend knitting as one of its regular production activities.

However, each chapter and its branches are asked to complete all knitted articles now in process, and to forward these to division headquarters as soon as completed.

SOLDIERS' NAMES ON BRONZE PLATE

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS WILL HONOR FORMER STUDENTS WHO JOINED ARMY.

During the rest period on Tuesday afternoon the students at the Lincoln high school held open house for the returned soldier and sailor boys. It was the intention to have the guests tell something of their experiences while in the service, but time did not permit and these short tales will form a part of the rest period at the school during the winter.

There are now 177 stars in the school service flag and it is the intention of the present senior class to erect a bronze plate in the school on which will be engraved the names of all the former students who have seen service in this war.

Supt. Hay spoke briefly of the wonderful awakening America had experience when the call came. Miss Lillian Oldaker, advisor to the class of '19, spoke of the spirit displayed by those who answered when the call came and believed that their actions should serve as an inspiration to others. Miss Alma Peterson, principal of the school, spoke on "The Picture Gallery of the Mind," and Miss Dorothy Bottelson, president of the 1917 class at the high school, called attention to the large number of members of that division who were now in the army and navy. Miss Evelyn Tessum, president of the 1919 class, spoke of the happiness with which the boys were being received now that their work was finished.

Lieut. L. R. Hiat, who this week assumed charge of the agricultural department of the school, told of his experiences at Camp Lee, Va., in a very interesting manner.

DRAINAGE PLAN IS GIVEN START

ADVOCATED THAT RED LAKE RIVER BASIN BE MADE SEPARATE PROJECT.

TO ASK LEGISLATIVE AID

CONTROL WORKS AT HEADWATERS DEEMED MOST ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS.

Hon. D. P. O'Neill, Math Barzen, Olaf Ramstad and P. O. Myrum returned Tuesday from Crookston where they attended a meeting called for the purpose of discussing drainage matters for this section of the state. After considerable discussion it was decided all interests would be best served by keeping the Red Lake river project distinct and separate from the larger project which includes practically the entire western half of the state in one vast drainage undertaking.

Mr. O'Neill in explaining his idea of the results of the flood control project as far as the Red Lake river valley was concerned, recommended that the northern part of the valley go ahead with the work of forming a drainage district for this section of the state and at the same time get more details and information as to the advisability of going in on a larger scale in conjunction with the whole of the Red River valley.

Help Larger Enterprise.

A letter was read from H. P. Karchaer, of Ortonville, who is interested in the Cliff project which said the one district plan would not effect the district drainage plan but would on the contrary help it be more effective. Part of the report of a survey was then read, the survey having been made by the department of the interior and which stated water drained from ditches into the Red Lakes ffected the Red Lake river at flood time and that a dam at the outlet of the lake would not only benefit the water power of the state but would also protect the farmers below the lake from floods.

Committee is Named.

It was proposed that a committee be appointed to go to St. Paul and get a bill before the legislature and in general use their power to gain an appropriation for a flood control project which would effect the ten counties in the northern part of the Red River valley.

Mr. O'Neill was made chairman of this committee and given authority to proceed as he thought best in order to get the matter before the legislature. The committee which he will later appoint will consist of five members, one each from the counties of Polk, Clearwater, Red Lake, Beltrami and Pennington.

CIVILIAN SERVICE TO BE CONTINUED

NO LETUP IN INTEREST TAKEN IN SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coincident with the announcement that the work of the surgical dressing department is ended comes the word to the Home Service division that they are to continue all their old work and take on new responsibilities. The work of caring for soldiers' families will not cease so long as the men are still in khaki. Until every man is mustered out there will be allotments to look after, and reports to verify. There will be messages to transmit to occupied territory and replies to deliver. And as some of these tasks are lightened the energy of the organization will be released to work toward easing readjustments in the returned soldiers' lives, and aiding their assimilation back into society and industry.

This work, which may assume proportions as yet unknown in Civilian Relief work, is, in the Northern Division, under the direction of David H. Holbrook, associate director of civilian relief. To place disabled soldiers in constructive work, to make them and their families comfortable and independent is Mr. Holbrook's plan. He is especially skilled and qualified to make the work a success, a success measured only by the lives of men.

Mrs. J. J. Richter of this city, is in charge of the Pennington County Chapter Home Service committee, and she says her committee stands ready to "carry on."

Selling Cavalry Horses.

Postmaster John Morgan has received notice of a sale of cavalry horses and army mules to be held at Camp Grant on Jan. 7. These animals have been used in this country for camp work only and are in the best of shape. The government has no further need for a large number of these animals and they will be sold to the highest bidder.

Sure Flu Preventive.

The Walker Pilot suggests a good way to keep out of crowds during the Flu epidemic. Go into stores that don't advertise.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The Times wishes at this appropriate time to thank its many friends and patrons for the business and consideration extended during the past year. It has been a cycle of good will and general prosperity in Pennington county and Thief River Falls. Enterprise of every kind has met with a fair share of reward and conditions surrounding every line of legitimate endeavor have been such as to encourage expansion and an optimistic outlook on the future.

The new year should be even better in this respect. The war is over and many things that were halted while we were directing all our energies toward its successful prosecution can now be taken up. While it is undoubtedly true that the war had a stimulating effect on certain lines of business, it is likewise certain that in fully as many instances progressive measures have had to wait until its outcome became known for certain. It is now time to switch the power off this particular job and put it to turning the machinery necessary to the pursuits of peace.

There are many things that Thief River Falls ought to do at this time. Perhaps the first should be the placing of the Commercial Club back on a sound working basis. This organization has been active in war work while war work was the most important thing to be considered. Now the necessity for continuing this program no longer exists and the club should get itself back into a position to function normally. This may by many not be considered the most important matter in hand, but it is one of the first that should be looked after nevertheless.

In common with most American communities, Thief River Falls has not made a record for general development during the past two years, but we have not fallen behind the procession. The danger of doing so now, however, is decidedly present. Unless our people prepare to take advantage of the opportunities that will be presented during the coming period of readjustment they must expect to see other and more wideawake communities secure the benefits. We are right in the line of greatest progress during the next few years and it will be our own fault if we fail to profit by the fact.

Let's get down to business and pull together for all we are worth.

SOME WILL ALWAYS OBJECT.

It is decidedly encouraging to note that the city council does not deem it at all necessary to have the unanimous support of all the residents in order to undertake a job, the necessity for which must be apparent to everyone. If the city government was composed of men who waited for unanimous approval every time it was found necessary to launch a project it would be a long time before even the most essential improvements were made. The council is willing to go ahead with paving as soon as the best method of procedure is discovered.

In order that everyone may have a chance to say what he thinks of the proposition it has been decided that an open meeting shall be held whereat the council members and property owners can gather for the purpose of discussing the matter. This meeting will be held at the council chamber on the evening of Wednesday next and every man interested in the present welfare and future progress of the city should be present and give the assembly the benefit of any experience he may have.

That there will be some present to oppose the project is certain. Nothing really worth while was ever proposed in Thief River Falls—or any other city, for that matter—without meeting with opposition from a small reactionary group and from those with no faith in the future of their town. The council has doubtless already measured pretty well the strength of such obstructionists and will be prepared to meet their arguments with facts and figures. The only danger is that those who favor paving—and they constitute the overwhelming majority—may deem it unnecessary to be present, believing that no one can be found in the city who will have the hardihood to set themselves against an improvement of such evident necessity.

Right here is where they will make their mistake. Minorities are always noisy and obstructionists generally resourceful. The only safe way for those who are working and hoping for a bigger and better Thief River Falls is to be present at the meeting and lend their argument and support to the council's tentative program.

A MOST SATISFACTORY SHOWING.

The management, officers and stockholders of the Thief River Cooperative Creamery have every reason for feeling highly satisfied with the record made by the institution during the past year. According to the figures to be presented at the annual meeting the total business transacted by the institution amount to $225,000, an increase over the previous twelve months of $75,000. This increase is greater than the total business for the year 1913—only five years ago.

Three factors enter into the explanation for this unusual showing—higher prices, more cows, and a larger number of patrons. The war boosted the price of everything and butterfat naturally felt the effects as well as everything else. But even if this is admitted as having been the chief factor in the increase, yet the showing in the other two directions is the more satisfactory.

That there are more cows and better cows in the territory tributary to the creamery now than at any previous time is certain. It would be impossible to make any such showing of increase on the basis of higher prices alone. The old patrons of the plant have improved their stock even though conditions have not made an increase in numbers advisable. New patrons have been added every week, not only among the farmers of Pennington county, but also in districts far distant from Thief River Falls. The uniformly high price and fair treatment accorded by the management of the institution in this city has attracted shippers in all the section between the Candian boundary and the southern line of Norman county and from Montana to Beltrami county.

The farmer who helps build up his home creamery helps build his entire home section. The profits go back to the patrons, the aim being genuine cooperation in every sense of the word. Even where the big centralizing plants pay a fraction of a cent more than the cooperative plant it is to the producers' interest to ship his supplies to the latter. The money stays at home and is used to improve the section and particularly dairying conditions.

FOR A LIVESTOCK PAVILION.

Every member of the Pennington County Agricultural Association should make it a point to be at the annaul meeting next Wednesday evening. Upon the action taken at this meeting and upon the officers elected will depend largely the future success and usefulness of the association.

Perhaps the most important matter to come up for discussion is that of providing a new livestock pavilion at the fair grounds. That such a building should be constructed has for some time been evident, but so long as the grounds and facilities were only used during the three days of the county fair it was thought better that the matter be postponed.

With the inauguration of an annual stock sale the necessity for a building designed specially for displaying the animals offered became at once apparent. The stock could not be shown to the best advantage and there was difficulty in giving the animals the proper care. The effect on buyers would also be vastly better if the stock could be shown amid more favorable surroundings.

The quality of the stock offered by Pennington county breeders is certainly worthy of the best setting possible. As proof of the enviable reputation enjoyed by native cattle a transaction this week is in point. One of the leading Guernsey breeders of Stearns county had heard reports concerning the excellent quality of the cattle raised in this county and came here to investigate. He bought two pure bred cows, paying $350 each for them, secured one pure bred heifer for which $100 was paid, and thought enough of one grade heifer to take her for $50. All these animals came from one herd which is representative of many such in the county. Stock of this kind deserves the best of setting when it is placed on display and sale.

The fair association has been assured of liberal support for this undertaking, which will mark another step in the rapid advance being made by the livestock industry in this county.

WHY IS THIS THUS?

According to a statement made by James W. Howatt, telephone supervisor for the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission, the increase in long distance tolls, when the change proposed by Postmaster Burleson becomes effective on Jan. 21, will be from 100 to 200 per cent. As provided in the new schedule it will cost $2.00 to talk to Minneapolis from Thief River Falls, whereas the present minimum charge is 80 cents. To all of which our telephone users are certainly going to enter a most strenuous protest.

But what we mostly will want to know is why telephone tolls in Thief River Falls should be so much higher than any other place. This applies to the old tariff as well as to that proposed. Our people have been paying the highest rate of any city in the state. Bemidji, just as far away from the twin cities, has been paying a 65 cent minimum. Virginia, about the same distance away, has been paying 45 cents. The rate from Crookston is at present 80 cents.

Now just why should Thief River Falls, Crookston and Bemidji pay a higher rate than Virginia? And why should it cost within ten cents of as much to telephone to Minneapolis from Fergus Falls as it does from the St. Louis county iron metropolis?

The proposed rates are of course impossible and are based on a flat increase over the old schedule. Even though it becomes necessary to increase the amount allowed the telephone companies—and it is evident that this should be done—it would seem that the people in this section of the state have a kick coming. There certainly does not appear to be any good excuse for charging points in Beltrami, Polk or Pennington counties twice as much as those in St. Louis county for the same identical service.

PLEASANT DREAMS, SISTER.

We plead guilty of an unbounded admiration for Bemidji. We admire its progressiveness, its assertiveness, its paved streets and its nerve. There is nothing the people of that burg will not go after, from a peanut stand to a world's fair. And sometimes they are successful.

Just now they are figuring on securing permission from the legislature to bond their county to build a railroad tapping the country in the neighborhood of the Red Lakes and having its northern terminal at Beaudette. Our old comrade, J. J. Opsahl, boomer extraordinary for Beltrami county, is one of the parties interested in getting this little project to appear in such light that the state lawmakers will not shy at it.

There is going to be a railroad line traversing the Red Lake region one of these days. In fact one has been projected for a long time. One terminus will in all likelihood be at International Falls and the other at Thief River Falls. The line will be built in the good old way by people with money who have faith in the future of the section traversed, and there will be no request for permission to bond counties in order to assist the project.

Mr. Opsahl and the rest of the Bemidji boomers are of the opinion that the ditch grades might be utilized to good advantage. So they might. Beltrami county almost went bankrupt in building the ditches and a small matter like securing a few million dollars for the purpose of stringing railroads along the tops of them does not offer any particularly discouraging features.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

When Van R. Brown, the newly elected county attorney, went to enter his office at Red Lake Falls in order to take over the administration of same, he dislodged an infernal machine which had been placed over the door in such manner as to fall when anyone attempted to enter. The contraption exploded on striking the floor, breaking the windows and blowing the door to pieces. Mr. Brown was rendered senseless but escaped serious injury.

Adolf Eklund went to Crookston where he intended spending the greater part of the winter.

The I. O. O. F. leased the building owned by Mrs. A. W. Stebbins on Main street and fitted it up as a lodge room.

Miss Delia Beatrice Forder and Emil E. Zeh were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city, Rev. Val Kern performing the ceremony.

Ten Years Ago.

There was talk of a sixth normal school and Thief River Falls concluded to enter the race among the communities bidding for it.

Sheriff Nelson announced that James Bulman would be the new deputy sheriff, succeeding Robert Lee, who did not wish to retain the place.

The cheese factory at Terrebonne received first prize for cheese made there at the national show held in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Winton were in the city during the week, Mr. Winton looking after business interests and Mrs. Winton visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Michelet were called to their former home at Black River Falls, Wis., by the death of a near relative.

Mrs. J. H. McKinney returned to her home in Crookston, after spending a few days with relatives here.

OPEN CEDED LANDS AS SOLDIER FARMS

STEENERSON WOULD MAKE RESIDENCE AND CULTIVATION TERM ONE YEAR.

Congressman Steenerson on Thursday last introduced a bill to open Minnesota ceded Indian lands to soldiers and sailors homesteads. In an interview he said: "There are large areas of ceded Indian lands in Minnesota which under one old law were classified as pine lands, but upon which little if any timber stands. Under the existing law, after estimate and appraisal, the timber has been offered five or six times during the past twenty years but lumbermen have not bid on it because apart from the land it is of little value. My bill directs the secretary of the interior to forthwith estimate and appraise the timber and open the land to settlement upon payment of value of timber in addition to $1.25 per acre to be paid to the Indians as provided by law, payments to be made in five annual installments in accordance with provisions of original act, and also that honorably discharged soldiers and sailors shall have right to count time of their military service as residence upon the land. They must reside on and cultivate the land at least one year before patent shall be issued."

RECOMMEND WHEAT PRICE GUARANTEE.

Legislation to make effective the wheat price guaranteed for the 1919 crop and and at the same time to safeguard the government against loss, was recommended to congress last week by the department of agriculture and the food administration.

PURITY DEMANDED IN FOOD PRODUCTS

HOUSEWIVES REALIZE ITS IMPORTANCE MORE THAN EVER BEFORE.

It used to be that unscrupulous manufacturers were at liberty to foist rankly adulterated food stuffs onto the unsuspecting housewife. This production of low grade, frequently worthless and often injurious merchandise gained such strides that the government stepped in with Pure Food legislation and checked it. This measure of protection aroused housewives to the situation and the importance of utmost purity in articles of table use. And as a result of this awakening wise housewives have set a higher standard of purity than the Food Laws demand. The federal and state authorities have cut off to a great extent the manufacture of products of an injurious nature. The great majority of housewives have gone even farther and insist on obsolute purity.

This is evidenced in the tremendous and ever increasing demand for Calumet Baking Powder. There are many different brands of Baking Powders on the market. All that are on the market are made within the "limits of the law" are as pure as the law demands. Calumet Baking Powder is as pure as it can be made. It possesses no adulterants—no useless fillers—no impurities—no injurious properties of any sort. It is composed of the highest grade materials procurable. So proportioned and blended they remain pure. Another point which shows that Calumet is way beyond the measure of merit required by law, is that it stays pure in the baking. It leaves no harmful residue, as do many powders that comply with the pure food standard. The bakings produced with Calumet Baking Powder are not only light, fluffy and tasty, but wholesome and healthful, which really is the final test of any Baking Powder's purity. The high, way-above-the-law excellence of Calumet, represents purity in the extreme and that is what the wise housewife now demands. She no longer wants a Baking Powder that is good enough to get by the law—she wants the best.—Adv.

STUFFED UP WITH "A BAD COLD?"

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It" anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by H. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

The Only Peel-It-Off Way Is "Gets-It."

AN ASTONISHING RECORD

In seven years the amount of business done by the Thief River Falls Co-Operative Creamery has increased from $40,000 to $225,000. It is doubtful if there is another institution of this kind in the state with a better record. This astounding advance has been made possible by the spirit of service which has always characterized this creamery, rather than an ambition for mere profit. The farmer who sends his milk and cream to this creamery is not only patronizing the best market in this section but is doing everything he can to aid in the upbuilding of the community. Note the record below and decide to become one of those who are profiting by the growth of this modern progressive creamery.

1912 - $40,000
1913 - $50,000
1914 - $90,000
1915 - $120,000
1916 - $124,000
1917 - $150,000
1918 - $225,000

The outlook for the coming year is most bright and there will be another big increase to report on the first of January, 1920.

Prepare now to share in this prosperity.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammations and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

R. K. Calloway received word from his son, Craven, that he had been promoted to Sergeant and that he had been slightly wounded. Mr. Calloway understood him to say that his knee had been fractured, but that he was getting along nicely.

Carl T. Anderson of Lengby, uncle of County Auditor T. P. Anderson, spent Christmas on a visit at the home of the latter. K. M. Anderson of Badger, a nephew of the auditor, also arrived in time to make up a happy holiday party.

Clarence M. Larson, who spent Xmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larson, left Friday evening for Minneapolis, where he is finishing his last year as a student of medicine at the "U." He is also doing intern work at the Swedish hospital.

Colman J. Linde arrived in this city Sunday morning from the United States Naval Training Station at the Great Lakes, where he has been training for some time. He visited at his home for three days and left for Chicago Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas and four children arrived in the city this week from Macon, Miss., and are visiting at the home of Mrs. Thomas' sister, Mrs. W. H. Wikel. The family expects to locate on a farm in the neighborhood of Thief River Falls.

Miss Elsie Rolland arrived in this city Thursday morning from Duluth where she has been working for the past few months. Miss Rolland visited at her home for a few days and left for Rainy River, Tuesday morning to visit with friends for a few days.

W. W. Prichard, Jr., left for Minneapolis Thursday and attended to busilast Thursday and attended to business matters for a few days. He returned to this city Sunday morning and was accompanied by his mother, who has been at Rochester for some time.

E. O. Mogenson returned Monday evening from a busines trip to the Twin Cities. While there he concluded a deal, the details of which he prefers not to have divulged at this time. Next week he may release the story and it will be one of general interest.

John Jorgenson of this city accompanied Miss Alma Thoreson to her home at Rosewood last Friday. Miss Alma has been here for several days to attend the Christmas entertainments and Mr. Jorgenson will remain with his sister, Mrs. A. T. Thoreson, at the latter place.

"Hy" Gaslin, formerly night clerk at the Evelyn hotel, was surprised by a number of his friends while in Minneapolis, on his wedding trip. He was married to a Fargo girl on Thursday, Dec. 26th, and left for Fargo the first of the week where he will make his home.

Private Peter Bakken writes from Camp Forest, Ga., to state that his address for the present will be Camp Dodge, Iowa, as he expected to leave the South on his homeward journey on the 27th of December. He has been receiving The Times every week and it has been a most welcome visitor, he states.

Paul Midderigh returned from Duluth last week, having accompanied a sick daughter, Mrs. Mike Rodish, from Coleraine to a hospital in the larger city. She was in a serious condition upon her arrival but Mr. Midderigh has since received word that she is out of danger and has returned to her home.

William Folley arrived in this city last Thursday from Camp Dodge where he received his discharge. Mr. Folley has been in the aviation corps in England for the past three months. He visited at the C. M. Rolland home in this city for a short time and left for Rainy River Tuesday morning where he will be employed.

Leland Sether, who is in the naval aviation, as electrician, left Tuesday for Hampton Roads, Va., after a short visit with his parents in this city. Mr. Sether has overseas service to his credit as he has been in France about 8 months. He was one of the first boys to enlist from this city and will be kept in the service for some time.

C. H. Newbury, accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ostby, arrived yesterday from Spokane, where they have been for the past year. The recent death of Mrs. George Newbury in this city and the illness of Mr. Newbury himself made it advisable for the other members of the family to return. Mrs. Ostby has taken charge at the stricken home for the present.

Leaves for St. Paul.

Oscar A. Naplin, senator-elect from the Sixty-fifth district, leaves tomorrow for St. Paul to be present when the legislature convenes on Monday. The session will last for ninety days and promises to be full of interest.

Will Audit City Books.

The council at its meeting last Thursday night appointed B. E. Dalquist as auditor of the books of the city clerk and city treasurer and he will go over the business of the past year. Mr. Dalquist will also prepare the annual financial statement for presentation to the council and people of the city.

Young Man Fined.

A young man was brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant in the municipal court last Friday and fined five dollars for using abusive language toward a young woman employed at one of the stores in the city. Chief of Police Erickson and the proprietor of the store wanted the man to apologize and let it go at that, but he bluffed it out with the result that a warrant was secured and he was given a needed lesson.

Woodman Lecturer Here.

Rev. R. A. Saunderson, D. D., of Minneapolis, traveling lecturer for the Modern Woodmen, was in the city last week in the interests of his order. While here Rev. Saunderson, who is an old friend of Supt. J. H. Hay of the Thief River Falls schools, was entertained by him while in the city.

Rev. Saunderson had with him a number of photographs showing scenes in the region devastated by forest fires near Moose Lake and Cloquet last month. He was the officiating clergyman at the burial of 300 bodies in one grave near the former town.

Soldiers Are Defeated.

A game of basketball was played at the Lincoln school gymnasium on Tuesday afternoon between the school team and a pickup quintet selected from among the returned soldiers and named the All-Service team. The latter showed the lack of practice and were defeated by a score of 63 to 10. The soldiers had been engaged in work that did not permit of much basket shooting and proved it. The lineup follows:

High School		All-Service
Leland Schuster	rf	Alvin Tandberg
Alvin Johnson	lf	Roy Killand
Roy Flattum	lg	A. Holzknecht
George Mostue	rg	Ray Miller
R. Hadrath	c	Colman Linde

At the Princess.

The week at the Princess theatre opens tonight with Clara Kimball Young and her own company in "The Savage Woman."

On Friday evening the headliner is Enid Bennett in "When Do We Eat?"

Sixth episode of "A Fight For Millions" and Viola Dana in "The Only Road," will be the bill for Saturday.

Douglas Fairbanks in "Arizona," Sunday night only.

Monday night—Gladys Lee and Edward Earle in "The Little Runaway."

Tuesday—One of the greatest spectacular productions ever filmed, "Tarzan of the Apes."

Lina Cavalieri in "A Woman of Impulse," on Wednesday night.

Obituary

Bernice Jeanette Erickson.

Bernice Jeanette Erickson passed away at her home, 613 St. Paul avenue south, December 9, after an illness of about a week. The cause of her death was influenza.

Bernice was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Erickson, and was born in this city Jan. 6, 1916, being two years, 11 months and 23 days old at the time of her death.

The remains were interred in the Greenwood cemetery on Monday.

Harold Oslak Kvale.

Harold Oslak Kvale passed away at the Physicians hospital in this city Dec. 19, after an illness of seven days. Harold Kvale underwent an operation for appendicitis and when he seemed to be getting along fine, it turned to the worse. He was the son of T. T. Kvale of Rudell township and was 13 years 10 months and 22 days of age at the time of his death. He was born Feb. 7, 1905. The remains were shipped to Trail, Tuesday.

Mrs. Mabel Newbury.

Mrs. Mabel Newbury passed away at her home, 507 Knight avenue north, Dec. 27, after an illness of eight days. The cause of her death was influenza, followed by pneumonia.

Mrs. Newbury was born Feb. 12, 1894, at Duluth, and was 24 years, 10 months and 14 days old at the time of her death. She was married to George Newbury Nov. 8, 1915, and they have resided in this city since that time. She was well known and loved by everyone for her sweet, sunny disposition.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn: one daughter, Helen, aged two years and a son, Vance, ten months old; a mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dahl; a sister, Kathryn; a brother, Archie, all of whom are in the city. The remains were laid at rest in the Greenwood cemetery on Tuesday, Rev. George Larson officiating.

Rose Victoria Johnson.

Rose Victoria Johnson passed away Dec. 29th, at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. H. Schmidt. The cause of death was heart trouble from which she suffered for the past eighteen months.

Deceased was born June 5, 1895, in this city and has lived here all her life. She was 23 years, 6 months and 24 days old at the time of her death. She was married to Ole Johnson, at her home in this city, Nov. 23, 1915. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Loraine, 21 months and one day old; a father, A. Lundberg; six sisters, Misses Christine, Bessie, Marie and Georgine Lundberg, Mrs. S. H. Schmidt and Mrs. L. Jonston; three brothers, Edward, Kennith and Phillip Lundberg; all of this city. The remains were interred in the Greenwood cemetery.

Letters from the BOYS

FRANCE AT LAST; JUST TOO LATE

AMBROSE ZEH ARRIVES FROM ENGLAND TWO DAYS BEFORE WAR'S CLOSE.

ELMER NOW IN LUXEMBURG

LLOYD IS AT WEST POINT, KY. AND EXPECTS SOON TO BE HOME.

Three sons of Phil Zeh of this city are in the service—two in Europe and one at a camp in this country. All three have been heard from this week and they are well and happy. Ambrose has been in England since his arrival on the other side and was sent to France almost on the last day of the fighting. He evidently did not know the war was going to stop so soon, although to judge from his letter there must have been a general impression that it would be over before long. He writes:

"At last I am in France, well and happy. We are at an English camp about five miles out from a French village which we passed through in getting here. The inhabitants there were mostly women and children, there being a few old men. There were many wine shops but the place seemed dead. The country is pretty but give me the United States.

"The camp where we now are is called a 'rest' camp but the 'rest' part of it is a poor scheme. I slept well last night, however, but who wouldn't after a night of seasickness and a five mile hike?

"We will leave soon for our permanent training camp. Then it's the front. The boys here who are back from the fighting area and who have seen and done things say we will never see service as they are all thru. But who knows? I hope they are right but we will yet see plenty of it, I think.

"The chow here is scarce but good It will be more plentiful at the next camp. Guess these Englishmen are small eaters. There are German prisoners around the camp as common laborers. We're not allowed to talk to them."

Elmer in Holland.

Elmer Zeh, who is an army electrician, is at a place called Roodt, in Luxemburg. He writes home as follows:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am still alive and happy. Am at present living in a German household and feel as if I was with home people. I speak German to them and get along fine. They think I am the best ever. I thought they would go wild when they found out that I was able to converse with them. But these people are Luxemburgers, not Germans and they do not in the least fancy the latter.

"I don't know when we will be home but it looks as if we were on our way. We are going further into Germany all the time and it looks as if we might embark from a German port. I am seeing all kinds of pretty scenes but it is a beastly experience at that. Many times I am hungry. I have been so hungry that I would eat bread that some other fellow threw away. I havn't had a bath for almost two months—but I should worry. When I return home I can take six months to clean up.

"Well, we have won a big victory, one that I will never forget. I am thankful that I am one of those left to tell about it. They are using me in these German telephone offices now and I like it fine. This is a better country than the others I have been in. The weather is very mild—no sign of snow yet. We have that damp weather that is worse than snow, however.

"My outfit is lucky. We lost only six men out of 112, which is pretty good.

"We are being fed well. For dinner we had steak, onions, spuds, bread and coffee. Wish I could be with you for Christmas.

"Met Ed Korwand in France a few weeks ago. He was very much pleased to see me. So was I. He is the first one from home that I have met."

"Reckon I will have to do some entertaining when I get home. I have gone through a considerable part of this war and can tell many things."

Lloyd is at Camp.

Lloyd Zeh, who is with the 29th Areo Squadron at West Point, Ky., did not get across and will be glad when he is mustered out. He says that so far he has been given no intimation as to when he will be released, but hopes it will be soon. There is a possibility, he says, of his outfit being moved to Camp Stathon, Ky., in which case he will have to give up guessing about his discharge. He is of the opinion that many of the troops from overseas will be home before he is.

"It makes us homesick to hear of the boys being mustered out," he writes. "It is colder than Old Billy down here now and I wouldn't be surprised if we woke up some morning and found snow on the ground.

"You will no doubt be surprised to hear that we are still in tents, but we have little stoves in each one so it is not so bad after all, only a little chilly in the morning. We are used to that now, however, and when I get home I will be able to sleep in the chicken coop. I'm that tough. It's good for us fellows, too."

23 FIGHTING DAYS NEAR FRONT LINE

SOLDIER OF 36TH WRITES TO FATHER TELLING OF CHAMPAGNE SCRAP.

Sergt. J. R. Haufer is a member of Co. C, 111th Field Signal battalion, attached to the 36th Regiment, a unit composed of men from Oklahoma and Texas, but whose father, J. H. Haufer, is a resident of Pennington county. In a recent letter to the latter this soldier says:

"Am getting along nice and feeling fine. Everyone is anxious to get home now and can hardly wait until the time comes for leaving. We have been on the move for the past couple of weeks, but still can't tell where we are going as we are a good distance in France. Some of the boys get home for Christmas but it is doubtful if I can get there by that time.

"I don't think there will be another war for awhile. I have seen all of it I ever want to see. Spent 23 days on the front in a pretty stiff fight. It was in the Champagne sector near Rheims. Am sending you a clipping describing what our boys did there."

The clipping referred to is headed, "Thirty-Sixth Praised for Glorious Feat. Brilliant Success is Achieved First Time Under Fire."

A French commander, Gen. Naul, paid the following tribute to the fighting qualities of the Southwestern men:

"On Oct. 3 the Second American Division, having arrived during the night in the sector of the Twenty-First Army Corps, attacked the fortified crest of Blan Mont and captured it in a few hours despite desperate resistance of the enemy. In the following days it made an extended advance on the slopes to the north.

"The Thirty-Sixth Division (Texas and Oklahoma), a recent formation and as yet incompletely organized, was ordered into the line on the night of Oct. 6-7, to relieve, under conditions particularly delicate, the Second Division, and to dislodge the enemy from the crest north of St. Eyienne and throw him back to the Aisne. Although being under fire for the first time the young soldiers of Gen. Smith, rivaling in their combative spirit and tenacity the old valians regiments of Gen. Lejeune, accomplished all the tasks set for them."

NO FRENCH GIRLS FOR THIS SOLDIER

ARTHUR ALNES PREFERS THE HOME PRODUCT ALWAYS AND FOREVER.

For some reason or other our soldiers refuse to rave over the charms of the girls in France. In many other respects the country is fine, but when it comes to the ladies those left at home have the inside track and loom up strong. Something of this may be gleaned from the following letter from Arthur S. Alnes, who is stationed at Base Hospital No. 20 at Chatel Guyon, France:

"Undoubtedly hearing from me will come somewhat as a surprise. After finishing a magnificent dinner of turkey and trimmings, I called for my mail, and to my great pleasure received a copy of The Times. This is the first I have seen for about six months. Since some of the restrictions regarding the censoring of mail have been removed, I am able to tell considerable of my experiences here.

"While in the States I was transfered from the 352nd Inf. and placed in the medical corps. We left camp in the early part of July and embarked for France. There was some sea-sickness but our trip was favored by the most excellent weather. We landed at Liverpool, where we stayed for a short time. After crossing the entire southern end of England we left for France, arriving at one of the many ports of de-barkation.

"We were assigned to Base Hospital 20 and have been here since. Am sorry to say I have not been at the front, but have done my bit back here. Have met several boys from home, among them Wm. Bartleson, 'Red' Calloway and Oscar Bergh. They have long since recovered and left this place.

"Chatel Guyon is one of the watering places of France. It is noted for its mineral waters which are used in treatment of numerous ailments. Situated in the mountainous part of France, we have splendid scenery. Grapes constitute the chief product of the soil in this section, so we can always get vin rouge, or red wine. This wine here is used just as freely as we use water. Cafes and souvenir shops abound, so we have no trouble disposing of our money. The medical corps here is mostly from Pennsylvania and I am the only representative of good old Minnesota.

"Have had no trouble in getting mail from home and have been paid regularly, so I get along nicely. Of course, we are all anxious to get back home and prospects of our leaving here soon grow brighter every day.

"My only reason for writing so much is that we get our stationery free.

"While in the States I heard much of the French beauties, referring to Madamoiselles, but they don't come up to the girls back home. This statement should set the ladies' minds at ease. Some of the boys marry here, but there is too much red tape to go through for me to ever consider it seriously.

"Must close now, wishing all a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

NO RUSH FOR JOBS AS MAIL CARRIERS

TWO WANTED ON RURAL ROUTES RUNNING OUT OF THIS CITY.

That there has a great change taken place in the labor market within the last year or two is evidenced by the fact that jobs considered highly desirable heretofore now find no takers. In former years the contract for carrying the mail on the Kratka and Germantown routes out of Thief River Falls have been contested for in a lively manner, but in spite of the fact that bids for the 1919 contract will be opened on Jan. 14, none have yet been received by Postmaster John Morgan.

The Kratka route is 18½ miles and return and during the past year the carrier received as compensation $1,020. The Germantown route is a half mile longer and the present contract is for $1,260. As wages now go this is not a particularly high salary, but there is nothing preventing bidders from asking what the work is worth.

The government does not specify the mode to be employed in the delivery of the mail, but it is probable that automobiles would be preferred. At any rate someone should make a bid for each of the posts as the job is steady and pay sure.

Carl Wilhelm Liden.

Carl Wilhelm Liden passed away at a hospital in Minneapolis, Dec. 26th, after an illness of two years. He was improving rapidly when he contracted influenza, which caused his death.

He was born Nov. 21, 1891 and was 27 years, eleven months and twenty-one days old at the time of death. Mr. Liden was united in marriage to Miss Alice Finstrom of Minneapolis in 1913, and has lived in that city since that time.

Deceased leaves a wife and son, Stanley William, aged two, a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Liden of this city, five brothers, Oscar, Arthur, Dave, Theo H., and Hilmer Liden, two sisters, Clara and Helma. All are of this city with the exception of Dave, who resides at Duluth and Miss Helma of Roundup, Mont. The remains were brought to this city and the funeral was held from the family home on Saturday, Rev. George Larson officiating.

The Public Forum

Opposed to League of Nations.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Dec. 25, 1918. Editor Times:—Will you kindly allow me space in your paper to express my views on the proposed "League of Nations."

There is no radical difference between the original proposition for a League of Nations and the International (Red Flag) Socialist's ideal, International World Democracy. It is this ideal of the International Socialists that got them into trouble and prison during the last year, and it would get those who advocate a League of Nations, having a Court and Army of Enforcement, too, into the same predicament, if treason and disloyalty should be defined and applied to them in such a strict and prejudiced way as it some times has been done lately.

The third article of the United States Constitution specifically states that the judicial power of the United States courts shall extend to controversies to which the United States shall be a party. Now, then, to set up an international court with an army to enforce its decrees would do away with the sovereignty of the United States, and would be entirely unconstitutional unless the constitution were amended, which would require ratification by three-fourths of the states. Still there are pacifists who have howled against the disloyalty of Socialists, (Internationals) who do not believe in National Governments, who propose to put this monstrous proposition over at the peace conference, and have the Senate "rubber stamp" it together with all the rest of the peace terms! Considering the proposition on its own merits, I believe it is the biggest piece of political foolishness that ever has been proposed in this country.

In the first place we would be just a tail on the European kite, so far as this "International Court" is concerned, and it seems to me that men with normal sense should have seen enough of Europe lately not to wish to be tied up to it any worse than we now are.

In the second place any student knows that the trend in political economy is towards centralization, and that in a few decades—or even years, the rate events now move—the "League of Nations" would become a regular "World Government" and the further the government is removed from the people the sooner it is corrupted. With this world government corrupted we would certainly have a miserable chance to "clean them out," and it would all end in oppression, civil war and misery.

No, let all good Americans beware of this monstrous beast, in sheep's clothing as yet, besides which the "Beast of Berlin" was like a cat compared to a tiger.

Yours for the U. S.
ANDREW TROVATON.

ST. HILAIRE

Ians Follstad, who recently returned from a military training camp, left last week for Red Lake Falls to resume his former clerical position.

P. A. Blixt, a former resident of this village arrived Thursday from Superior, Wis., to visit with old-time friends.

E. T. Gestie of Fargo transacted business in the village and visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. Carl Johnson from Friday until Saturday. Owing to a badly sprained ankle, Mr. Gestie has been unable to make his regular trips through his territory for the past few weeks.

After having spent Christmas vacation at her parental home in Sanders township, Miss Selma Maland returned Saturday to her school near Steiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Blixt and baby arrived Friday from Superior, Wis., for a visit with Mrs. Blixt's father, A. Bjornquist, and with other relatives and friends in this community.

Miss Ember Erickson returned to Thief River Falls Saturday to be in readiness for the re-opening of school Monday morning, after a week of vacation which she spent at her home in Black River township. On her return to Thief River Falls, she was accompanied by her sister, Miss Julia who will be her guest for a few days.

The community was sadly shocked to learn of the death of Station Agent J. A. Hillerude on Monday evening of last week. Death was caused by a brief siege of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Though Mr. and Mrs. Hillerude have resided in our midst only a few month, their happy and likeable dispositions attracted a host of friends in this village, who feel that they have lost a valuable fellow citizen by Mr. Hillerude's untimely demise. Mrs. Hillerude was nearly stunned by the sad blow of her husband's death and has been very ill. She is slowly improving, however, under the skillful care of a trained nurse. A large circle of friends extend heartfelt sympathy to the sadly bereaved wife and parents of the deceased.

Miss Edith Dahl left Saturday for Devils Lake, N. D., to resume her duties as teacher in the public schools, after spending the week of Christmas vacation at home.

George Fricker returned to Bagley Thursday after spending Christmas Day at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Fricker.

Miss Harriet Thompson, who teaches in the public schools of Thief River Falls, returned to that city Saturday after an over Christmas visit at the home of her uncle, Carl Johnson. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Lilly Johnson, who spent the day at Thief River Falls, leaving that evening via the Soo for Fosston, where she is teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Babbs recently arrived from Wakefield Kan., for a visit at the home of Mrs. Babb's sister, Mrs. J. V. Patton of Sanders township.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Boese returned to their home at Grand Forks, Saturday after having visited at the home of Mrs. Boese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Amble, over Christmas.

After celebrating Christmas with her home folks, Miss Ruth Martz left Tuesday for Duluth to be in readiness to resume her duties as teacher at the re-opening of school.

Mrs. Chas. Fellman, a resident of this village a few years ago, arrived Saturday from her home at Red Lake Falls, for a visit with relatives and old-time friends.

Miss Huldah Olgstad leaves for Moorhead tomorrow to assume the position of teacher in the public schools to which position she was elected at the completion of her course at the Moorhead Normal a few weeks ago.

ERIE

Oliver Tommerdahl, J. K. Enebo, Knut Dahle and H. C. Iverson were Goodridge business visitors Saturday.

James Daly and S. Torrison departed via Goodridge and Thief River Falls, Monday morning for Hibbing, this state, where Daly is to enter the service on the police force and Torrison to seek other employment.

John Nelson and son, Edwin, were Thief River Falls business visitors on Monday, Ed to remain for a day or two to have a number of teeth filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Sunsdahl and children and Elvin Bammerud of Rhoda, Christ Amundson and Arnold Lee visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust O. Iverson on Christmas Day.

Henry and John Sunsdahl and John Forst hauled grain to Goodridge on Saturday.

Andrew Nelson and son, Raymond, departed via Goodridge and Thief River Falls for Hutchinson, this state, Raymond to attend school there for the remainder of the school year and his father to proceed to Goodhue county for an extended visit with relatives ere his return to Erie.

Emil Grams and Hilmer Iverson transacted business at the county seat Monday.

Chas. Vad and son, Gussie, were business callers at "Camp Sub Urban" Friday of last week.

Singer Brothers have completed a 16x40 addition on the south side of their large new store building. The addition is mainly used for living apartments and the rest of the floor space for store-room, pending erection of another addition on the opposite side to be parted off for store-room and ice house.

The ravages of the flu has nearly subsided in this vicinity. The death of Miss Gunhild Rensla being the only casualty reported so far.

Ole Nerhus is employed at International Falls.

Kristian Skaaren trapped another two wolves recently "K" had the flu pretty bad when he was called to "release" the second one, but he said: "I'm going to have him if its the last one." And Skaaren is still trapping.

Miss Anna Tollefson gave a Christmas tree party at the Little Oaks school house Christmas evening, and many a youngster was pleasantly surprised with nice and useful presents. The old folks enjoyed themselves too.

Ole Skommedahl of Oklee has been engaged to teach the Vake school in S. E. Star, commencing after New Years.

The Knut Sunsdahl family moved to Grand Forks a few days ago.

Miss Tillie Tollefson visited with Miss Opel Olson, Sunday evening.

To Prevent Influenza

The surest way is to keep yourself in such condition that influenza [illegible]sten upon you.

[illegible] your blood is rich and red, free from the poisons which constipation [illegible]tes, germs will not be able to gain a footing—your healthy blood will [illegible]spose of them.

Constipation, underlies almost all illness. Food-waste allowed to remain in the system creates dangerous poisons which tax the ability of the blood, lungs, kidneys and skin pores to throw off. Then you become an easy prey to colds. Influenza and Pneumonia often follow.

Your druggist has a new and really pleasant tasting cold-water salts called SALINOS which will completely empty the digestive system, including the lower bowels, where most poisons are formed. It is pleasant to use. Get a bottle for a Quarter (large size Fifty cents and a Dollar.)

Be safe! Get it today. Use it tomorrow morning.

WHEN YOU SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM

Almost any man will tell you that Sloan's Liniment means relief

For practically every man has used it who has suffered from rheumatic aches, soreness of muscles, stiffness of joints, the results of weather exposure.

Women, too, by the hundreds of thousands, use it for relieving neuritis, lame backs, neuralgia, sick headache. Clean, refreshing, soothing, economical, quickly effective. Say "Sloan's Liniment" to your druggist. Get it today.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

SAVE THE BABIES

WE mean baby pigs. Every one is a possible 300 pounds of pork for the market at a time when the whole world is hungry.

Yet they are delicate, easily chilled and need clean, dry, warm quarters if they are to thrive. The better their quarters, the more pork you will sell.

Build a Warm Winter Hog House

with a concrete floor to make cleaning easy. Concrete doesn't absorb moisture or filth so you can have a real sanitary house and be safe from disease. Of course it will pay. The pigs you save from the next litters may more than return the cost of a modern permanent house.

Ask us for plans. We have two styles for you to choose from. While the weather is good lay in your stock of UNIVERSAL cement, lumber and roofing. You can get the best the market affords from our stock.

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

ALL CITY IN PLOT, ASSERTS PROMOTER

S. C. PANDOLFO "DECLARES WAR" ON MINNEAPOLIS FOR "DAMNABLE CONSPIRACY."

Quite a number of Pennington county citizens are interested in the future of the Pan Motor company of St. Cloud, being stockholders in the concern. About a week ago the Capital Issues Commission at Washington issued an order forbidding the Pan company to float any further stock issues or stock. This brought forth an explanation from Mr. Pandolfo, president of the company, of which the Minneapolis Journal correspondent at St. Cloud gives the following account:

Before a mass meeting of about 400 persons, containing many of his employees, S. C. Pandolfo, president of the Pan Motor company, last night "declared war" on Minneapolis because of a "gigantic and damnable conspiracy," which he said includes all Minneapolis organizations and individuals and federal officers as well.

Why He "Declared War."

"Ever since Pan Motor located in St. Cloud it has been the subject of intrigue and attack by all organizations and individuals of Minneapolis," he declared. "Why? Is it because Pan Motor didn't locate in Minneapolis?

"Why do traveling men out of Minneapolis knock me and this company" he added. "They tell the most outlandish lies about me and Pan Motor. Why? I want the people of Minneapolis to tell why.

"Why do the bankers of Minneapolis never lose an opportunity to knock me and Pan Motor?

All in Conspiracy, He Says.

"Why does the Ad Forum of Minneapolis never lose an opportunity to knock me and Pan Motor?

"Why does the Credit Men's association never lose an opportunity to knock me and Pan Motor?

"I've been under cover in this. But the time has come. If you could go through my files and see the dope I've got you'd know the reason why I've been under cover. I've been giving them all the rope and latitude they want."

Everything and everybody in Minneapolis is in a conspiracy against his company, he said. "Certain pirates in Minneapolis have laid traps and brought about the downfall of institutions as to gain control of them," he went on. "The most damnable, most gigantic conspiracy ever perpetrated in a country that has been fighting to make democracy safe is what I'm talking about."

Scores Bankers, Too.

As particularly objectionable he named Ira B. Henthorne of the Minneapolis Advertising Forum, Richard H. Lee of the national vigilance committee, Leland S. Duxbury and Charles J. Andre of the state blue sky commission.

"The bankers of Minneapolis have systematically persecuted me and this company," he said. "They have lied deliberately about me and this company. They have knowingly and maliciously misrepresented facts about me and this company. They have knocked me and this company to home folks in St. Cloud."

"But they've got to stop," he said later. "If they don't we're going to make them. I'm going to sue hell out of them. I've got a lead pipe cinch. Don't think we're a bunch of country boobs and you can put anything over on us. St. Cloud has more brains than 10 cities like Minneapolis, and more honesty.

Lots of Suing Promised.

"I'm going to do a whole lot of suing in a few days. I've got the dope in my files.

"If you keep this up you'll be only a suburb of St. Cloud. St. Cloud is not alone in this fight. We've got 12,000 stockholders in Minnesota and they can quit buying things in Minneapolis. There is a whole lot of Stearns county that can quit buying things in Minneapolis. Don't get it into your heads that anybody can kill Pan Motor.

"Big bankers, pirates, robbers of Minneapolis! Business assassins! We've got the goods on the big banks of Minneapolis. Go tell them what I've said," he added, turning toward the Minneapolis men in the audience. "Tell Rich in particular.

5,000 Included at Once.

"Ask them why they sent a special messenger to Washington to poison minds.

"Investigate the 5,000 members of the Civic and Commerce association and see how many tried to keep Pan Motor from getting war contracts.

"Tell them to sue me fr libel and don't waste any time because I'm anxious to have them do it.

"Certain members of the capital issues commission are conspirators against Pan Motor.

"It is a crime—worse than a crime—for anybody to take advantage of high position to assassinate character.

Calls Congressman "Assassin."

"Tell Congressman Taylor of Colorado, who is in league, he is a conspirator.

"Persecuted, hounded and treated as I am, my God, is it possible to put up with this treatment without losing nerve, or becoming an I. W. W. or an anarchist?

"When I came here to put St. Cloud and Minnesota on the map, I didn't expect such treatment."

The meeting was called by D. H. Freeman, mayor of St. Cloud, at the request of the St. Cloud Commercial club and St. Cloud Businessmen's association. Joseph J. Hilbie, president of the Commercial club, presided.

A delegation from Minneapolis, representing the Civic and Commerce association, attended the meeting and denied that there had been a concerted action on the part of Minneapolis to belittle St. Cloud or any of its industries.

No resolutions were adopted or other action taken by the meeting.

Mecham-Johnson.

Elmer Sherman Mecham of Glyndon and Miss Anna Bertine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Johnson, 322 Conley avenue south, were united in marriage at Crookston at eight o'clock January 1. The young couple left for Winnipeg on their wedding trip, where they will visit for some time, after which they will return to the groom's farm at Glyndon to make their home after February 5th.

Notice to the Public.

The barber shops of Thief River Falls will hereafter close at 6:30 every evening except Saturday, when they will remain open until 10 o'clock. —j2.

Methodist Church.

The services for Sunday, Jan. 5th, marks the beginning of the new year. It also is the time set for the launching of the great world wide movement in the Methodist church that marks the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church. This is a world program. Every Methodist church throughout the world is enlisted in this great forward movement of the church. The subject Sunday morning will be: "The Stewardship of Prayer." In the evening: "The Stewardship of Souls." Sunday school at 10, morning worship 11, evening service 8:00. This is a program with a purpose and will be constantly before our people for the next six months. It is a challenge to the faith of the church.

American democracy was born of a vital Christian faith. The United States has been settled largely by people who fled from oppression to find religious liberty.

The American vitality, pluck and character, which are now so largely relied upon to turn the tide of war, have developed under the influence of a militant Church which has extended itself, in spite of every obstacle, from ocean to ocean and around the world.

Since 1800 the American Protestant Churches have multiplied their total membership seventy-one times, and in that period of time have doubled their membership on an average of approximately once every twenty years. In a century they have extended their missions to practically every non-Christian nation on the globe.

Although this era of stupendous expansion has greatly enriched the life of the Church, it has also permitted the growth of grave weakness. The expansion of the Church at home has been borne on the tide of rising and ebbing material prosperity, so that all sections of the nation and all classes of the people have not shared alike in the growth. The Church has retreated from less prosperous areas in city, town, and country. It has neglected to care for obvious newly developing missionary responsibilities, with the following results:

The Americanization of the foreigner has been left largely to agencies other than the Church, although historically in our nation the Church has been the cradle of democracy.

The rural life of the United States, which once centered in the rural church and found its leadership there, has suffered an alarming decline.

A life of easy-going respectability among many professing Christians has replaced an unwavering Christian conviction born of conversion to Christ and nourished by daily prayer and sacrificial living.

The Centenary World Program is a plan for lining up the resources of the Methodist Episcopal Church to establish American democracy on the foundations of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

TO THRESH OUT PAVING SUBJECT

CITIZENS WILL DISCUSS MATTER WITH THE COUNCIL TOMORROW EVENING

PLAN STRONGLY ENDORSED

BUSINESS MEN HAVE GENERALLY GONE ON RECORD AS FAVORING PROJECT

Whether or not the business streets of Thief River Falls will be paved next summer may depend to a large extent upon the outcome of a meeting to be held at the council chamber on Friday evening. The members of the council have requested all those who are interested in the matter—which includes everybody—to be present and assist in arriving at a conclusion. To judge by the interest taken this is likely to be the largest meeting ever called in the city for a purpose of this kind.

Is Generally Approved.

A short time ago a committee was appointed by President E. O. Mogensen of the Merchants association to secure signatures to a petition asking that the council proceed with all reasonable haste to arrange for paving. Nearly every merchant and other business or professional man in the downtown district signed the petition and this was duly presented. It has for a long time been apparent that the council was favorably inclined toward the paving project but the members feel that they should have the public back of them in an undertaking of such importance. For this reason the meeting was called.

Need is Apparent.

That the paving of the city streets is an improvement that should be undertaken is admitted by everyone. The question of cost is the only stickler and whether or not this is considered greater than the city should assume at this time is what the meeting is expected to bring out.

That the sentiment of those present will be overwhelmingly in favor of the proposition is certain. Some objection will doubtless develop but the majority should be permitted to rule as in every other matter in which the public is interested.

Is Most Important.

No more important meeting of citizens has been called for a long time and it is hoped that all those interested will make it a point to be present. The council cannot very well be blamed for failing to grow enthusiastic over a subject in which the rest of the people refuse to take an interest.

KIENITZ TO SPEAK HERE TUESDAY P. M.

FEDERAL LAND BANK REPRESENTATIVE WILL BE AT COMMERCIAL CLUB.

The first annual meeting of the Valhall National Farm Loan association will be held at the Commercial club rooms next Tuesday afternoon. The stockholders' session will be held at 1:00 o'clock, after which the public is invited to be present for the purpose of hearing the land bank plan discussed by John E. Kienitz of St. Paul.

The bank during its first year of operation has proven a decided success and has one of the largest application lists in the state under consideration or already acted upon. Mr. Kienitz is connected with state headquarters at St. Paul and is prepared to make clear any point with which the farmers may be unfamiliar.

The meeting will be conducted on an institute basis and is free to everyone.

BANKS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL ELECTIONS

OLD OFFICERS RETAINED BY TWO THIEF RIVER FALLS INSTITUTIONS.

The past year has in many respects been a difficult one for banks, particularly those located in the smaller communities. The bond drives and other work incident to the war have made it necessary to deviate somewhat from the course usually followed and the change has not always been beneficial to the banks.

In spite of this the year has been a very good one and the future promises even better. The banks are first to respond to an indication of business revival and the Thief River Falls institutions are just now in better shape to meet the readjustment demands than ever before in their history. The unusual financial features of the past two years will to a large extent have disappeared early in 1919 and things will again resume their former status.

Two Thief River Falls banks have this week held their annual meetings and chosen officers for the coming year. In each case the former officials were retained, their handling of affairs having been highly satisfactory to the stockholders.

At the meeting of the Citizens State bank stockholders Tuesday evening the following were elected: Olaf Ramstad, president; Louis Hanson and A. M. Langseth, vice presidents; T. L. Melgaard, cashier; C. W. Vorachek and A. J. Anderson, assistant cashiers; Norman A. Holen, teller.

Because of the absence from the city of H. D. Keene the stockholders of the Farmers and Merchants bank deemed it advisable to elect another as temporary vice president, and Herbert Fuller was chosen. The other officers are the same as last year, being as follows: Robert McGinn, president; L. A. Lampert, cashier; Effie Hamry, assistant cashier.

The First and Peoples bank stockholders are having their meeting today and the First National annual meeting will be held on the 14th.

ROSS P. WHITE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

COUNTY AGENT CONTRACTS PNEUMONIA AND IS REPORTED VERY LOW.

Ross P. White, executive officer of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association, is critically ill with pneumonia at his home, 918 State avenue north. During the first three days of this week he was reported as hardly holding his own, but a slight rally on Tuesday gave his family and physicians some hope that he might pull through.

Mr. White contracted influenza a short time ago and this developed into pneumonia. His condition became steadily worse and for awhile gave cause for the gravest apprehension.

Mr. White's brother and the parents of Mrs. White are here assisting in looking after the sick man.

DEPOSITS IN BANKS NEAR TWO MILLION

PAST TWO MONTHS SHOW GAIN OF $125,000 IN CITY ALONE

The four banks of Thief River Falls have on deposit almost exactly $2,000,000, according to the statements published in this week's issue of The Times. This includes both the national and state institutions and is the condition as on Dec. 31.

The showing is the finest ever made by the local banks. Not only is the total the largest recorded, but the increase since the last report indicates a state of prosperity hard to equal anywhere. The last previous call for the state banks was issued for Oct. 31 and that for the national banks a short time before that. The four banks of the city at that time reported a total of $1,872,967.10, a gain for the two months of $127,708.80.

There are always large surpluses in the banks at the close of any good year but never before have the deposits approached so near the two million mark. The other harvest but this is the first time that county banks are showing substantial increases in most instances and it would not be surprising to find that the total for the county is very near $3,000,000.

First National	$688,480.71
Citizens State	608,207.31
First and Peoples	563,009.79
Farmers & Merchants	139,978.09

ALL SCHOOL YEAR NOT FAVORED HERE

HARDLY CONSIDERED FEASIBLE FOR FARMING SECTION. DOUBLE THE COST

There has been considerable agitation for an all-year school term in Minnesota for some time, the matter assuming particular interest in the larger cities. Supt. J. H. Hay brought the matter up at the last meeting of the local board and it was discussed at some length. The conclusion reached was that the plan is hardly feasible for an agricultural community as the older children are absolutely necessary on the farm during a part of the year. Conditions are entirely different in the cities, but even there the objection is so strong that it is doubtful if the innovation will be tried out.

One serious objection to the plan here is that it would practically double the cost of maintaining the schools. This is something not to be thought of under present conditions, even though it should be proven that the twelve-month plan would turn the children out so much faster that it would add at least a year to their working efficiency.

The school term this year will be long enough anyway. It will be absolutely necessary to make up some of the time lost by reason of the recent closing if the pupils are to make the ratings necessary for promotion.

E. O. Mogensen left for Minneapolis Sunday evening to attend to business matters for a few days.

BOYS RETURNING AT RAPID RATE

NEARLY ALL SO FAR ARE FROM CAMPS IN THIS COUNTRY

FEW HOME ON FURLOUGH

THESE MUST RETURN TO CAMP FOR PURPOSE OF GETTING DISCHARGED

The soldiers are coming home at quite a rapid rate. At least 40 have reported since the war closed and this number is being steadily increased.

It was a mistake to make no provision for the registration of returning soldiers. Had this been done it would have been possible to keep an accurate record of them, which would have helped greatly in the compilation of the history wanted by the state. As it is the names of those who served in one capacity or another during the war and are again ready to resume their duties as civilians must be sought out and their history secured in case it is wanted.

Keeping Close Track.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson, who was clerk of the registration board, has attempted to keep track of those returning and believes he has managed pretty well. He realizes, however, that some have been overlooked and asks that they make their names known either at his office in the court house or to The Times.

Nearly everybody is interested in the arrival of these young men. In almost every instance their old jobs are waiting for them and it would help both the boys and their former employers if their return were made public. Something in the nature of a celebration will also be held at a later date and the names and permanent addresses of all those who took any part in the great struggle should be known to the committee in charge in order that they may be kept informed of what is intended.

The Roster to Date.

In going over his records Mr. Anderson finds that the following are known to have returned. This does not include the boys who were in the students' corps at the university of Minnesota but takes account of those who were regularly inducted as special service men at that institution. Following is the list, together with the home address and the camp or foreign station from which they arrived:

Beloit College—Lieut. Hans O. Kjomme, city.

Camp Pike, Ark.—Lieut. G. Howard Smith, city.

Camp Cody, N. M.—Edwin Granum, city; Clarence E. Johnson, Numedal; Frank Kusmak, Goodridge; Milton Weeks, city; Conrad Ronning, Numedal; Hans Folstad, St. Hilaire; Edwin Selstad, city; Carl Norquist, city.

Camp Johnston, Florida—Fred W. Gunstad, St. Hilaire.

Camp Dodge, Iowa—Tellef Volden, city.

Camp Hancock, Ga.—Nicholas Olson, Kratka.

Camp Benj. Harrison, Intl.—Olaf Thompson, city.

Camp Shelby, Miss.—Arthur Loken, city.

Camp Forest, Ga.—Rupert Swanson, St. Hilaire.

Camp Dix, N. J.—Ted McGinn, city.

Fort Sill, Okla.—Sam Brandvold, Rocksbury.

Camp Lewis, Wash.—Fred Leimers, city.

Dunwoody Institute—Ben Borgen, city.

Mineola, L. I.—Hugh McDaniel.

Canada—John H. Bird, city.

Home on Furlough.

Besides these there are a number who have been home on furlough or are here now intending to return to their stations for discharge. Among these are Doris Provencher, and William A. Teal, who served in France but who returned to Fort Snelling; Thales Aasland, North, returned to Fort Sill; Hugh Bottelson, city, Fort Des Moines; Eugene Hance, city, Fort Dodge; Mons Engelstad, Rocksbury, Fort Sill; Glen Richardson, city, Camp Grant.

That there are others is certain but this is the best list that can be secured at this time although diligent inquiry has been made.

Handled Much Money.

Theo. H. Liden, county treasurer for four years, surrendered the office to his successor, John Gullingsrud, this week. Mr. Liden has made a most efficient official and has handled quite a bunch of the public coin without an error being discovered. He states that the receipts at the office have totalled more than $2,000,000 during his incumbency and he is only sorry that the entire sum is not left in the treasury. At that there is about $60,000 left to begin the year with.

Mr. Gullingsrud has requested Mrs. Liden to remain as deputy and she has accepted. This will make matters much easier for the new official as the lady is thoroughly acquainted with every detail of the office.

FAIR ASSOCIATION MEETING ADJOURNED

The meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural association called for last evening was adjourned until 8 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, Jan. 18. Because of the illness of County Agent R. P. White it was impossible to get the full report on a number of activities in which the association is now engaged and the adjournment was taken in order that this needed information might be presented when officers are elected and the dates of the next fair set.

Secretary N. W. Tarrant announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election and another will have to be chosen. The matter of additional buildings will also come up and it is desired that every member of the association be present on the 18th. The meeting will be held in Judge Tarrant's office.

$25,000 DAMAGE TO CLOTHING STOCK

GILLER COMPANY STORE GUTTED AND LOSS IS PRACTICALLY COMPLETE

Fire on Tuesday night destroyed the stock and badly damaged the building of the Giller Clothing company at 214 LaBree avenue north. The origin of the fire is not known but the probabilities are that an overheated furnace was to blame.

The fire was discovered at about 11:30. A winter gale was blowing at the time and only the excellent work of the department prevented the flames from spreading to the wooden structures on either side of the Giller store.

The clothing stock is practically a total loss. Mr. Giller states that it was valued at $25,000 with insurance of $16,000. The building, which was owned by Mr. Giller, was valued at $4,500 and this was so badly damaged that it will probably have to be torn down. This is all the more likely because of its being situated in the fire limits where extensive repairs of wooden structures are not permitted under the city ordinances.

Mr. Giller will for the present continue business at his Third street store but will begin rebuilding as soon as possible.

COUNTY WILL BUILD BRIDGE AT KRATKA

WILL SPAN RIVER ABOUT FIVE MILES DIRECTLY SOUTH OF MAVIE

People residing in the township of Mayfield and the south half of the town of Kratka are to be provided with a bridge across the Red Lake river which will prove a great convenience in reaching the county seat as well as other points to the north of the stream. The county commissioners at their first meeting of the year instructed County Auditor T. P. Anderson to advertise for bids for such bridge at once in order that the work may be started as early as possible in the spring.

The new structure will span the river between sections 20 and 21 of Kratka township and will thus be almost exactly five and one-half miles south of Mavie in a direct line and only about four and a half miles from State Road No. 1.

It is expected this bridge will be similar to that placed across the river in Highlanding township last year.

STARTS NEW YEAR WITH CLEAN SLATE

SWEDISH LUTHERANS SUBSCRIBE FUNDS TO CLEAR CHURCH PROPERTY.

The Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, of which Rev. Albin A. Larson is pastor, starts in the new year absolutely free of debt. There was $800 still outstanding against the property when the annual meeting of the congregation was called on New Years eve and before the session was over the sum had been pledged by the parishioners.

The report of the pastor and trustees showed that the church had just closed the most active year in its history. The membership had substantially increased and the work of the congregation extended in many directions. War activities have taken up a large part of the time of the workers and now that this is no longer necessary it may safely be predicted that the congregation will move ahead at even a more rapid rate.

NATION MOURNS FOR ROOSEVELT

FORMER PRESIDENT PASSES AWAY PEACEFULLY AT OYSTER BAY HOME

PRESIDENT SEVEN YEARS

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH FOR SOME TIME BUT END CAME AS SURPRISE

Theodore Roosevelt, twenty-sixth president of the United States, died at his home at Sagamore Hill at 4:15 Monday morning. The famous American exponent of "the strenuous life" who had fought in the Spanish-American war and risked his life hunting big game and exploring the jungles of Africa, passed away peacefully while asleep, a victim of a clot in the lungs, the result of inflammatory rheumatism traceable to an infected tooth from which he suffered twenty years ago. To the very last Colonel Roosevelt acted in the interests of his country. His program of public addresses intended to hearten the nation for its part in the war and his strenuous resistance to enemy propagandists and pacifists was interrupted late in the fall when he entered the Roosevelt hospital for his long standing ailment. But the colonel continued to write editorials and public statements, the last one to be read being last night at an assembly arranged by the American Defense society. His last day was spent about his home reading and writing.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, there being services at Sagamore Hill and at Christ church, Oyster Bay, Rev. Dr. George Talmadge, rector, officiating.

Was President Seven Years.

Theodore Roosevelt was for 20 years one of the most striking figures in American life. He was born on Oct. 27, 1858, and as a boy was very frail. He applied himself to his physical development and early overcame the handicap.

His political career began with his election to the New York state assembly in 1882, his reelection following in 1883 and 1884. He was appointed a member of the civil service commission by President Harrison in 1886 and retained by President Cleveland in that post. He ran for mayor if New York the same year but was defeated by Abram S. Hewitt.

In 1895 he was appointed police commissioner of the city of New York, remaining in that position until appointed assistant secretary of the navy by President McKinley.

When the Spanish war broke out he resigned and was the moving spirit in raising the "Roughriders," a regiment of cavalry of which he became lieutenant-colonel.

Elected Vice President.

In 1898 Roosevelt became the Republican candidate for governor of New York and was elected by an overwhelming majority. At the Republican national convention of 1900 the nomination for the vice presidency was forced on him, much against his will, and he was elected with William McKinley. Upon the assassination of the latter in September, Mr. Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency. Again nominated at Chicago in 1904 he was elected by one of the largest majorities ever given a candidate, his opponent being Alton B. Parker.

On March 4, 1909, Roosevelt retired from office after a period of 20 years of unbroken public service. That same year he made his famous big game hunting trip into Africa and visited nearly every country in the world.

In 1912 Roosevelt was again brought forward by a wing of his party as a candidate for president, but the convention nominated William H. Taft. Thereupon he became the candidate of the Progressive party and was defeated at the election of Woodrow Wilson.

Lieut. Kjomme Returns.

First Lieutenant Hans O. Kjomme, former county attorney and captain of the home guard company, arrived Tuesday night from Beloit, Wis., where he had been for some time as military instructor at Beloit college. Lieut. Kjomme was assigned to Fort Brady, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., upon his graduation from the officers' training school at Fort Snelling and was later transferred to the Wisconsin college.

Lieut. Kjomme has been mustered out of the service but has not yet decided upon his future course. He is looking around before finally deciding and may conclude to again make Thief River Falls his home.

Attend Tax Meeting.

The county commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday appointed the following to attend the meeting of the State Tax commission at St. Paul on Feb. 15 and 16: Commissioners O. J. Peterson, Gus Naplin, J. S. Roy and W. G. Hunt, and County Auditor T. P. Anderson. This meeting is expected to be one of great importance as it is probable that several changes in the taxing laws will be put in shape to be presented to the legislature. The meeting will be held in the Old Capitol.

Good Red Cross Record.

Secretary Harry Woolson of the Silverton township Red Cross auxiliary, has submitted a report of the work done by that organization during the past year and it is one of which the members may well be proud. The total received through pledges and donations was $516.20, besides which there was a good sum from other sources, as follows: Membership fees, $17; basket social, $44.50; picnic, $17. Six comfort kits were turned out and the knitters produced 35 pairs of socks and four sweaters. Besides these there were six lots of miscellaneous sewing.

The ladies to whom credit is due for this excellent showing are Mesdames M. J. Berg, Victor Swanson, O. Evenson, H. C. Woolson, Syvert Hanson, Hans Peterson, John Sundt, H. P. Rud, Frank Fisher, W. J. Janda; Misses Ella Anderson and Emma Holland and the Junior Red Cross.

40 ARRESTS WERE MADE DURING 1918

POLICE RECORDS PROVE CITY TO BE COMPARATIVELY FREE OF CRIME.

The annual report of Chief of Police E. O. Erickson, which will be submitted to the city council next Tuesday evening, shows that we are a very peaceful community. The arrests did not average one per week, there being but 40 all told during the year 1918. Of these 25 were made by Chief Erickson, 11 by Patrolman Roy Morgan and one each by Alex Welch, Paul Midderigh, W. J. LaBree and Bernt Wold jointly, and C. Kelly.

Ten arrests were for disorderly conduct and a like number for drunkenness. Three were for larceny and three for speeding. The drunks paid a total of $42 in fines, the disorderlies were assessed $15, and the speeders $7. There were two arrests for fighting with a fine assessment of $10 and a similar number for assault costing the culprits $15. There was one arrest for selling liquor without a license, the accused being bound over. One auto owner paid $7 for running his car without a license and another paid the same amount for using profane language.

Stolen property to the value of $82.75 was recovered and thefts aggregating $107 were reported without the guilty parties being found. The total amount of money found on the person of those arrested was $208.88.

PERSHING HONORS LIEUT. D. H. BACKUS

COMMANDER CITES AIRMAN FOR HEROISM IN TWO UNEQUAL BATTLES

In the official U. S. Bulletin for Friday, Jan. 3, Gen. Pershing reports a number of soldiers as worthy of special mention for distinguished conduct. Among these is David H. Backus, formerly of this city. Gen. Pershing's report is as follows:

"First Lieut. David H. Backus, pilot, Air Service, 49th Aero Squadron. For extraordinary heroism in action near Etain, France, Sept. 26, 1918. Lieut. Backus as one of a patrol of five monoplanes that were attacked by nine enemy planes (Fokker type) in a superior position. The American patrol leader seeing the futility of giving combat, turned toward our lines with the enemy in close pursuit. One of our patrol, however, fell behind and the enemy planes drove upon him. Lieut. Backus, although beyond danger, on seeing the predicament of his comrade, turned and alone attacked the enemy, destroying one and dispersing the other.

"A bronze oak leaf for extraordinary heroism in the region of Landreville, France, Oct. 23, 1918. A patrol of American monoplane planes attacked an enemy formation of superior number. Lieut. Backus, flying near position, maneuvered above the attack to prevent other enemy planes from assisting their companions. In the midst of the combat Lieut. Backus saw three planes escaping from battle. He immediately gave chase and attacked and shot down all three of the enemy."

Will Ship Us a Cannon.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson yesterday introduced bills authorizing the Secretary of War to donate to the county seat in each of the thirteen counties of the Ninth district one captured cannon or German field piece. The counties to be thus favored are: Becker, Clay, Clearwater, Kittson, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Ottertail, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau and Wilkin.

The idea of requesting the War Department to donate a cannon for this purpose originated with a number of Thief River Falls ladies, all of whom had sons in the army. The matter was broached to Mayor G. A. Penney, who secured the aid of Daniel Shaw in the undertaking. The latter took the subject up with Congressman Steenerson, having at that time only Pennington county and Thief River Falls in mind, but the congressman has extended the request so that it includes all the counties of the district.

COUNTY DADS IN ANNUAL SESSION

PETERSON AGAIN CHAIRMAN. TWO NEW FACES AT THE COUNCIL TABLE

TIMES AWARDED PRINTING

BONDS OF OFFIALS APPROVED AND SALARIES FIXED FOR YEAR

The board of county commissioners held their first meeting of the year on Tuesday. No more harmonious session could be imagined, every proposition coming up being disposed of in record time and with the best of feeling prevailing.

Oscar J. Peterson, reelected from the Fifth district, was again chosen chairman, a position which he has filled to the entire satisfaction of his colleagues and the public during the past year. Robert McGinn of the Second was made vice chairman.

The two new members, W. G. Hunt of the First district and Gus Naplin of the Third, took to their duties like old hands and start out like men determined to win the approval of their constituents by a strict application to business. The other members of the board, Robert McGinn and J. S. Roy, are both substantial and dependable citizens.

Times Again Honored.

The matter of the county printing was quickly disposed of. The bid of The Times was read and Commissioner McGinn moved its acceptance. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Roy and carried unanimously. Thus was a question which has in former years been a source of vexation and ill feeling disposed of without a quibble of any kind arising.

The Times bid for the work, asking a fair price, the commissioners took the matter of service into consideration and there was nothing further to be said or done. The public will get its news through the only medium of general circulation in the county and everyone will be much better satisfied than if this contract was divided up among a number of bidders or had been let at a ridiculously low price to some publication with no standing.

Salaries Are Fixed.

The matter of fixing the salaries of the county officials was also quickly disposed of. The superintendent of schools will receive $1,550 per year, the sheriff $1,320, the county attorney $1,200. The auditor's salary is set by law and is regulated largely by the taxable valuation of the county, and the same is practically true as regards the judge of probate. The register of deeds' office is on a fee basis and the commissioners have nothing to do with its returns.

New Officials Take Charge.

The bonds of the officials chosen by the people at the last election were approved, the new men being: John Gullingsrud, treasurer; Theo. Quale, county attorney; I. C. Richardson, judge of probate, and G. M. Gunderson, superintendent of schools. T. P. Anderson, auditor, W. J. LaBree, sheriff, and N. J. Anderson, register of deeds, were all reelected. Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund holds over for two years longer.

The only appointment made at the first meeting was that of court house janitor, this going again to Paul Midderigh, who has attended to the job faithfully and well for many years.

SMITH AGAIN IN CHARGE OF OFFICE

RETURNED SOLDIER RESUMES WORK AS COMMERCIAL CLUB SECRETARY

Lieut. G. Howard Smith, who finished his course at the officers' training school at Camp Pike, Ark., just in time to be too late to get into the war, has returned to the city and resumed his several duties where he dropped them when he enlisted in the army. Lieut. Smith again becomes secretary of the Commercial club and of the Merchants' association and will give his attention to these duties while also attending to his law practice.

Both organizations of which the returning soldier was secretary have felt the effects of the war and have by common consent been allowed to fall back among the less important matters. From now on they may be expected to show signs of returning energy and Lieut. Smith is just the chap that will furnish whatever is lacking in order to make them function properly.

Mrs. Smith and little daughter, who have been in St. Paul while Mr. Smith was at camp, will return in a few days and the family will go to housekeeping at 716 Horace avenue north.

Miss Agnes Peterson, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gustafson in this city for the past week, returned to Minneapolis Saturday evening.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

In the death of Former President Theodore Roosevelt the country loses one of its greatest men and foremost citizens and the world perhaps the most picturesque personality of the present generation.

Roosevelt was a great American. The attitude of his countrymen towards him proved this. To them he was either the embodiment of all that was vigorous and vertuous or he was self-seeking, egotistical and selfish. It all depended upon the point of view of the beholder. There was no middle course when Roosevelt was considered—he was either hated or loved. His uncompromising attitude toward anything with which he did not agree assured for him the hearty dislike of those opposed to his views, while for those of the same shade of opinion he was acclaimed the leader and spokesman without any other being for a moment considered as worthy to supplant him.

Perhaps the most admired part of his versatile character was his absolute fearlessness. He was able to fight for his position with a vigor bordering on fierceness and had no time for weaklings, either among friends or enemies.

But now that he is gone Americans of every shade of opinion will unite in according him one of the very highest places in the hall of fame. He accomplished things, and his countrymen will forgive many shortcomings in a man who is capable of showing results.

Roosevelt absolutely refused to be bound by any precedent or program. He was not afraid to face the consequences of his actions and even when these did not meet with a full measure of approval, either on the part of his party or of the people as a whole, he defended them with such fearlessness that even those whom he could not convert yielded him a full measure of admiration.

He was a sterling American citizen and considered no sacrifice too great if made at the demand of his country. The death of one son on the battlefield in France and the wounding of another had a depressing effect on him and undoubtedly hastened his end.

He filled a large place in the world and history will do him justice. As has been the case with other notable men, his achievements will become more significant when viewed in a more mellow light by future generations.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.

The price fixed for the 1919 wheat crop by President Wilson will stand in spite of the fact that the carrying out of the program may entail a loss to the government. There was no other way out that would not carry with it a breaking of faith with the producers.

To judge by some of the things that have been written concerning the matter one might gather the impression that this possible loss is one of the most serious things the country will have to face in the next decade or so. Those who are interested in again getting wheat dealing back onto its former speculative basis would have the people believe that the outcome of the peace conference, the future of our merchant marine, the proposed league of nations and the eventual disposition of all the other questions arising as a result of the war are of slight moment when compared with this one item of facing a loss on the wheat crop.

The matter is not so serious as all that. There is not even a certainty that the government will be called upon to lose anything. Those who would have it appear as certain that we are due to take a billion dollar bump are figuring altogether too far ahead. The St. Paul Pioneer Press sees no reason for supposing that wheat will not actually be worth all that the guarantee calls for and gives the reasons for these conclusions in the following editorial:

"Sobering off a little, there is a disposition now to hold back on the wild estimates of the tremendous loss the government will shoulder in its guarantee of the 1919 wheat crop. Fortunes have been made and lost in guessing on the price of wheat only a month or two in advance; yet here are alarmists who undertake to tell what will be the crop of wheat of every producing country in the world months before much of it is planted and upon the telling base their fears of a government shortage of a billion dollars in paying for the surplus.

"If Russia and Argentina and Australia, for their part and the United States and Canada for theirs, shall produce normal wheat crops, next year, and find ready means to market them, then there is no doubt of a tremendous surplus and our government will be stung accordingly.

"Recently there was published a map of Europe with each country marked off with a showing of its food needs. Assuming it to be accurate, it will require a large part of the wheat crop which alarmists have passed over to surplus to meet the necessities. It is not reasonable to expect these European sections which produce wheat to return their normal yields the first summer after the war. It is absurd to imagine Russia and the Balkan states back to normal conditions within that period and it is fanciful to picture transportation means restored to normal at the same time.

"Let us wait for a world price of $1 for wheat and a billion bushel surplus of American wheat before we get panicky. Let us raise and harvest the wheat first of all. If there is one hundred per cent of truth in what we have been told of the food necessity all over Europe, there is not one hundred per cent of foundation for the wild speculations of how Uncle Sam will be stung through the price guarantee."

THE FREEMEN'S SPOKESMAN.

It must indeed be a partisan of the narrowest type who can view Europe's reception of President Wilson without a glow of pride. He is over there accepted not alone as the spokesman of America but also as the advocate of the principles for which all the world's democracies are striving. Everywhere he goes he is acclaimed as representing the country which came to the rescue when Europe was in danger of being overrun by the greatest foe of human liberty that has threatened since the days when monarchs were shorn of their power to dispose of their subjects at will.

Just now President Wilson is not a Democrat or a Republican or anything else with a party name. He is an American, representing American ideals at a time when other nations are just beginning to get some insight into what these mean. He is our spokesman just when we are most anxious that whatever is said shall make clearer to others our national aspirations and firm determination that absolute justice and fairness shall be the only guide by which the future status of nations shall be established.

It has been the lot of but few men in history to be accorded the attention now bestowed upon the American president, both at home and abroad. Persons and publications opposed to him politically are anxious to accord him full credit for his intentions and the enormous influence he is asserting, even though they may not always approve his methods or endorse his judgment.

President Wilson at this moment is the world's foremost citizen, and as Americans we should be proud of the fact. This need not and often does not, imply a complete agreement with his policies or those of the political party he represents, but he is speaking and acting for no particular party at this time. The fact is that when he does speak the world listens and generally approves. In remembering that we should forget everything except that he is an American.

THE THREE ESSENTIALS.

A writer in one of the most widely-read magazines in America says that whether or not the American business man will take advantage of the trade revival sure to come during and after the readjustment period depends on three things: Production, transportation, advertising. He points out that so far as production is concerned it is certain the country will be in better shape than ever. Regarding transportation he is not so sure, but is of the opinion that it will be taken care of.

The other essential—advertising—is the only item of the three over which the business man himself has much control, and it is as important as either of the other two. In fact, unless a demand for goods is created through advertising there will be but little need of any concern over production or transportation.

There is every assurance that American manufacturers and merchants will advertise during the coming year as never before. It is also certain that they will exercise great care in selecting the mediums through which their publicity campaigns are conducted. Newspapers and periodicals of no standing or circulation need expect no consideration in the distribution of this patronage as they will receive none. The established publication with a guaranteed circulation has a season of great business activity to look forward to, while any other kind is bound to be ignored.

Circulation is the basis of newspaper value so far as the advertiser is concerned. The journal that goes into the homes of the buying public is the one invariably selected by him. Others are never considered, no matter what their profession of faith or who their publishers may be.

In this connection The Times has the right to brag just a little. During the past year it is doubtful if another country paper in the state carried as much foreign advertising as did this paper—or advertising of any other kind, for that matter. The reason for this is that no other medium in this entire section so thoroughly covers its field. Experts who have examined The Times list say there is not another like it in the state. There are mighty few homes in Pennington county into which The Times does not find its way, the same being true in a slightly less degree of southern Marshall and northern Red Lake counties. On two of the rural routes running out of Thief River Falls there is not a single mail box into which the paper does not go.

These are the things outside advertisers investigate and they account for the excellent business of this kind enjoyed by the paper. Local advertisers are never so particular about finding out what they are paying for in this important respect, but where they have done so the result has been that The Times has been made their sole medium of newspaper publicity. The results have proven the wisdom of their decision.

All of which is highly satisfactory to all parties concerned.

FOR A FRIENDLY DISCUSSION.

The city council has invited every person interested to a conference at the Auditorium on Friday evening. The principal subject of discussion will be the paving of our business streets and the council hopes to get such an expression of opinion as will warrant its going ahead with the work. There is no question but that the members of the city board realize fully the necessity for undertaking this improvement at an early date, but naturally they wish to sound out the taxpayers on the subject before committing themselves to any definite program.

Those who attend this meeting—and it is hoped that there will be many—should remember that the subject under discussion is one that affects the entire city and that personalities have no place in it. The one great trouble in matters of this kind is the difficulty in sticking to the subject at hand. Too many extraneous and irrelevant issues are permitted to occupy the attention of those present, with the result that but little good is accomplished.

It is rather to be feared that all those attending this meeting will not be in favor of paving our streets. These objectors will be in the minority but at that may be expected to make their presence felt. That they have a perfect right to oppose the project if they have any reason for doing so is certain. It is not this kind of opposition that need be feared. There is another kind, however, from which far more trouble may be expected. There are men who for personal reasons will oppose any project another may suggest, no matter how much merit it may have. Their reason for so doing has nothing to do with the question under discussion and is purely personal, but they can always muster a sufficient following to make things disagreeable. The original cause of friction may be something that happened years ago and has been forgotten by everyone except the parties most directly involved, but this apparently makes no difference. They are bound to buck anything, even for the public good, eminating from a source against which they have a grievance.

This will never do. Thief River Falls has now reached a point where it is more necessary than ever that the citizens pull together. Personal disagreements must be sunk in the carrying out of projects inaugurated for the entire community's good. The people as a whole are not at all interested in the personal disagreements of any two sets of men or of cliques with divergent ambitions. What the taxpayers want and have a right to expect is that their affairs shall be looked after in the best manner possible and that there shall be no obstructionist tactics employed where their interests are at stake. It will be well to bear this in mind on Friday night.

It should be remembered that the councilmen are personally no more interested in this matter than are other taxpaying citizens. They cannot be expected to go ahead with a project of such importance without feeling that they have the support of the people. For this reason everyone who is interested in the matter—and that includes every property owner and tenant within the proposed paving district—should be on hand Friday night for the purpose of backing them in this matter. If this is done the preliminary work will be started within a very short time and everything will be in readiness by spring. Outside of the actual value of such improvement, the undertaking itself will help make next summer one of the busiest in the history of the city.

IT'S TIME TO WAKE UP.

No one thing is of more importance to Pennington county and this entire section than that the Red Lake river shall be maintained at something near an equal level the year around. Its value as a drainage artery depends upon a control of the waters at its source and the industrial plants along its course can only be assured of power if the waters now going to waste are in some manner held back until needed.

But even of greater importance than this is the drainage of the lands now being overflowed during the early part of the year, making their cultivation impossible. These lands would carry the very finest crops of grain, hay and vegetables could they but be insuhed against inundation. Under present conditions, when the world is clamoring for a greater supply of food products, this matter should be one of the gravest concern.

It is just ten years now since Congressman Steenerson first attempted to secure the placing of controlling works at the outlet of the Red Lakes. Every year since that time the matter has been brought up, and the project so far advanced that estimates and surveys have been made. Now there is every hope of something definite being accomplished.

The Indians on the reservation have petitioned for permission to spend a portion of their tribal funds to help the project along, as it would mean the drainage of a large part of their lands. The state of Minnesota has taken an interest not heretofore displayed in the matter and the federal government evinces every disposition to recognize the value of the undertaking.

An appropriation will be sought at the next session of the leigslature for the purpose of dredging and straightening the stream in order that it may perform its drainage mission more efficiently. There are good grounds for believing that the lawmakers will recognize the fact that a comparatively small outlay will make thousands of acres available for farming and will thus add greatly to the taxable property of the state.

The people of Thief River Falls have never taken as much interest in this matter as it seems to warrant. Outside of its value in making a large section tributary to the city available for farms, it has a direct bearing on the city's future. The Red Lake river furnishes power for the municipal lighting plant, but the dam through which it is made available is owned by private parties. The city pays a rental for the power and this pay goes on as long as the dam is in shape to meet the requirements, even though the river gets so low that a sufficient head of water for this purpose cannot be maintained.

Engineers claim that the stream is gradually getting lower and that it will only be a short time until the flow will be insufficient for power purposes during a considerable part of the year. This will mean a big outlay for additional engines in order to keep the city's electric plant going, while at the same time the rental for the dam will go right on.

For this reason the city of Thief River Falls is financially interested in the plan to control the flow so as to make power available at all times. It is something to which the city council and Commercial club should give their immediate attention with a view to aiding the legislative representatives from the district in every way possible. Nothing of this kind has been done as yet and the matter is of such vital importance that any delay is dangerous. Crookston and Red Lake Falls have committees appointed for the purpose of assisting their representatives in getting the matter properly before the legislature, and Thief River Falls should be similarly provided. No community along the entire course of the stream has more at stake in this matter and it is time we wake up to the fact.

IT'S A HAPPY DAY WHEN BOYS MEET

FORMER SCHOOLMATES RUN ACROSS EACH OTHER WHILE SERVING IN FRANCE.

Francis Burns is a Thief River Falls boy with the 20th engineers in France, and while his duties seem to have kept him out of the actual front lines he has nevertheless had his full share of experience. He writes:

"Ralph Falk just dropped in to see me this afternoon. He has had a siege of the flu and lost about 30 pounds during his illness. When we meet or get together it is just like having a dream. Little did we ever think during our high school career that we would meet over here. A friendship once made, and real, is hard to break and when we two duffers meet we are both just sitting on top of the world.

"Around camp the usual routine is still in effect but today our sergeant told us to be ready to go on our liberty Friday. Hence I see where the monotony is going to be broken for awhile.

"In going on a furlough one is sent to a rest area where he is allowed seven days. I think the trip calls for 15 days leave, which includes the time spent in traveling. Transportation and everything else is paid by the government. At these areas entertainments and amusements are prepared for the soldier. I will tell you all about it in my next letter.

"Expect you are wondering what part of France we are going to so I will proceed to disclose our plans, but I don't know how they will mature: Leaving here Friday morning and get into Paris so we can see the big parade Saturday in honor of President Wilson. We are only allowed to stay in Paris 24 hours. Our passes are to Lyon. This city is located in southeastern France near the Italian border. So much for our furlough.

"Oft times I wander away across that deep blue water and in a vision I see the Park hotel and wholesale grocery house and home as if I were standing on the platform at the Soo depot. Then I'll stop to reflect a minute and find myself dreaming and still in Frogland.

"Time is again flying and as I have a washing in soak which I must rub a little before taps I think it is time for me to be saying good night."

Land for the Soldiers.

(Clearbrook Journal.)

Now that the soldier boys are returning home, our representative in Congress would be conferring the boys, the state and the people in general of this section a great favor in using his valuable influenze in opening the Red Lake Indian reservation to settlement, giving the boys who fought for freedom, first choice to the land. The manner of disposing of the land to the soldiers is most correctly described by an outline issued by Immigration Commissioner Fred D. Sherman, who intends to present his proposition before the coming state legislature. The Red Lake reservation contains thousands of acres of choice lands and is none too good for the returning boys. This land, which is now a vast waste, could be cleared, tilled, drained and be made one of Minnesota's greatest agricultural centers in a few years, besides adding an enormous wealth to the state.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The city of Red Lake Falls offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the party or parties who attempted the life of County Attorney Van R. Brown by placing a bomb in his office.

Ex-County Auditor Mullarky was preparing to move his family from Red Lake Falls to Thief River Falls and give his attention to his mercantile business.

A stage line was projected between Crookston and Thief River Falls for the purpose of carrying the mails, the railway service having been discontinued.

Mayor Dobner called a public meeting of citizens to be held at the city hall for the purpose of discussing matters of importance to the future of the city. The electric light subject was one of the matters expected to come up.

There was a rather serious epidemic of grippe in the city, but no deaths from the disease had been reported.

Miss Lizzie Brown returned to the city after teaching a very successful term in the Nordhaagen district.

For ten days the thermometer never registered higher than 15 degrees below zero and on one occasion it went down to 45.

The Great Northern road announced that until further notice there would be tri-weekly train service between Crookston and Thief River Falls.

Ten Years Ago.

Three fire alarms in one week with the mercury down to 40 below kept the department in good humor.

Congressman Steenerson was attempting to get a dam placed at the outlet of Red Lake river. The cost was estimated at $274,456.

There was a movement on foot to reduce the number of saloons in the city from 16 to 10.

The report of County Attorney Germo to the attorney general showed that 53 criminal cases had been prosecuted in the county during the year just past.

The Norwestern Telephone company was granted permission to install two long distance booths in the city.

The people of Red Lake Falls believed they had a chance to secure the location of a normal school near that city.

Wheat was bringing $1.00 per bushel and flax $1.41.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Madam Paderewski's White Cross Work For Stricken Poland

The subject for discussion at the meeting of the Woman's club on Monday afternoon was "Madam Pederewski," and the following paper was presented by Mrs. H. C. Johnson, who stated that the White Cross Work being done by the Polish lady was what appealed to her most at this time

"The highly respected and distinguished wife of the great Pederewski has taken a heavy burden upon her shoulders. She is sacrificing everything for the purpose of aiding humanity. Not only is she giving her time and labor but financially she is contributing generous amounts.

"The work of providing the Polish army in France with such assistance and comforts as are generally given by the American Red Cross is under the direction of the Polish White Cross, of which Madam Paderewski herself is president.

"If today we could peep upon the battlefields of France we would see the Polish uniforms of horizon blue with white eagles embroidered upon their shoulder straps. Thousands of these soldiers have been fighting at the front by the side of the Allies as an independent Polish army. They carry their own banner—the White Eagle of Poland.

"The American Polish army contains 15,000 recruits from the United States and for every one of these there is a vacant place in some Polish household in America. These boys have been in France, in the trenches, giving their vigorous young bodies in the midst of danger in order to do all that men can do to win this greatest of all world's wars. Men in the Polish army are battling for the United States as well as Poland.

"One unit of Polish nurses have gone over there from this country and others are in training. The Polish girls wear a costume of Polish white with a white cross backing the white-crowned eagle.

"The Poles of the United States who are citizens within draft age have either been at the front or are in training. They have fighting blood in their veins and the blue of their uniforms is today decorated with a more vivid crimson than that which forms a background for the white eagle of Poland—the emblem under which they fight. The record of the Polish army in France still continues to arouse the admiration of the French and American soldiers.

"Their graves, with the fresh-turned sod are open to the sunny skies of Picardy. Those who have read of the killed and wounded among the American forces in France have noticed the large number of Polish names. Already on the fields of France the markers for the Polish dead are appearing, bearing the simple inscription, 'Dead For Poland. They battled for us as well as for Poland.'

"Through the efforts of Madam Paderewski a hospital organization known as the Polish White Cross has been established for the aid of the wounded Poles. There are three Polish base hospitals in France, also a soldiers' home in Paris. The French government offered a base hospital but it needed much repairing, while the one in Paris carried a rental fee of 36,000 francs. Gen. Archinard gave a hospital of 50 beds and equipped and maintained it at his expense during the war period. The other two are calling for money necessary to maintain them and the largest amount has been given by the Poles. On the night of Madam Paderewski's stirring appeal for funds at Buffalo there were 1,800 Polish soldiers at the meeting, this being the night they were leaving for overseas. This was the first time in America that a woman had an opportunity of addressing such a large body of troops. On this occasion the American Red Cross presented a canteen to the Polish White Cross.

"Madam Paderewski, with her assistants, are caring for the patriotic, noble, heroic boys in the Polish army, trying to hearten them through moments of discouragement, pain, sickness and depression, reminding them that their fighting has been for the noblest of causes—the freedom of all peoples and the establishment of a united and independent country with free access to the sea.

"You were not fighting alone, Polish boys so dear. My own and other dear heroes—ones of our hearts—were with you at every step, all fighting for honor and home.

"Joyful because of the flag of Poland you may display, your loving eyes nevertheless will turn to the Stars and Stripes floating higher in the air. You look with pride toward this symbol of liberty and justice under the protection of which many of you have lived.

"Madam Paderewski's chief wish is that her voice might be loud and powerful enough to reach every ear and every heart to tell of the love and gratitude Poland has for the American people.

"Through her efforts those sweet sisters of mercy are holding the cup of cold water to the parched throats and swollen tongues of her soldier boys—and yours and mine—kneeling beside them when the hours of supreme sacrifice comes, to help them across the dark river and whisper in their ears of the blessed promise of the Savior. Never again will they be dragged by the hand of Prussianism, with their beautiful bodies riddled by the bullets of a German firing squad.

"When in future years the question is asked of us: 'Where were you in the great world's war?' we can answer, 'We kept the home fires burning, our courage and faith undimmed.' And when Madam Paderewski is asked, 'Where were you in the great world's war?' she can answer, 'I was there when their stars of blue changed to silver and gold,' and as we listen we hear her softly say:

"In death alone the Poles to foes would yield
The silver eagle on a crimson field.
Deep wrong prevailed in vain—that flag appealed—
The silver eagle on a crimson field.

In response to her gratitude as Old Glory is unfurled, let us kindly say:

"Your flag and my flag,
Oh, how much it holds.
Your land and my land,
Secure within its folds.
Your heart and my heart
Beat quicker at the sight
Sun-kissed, wind-tossed
Red, Blue and White.
The one flag, the great flag,
The flag for me and you—
Glorified all else beside
The Red, the White and Blue.

The Annual Meeting

The annual stockholders' meeting in the creamery association will soon be held. All shareholders are urgently requested to be present because each shareholder and patron is partly responsible for the success of the creamery association.

The board of directors are glad to get suggestions how to improve the business at any of their monthly meetings. Constructive criticism is always welcome. But the proper time to decide about the way the business ought to be run is at the annual meeting.

The creamery's welfare is dependent upon each shareholder doing his share in boosting the business. Each shareholder is partly responsible for a business which this year will exceed a quarter of a million dollars, so be sure to attend.

MISSING SOLDIER QUICKLY LOCATED

HOME SERVICE COMMITTEE FINDS HIM WHEN ALL OTHER AGENCIES FAIL.

A soldier from a neighboring county was lost. His mother had not heard from him for four months. Her last letter was returned. The fighting was over; the Government had sent no word that he was dead or wounded or missing. But where was he? What had become of him? Why didn't he write? Was he lying sick in a hospital somewhere, thousands of miles away? A neighbor directed the mother to the information bureau of the Red Cross Home Service in that town. They showed her where to send, through the Red Cross, and helped her write the letter. That made her feel better; somebody cared, somebody was doing something about it. Her letter set in motion the machinery of our great Red Cross organization. Trained searchers hunted for the boy in camp and hospital. And in due time word came back that he was in such and such a company and regiment, doing his duty and eating three meals a day, wondering why his mother's letters never reached him, and looking forward to the time when he could come home. The Red Cross is here to help you, and is able to help you. Pack all your troubles in your old kit bag and take them to the nearest Home Service information bureau.

The Home Service committee of the Pennington county chapter, with Mrs. J. J. Richter as chairman, will be glad to assist in a similar manner.

HIGH FOOD PRICES STILL TO PREVAIL

NOT MUCH CHANCE OF A DROP FOR SOME TIME TO COME.

High food prices for many months to come. This is the unmistakable indication at the present time, according to G. Howard Davison, speaking for the National Agricultural society.

"Some lines of foods may show a decline," Mr. Davison said, "but as to staples, Americans can make up their minds that the world demand is strictly in control of prices and that this condition will endure for a long time to come.

"The end of the war has brought little or no relief. Food prices are just as largely under the control of the European situation as they were a year ago. It is true there are enough hogs coming into the markets just now to bring about a decline in the price of meats and fats if conditions were usual, and it is likewise true that the present outlook is for a surplus of wheat in the spring. But the government says the minimum price for wheat and hogs must not be lowered.

"The government, fully conscious that the appalling scarcity of foodstuffs abroad will exist for many months, clearly is continuing its policy of maintaining high price levels in order to stimulate production to the utmost. Few will dispute the farsighted wisdom of this policy."

Soot Removal Method in Domestic Heating Plant

COMMON SALT WILL OVERCOME DIFFICULTY IN ANY FURNACE.

In these days of high prices for coal it does not pay very well to try and heat through a coating of soot in a furnace. The state fuel administration has issued a circular telling of a safe and sure way of getting rid of the soot nuisance and it will pay any furnace owner to apply the remedy, which is very simple.

Common salt, either of the table variety or fine grain rock salt (such as is used in making ice cream), has been found effective in removing soot and tar from the heating surfaces, flues, smoke pipes or chimneys of hot water, hot air, or steam plants in residences or apartment buildings.

For a residence of eight or ten rooms, proceed as follows: Get the fire into good condition so that the fuel bed is bright or incandescent and on the hottest part of the fire spread about two or three handsful of salt; then close the fire door and open the drafts. The heating plant will immediately become filled with dense white fumes which will penetrate to every part of the furnace, smoke flues and chimney, and in from one-half to one hour, the effects of the salt will disappear. Then brighten up the fire again and repeat the operation two or more times until all heating surfaces have been entirely cleaned.

Later one application of the salt treatment once or twice a week will keep the heating surfaces in clean and efficient condition.

The chemical action will not attack iron or be in any way detrimental to your heating plant.

For larger or smaller heating plants, increase or decrease the amount of salt proportionately.

Ole Simonson.

It comes as a sad surprise to the many friends and acquaintances of Ole Simonson that he passed away at a hospital in Minneapolis, Dec. 22. The cause of death was bronchial-pneumonia. He was sick only a short time.

Ole Simonson was born in Norway Dec. 26th, 1853. At the age of 19 he came to this country. In 1878 he homesteaded in Jackson county. In 1879 he was married to Laura Olson of Chicago. This union was blessed with eight children. One daughter, Inga, died here in Thief River Falls in 1902. His wife, four daughters, three sons, one sister and eleven grandchildren survive him and mourn the loss of a kind husband, father and brother.

Simonson moved with his family to Thief River Falls in 1901 after having lived on his homestead in Jackson county for 22 years. He lived here for 7 years until he moved back to Lakefield, Minn. Last fall he moved to Minneapolis to live.

The remains were taken to Lakefield for burial. Funeral services were held from the Norwegian Lutheran church, of which he was a member.

While he resided in Thief River Falls he and his family were members of the Synod church and for a term of years Simonson was a member of the board of trustees. He was always a conscientious and consistent worker in the church. He was liberal and open handed when some one needed help. He never failed to attend public worship when he could. His memory will long be cherished by his host of friends here, and the most sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Inga Grolid.

Mrs. Inga Grolid, aged 31 years, wife of Sigurd O. Grolid, died last Friday afternoon of heart trouble. The funeral was held from the family residence, 511 Kendall avenue south, on Saturday afternoon, Rev. A. N. Skogerboe of Our Savior's Lutheran church officiating. The remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Grolid's maiden name was Inga Dahl and she was born in Norway, coming to this country with her parents when four years of age. The family resided at St. Hilaire for seven years before moving to this city, deceased being married to Mr. Grolid while a resident of that village. Besides the husband, three children survive, the eldest seven years of age and the youngest four years. There is also her mother, Mrs. Julia Peterson, and her two half-sisters, Misses Christine and Clara Peterson.

During her long residence in the neighborhood, Mrs. Grolid made a large number of warm friends. She was a woman of great charm of character and her untimely taking off has left the deepest sorrow among the many who knew her. To the bereaved husband and children particularly is the deepest sympathy extended.

Mrs. Amelia L. Palmer.

Mrs. Amelia L. Palmer, wife of George L. Palmer, passed away at her home in Cloverleaf township, on Jan. 5th. Deceased was born Sept. 18, 1852, and was 66 years, 3 months and 26 days old at the time of her death.

The remains were shipped from this city on Tuesday to the southern part of the state for burial.

Card of Thanks

We wish hereby to extend our sincere thanks to the friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear Mabel, and for the many floral offerings.

GEO. NEWBURY

Make Your Building Plans Now

Every indication points to a revival of building activities during the coming year.

Our advice is that you make your preparations now. Building material is not high in comparison with other products.

We predict that lumber prices will advance rather than decline, so it will be to your advantage to buy early.

W. C. T. U.

Believing that the strength and success of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is due to our dependence upon God and thanking Him for the wonderful progress of the temperance reform, we hereby call upon every Christian man and woman, every minister of the gospel and every member of our union, to observe Thursday, Jan. 9 as a day of special prayer either in your home or at prayer meetings, and that much time be spent in supplication. First, for the members of the state legislature, that they may vote for the adoption of the resolution for ratification of the federal prohibition amendment. Second, for God's blessing on the patriotic service of the Woman's Temperance Union. Third, for our brave fighters in camp, at the front, or in the hospitals, and for relatives and friends in homes, where service stars have been changed to hallowed gold; that by the power of God they may be sustained and comforted, and that Christian women everywhere may hear the call of the World Woman's Christian Temperance Union to work united for the coming of Christ's Kingdom; that this land and other lands may be freed from the curse of the legalized liquor traffic.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

Anton Eklund, who has been on the sick list for two weeks, is again back with the car repair crew.

The storeroom crew is busy taking inventory these days. I. H. Fossum is superintending the job.

Nils Nilson is again back in the blacksmith shop after having enjoyed a vacation of about a week.

Miss Marie Stensrud, the only woman employed here as coach cleaner, is back after a severe tussle with the flu.

Andrew Hagen is back at his job on the rip track after having been laid up for a spell on account of sickness.

Miss Selma Simonson, ticket cashier at the Soo passenger depot, spent New Years with her people at St. Hilaire.

R. A. Preston has been put on as agent at Plummer, taking the place of G. A. Krueger, who has a leave of absence.

Palmer O. Laken is the new station helper at Calloway. Milton J. Walden has been given a similar position at Waubon.

C. E. Strock checked in as agent at Radium on Saturday, taking the place of P. J. Bauer, who is down with the flu.

Miss Albina Doucet, stenographer in the office of City Agent H. A. Pratt, spent News Years day at the home of her parents at Oklee.

Because of the dropping off of business incident to the holidays, Miss Lena Robertson has been temporarily relieved of her duties as extra yard clerk.

A. O. Paulson has been made temporary agent at Lancaster, taking the place of E. K. Ingebretson, who was called to Minneapolis because of the serious illness of his brother.

B. Bergsten has been put on as night operator at Alexandria, relieving L. M. Halvorson, who has been transferred to Nekoma to take the place of Agent J. M. Aitken, down with the flu.

Supt. W. A. Barnard went to Minneapolis Monday for the purpose of attending the funeral of W. M. Gish, superintendent of commissary for the Soo line, who died Sunday and was buried Tuesday afternoon.

E. J. Langevin, third trick operator at Plummer, has been given the second trick formerly held by R. A. Preston, who in turn has been promoted to agent. The third shift at the key is now being taken by John P. Farr.

Louis Vevea accompanied Charles Skog to Minneapolis this week, it being necessary for the latter to consult a specialist in regard to his eyes. Mr. Vevea is back at work but Mr. Skog may have to remain for some time.

A. W. Swerine, operator at Mahnomen, was forced to lay off for four days because of illness last week, his place being taken by O. P. Johnson. Mr. Johnson later checked in as agent at Ottertail, relieving J. A. B. Schaffer, who has sickness in his family.

Salnes, road master at Overley, were in the city on Monday and attended the safety first meeting that evening. L. P. Greene, superintendent of safety for the Soo system, delivered an address which was instructive and enjoyable. There was a particularly good attendance.

The Soo line has found it necessary to reduce the crews on the runs west out of Thief River Falls. The lull in grain shipments always noted at holiday time is this year more pronounced than ever and railroad business has naturally fallen off. This condition will not remain long as it is estimated that there is at least 30 per cent of the 1918 grain crop still in the hands of the farmers.

The Brotherhood of Railway Employes held their installation of officers on Monday evening, the installing officer being H. M. Culver of Chicago, national secretary of the organization. While here he wrote a number of insurance policies for resident members and delivered a highly appreciated address. After the installation lunch was served and a social evening enjoyed. Following are the officers for the year: Emil Norquist, conductor; Richard Rupprecht, engineer; Ole Offerdahl, fireman; Adolph Williamson, motorman; Geo. Erickson, flagman; Ed. Rupprecht, brakeman; Henry Goethe, machinist; Griff H. Johnson, treasurer.

When He Comes Home

For a long time we have been promising ourselves that we would undertake those needed improvements as soon as the war was over and "The Boys Come Back."

The war is over and the boys are coming back. Now let us prepare to carry out our intentions. It is a duty we owe them. They will want something to occupy their minds as soon as the novelty of being home wears off. What would be better for them than fixing up the place? You will want that boy to remain and nothing will help in deciding him to do so more than making his surroundings pleasant. Remember he has seen many thing and experienced much. He will come back full of enthusiasm and a desire for improvement. Give him a more vivid interest in his home by letting him help you fix it up.

We will be pleased to make the lowest possible figures on the Materials you may need.

Letters from the BOYS

SILENCE CAUSED QUEER FEELING

AFTER TWO MONTHS OF STEADY POUNDING THE STILLNESS SEEMED STRANGE.

HOLMGREN A DISPATCHER

MARCHED STEADILY FOR FIVE NIGHTS TO REACH FRONT LINES.

Since the censorship has been removed letters from the boys in France have been more interesting in spite of the fact that the fighting is now a thing of the past. The soldiers are permitted to tell something of their experiences and they are surely improving the opportunity. City Agent W. E. Baker of the Great Northern, this week received a letter from Randolph A. Holmgren, who is with the 22nd Engineers. This communication contains many things of interest and gives a particularly good idea of the feelings with which the boys greeted the announcement that the fighting had stopped. Private Holmgren writes under date of Dec. 4, from Bantheville, his letter being in part as follows:

"We have a lot of snow but no rain yet. One lad found a few flowers the other day, which is not so bad for December weather. Am at present living in a German dugout which sure is making a very comfortable home for us, in fact, the best we have occupied since coming over here. Previous to our arrival here—Nov. 5—we had been occupying German dugouts, not none were in such good condition.

Attacked by Subs.

"I suppose you will be interested in hearing something of my past four months of army life in France. We embarked from Hoboken on July 31, and 12 days later landed at Brest in France. Our convoy of about 30 ships, including the sub-destroyers and troop ships, experienced a submarine attack the day before we landed, but the encounter turned out in our favor. One German U-boat, and possibly two, lay on the bottom of the Atlantic when the excitement was over. Our ships were all kept in the dark and we were obliged to stand lifeboat drill twice a day—daybreak and sundown. We kept our lifebelts on day and night from the time we took our last look at the Statue of Liberty until we sighted France.

Built New Hospitals.

"Ten days were spent at Brest in building a hospital, after which we entrained for eastern France. A five day and night journey aboard a French train brought us to Gondrecourt. Here we were transferred to a narrow gauge railroad and a day's ride took us to Sorcey on the Metz front. Here we took over and put in shape our first railway. I spent a week as phone operator and for the same length of time had the pleasure of dispatching trains. This was a peach of a job and I was sorry when our company was ordered to the front and I was obliged to go along.

Walked 90 Kilos.

"During the St. Michael drive our company was up at Paigny building stockades for the prisoners captured during that scrap. Later I was transferred to Abainville, the division terminal of this narrow gauge, and there I filled the dispatcher's chair, working third trick. On Sept. 14 we made a start for the front—on foot—and as the hike was one of about 90 kilos it took us five nights to complete it. Several nights were spent in marching through cold rains. We camped at Aubreville for a few days waiting for the drive to start. Fritz came over quite often on a bombing expedition in the night and during the day sent his shells over. Quite often he managed to 'get' one or more of our boys. The company has been very lucky. Not a man lost, although we have been exposed to all sorts of dangers for weeks at a stretch.

"At Aubreville we were driven out of an orchard where we had decided to camp during our stay. The German shells fell too close for comfort.

The Big Offensive.

"On the night of Sept. 26, toward midnight, we were awakened by a heavy barrage which sounded as if hell had broken loose. The sky was one sheet of fire and a thousand guns or more were sending their greetings to Fritz. Sleep was impossible and when the big navy guns, mounted on railway trucks, began to share in the fireworks the ground underneath us trembled at each report. We lay only a hundred yards from the guns thruout the night.

"On the morning of the 27th the barrage let up and we made our first march onto a real battle field. Towards evening we came upon what had been 'No Man's Land' for four years, until our boys took it the day before. The sights there were just about what you might expect on any battlefield.

Built a Railway.

"Here we built a railway thru the woods and over a field, making a connection between the French railway and the one used by the Germans before they were driven out. After completing this we moved toward Sheppy and continued our work. All this while I was doing my bit with a pick and shovel, this being necessary in order to get supplies and ammunition to the Rhine. After completing our road at Sheppy we moved up here and began filling shell holes and replacing broken rails over a narrow gauge which leads thru Villers and Montigny. The day we came here the ground was covered with wreckage with here and there a German who had paid the price. In places they lay only a few feet apart. Once in a while we came upon one of our boys also.

Found Many Dead Germans.

"On Thanksgiving day I ran across a few dugouts and here lay between 30 and 40 dead Germans, evidently gassed. This being an out-of-the-way place no one would expect to find them.

"A few days after coming here we learned that a conference was in progress between the Germans and the Allies. The guns were still banging away and we could hardly believe it all was to cease on the 11th at noon.

Then Came the End.

"We waited patiently, and sure enough, it let up. A queer feeling came over us as silence succeeded the roar. This was the first time we had spent such a quiet day for two months. We could sleep at night without a thought of Fritz coming over, which was a great relief.

"This is known as the Argonne forest, near the Beleau woods. The last drive took place thru Bantheville, located north of Verdun near Dun Sur Meuse, and Villers. The French people are coming back to rebuild their homes. Many of these which four years ago were pretty little places are now nothing but a pile of stones while the gardens are a series of shell holes.

"I expect to be back with you before long—possibly within 60 days—when I will give a better account of what I have seen."

IN THE BIG FIGHT OF ARGONNE WOOD

CLARENCE AGA SERVED ON FIRST GUN SENT FORWARD TO BATTLE.

Clarence Aga, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Aga of this city, was one of the lucky ones in the late war. He was where the danger was greatest but escaped without injury. In a letter written on Nov. 24 he says:

"Will tell you of a few things that happened after leaving Camp Mills, New York. We sailed on the good ship Cretic, an English vessel of the White Star line, on the 19th of May, and landed in Liverpool about the last of that month. From there we went to Winchester, an old English city. Stayed there a couple of nights when we left for Southampton were we boarded the boat and crossed the English channel. Arrived at LaHavre and stayed there one night, then started for LaCourtine. That is where I was in the hospital for 11 days with a bad foot. Stayed there until about the first of August, then went to Toul. From there we went into the St. Mihiel drive of which you may have read something about in the papers. Left after the drive for the Argonne woods and went into action on the 6th of October at Apremont.

"That was sure some fight. We advanced a mile or two past Fleville. On the night of October 31st I was sent with the rest of the gun squad on the first piece forward to protect the infantry in the big drive that started on the morning of Nov. 1st. That drive is what settled the big fight. I could tell you enough to fill a book if I wanted to write it, but hope that I will soon be home to tell you a lot more. It is enough to know that it is all over and that God was with me and took care of me at all times. I had a few very narrow escapes.

"Don't know where Selmer is, but think he will we going home together. My outfit is now at Ste. Menehould, a city that was not destroyed. It seems rather funny, as most of the places I passed through were nothing but heaps of ruins."

JUNIOR RED CROSS HEALTH CAMPAIGN

WILL STAGE REGULAR TOURNAMENT DURING MONTH OF FEBRUARY.

The Junior Red Cross and the National Legion of Modern Health Crusaders, the children's organization in the National Tuberculosis association have united to further health work in schools. To this end the joint organizations have set aside the month of February as special health month and made plans for launching a health tournament to begin Feb. 9, and to close May 24.

The tournament will be staged in Minnesota during the period observed nationally. Headquarters for the Junior Red Cross in Minnesota are located at 205 Essex building, with Miss Helen Harrison in charge of Junior membership. The Minnesota Public association, Old Capitol, St. Paul is the Minnesota Representative of the Modern Health Crusaders.

Every elementary class or school in Minnesota will be eligible as "combatants." Supplies necessary for the tournament may be obtained from the above address.

BOTHUN NOW ON ALSACE BORDER

FORMER TIMES EMPLOYE HAS BEEN IN FRANCE SINCE MAY 24.

WITH THE 20TH ENGINEERS

THANKSGIVING DINNER AN OCCASION LONG TO BE REMEMBERED.

Ben E. Bothun, formerly a reporter on The Times, has been a member of the 20th engineering corps for more than a year and has been in France during eight months of that time. His division has been where things were happening all the time and his letters have always been full of interest. Writing after the signing of the armistice, he says in part:

"On this glorious Thanksgiving day we have much to be thankful for, as does the world for we are freed from Prussianism. It's all over but the shouting we and the rest of the two million American soldiers over here are going to do when we hit New York.

A Sumptuous Repast.

"Now that it is all over certain rights have been given to us in writing but before I go on and tell you of my life over here I'm going to tell you what we had for dinner. It was without a doubt one of the best meals served to soldiers in the A. E. F. today. The menu was: Roast pig, (the little thing cost 600 francs, or approximately $120), brown gravy, mashed potatoes, creamed cauliflower, bread, butter, jam, cake, pie, coffee, almonds, cheese and cigars. Now if anyone says that isn't some feed a perfectly good bullet ought to be wasted on him without loss of time.

"I will now try to get the dilatory digits of my writing hand limbered up, using my thumb as right guide, and proceed to tell you of things over here, now that the censor has removed his green whiskers and appears as a pretty harmless individual. At last the strange mystery of 'Somewhere in France' will be cleaned up and all guessing will come to a close.

"When I wrote to you last our armies and the allied armies were locked in a death grip with the Hun until that eventful day of Nov. 11 p. m., when all hostilities ceased. When I say France went wild, I'm putting is mildly. I guess they're still celebrating in Paris as the papers always tell of some parade or event.

"Taking you back to America for a minute. It was on the afternoon of May 9 at 4:55 p. m., that our ship slowly moved out of dock at Hoboken from which place I could see the skyscrapers of New York City. We sailed out slowly, everyone in the hole except the guards and as I happened to be on guard duty, I saw our passing out of the harbor and got a last farewell look at Miss Statue of Liberty. At 9:30 that night we had gotten out to sea and could barely see the beckoning lights of little old New York and nearby lighthouses. They winked at us through a thin rain. We were allowed up on deck until 10:30 and then we all went to bed, some sick and some otherwise. The next morning we discovered we had a whole flock of ships which we had joined, and all about us was water—yes, 'bocque' water. For thirteen days we saw nothing but water and the 13 ships lined up, going at a good speed, headed by a battle cruiser. On our star board side was the President Lincoln which was sunk going back. Occasionally when the wind blew right we would catch a strain or two of the latest rag, played by one of the bands on a nearby ship.

Regular Sub Scare.

"On the 10th day out we had a sub scare at 2 a. m., when we were all called up deck. The signal was received and we started to zig-zag in every direction. We remained on deck until daybreak and later in the day our cruiser got its guns into action. That day the boat was alive with rumors, some saying we had been hit, we had run over a sub, we were going to be hit, we were afraid we would be hit and so on.

Busy Sub-chasers.

"On the 11th day out we were met by a flotilla of sub-chasers and destroyers and it was amusing to watch them as they went over the waves scouting for Mr. Hans Periscope. They were here, there and everywhere. I recall one evening when about dusk a raft was sighted and a lone destroyer began signaling with its light and in a few minutes the whole flock was heading in one direction but found it to be a raft.

Landed at Brest.

"On the morning of May 23 our protective force was still further augmented when two hydroplanes met us and flew over our convoy until we landed in Brest at 9:30. Some of us got up early to see the sun rise over France, and it was well worth the sleep it cost.

"Debarking from the boat we noticed how the docks were being improved by a gang of American engineers. After passing through Brest, we arrived at a rest camp once used by Napoleon and his troops. The old shooting post for spys was still there and dents in the stone wall where the bullets had struck. Here we remained a week and then boarded the French 'match box' coaches for a ride across France. We boarded the train on June 1, and arrived at our destination June 4, at 12:30 p. m.

Germans Very Near.

"We went south of Paris, as the Germans were then only about 40 miles from the city and railroad service was upset. I saw one evening a train of refugees going somewhere, they having been driven from the Chateau-Thiery district by the advancing Huns. They were in a pitiful shape and just had what they had grabbed on the run.

"On June 5, at 12:30 p. m., we arrived at Cornimont in the Vosges mountains and the next morning I saw an aerial battle from the distance. The name of the department or state is also Vosges.

"Leaving Cornimont we took trucks and went on beyond a village named La Bresse and then continued on. La Bresse is a small place of white houses. The front line trenches were then about two miles away and we were going closer. The city of Gerardmer has been mentioned in war despatches frequently and that place is about two miles over the mountains. Fighting in the Vosges has been difficult on account of bad roads and quite a feat of engineering has been put through to get the supplies up. Opposite us stood Munster, Alsace and when the armistice was signed the line ran through that city. Munster today is in total ruins as is Suezen, Kaiseberg and several others in the Vosges.

"Camouflage could be worked out fine here as the country is heavily wooded and an aviator has a hard time when on an observation tour. And besides our guns cracked it to him so fast he didn't tarry long but zig-zagged his way back.

"Some of us were detailed to do pioneer engineer work and it carried us to the front line and a ways back. Fortunately I got in that line and we got the timber for dugouts and trench material. All trenches were lined with timber and board floors.

In St. Michiel Drive.

"In September we left the front here in Alsace and were sent up to Verdun, when the big St. Mihiel drive was about to be carried out, and it sure was one of the quickest pieces of work ever pulled off. Our line advanced so fast that in one instance several German machine gun men were left behind the advancing line. They were captured later. As to the Germans being chained to their guns, that's all straight information, as several cases were found. At St. Michiel the Huns couldn't go fast enough and 15,000 of them were captured in 24 hours. The Germans had expected to stay there, I guess, as they had been there for four years and their dugouts were made of concrete, three stories deep. They had a regular home before the Yanks started the bombardment.

Fierce Bombardment.

"The barrage laid down on the opening of the offensive was said to be the fiercest of the war. For miles and miles the artillery was lined up wheel for wheel. That night the sky was one blaze and things shook for miles around. After the drive we were again sent back on the Alsace border, where we have been since.

Happy at Colmar.

"On Nov. 17 the 7th French army began its march through Alsace, following the Germans up, and on the first day I and a number of others in our company accompanied them through Munster and stopped at Colmar. The civilian population at Colmar were overjoyed when we entered and one could read it on their faces. I also visited the German trenches evacuated by them in the morning. The people at Colmar said: "Vive la Americane," tho at first some thought we were English. We were the first Americans in Colmar. A large number of people speak American in the city and they all praised President Wilson and America. They were all glad to be freed from the yoke of the Hun.

Near Alsace Border.

"Today I'm just a short ways from the Alsace border and expect we will probably be here now until we move towards the coast.

"We are all glad in a way that it's over, but we would have liked to pitch our pup tents on 'Unter den Linden.'

"Prisoners are coming by the hundreds from Germany, wearing all imaginable uniforms. I have met Rumanians, Russians, Italians, Servians and French prisoners returning and they tell hard tales as to their treatment while in Hun prison camps. Things are changing there, according to them, and an Italian from Buffalo, N. Y., said when the Germans return home they are 'met by the revolutionists and sent back.

"I've told you about all I can, except when I will return, but every tick of the clock brings the time nearer."

BAND BOYS HAVING RATHER GOOD TIME

SPENT THREE WEEKS IN GRENOBLE ON ONE CONTINUOUS PICNIC.

While life in France may not be one long, sweet dream for the band boys, yet it seems as if their lot is comparatively easy compared to those in the fighting units, yet they also have had their share of experience. Ben Lonson writes on the subject in a rather happy vein, as follows:

"As usual I have only a few minutes in which to write this letter so I will give you an outline and let the details go until I get back. For we are coming back home sometime, but God only knows when. The censorship has been removed and I will be able to tell you a little more than heretofore.

"The boatride across was rather rocky and we had quite a seige of it as the round-about course we took made it necessary for us to be on the ocean 13 long, cold, stormy days. I didn't get seasick, although I thought many times I would have to give in.

"We landed at Liverpool and played a few tunes there, got on the train and went through England in half a day making only three stops. Got off at Southampton the same night and proceeded to a rest camp about two miles from town. I'll tell you what a rest camp is when I get back. Get your map out now and you will be able to trace my trip clear to date.

"We crossed the English channel and landed at LaHavre. Played there and went to another rest camp. Boarded boxcar special and went through Rouen, Versailles, LeMans, Tours and straight on down to a little town named St. Loubes. You can't find it on the map but it is only eight miles ofrm Bordeaux. Here we were billeted in French houses and vacant buildings. The regiment went into training and all we had to do was the regular military playing the same as at Camp Grant. Many in our regiment died of the flu at this place, but none of the band members croaked although a number were in the hospital for awhile. We passed a pleasant two months at this place and we used to go to Bordeaux to play for concerts at the Y. M. C. A., about twice a week.

"Next came our orders to leave for LeMans for classification. We arrived there after about three days in the box cars and while we were up there the armistice was signed. LeMans is a town about the size of Duluth—and say, when two or three American military bands turned loose in that burg you should have seen the sight. The town was jammed so that it was impossible to get anywhere and everyone seemed about to go crazy. But I could never describe the scene and it will have to wait until I return.

"After we were classified the regiment was broken up as well as the division so they sent us down to the one place in France where we were really satisfied, and that was Grenoble, a town of about 150,000 people situated in the French Alps, directly south of Geneva, Switzerland. There I passed three of the most pleasant weeks I ever expect to experience. It was wonderful.

"All we had to do in Grenoble was to forget we ever were in the army. No revielles, no taps, and all we had to do was play at a concert once in a while for the boys from the front on leave.

"But of course it couldn't last. We received orders to move and we moved straight north, going through Dijon and then to the place where all casual bands are. There are about a thousand musicians here at the present time and we have been wondering what they were going to do with us—until today. Yes, we found out today. We thought we were to be sent home but no such luck for us for awhile. We are just a short way from Metz and Nancy and think we will be going into Germany. Anyway we are due to stay awhile."

ST. HILAIRE

Neil G. Dahl.

After a brief siege of pneumonia following an attack of influenza, death claimed Neil G. Dahl, Thursday forenoon, Jan. 2nd. His death was a sad surprise to the community, felt all the more keenly, because he was born in this village and had also grown to manhood in our midst. He had attended the local public school through the grades and had completed high school at Thief River Falls, where he also has a number of friends. Shortly after the completion of his high school course he went to Canada, filed on a homestead and was engaged in farming in that country for a few years. Early in the spring of 1917 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Amelia Collins, a highly esteemed young woman of this village. Shortly after their marriage, they went to Montana where they made their home on a homestead until their return to this village last autumn. Since their return they have resided at the farm home of Mrs. Dahl's brother, Alfred Benson, who resides immediately east of the village. Neil was about thirty years of age and it was sad indeed to learn of his untimely demise. Death came quietly and peacefully and even those who cared for him during his brief illness, did not regard his condition as critical until death was nearing, which fact bespeaks the treachery of the disease. He possessed many sterling qualities, which to strangers were oft times obscured by his quiet and unassuming manner. The deceased is survived by his grief stricken wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dahl, his sister, Edith and brother, Andy, all of whom are here at present, and his brother, Ed, who is with the A. E. F. in France. The sincere sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sadly bereaved family in their time of sorrow and trial. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Grimsrud in the early part of the week and he was gently laid to rest in the nearby cemetery.

Miss Selma Hoff, who received the government appointment to the local postoffice, some time ago, took official charge of the office at the beginning of the new year. The long delay between time of appointment and time of taking charge, was caused by the necessary credentials being lost in the mails and having to be duplicated. Miss Amanda Benson, the retiring postmistress, has served the public in a most courteous manner and without a doubt, Miss Hoff will extend the same courtesy.

Miss Gertrude Harder was at Thief River Falls between trains, Thursday to visit with her sister, Mrs. S. Michalski, who recently returned to that city from Duluth, where she has resided during the past few months.

Mrs. A. Steele came up from Red Lake Falls on New Year's Day for a brief visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Just. On her return she was accompanied by her sister, Miss Nora Just, who was an over Sunday guest at the Steele home.

Miss Edith Dahl arrived Friday from Devils Lake, N. D., summoned home by the death of her brother.

O. F. Post, who has been employed as salesman at a large store at Eagle Bend, since early last autumn, arrived Monday for a visit with his son, Curtis, and with other relatives and friends in the locality.

Mrs. A. Hesby returned to her home at Halstad, Monday after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hooper.

A. C. Holden returned to Thief River Falls Monday after a visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. O. Dahl.

S. S. Benson, who is employed in the U. S. Army Postal Service at Camp Travis, Tex., arrived Monday to be here to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Neil G. Dahl.

Miss Inga Follstad, who has been employed as sales lady at the N. A. Nelson store since the busy pre-holiday season, has now been released from the position.

Miss Christene Pederson went to Thief River Falls Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. S. Grolid, a relative. On her return Monday she was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. H. Pederson, who had been in the city.

Miss Lilly Gunstad left Monday for Badger to re-open her school after the holiday vacation.

Mr. Stevenson returned Monday to his duties as relief agent at the local G. N. station, after an over Sunday absence.

PISO'S

As long as you can remember Piso's has been the favorite relief for coughs and colds. Since '64, mothers have kept Piso's handy in the home and used it to prevent little coughs and colds from growing big.

Piso's gives prompt relief. Eases hoarseness and throat irritation and soothes throat tickle. At all druggists.

Contains No Opiate—Safe for Young & Old for coughs and colds

Colds Are Dangerous

Colds are often followed by Influenza and Pneumonia. Everybody knows how many deaths they have caused this year.

Dangerous as they are, colds are not difficult to avoid if you keep yourself in condition to resist them.

If your blood is healthy, rich and red, free from poisons constipation ates, it will be mighty hard for colds to fasten upon you. But if foodaste is allowed to lie in the bowels it ferments, creating dangerous oisons which are absorbed into the blood and carried to all parts of the body. The kidneys, lungs and skin pores are busy trying to get rid of these poisons and colds have a free field.

Your druggist has a new product called SALINOS which will completely empty the digestive system, including the lower bowels, where most poisons are formed. It is taken in cold water, is pleasant in taste and pleasant in action. Get a bottle for a Quarter (large sizes Fifty cents and a Dollar.) Take it tomorrow morning.

WHEN NEURALGIA ATTACKS NERVES

Sloan's Liniment scatters the congestion and relieves pain

A little, applied without rubbing, will penetrate immediately and rest and soothe the nerves.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

SAVE THE BABIES

WE mean baby pigs. Every one is a possible 300 pounds of pork for the market at a time when the whole world is hungry.

Yet they are delicate, easily chilled and need clean, dry, warm quarters if they are to thrive. The better their quarters, the more pork you will sell.

Build a Warm Winter Hog House

with a concrete floor to make cleaning easy. Concrete doesn't absorb moisture or filth so you can have a real sanitary house and prevent loss from disease. Of course it will pay. The pigs you save from the next litters more than return the cost of a modern permanent house.

Ask us for plans. We have two styles for you to choose from. While the weather is good lay in your stock of UNIVERSAL cement, lumber and roofing. You can get the best the market affords from our stock.

SCHOOL NOTES

In the high school, and in the grades above second, the attendance has been excellent since school opened following the Christmas holidays. The little people in the first and second grades fail to appear in the usual large numbers, not on account of the flu, however, but largely by reason of the extreme cold weather of last week. Parents need entertain no fear of the rooms being too cold for the janitors are maintaining the temperature at a satisfactory degree, regardless of the consumption of fuel.

A few parents keep their children out of school, offering the excuse that they fear the flu. This is a very good reason, but the humor of the situation is that in many of these cases the children kept out of school can be met down town on the crowded streets afternoons or mingling with their friends evenings. An efficient nurse is "on the job" every hour. The school rooms are well heated and particularly well ventilated, ill children are immediately cared for, teachers report cases which appear suspicious and every precaution is taken in and about the rooms, halls and toilets to make the school rooms the safest places in town for children to be. In fact, it is believed that attendance at school, with the restrictions thrown about the children, makes school a safer place than many homes.

The school nurse, Miss Haggart, is at the service of the community at all times. She is primarily the school nurse, but is ready and able to consult with parents on home conditions affecting the health of the family.

Coach Connell's high school basket ball team will try conclusions next Saturday afternoon with the Warren high school team at the neighboring city. This is the first game on the state schedule and will mark the beginning of the march to Northfield, where the state championship will be decided in March. Fosston, Argyle, Crookston, Red Lake Falls and Warren appear to be the list of contestants with whom the locals will have to match basketball skill.

Lieut. Hiatt, the new agricultural instructor, has opened the department with very large classes in each of the four high school years. In addition, he has the agricultural botany, weekly lessons in agriculture with the six grammar grades and the normal training department. Visiting the associated schools and preparing his stock judging teams plus the above daily duties will make him one of the busiest teachers at the Lincoln.

Non-resident children cannot be permitted to enter any of the grades when the enrollment in same is 30 or higher. If permitted to enter, the tuition is $3.50 per month, payable in advance. All children whose parents live outside of the school district are non-residents. High school, however, is free to all citizens of school age in the state.

Two reasons are offered for centralizing the seventh and eighth grades at the Central school. First, all the rooms in all the grade buildings are today filled with pupils below the seventh. Even the ten room Northrup is full of pupils, all of whom are below seventh grade. Second, this centralization affords special teaching. The instructor strongest in a subject teaches that subject exclusively. This is on the same plan as the high school organization and is general now all over the state. It is in the interests of the pupils and gives them the greatest service the teachers can render.

The regular meeting of the board of education is held at the Lincoln building on the second Monday of each month.

The enrollment in the high school is the largest in its history and now approximates 360. A few new students are appearing each Monday.

The service flag has been brought up to date and now carries 177 stars for boys in the service who at one time or another were enrolled as students at the local schools. Though the schools may not be entirely responsible for this large enlistment and do not dare to claim this honor, it is a fact that no boy ever connected with the Thief River Falls schools failed to render a hundred percent service when his flag called him. Those connected with the institution take a great deal of satisfaction in believing that this brilliant record reflects no small honor on the school and the spirit which pervades its class rooms.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

WILL HAVE FINEST FIXTURES IN STATE

E. O. MOGENSEN, CLOTHIER, SHORTLY TO MOVE INTO NEW QUARTERS.

The Third street store room in the First National bank building will soon be undergoing alterations and repairs, after which it will house one of the finest clothing houses in the state. E. O. Mogensen has leased the quarters and will move in as soon as they can be made ready to recieve his stock.

While in the Twin Cities recently Mr. Mogensen selected the fixtures for the new store. These are described as being so far ahead of anything ever brought to this section of the state that the new store will be in a class by itself so far as appointments go. The front of the building is to be entirely remodeled and will be in keeping with the exceptional interior.

As will be seen by the announcement on the last page of today's issue, it is Mr. Mogensen's intention to close out his present stock and begin business at the new store with an entirely new line.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will be entertained at the C. M. Evenson home, 719 Main avenue north, on Tuesday, Jan. 14. A cordial invitation extended to all.

The secretary of the W. C. T. U. has received a letter from "Our Orphan" in France, which will be read at the next meeting.

Pope-Baker.

Clarence Weldmen Pope and Miss Fern Edith Baker were united in marriage at the home of Ray Pope, 309 Arnold avenue south, Jan. 1, by the former's father, Rev. Henry Pope. Miss Edna Geroi of Badger acting as bridesmaid and George Baker of Grand Forks as best man. The wedding took place at one o'clock, after which an elaborate four course dinner was served. The bride was dressed in white and the house was artistically decorated in pink and white, with large bouquets of pink and white roses.

Those present at the wedding were: Mrs. C. Pope's father, F. Baker and Mrs. I. Iverson of Badger, Clyde Baker of Grand Forks, Bernard Pope and the groom's mother, Mrs. H. Pope.

The young couple will make their home on a farm west of this city for the present.

Many New Elks.

Seventeen fawns were gathered up and assimilated into the herd by Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 B. P. O. E., last Friday evening. There was a good company of the old members present and they made things decidedly pleasant for the beginners. After the initiations a lunch was served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed. Music was furnished by Cordes' orchestra and there were a number of highly appreciated vocal selections. Members who had just returned after being discharged from the army told briefly of their experiences, adding much to the enjoyment of the evening.

The Elks claim that theirs is the fastest growing lodge in the city and are justly proud of the record that is being made in every direction.

Royal Neighbors Will Install.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a meeting Wednesday, Jan. 15th, at which time a class will be initiated and the newly elected officers installed. Owing to the prevailing sickness the meeting will be strictly private but members of the lodge in the city are earnestly requested to attend. The following officers will be installed: Bessie Robinson, Oracle; Ethel McClelland, Vice Oracle; Orro M. Richardson, Recorder; Abbie Wassgren, Receiver; Barbara Champlain, Chancellor; Bertha Lonson, Marshall; Emma Davidson, Inner Sentinel; Hilda DeVelling, Outer Sentinel; Fannie Protz, Manager.

Kenneth McCloud Entertains.

Kenneth McCloud entertained a number of friends at his rooms in the Meehan block, Saturday evening. Mr. McCloud has been working at the Minnesota Northwestern Electric Ry. office for the past three months and left for Minneapolis Sunday evening. Covers were laid for eleven and a delicious course dinner was served at twelve o'clock. The evening was spent in singing and playing.

Happy Farm Gathering.

A pleasant neighborhood gathering was held at the Knute Iverson home in Norden township on Sunday evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gust Monsebroten, Misses Annie and Gena Aos, Ingebret and Nels Dyrdal and Martinus Rust. A luncheon was served by the host and a very enjoyable evening spent in the playing of games and other diversions.

His Petition Refused.

Gust Bergren, who resides in Silverton township but who also owns property in the town of North adjoining the city, presented a petition to the county commissioners to have a certain section of territory taken from School District No. 18 and joined to No. 28. The application was refused.

Pleasantly Surprised.

Rev. and Mrs. George Larson were pleasantly surprised last Thursday by the Ladies Aid and the Young Peoples' society of Rindal's congregation, Rosewood, Minn. An envelope containing a fine sum of money was given to Mr. and Mrs. Larson by Mr. Thoreson.

Found Sum of Money.

Postmaster John Morgan has a sum of money belonging to someone. The owner may have it by applying to him and proving his or her right to the same.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kind assistance during the sickness and after the death of my beloved wife. Also wish to thank the Silverton Ladies Aid, the Oen Mercantile Co., and R. A. Gasven for the beautiful floral offerings.

Protect Your Machinery

Conservation is the order of the day. Uncle Sam must feed the world now. At this critical time the farmer must take the best care of his implements. He cannot allow them to rust and fall apart, for that would be waste and the government would not countenance it.

Take Uncle Sam's advice and build sheds for your wagons and implements. Protect them from the elements. The cost is small, the benefits great, and above all else, it is a patriotic duty.

Come in today and get plans and estimates on any building you have in mind. We'll be pleased to give you the benefit of our many years experience.

FAVOR PAVING; GET READY NOW

JOINT COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL AND CITIZENS WILL WORK OUT PLAN

SHOULD FIX SEWERS FIRST

COMPETENT ENGINEER WILL GO OVER GROUND AND MAKE REPORT

The committee appointed to work with the city council in arriving at a decision on the paving matter will meet at the council chamber on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, for the purpose of organizing and laying out a program of procedure. At the meeting of citizens held on Friday evening at the municipal court rooms for the purpose of discussing the matter it was decided to leave the selection of the other members of the committee to the councilmen. At the regular meeting on Tuesday evening these were chosen by lot, the following being selected: Olaf Ramstad, Robert McGinn, Rasmus Oen, Math Barzen and T. P. Hamre.

Was Nearly Unanimous.

There was a good representation of business men present when O. L. Ihle, president of the council, called the meeting to order on Friday evening. He asked Daniel Shaw to officiate as chairman and that gentleman stated the business of the gathering. The discussion was at times inclined to stray somewhat from the matter immediately in hand, but it always came back to the one point, to-wit: Do the citizens of Thief River Falls consider the time ripe for paving the streets?

A Matter of "When."

It was evident before the discussion had proceeded far that those in favor of paving were overwhelmingly in the majority. With them it was only a question of when to begin. While there were those who could see no good reason for not going ahead with the work, others thought it best to make sure we were right first, and these had their way.

Two questions were finally voted on. The first was to decide whether or not those present favored paving at all, while the other was to decide as to the time the work should be done. The vote in favor of the improvement was almost unanimous, and the same might be said of the proposition to postpone the actual construction work until next year. The meeting went on record, however, as favoring an examination into the condition of the sewers at the earliest possible moment. The matter of placing light and telephone wires underground will also be taken up by this committee, as well as securing the signatures of property owners to the necessary petition for paving.

The Probable Cost.

The matter of cost was but slightly considered, it being realized that material and labor at the present time are much higher than is liable to be the case a year from now. R. C. Allen of the Universal Portland Cement company was present and gave some figures on the expense of putting in the different classes of pavement, but as no particular kind of material was even discussed at the meeting this was chiefly valuable is showing the approximate difference in cost of concrete, asphalt, bitulethic, wood blocks, and combinations of these materials. Mr. Allen's figures were all for the year 1913 and he admitted that the prices had gone up in the neighborhood of 30 per cent since that time.

A Few Are Opposed.

While a decided majority were in favor of paving there were a few who did not believe the undertaking advisable. It should be explained, however, that even these few simply objected on the score of cost at the present time.

Among those who spoke in favor of paving were Daniel Shaw, T. P. Hamre, Robert McGinn, Gay Halvorson, M. V. Evenson, F. J. Stebbins, W. W. Prichard, Jr., E. O. Mogensen and Mayor Penney. Leonard Peterson, superintendent of the water and light department, explained what would have to be done in order to make the water mains safe for the laying of pavement and made a valuable suggestion when he said that money could be saved by carrying the pipe for two lots to the center line and then branching off in each direction. This would save about one-half the excavating.

George Leimers, John Aos and J. Borry expressed themselves as opposed to the proposition, particularly at this time.

BELIEVE INFLUENZA CHECKED FOR GOOD

TWO CASES AT POOR HOUSE ONLY ONES REPORTED FOR WEEK.

All the physicians in the city are unanimous in declaring their belief that the Spanish influenza has finally departed. There is one small locality at the southern edge of the city limits where there are still a few cases, but the patients are all reported out of danger. It was also reported that two cases had developed at the county poor house on Tuesday, being the first to be recorded for that institution.

Miss Laura Hagarty, school nurse, who is watching the situation closely, says that she can find no new cases and that all the old ones are on the certain road to recovery.

Supt. J. H. Hay states that the attendance at the schools indicates that parents have pretty well recovered from their scare and the classes are rapidly resuming their normal enrollments. He states that there no longer exists the slightest semblance of an excuse for keeping the children out of school and that it is decidedly unfair to make them lose any more time. Precautions have not been relaxed, but these will be continued as a safety provision for some time after all vestige of the disease has disappeared.

WILL SERVE LUNCH AT CLUB ELECTION

FIRST IN LONG TIME WILL BE SERVED NEXT THURSDAY EVENING.

The annual election of the Thief River Falls Commercial club will be held at the club rooms on Thursday evening, Jan. 16, at which time a new board of directors and new officers will be chosen.

Secretary G. Howard Smith announces that there will be a lunch served at 6:30 o'clock at which all the members are expected to be present. It has always been found that a number of non-members enjoy these lunches and these are always welcome. In order that ample provision may be made, however, Mr. Smith requests the members who intend bringing others to the feast to let him know beforehand.

Upon the new officers and board of directors will devolve the task of resuming the regular work of the club, this having been permitted to fall back for the period of the war. It has been the intention to begin work on a number of projects at once, but as the annual election was so close at hand it was deemed best to postpone any definite program until the new management had time to take hold of things.

AUTO ORDINANCES WILL BE AMENDED

PROBABLE THAT PARKING DISTRICT WILL BE DESIGNATED IN CITY.

At the council meeting on Tuesday evening, Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken recommended that improved machinery for handling auto traffic in the city be provided. He suggested that a parking district be designated and that the laws regarding driving in the municipal limits be more strictly enforced. Mr. Bakken had evidently given the subject some consideration and was of the opinion that the south side of Second street between Main and LaBree avenues would make the most convenient and suitable parking ground. The matter was left to the street committee of the council and City Attorney Quale to work out. A conference will be arranged for an early date between the council committee and representatives of the Thief River Falls Automobile association and it is expected that an ordinance will be in shape for presentation at the next meeting.

PLACED ON MANY GOOD COMMITTEES

DELEGATION FROM PENNINGTON COUNTY HAVE NO KICK COMING.

In the organization of the legislature for the 1919 session the members from Pennington county faired as well as could be expected when it is considered that all of them are serving their first term. No chairmanships came their way, but no one thought they would be accorded any such recognition. Senator O. A. Naplin fared very well, considering everything. He is a member of the following standing committees in the senate: Corporations, Judiciary, Motor Vehicles, Public Utilities, Towns and Counties.

Representatives M. O. Sortedahl and W. E. Day will serve together on two committees—Markets and Marketing, and Development and Emigration. Mr. Sortedahl's other committee places are: Drainage, Legislation and Public Domain, while Mr. Day will also serve as a member on the committees on Health and Public Welfare, University and State schools, besides the two above mentioned.

Drainage, which will be a big problem in the legislature, is looked after by men from the section most interested, the Red River Valley.

F. H. Peterson, of Moorhead, is chairman of the senate committee, and O. C. Neuman, of Wheaton, heads the house committee.

MAKE PLANS TO HONOR SOLDIERS

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO PROVIDE MEMORIAL FOR FIGHTERS FROM COUNTY.

IS PUBLIC UNDERTAKING

DESIRED THAT EVERY SECTION SHALL BE EQUALLY REPRESENTED.

Just what form it will take cannot now be foretold, but that there will be a fitting memorial of some kind erected to honor the soldier boys who went forth from Pennington county to fight in the world war is certain. The plan has not yet progressed far enough to permit of a more explicit statement, but patriotic and enthusiastic men are at work and the entire plan will soon assume shape.

Is County Project.

The matter has for some time been discussed in Thief River Falls and the general opinion seems to be that whatever is undertaken should be of such nature as to be a lasting monument to the men, living and dead, who left their work at the call of the country and performed so well as to give everyone just cause for pride in their achievements.

It was thought that the board of county commissioners would prefer to take a leading part in this project, being that they are the chosen representatives of the people in all matters pertaining to county welfare. Accordingly they were waited on at the meeting last week by Mayor G. A. Penney and Supt. J. H. Hay of the city schools, who explained what other communities are doing and stated that Pennington county should not be behind its neighbors when it came to showing appreciation of what had been accomplished.

Commissioners Favorable.

The plan evidently met with the most favorable reception on the part of the commissioners. They declared themselves somewhat helpless, however, until such time as some program of action was presented. The matter was discussed informally, the form the memorial is to take being one of the subjects touched on. Something in the nature of a triumphal arch or a monument was most favorably regarded, but this will not be definitely settled upon until later.

The matter of location is also something of a stickler. The county at present does not own a suitable site within the city limits but there are a number that may be acquired, presumably at a very reasonable cost. Every county board and city council for years past has had in mind something in the way of a public square or civic center wherein might be erected all the county and city buildings and the place maintained in the nature of a park. The site for the memorial will likely be chosen with an eye to this future improvement.

Committee Meeting Called.

It was decided to call a meeting of the committee appointed to have charge of the matter at the court room on Jan. 22. At this time the subject will be gone into more in detail and a general plan of procedure outlined. The committee is made up of representative men from all parts of the county, the membership being as follows:

Bray, Ed. Crown; Black River, Sidney Harper; Cloverleaf, G. C. Stein; Deer Park, George Singer; Goodridge, Morgan Vaughan; Hickory, T. T. Kvale; Highlanding, William Vaughan; Kratka, O. O. Hoffdahl; Mayfield, Sever Nilson; North, Gilbert Hovi; Norden, John Sjolsvold; Numedal, Halvor Johnson; Polk Center, P. A. Hallstrom; River Falls, J. T. Sumpter; Reiner, M. M. Anderson; Rocksbury, Peter Engelstad; Sanders, Sigurd Lind; Smiley, A. B. Newton; Silverton, H. P. Rued; Star, Gilbert Hanson, Wyandotte, Ivar A. Rolstad; Village of Goodridge, A. C. Tvedt; village of St. Hilaire, N. A. Nelson; city of Thief River Falls, First ward, Julian Provencher; Second ward, H. O. Loken; Third ward, E. E. Zeh; Fourth ward, J. H. Hay. Commissioners J. S. Roy and Gus Naplin were appointed to represent the county at the meeting.

For Syrian Aid.

Rev. Roseland of Crookston, was in the city yesterday in the interest of the Syrian and Armenian relief work. A county organization will be formed for the collection of funds and a campaign started in the county. The Armenians and Syrians are in terrible straits and unless prompt assistance is forthcoming starvation must practically depopulate these regions.

Pennington county has been alloted $1,800 as its share of the sum to be raised.

State Warden Here.

L. V. Conley of the state fire warden's office, was in the city the first of the week looking after matters pertaining to his position. While here he accompanied City Warden Midderigh over the recently gutted Giller store and satisfied himself as to the origin of the fire. It is his belief that the blaze started from a short circuit in an electric wire, every indication pointing in that direction.

ROSS P. WHITE

DEATH SUMMONS ROSS P. WHITE

AGENT OF COUNTY FARM BUREAU ASSOCIATION VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

VERY POPULAR OFFICIAL

MADE BUREAU A POWER IN COMMUNITY DURING ITS FIRST YEAR.

Ross P. White, 29 years of age, county agricultural agent of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association, died at his home, 918 State avenue north, early Friday morning. The cause of death was bronchial pneumonia, following an attack of Spanish influenza. The remains were taken to Grand Junction, Iowa, the home of the family, for burial on Friday night.

It was known early last week that the condition of Mr. White was alarming, but a rally on Thursday gave his family and physicians some slight hope. He was making a stubborn fight and it was thought that his naturally strong constitution might be able to win against the treacherous disease. While hope was not abandoned the relatives who could be reached were notified and a brother, together with the parents of Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Steward of Dana, Iowa, were present when the end came.

Was Born in Iowa.

Ross Paul White was born at Grand Junction, Iowa, on April 20, 1890. After graduating from the high school in that city he studied for four years at Iowa State college. He taught agriculture in the high school at Plainview, Minn., for two years, after which he took a business course in a college at Spokane, Wash.

Mr. White was married on Aug. 18, 1915, to Miss Bertha Steward at Dana, Iowa. There is one child, a boy 18 months of age. Besides these, deceased is survived by three brothers and three sisters. The brothers are: Walter, a resident of Spokane; Dr. Logan White, a veterniarian of Sioux City, and Harry, in the navy. The sisters are: Mrs. D. A. Byers, San Pedro, Cal.; Miss Mary White, Rosalie, Wash., and Miss Narsa White, Los Angeles.

One Brother Here.

It was impossible to reach the relatives in the West in time and Dr. White was the only member of the family present besides the parents of Mrs. White. These accompanied the remains to Grand Junction after a short funeral service at the house on Friday night at which Rev. J. A. Orrock of the Methodist church officiated. The latter was a personal friend of the deceased and devoted much of his time to assisting the family during the trying days preceding his death.

The pallbearers were: Peter Engelstad, Paul Engelstad, Hans Anton, Fred Beerbower, Henry Woolson and A. J. Anderson. With the exception of Mr. Anderson, all are farmers and members of the Farm Bureau association.

Was First Agent Here.

Mr. White was the first farm agent in the county. Previous to his appointment he was for a time agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school, leaving this position to take up the work of organizing farm bureaus for the government during the war. He was very successful in this work and did his full share in bringing before the farmers the necessity for increased production. Combining rare executive ability with a convincing manner and a charm of person, he was destined to reach a high place in his chosen profession. His death while still only a beginner is a decided loss to the entire state and section.

Mrs. White will return in about two weeks for the purpose of closing up the business affairs of the family. She had not decided upon her future place of residence at the time of leaving here.

Notice of Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association will be held at the Commercial Club rooms, Wednesday, Feb. 5th at 1:00 o'clock. All stockholders are requested to be present.

COUNTY STARTS WITH $56,317.40

THIS IS CASH BALANCE IN TREASURY ON JANUARY 1, 1919.

GOOD SHAPE FINANCIALLY

LOW COST OF COUNTY ADMINISTRATION SHOWS EFFICIENT MANAGEMENT.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson's annual statement showing the financial condition of Pennington county at the beginning of the year 1919 is published in another section of The Times today. It is a most interesting report and shows where every cent of the money paid in for taxes and derived from other sources has gone. It likewise shows where the money comes from.

Pennington county started business on Jan. 1, 1918, with a cash balance of $53,208.11 and wound up with a balance of $56,317.40. This does not indicate that there is a greater amount of money available at this time, however, as the outstanding warrants increased from $37,620.88 at the beginning of the year, to $49,650.14 at its close.

Disbursements Half Million.

The total cash outlay for all purposes in the county during the year was $487,790.01, of which the schools secured the largest share, the account on the score of education being $147,817.92. Next in order come the township, village and city accounts, which foot up $76,154.57, followed by the ditch fund, requiring $52,787.95. Roads and bridges cost $42,456.21, while the general revenue fund was touched up for $24,957.54. Warrants to the amount of $3,656.21 were drawn on the sanitorium fund.

Taxes Over Quarter Million.

The big item in the column of receipts is naturally the current tax collections, which amounted to $268,328.21. The delinquent tax collections were also an important item, accounting for $22,774.99. The total of state aid received was $67,289.65, divided as follows: Aid to school districts, $36,162.32; school apportionment, $17,346.75; roads and highways, $13,095.34; sanitorium maintenance, $674.94.

The Expense Account.

The county paid out a little over $1,100 per month for salaries to employes during the year, the exact sum being $13,353.22. Blank books and supplies cost $2,439.64, while printing and advertising amounted to $1,714.45.

The new law which provides for a bounty on crows and gophers was responsible for an outlay of $33.64, while $277.50 was disbursed as bounties on wolves.

Mothers' pensions cost the tax payers a little over $75 per month, the total for the year being $987.59. Court expenses were held down somewhat by reason of there being but one grand jury called during the year. The cost of this was $362.60.

Liabilities High.

The liabilities of the county are at the present time $613,590.80, which is rather a staggering sum until it is taken into consideration that $464,252.60 of the amount is represented by drainage ditch bonds secured by a lien on the property benefitted. There is a bonded debt at this time of $35,964, and there is still due $10,204.99 on the bonds issued by Red Lake county while Pennington was a part thereof. There is also $60,169.21 in ditch bonds coming under the same head.

Abstract of Taxes.

An abstract of the taxes shows the real estate valuation of the county to be $2,906,318, outside of the lots and city property, which add $1,193,796 to the total. The personal property valuation is $810,737, while moneys and credits represent $519,037, making a total taxable valuation of $5,429,888.

ONLY ONE CHANGE IN BANK OFFICIALS

FIRST AND PEOPLES' AND FIRST NATIONAL HOLD ANNUAL ELECTIONS.

Two more Thief River Falls banks have selected their officers for the coming year. The men who have conducted the affairs of the institutions with such signal efficiency in the past have again been chosen by their stockholders, with one or two minor exceptions.

At the meeting of the First and Peoples bank last Thursday evening A. M. Sheldon was again elected president. H. S. Dahlen will continue as active vice president, while the position as the other vice president, made vacant by the death of George G. Johnson, was filled by the election of Math Barzen. R. M. Sheldon, son of A. M. Sheldon and formerly vice president of the First State bank of Paynesville and at another period vice president of the National Farmers' bank of Owatonna, will be cashier, while Theo. M. Thronson will be assistant cashier and Miss Dora Holmes teller. As the president of this bank resides in Minneapolis, the conduct of the business will largely devolve upon Mr. Dahlen and the junior Mr. Sheldon. The directors remain as during the past year with the exception that R. M. Sheldon and Carl B. Larson were added.

The annual meeting of the First National bank was held on Tuesday. Here also all the old officers were reelected, C. L. Hansen again heading the list as president. Dr. F. H. Gambell and Rasmus Oen retain their present positions as vice presidents, while W. H. Akre was reelected cashier, Oscar Sponheim, auditor, S. E. Coumbe and H. F. Booren, assistant cashiers; Miss Marie Nelson, teller.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Goodridge State bank the following officers were elected: President H. S. Dahlen; vice president, H. P. Sponheim; cashier, J. P. Jensen.

POLICE PETITION FOR SALARY RAISE

CHIEF ERICKSON CONSIDERS $100 PER MONTH NONE TOO MUCH.

At the council meeting on Tuesday evening a petition was received from Chief of Police E. O. Erickson asking that his salary be increased from $85 to $100 per month. While this request only covered his own individual case the council took it for granted that any increase for the chief would carry with it a corresponding raise for Patrolman Kelly. The council did not seem disposed to question the justice of the demand, but on motion of Councilman Brandon the matter was laid over until next meeting.

The Swanson Artesian Well company would like to be released from their bonds. The concern has finished its work here but still has a derrick and other machinery standing at the Duluth avenue location. The outfit is serving no good purpose now and might easily be the cause of damage resulting to persons or property. It was decided to hold the company to its bond until its paraphernalia is removed.

The council voted to pay $15 toward the common fund employed in defraying the costs in the telephone fight. The expense was divided pro rata and the city's share came to this sum.

The city clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for the city printing and also to ask for offers from banks wishing to be designated as the city depository.

ASSOCIATION HAS $137,000 IN LOANS

VALHALL BRANCH OF LAND BANK MAKES SURPRISING RECORD.

Although it is less than one year since the Valhall National Farm Loan association was organized, applications for loans to the amount of $137,000 had been accepted by the Federal Land bank up to Jan. 1, upon the recommendation of its directors. John Kienitz, a representative of headquarters for the Ninth district at St. Paul, stated while here that this was one of the best records made by a land bank in the Ninth Reserve district, comprising four states.

Mr. Kienitz was in the city last Tuesday for the purpose of explaining the workings of the land bank plan to farmers and others interested. At the meeting held in the Commercial club rooms about 125 farmers were present, all very much interested in what the speaker had to say. The normal class of the Thief River Falls high school attended the meeting in a body and stayed throughout the interesting address. Mr. Kienitz complimented the management of Valhall branch highly on the success that had thus far attended its efforts and predicted great things for the future.

At the close of the meeting officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: Peter Engelstad, president; William Denhart, vice president; B. B. Hammer, Oscar J. Peterson and Paul Engelstad, directors; L. A. Lampert, secretary-treasurer.

Annual Creamery Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Goodridge Co-operative Creamery association will be held on Saturday, Jan. 25. This will be the first meeting since the establishment of the creamery and considerable interest centers in the reports of the officers. As is the case with all creameries in this section, the past year has been a most prosperous one for the Goodridge concern.

Red Cross Workers.

The supervisor of women's work for the Pennington County Chapter of the American Red Cross requests all those who may have any sewing, knitting or unfinished work, to bring it to the work rooms on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 18.

KEEPING COUNTY RECORD OF WAR

VOLUNTARY JOB OF MUCH VALUE UNDERTAKEN BY T. P. ANDERSON.

DEATHS TOTAL NINETEEN

NINE WERE KILLED IN ACTION AND TEN DIED AT CAMP.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson, clerk of the registration board, is going to have an authentic record of Pennington county's share in the late war in spite of the fact that no provision has been made for anything of the kind by the state or federal authorities. Mr. Anderson has gone over the work since the board was first appointed and has a mass of facts and figures arranged so that he is able to give almost any kind of information asked for.

The details are very complete, giving dates of registration, examination and induction of those who were finally accepted and showing the classification of the others.

Nineteen Lost Lives.

According to the record 19 Pennington county men lost their lives in the war, the number as equally as possible divided between battle casualties and those who died in camp. There were nine of the former and ten of the latter. Those who fell on the field of battle were: Albert Seeland, Axel Borgie, Frank Schenkey, George Posten, Elmer Eklund, T. Sorenson, Casper Crown, Oscar Bakken and Gustav Solum. Those who succumbed to diseases while still in the training camps in this country were: Henry L. Anderson, G. Henry Hermanson, Joe Miers, Robert Dempsey, Hubert Garceau, Harry Stuey, Casper G. Hanson, Elmer A. Dahlen, Carl Vake, Henry Svare.

2,400 Registered.

The total registrations in the county on the different dates was 2,431. The first call, which included all those between the ages of 21 and 31, brought out 889. The second and third calls were for those who had reached the age of 21 since July 12, 1917, and were responsible for an addition of 118. The fourth registration included all men from 18 to 21 and 31 to 45 inclusive, the number of these being 1,406. They were divided as follows: Eighteen years, 100; 19 to 36, 613; 37 to 45, 675; late registrants, 18.

The Final Inductions.

The total inducted into the service was 374, the different registrations furnishing the following numbers: First, 295; second and third, 57; fourth (19 to 36) 19; eighteen years old, 3.

Go Over It Again.

Mr. Anderson was this week notified that the records would again have to be gone over and stamped with a distinguishing mark. The work had all been completed and the files placed in the safe when the new order arrived. It provides that every record must be stamped with the following devise: The 1917 questionnaires and registration cards will bear the stamp "22-4-22 A," while the following registration records will have the same figures except that the letters "B" and "C" will denote whether they refer to the calls of June 5 and Aug. 24, or to the final registration on Sept. 12.

NEW COUNTY AGENT WILL BE SELECTED

FARM BUREAU DIRECTORS TO TAKE MATTER UP AT MEETING ON 21st.

The Pennington County Farm Bureau association will lose no time in selecting a man to take the place of the late Ross P. White as agent. W. E. Morris of St. Paul, district leader of county agents, was in the city on Monday for the purpose of taking the matter up with the directors, and he promised to return again on Tuesday, Jan. 21, and have with him at that time two men, either one of whom he would recommend for the place. The bureau directors will make a personal investigation of the qualification of the candidates and the probabilities are that one or the other will be selected.

Mr. Morris expressed himself as deeply grieved over the death of Mr. White. "He was regarded as one of the very best men in his line in the entire state," said the district leader. "Not only was his work of an exceptionally high order, but his popularity was such that anything he undertook was bound to be given the most serious consideration by the farmers of the county. I am in hopes of securing for the bureau a man who will take up the work where Mr. White left off and carry it to a successful conclusion."

Mr. Morris is much pleased with the attitude of the farmers toward the farm bureau and is certain that with such cooperation any competent man will make good here.

ROSS P. WHITE.

In the death of Ross P. White this community loses perhaps the best county agricultural agent in the state. He had but a short time to work among our people in that capacity, but it was long enough to prove that he was the right man for the place. So well did he meet the requirements that nothing but a highly competent diplomat and a hustler can hope to supplant him in the estimation of our people.

Mr. White was the first executive agent of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association. He came here at a time when our farmers were not particularly enthusiastic over the idea of having a "book-learned chap" giving them instructions. No finer testimonial to his worth could be forthcoming than that within one year every doubter, scoffer and open opponent was an enthuastic supporter of anything he might suggest. He simply went out among them and showed them, and they were converted.

The dead agent was a tremendous worker. He was not content unless he was doing something to prove that the section which had chosen him as a guide was the best in the entire state. He did not stop at farming. Every worthy proposition to which he could in any manner lend his assistance found Ross White on the job, lending to it his infectious enthusiasm and unbounded energy.

Concerning the value of his work it is perhaps best that the farmers of the county should testify. They knew him and regarded him as their friend. Every man on a farm in Pennington county feels a personal loss in the death of the splendid young fellow—and no greater tribute could be paid his memory.

THE RIGHTS OF THE RENTER.

Certain property owners in Thief River Falls seem to think that they should be allowed to have the final say as to whether or not the streets of the city should be paved. Their claim is that they pay the taxes and the entire cost will therefor fall on them. What the tenants want is consequently a matter of minor importance.

This is decidedly a wrongheaded notion. These men own the property, it is true, but the only reason they have for owning it is that it pays them a rental. Without renters the property would be worthless and the rights of the man who pays cannot very well be overlooked entirely. The property owner may consider his taxes high now, but the fact is that the renter also pays the taxes. In fact he pays everything—taxes, interest, upkeep and anything else that enters into the maintenance of the property. If what the renter pays is not bringing the owner a fair return on his investment, that is another matter and one that should be adjusted. But to say that the man who, like the ultimate consumer, foots all the bills in the end, must take whatever the landlord wishes him to have in the shape of improvements is forcing an altogether one-sided bargain.

The renter must certainly have some rights. In this case he is not making an arbitrary demand for a temporary improvement or one that will benefit him alone. The project under consideration will add greatly to the value of the property itself and incidently to its value as a place for doing business. For this reason many renters have already informed the owners that they will gladly stand their share of the paving cost in the shape of increased rentals. It is doubtful if a more fair proposition has ever been made in a similar situation in the state. Improvements such as paving naturally make a property more desirable and in most instances the rents have been raised slightly as a consequence of its having been put in, but here the renters voluntarily state that they will expect to eventually reemburse the owner, for the outlay through the payment of a higher rental.

The property owner will in the end decide whether or not our streets are to be paved, but before deciding he should take these things into consideration.

GETTING THE RIGHT START.

That was a very good meeting at the Auditorium on Friday night. The question of paving was discussed from a sensible and reasonable viewpoint and those present seemed bent only on finding out just what could be done and ought to be done at this time.

The sentiment was almost unanimous in favor of paving and there was but a slight difference of opinion as to when the work should be begun. All realized that no actual construction along this line could be undertaken this year. Materials are high and labor higher, and all agreed that the probabilities at least are that both these items will assume a more normal level within a year or so.

But a very fair start was made at the meeting. A good, representative committee of property owners was authorized to act with the city council in the formulation of a program and the recommendation of a mode of procedure. The council members showed a willingness to be guided by the wishes of the majority and if the meeting was at all representative they have every reason for considering the project endorsed.

Upon the joint committee of councilmen and property owners much will depend. The recommendations made by them will in all probability decide the issue. That opposition will be encountered is certain, but if the arguments in favor of paving are properly presented this should quickly fade away. At present there is little or nothing to go by. The committee will first have to ascertain the approximate cost of this work. When this is done the property owner can be approached with some definite proposition and the paving of our streets will not loom up as such an impossible undertaking.

For instance, it can be explained that the payments are strung along for fifteen years and that there is no assessment the first year. When the property owner agrees that this seems reasonable enough the next step should be to show him that whether we pave or not the sewerage system will have to be rectified where it is shown to be at fault. Paving can make no difference. If the sewers are wrong or inadequate to meet the demands they will have to be fixed in the near future anyway and the paving question will not affect this fact one way or another.

Then there is another argument. The probabilities are that the legislature will pass a law law which in a short time will enable the state to issue its bonds for the construction of paved highways touching every county seat, thus providing a network of the finest roads in the world. When that time comes—and there is every indication that it will come—we certainly do not want persons to jump off a paved country road and into a mud puddle when they strike the city limits. It would hardly do to have it said that traveling in Minnesota was a delight because of the splendid paved highways—all except within the city of Thief River Falls, where the people had not yet awoke to the fact that paving was a modern necessity.

When the committee explains these thing there should be no great trouble in getting every property owner to sign the demand for paving. He may think we do not need it now, but within a year after the work is done he will wonder how we ever managed to get along without it.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE FAIR.

The Woman's club objects to carnival companies on general principles and is particularly against organizations of this kind being employed as outstanding features of the Pennington County Fair. It is maintained that the class of entertainment furnished it, not of a kind calculated to elevate the ideals or improve the morals of the beholder, particularly if the latter is young and of the male persuation.

All of which is undoubtedly true. We have seen carnival companies put on shows that were little if any better than the ordinary run of cabaret performances advertised far and wide as drawing cards for the elite of large cities.

The ladies are right. The only trouble is that their criticism is not constructive. In order to be so they should have suggested something to take the place of the long-established nuisance. Every sensible man and woman will agree that the ordidnary run of carnivals are not desirable and that any community would be better off without them.

In order to make a county fair a success, however, we must have something besides pretty cattle, prize pigs and fancy work. It is all very well to tell the ordinary fair frequenter that the "show" has been cut out because it is not good for him, but he will want to know what has been provided in its place. It is the summer vacation season for the tiller of the soil and he wants a little something out of the ordinary. Cattle and hogs do not entirely fill the bill, no matter how excellent these may be.

In this connection The Times would like to make a suggestion. It is neither new nor original, having been tried out with the most pronounced success in the southern part of this state as well as in Iowa, Indiana and Illinois. It is this: Secure a first-class Chautauqua company to put on a program of entertainment and amusement. The price of the best would likely not be much higher than that of the worst among the carnival companies.

There are those who say that our people, and particularly our farmers, would not go to a Chautauqua performance, preferring the other kind. This is certainly not giving them credit for even ordinary taste and judgment. Our people are no different from others. They would much rather have something worth while, the only reason for their patronizing the other kind being that there has been nothing else to get.

The same objection was raised in the southern part of the state only a few years ago. Many considered carnival companies necessary—and the more questionable the layout the better it suited the purpose. A few brave men in one of the counties—Rock or Nobles, we think—simply said they would no longer insult the intelligence of fair frequenters by offering them this kind of stuff, and provided instead the best Chautauqua program to be found.

And the result? The fairs are better patronized than ever before. The managers found that the people would much rather go and listen to the best music, or an orator of national renown, or singers who could actually sing, than spend their time and money for something vulgar and disgusting. The county fairs down there now draw bigger crowds and are educational and elevating in their influence.

By all means let us cut out the cheap, tawdry carnival, but let us at the same time provide something sensible and worth-while to take its place.

MAKE GOOD USE OF IT.

It has been discovered that the electric light department of the city has a thousand watt electric light equipment of which no use has ever been made. Several citiens have suggested that this be placed on top of the water pressure tank as a beacon for those coming into the city at night. This light would be seen for many miles after dark and would be a sort of welcoming star for auto tourists and others.

This is perhaps another of those ideas that have no actual cash value, but it is a good one nevertheless. The cost of furnishing current for such light would not amount to much and it would add quite a little to the cheerfulness of the place.

Red Lake Falls and other nearby towns have such welcoming lights and have become so accustomed to them they any suggestion that they be done away with would meet with a storm of opposition.

Supt. Peterson of the Utilities board, favors the plan and it would be certain to meet with general approval.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Mrs. Jennie L. Johnson, wife of Samuel T. Johnson, a pioneer of Thief River Falls, died on Jan. 16th at the age of 63.

The annual statement of City Clerk Lars Backe showed the expense of running the city during the year 1898 to have been $5,240.69 and that there was a balance in the treasury of $610.41. The most important source of revenue was the saloon licenses, these accounting for $3,500 of the total. The levy for the ensuing year was $4,800.

Willis Culver drank a quantity of tincture of aconite, mistaking it for something else, and it took some quick work on the part of Dr. Grundy to prevent fatal results.

Mrs. Carl Kretzschmar, accompanied by her son and daughter, Carl and Esther, returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends in Wisconsin.

Paul Midderigh started for the Lake of the Woods after a load of fish.

Wheat was bringing from 48 to 52 cents in the local market. Flax sold for 88 cents.

Ten Years Ago.

At a meeting of citizens the demand for a municipal telephone exchange was unanimous.

William Durbin, an old settler, died of typhoid fever.

The city council decided to make no change in the liquor license fee and to place no limit on the number issued.

H. P. Sponheim and others purchased the interest of Mayor T. P. Hamre in the Peoples State bank, of which Mr. Hamre was the founder.

A bill was introduced in the legislature locating the sixth normal school at Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Bothun and Miss Cora Elfson went to Halma to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bothun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Korstad went back to their homestead near Roosevelt after spending a week visiting friends and relatives in the city.

W. W. Prichard, Jr., left for a week's visit at Lanesboro, N. D.

The business men of the city agreed to close their doors at six o'clock in the evening until further notice.

Storms and snow made it a difficult matter to operate trains. The Wheatline trains on the Soo were particularly handicapped.

Turn In Knitted Goods.

Mrs. A. Craik of this city, who has had charge of the knitted goods of the branch chapters of the Pennington County Red Cross, wishes that those who have any knitted goods in the course of making would be sure that these articles are fully completed and turned in to the local chapter on or before Jan. 18, so that they can be shipped to Northern Division headquarters. These headquarters state that there is urgent need for the knitted goods, not by the men in the camps or at the front, but by the fire sufferers and others in similiar circumstances who are being cared for under the supervision of the Red Cross.

Thanks Outgoing Official.

C. C. Swain, state rural school commissioner, has sent the following letter thanking E. A. Mostue for the work done by him to further the interest of the rural schools of the county:

"May I take this occasion to thank you for the very cordial relations we have had with you during the time you have served as superintendent of schools of Pennington county. I have always found you interested in anything you thought would better the rural schools under your supervision and at all times you were willing to cooperate with our department when we sought to assist you in your work. May the fact that you are leaving the rural schools in a bettered condition be one of your pleasant memories of the county superintendent days."

Court House Changes.

G. M. Gunderson, the new superintendent of schools, will occupy Room 1 on the second floor of the court house hereafter. This is the room used by the registration board until a short time ago and will make a light and commodious office. Judge of Probate I. C. Richardson moves into the room vacated by the superintendent on the first floor.

Stock Judging Contest.

The stock judging contests at the Winter Live Stock show will be held at the new stock pavilion at Crookston on Monday, February 10. If there is a sufficient number enrolled a separate contest will be held also on Tuesday, February 11. The teams will consist of three members of a farm club or three from a township, providing no member of the team has taken part in a stock judging contest at Crookston during the past three years. Write to Superintendent Selvig, Crookston, for rules, full information and awards.

Resolution.

RESOLVED, By the Pennington County Farm Bureau association, through its board of directors and officers, that in the death of Ross P. White, Pennington county, this association and especially the farmers of Pennington county, have sustained an irreparable loss. We have lost an officer of unusual ability and efficiency; a courteous and manly associate. The county has suffered the loss of a farm agent, whose services have been of a high standard and always conscientiously rendered. This city, the county and this part of the state are denied the further aid, counsel, advice and assistance of this able and good man;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED; That this association, through its officers, extend to Mrs. White and family, its earnest and heartfelt sympathy;

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be made part of our permanent records;

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family.

Hans Anton, President.

Are You Open-Minded?

The average American is open-minded.

American business is conducted by true Americans of vision, open-minded men who believe in their country and strive to meet their country's needs. The men in the packing industry are no exception to the rule.

The business of Swift & Company has grown as the nation has progressed. Its affairs have been conducted honorably, efficiently, and economically, reducing the margin between the cost of live stock and the selling price of dressed meat, until today the profit is only a fraction of a cent a pound—too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

The packing industry is a big, vital industry—one of the most important in the country. Do you understand it?

Swift & Company presents facts in the advertisements that appear in this paper. They are addressed to every open-minded person in the country.

RURAL AID AND HIGHWAY BONDS

GOV. BURNQUIST MAKES POSITION CLEAR ON BOTH THESE ISSUES.

LEGISLATION FOR FARMERS

URGES LAWS TO ENCOURAGE COOPERATION ON PART OF PRODUCERS.

Gov. Burnquist's message to the legislature is a lengthy document and covers a large number of subjects. His recommendations are almost without exception such as will be endorsed by any citizen and will form the basis for a constructive and comprehensive program of lawmaking.

The governor's recommendations with regard to legislation for the farmers and also that dealing with the distribution of school aid will be read with the greatest interest in rural communities.

Favors Co-Operation.

Laws should be passed, the Governor said, to enable farmers to cooperate in an efficient and just manner, and laws providing for the establishment of land credit systems are extremely advisable.

"Farmers should be encouraged in their right to form co-operative enterprises for the purpose of competing with any institutions that are detrimental to their interests. The law, however, should provide greater protection against attempts to take advantage of certain alleged situations for selfish or fraudluent purposes.

"In their endeavor to co-operate, no class of people are more entitled to freedom of speech and the press than the farmers, who must so largely depend upon the mails for information. The legislature should, therefore, devise some plan to aid in preventing the abuse of that freedom by enacting laws which, if possible, will secure for the farmer the truth instead of falsehood. A step in the right direction is to make the punishment for attempting the destruction of the reputation of persons more severe than the penalty for the stealing of their property."

Labor Problems Discussed.

The Governor also paid his compliments to labor agitators "who mislead laboring men by misrepresentations and malicious practices, create class feeling, disturbances of the peace and industrial unrest." Such practices he declared, should be made a crime. He recommended a law similar to the ordinance of the Public Safety commission now in force.

Dealing further with the labor problem the Governor advocated a law compelling labor organizations to incorporate under state law to provide adequate guarantees for the performances of obligations assumed under contract.

The Governor also refused to indorse a state workmen's compensation fund, declaring instead for state control and regulation of insurance companies with which employers carry protection.

The Governor came out strongly for an amendment to the state Constitution allowing the state to issue bonds to carry out the program of good roads construction outlined by the state highway commission.

For Platform Conventions.

The subect of amending the primary election law, of which much has been written, was dealt with rather conservatively, the Governor favoring a return to the convention system only to the extent of adopting a party platform.

The demand for a consolidation of several state departments, which brought on the fight with State Auditor Preus two years ago, was not repeated. Instead of a public domain department the Governor asks for a council of public domain to meet once a month or oftener and to consist of the superintendent of the timber and land departments, the state forester, the state highway commissioner, the state drainage engineer, the superintendent of mines, the state game and fish commissioner and the chairman of the state reclamation board. Members, he explains, are not to surrender any of their powers as managers of their respective bureaus.

Favors Dry U. S. and Suffrage.

The Governor took a strong stand for the ratification of the proposed amendment to the Federal constitution establishing nation-wide prohibition. He also urged a memorial to Congress proposing the submission of a constitutional amendment giving women the suffrage.

As for the Public Safety commission, he said, the Council of National Defense, the Secretary of War requested its continuance during the demobilization period. There also are many orders of the commission which should be made permanent, and until laws are passed covering the same field as the orders, and until the federal officers no longer require its services, he declared, the commission should be continued.

Other Legislation Asked.

Other recommendations made were:

The passage of a law prohibiting the displaying of a red flag in a parade on the street or in any other public place.

The passage of a law requiring that English must be the language of instruction in all schools of the state.

The creation of a department of agriculture to look into rural conditions, investigate market conditions, the grading and inspection of grain and assist the farmers in the co-operative and other enterprises. He suggested a soil survey by this department and said the immigration board should be abolished and its duties taken over by the new department, which would also have charge of land settlement work. The department should have five non-salaried members and a salaried secretary, he said.

Enactment of legislation to restore the district devastated by forest fires last fall and to prevent as far as possible future loss of lives and property in the same way.

Public Jobs for Labor.

The employment of labor in periods of over supply of labor on public works, such as development of state lands, building of highways, clearing of forest districts, etc. He would have the Council of Public Domain empowered to act along this line when necessary.

The increase of socialistic tendencies throughout the country with indications in some sections of a trend toward anarchy, should be corrected by proper education, declared the Governor.

He also urged the correction of rural school conditions, including a new policy of distributing state aid; the abolition of the drainage commission as now constituted, the powers of the commission to be vested in the drainage engineer; the consolidation of several offices made thru appointments last year and the abolition of offices of state oil inspector and fire marshal; the modification of the present system of oil inspection; the creation of a state board of education to take over the work of the present high school board and the library board, the board to study and report on the question of proper distribution of state aid.

First Injury at Rink.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oppie, is the first to be injured at the municipal skating rink this winter. While attempting a few fancy stunts last Saturday afternoon he slipped backward and fell on his arm in such maner as to break it above the wrist.

The little two and a half year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Havel, broke an arm last week while playing around on the floor at home. She is getting along all right.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sanders, who has been visiting at Mrs. Sander's home in this city for the past two months, left for Mckinow, Saturday afternoon where they will visit with Mr. Sander's parents for some time.

HIGHEST QUALITY AWARDS

TAX RATE FOR YEAR IS FIXED

REQUIREMENT FOR COUNTY PURPOSES IS AMONG LOWEST IN STATE.

COST OF SCHOOLS IS HIGH

RATE IN CITY NEARLY 76 MILLS WITH VILLAGES COMING NEXT.

The tax rate for the current year for all the different subdivisions of Pennington county has been made public by Auditor T. P. Anderson's office. It is shown that the county expenses proper are perhaps the lowest in the state, the total being but 10 mills, divided as follows: County revenue, 5 mills; road and bridge fund, 3.1 mills; bond and interest fund, .3 mills; sinking fund, .7 mills; county sanitorium, .9 mills.

This low tax rate proves that the affairs of the county are being most economically administered and that the closest care is being exercised in the expenditure of the peoples' money.

Schools Come High.

The taxes levied for school purposes are what brings up the total. This is unavoidable and the one particular item of expenditure with which the people can find no fault.

The rate in the city of Thief River Falls is the highest, being 75.9 mills. Goodridge village follows with 64.9 mills, while the rate for St. Hilaire is 56.8.

The lowest rate of taxation is in School District No. 154, Rocksbury township, and District No. 229, River Falls township, where the total is only 22.5 mills. The highest rate paid outside the city and villages is found in District No. 228, Reiner township, where it is 55.5 mills.

The following table gives the rate of taxation according to school districts:

Mrs. A. H. Pitkin Dead.

Mrs. A. H. Pitkin, for ten years a resident of St. Hilaire, and mother of Attorney Charles A. Pitkin of Thief River Falls, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. I. B. Fisher, in Mankato, on Wednesday, Jan. 8, the cause of death being arteriosclerosis. The body was taken to Crookston and buried beside that of her husband, who preceded her in death only by a little more than a year, he having passed away at St. Hilaire on Oct. 2, 1917. She was 70 years of age.

Deceased was born in Elk River township, near Lyons, Iowa, in 1849 and married on April 24, 1876, at Sebula in the same state. The family moved to Minnesota in 1894 and settled at Euclid. Removing to St. Hilaire ten years ago they continued to make that village their home until after the death of the husband and father, after which Mrs. Pitkin left to make her home with her daughter in Mankato.

Deceased was well known in and about St. Hilaire where there are a host of former neighbors who will feel deep sorrow at her passing away. She was not so well known in Thief River Falls but those with whom she came in contact during her infrequent visits were impressed with her gentle demeanor and fine motherly qualities.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitkin were notified when there was no longer any hope and reached the bedside while she was still conscious.

REFUSAL TO TAKE COAL IS MISTAKE

WARNING SENT OUT AGAINST CANCELLING OF ORDERS AT THIS TIME

The state fuel administration has sent out a warning to those who would cancel their coal orders because the winter promises to be less severe than expected. Daniel Shaw, chairman of the county committee, this week received the following communication from Judge McGee anent this matter, and it is of sufficient importance to be heeded by all those who are taking the risk of running light on fuel:

"Information is reaching this office daily through the office of the district representative that dealers in various parts of the state are requesting their allotments to be cancelled and in other cases that their shipments of anthracite for the present be suspended.

"This situation undoubtedly is due to the fact that we have practically had an open winter to this time, and probably is due to the further fact that some people figure that we will have the usual January thaw, and therefore their full allotments of anthracite will not be needed. The allotment for Minnesota for this year is 1,108,800 tons or 500,000 tons less than the anthracite that normally would be required.

"The dealer cannot be expected to take the risk of carrying over anthracite into next season. That risk must rest upon the consumer. The dealer cannot be expected to accumulate and store anthracite. The consumer must now take the amount of his requirements or make up his mind that he is not to get it hereafter. Anthracite can be furnished now in accordance with the allotments made to each community and dealer in the state. Where it is refused now it will be diverted, and if a long drawn out winter follows, the consumer must suffer the penalty because of his failure at this time to make adequate provision against it. Once an allotment is cancelled, that ends the matter for this season."

Elmer Smith, a member of the '18 class, arrived in this city on Saturday from Lancaster where he has been visiting at his home for a short time. He has been training in the U. S. N. barracks at Milwaukee for the past few months and will return there in a few days.

COUNTY BUREAU OF WAR RECORDS

TASK OF COLLECTION IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC SAFETY COMMISSION.

HISTORY OF EVERY MAN

ACTIVITIES OF RED CROSS AND OTHER AUXILIARIES TO BE PRESENTED.

In its work of collecting the records of Minnesota's participation in the war, the Minnesota War Records Commission has in view the building up of both county and state war collections. The work is authorized and financed by the Public Safety Commission. The county war collections are to be housed permanently in libraries, courthouses, or in other depositories in the several counties, and as a rule at the county seats. The state war collection is being assembled at the Historical Building in St. Paul under the permanent care of the State Historical Society.

According to this plan Pennington county, for example, will ultimately posses in the county war collection assembled by the County War Records committee, soon to be organized here, complete records of the war services eprformed both at home and abroad by the various individuals, organizations, and communities of this county. Such a collection will include the record of every Pennington county man in the federal or state military service, complete files of all newspapers published in the county during the war, photographs of the county's soldiers and sailors, views of local subjects and events of wartime interest, publicity matter, and perhaps the official records, correspondence files, and papers of the local branches in Pennington county of the various war organizations, soldiers' letters, posters and printed miscellany, decorations, trophies and relics.

The state war collection in St. Paul, on the other hand, will for the most part reflect the war services of the state as a whole. In it will be included a complete set of the individual records of Minnesota men in the service, which are now being compiled in duplicate by the County War Records Committees; all available records relating to the statewide management and achievements of the innumerable wartime movements and drives, which the Commission is gathering directly from the various state headquarters in St. Paul and Minneapolis; and a representative collection of material relating to local war activities in communities throughout the state. An important part of the last named class of records has already been assembled by the State Historical Society in the course of its normal activities in the form of files of over half the newspapers published in Minnesota during the period of the war. In order that other types of local war history material may also be represented in the state war collection, the Commission is urging its county committees so far as possible to secure or make duplicates of records acquired for the county collections, and to send in this duplicate local material as part of the counties' contributions to the central war collection.

Furniture for the Farm Home

The idea that anything is good enough for the farmer's home has been revised in late years and in its place has been issued the statement: "nothing is too good for the farmer."

In the matter of furniture the home of the man in the country should be made at least as pleasant and inviting as that of the city dweller. Country people stay in their homes more and it is more important that their surroundings be pleasant.

We had these things in mind when we selected our stock. It is crammed full of beautiful, yet substantial and serviceable goods. It does not matter what you want, whether it is a complete outfit or only some single piece for the kitchen. We have it and of the best to be found anywhere.

Furniture prices are not high. You will save no money by putting off your purchase and may pay a great deal more before the year has closed. Look over our stock anyway. You will be surprised at the reasonable prices prevailing at this store.

Letters from the BOYS

IN BIG FIGHT ON LORAINE FRONT

MARTIN LANGSETH PUTS IN 110 STRENUOUS DAYS NEAR THE CLOSE.

WRITES FROM HOSPITAL

SLIGHTLY WOUNDED BUT HAPPY AND GETTING ALONG IN FINE SHAPE.

Martin Langseth, son of Mrs. Anna Langseth, 603 LaBree avenue north, was one of the first Thief River Falls boys to enlist. With Fred Scanlan, Harold Provencher and Hardy Bothun, he joined the heavy artillery branch early in the war and was assigned to Battery F of the 151st, thus becoming a part of the famous Rainbow division. Writing to his mother from a hospital in France he says:

"I am at present at a base hospital at Lougres. My foot is coming along fine. The nurse said there would be a scab over the sore in a couple of weeks, or maybe a little better. These wounds are an awful long time in healing but it has improved more during the past week than in a whole month before.

"We are treated well. Sleep between sheets and grub of the best I've eaten over here. There are about 50 of us in a big barracks. We have two day and one night nurse. I do not expect to be here more than a couple of weeks at the most as my foot is coming along fine. As to where we go from here, that is a puzzler. The doctors in the evacuation hospital told us we would never see our outfits again, but the one who takes care of us here thinks we stand a chance of rejoining our commands. Having been a member of the army of occupation I may be sent to some outfit needing replacements. Chances are the battery has a full complement of men. They had more than war strength when I left them.

With Army of Occupation.

"I am attached to the army of occupation so the chances are good that you will not see your sonhy for many moons, or I may get home in a few weeks. We fellows who have been here the longest naturally feel we are entitled to be returned first, but after a little thinking I come to the conclusion that this reasoning is a trifle off. As long as there is a chance for trouble we will have to keep an army here and it would be foolish to leave any except the veterans. In case of trouble a few vets can easily route or badly punish a much larger force of green troops. Nevertheless we all want to get home as fast as possible.

Visions of Christmas.

"Now that Christmas draws near visions of the boxes that must be somewhere on the way are more frequent but the chances of ever seeing them grow more dim. Well such are the fortunes of war—just a little hard luck. But what really does bother me is that I never get any more mail of any kind.

"Now that the war is over and the front is no longer in the zone of advance even the newspapers publish the arrivals and sailings of vessels and I will be able to write a little about names and the places I have visited as well as how my time has been spent over here. We left Hoboken on Oct. 18 on the President Lincoln, since sunk. Our whole brigade was on board—nearly 5,000 men. There were in fact more than 6,000 on board ship. We reached the port of St. Nazaire on the last of October—Hallowe'en night. After a few days there we were sent to Camp de Coetquidan, a great artillery school, noted as the training quarters of Napoleon for his artillery. It was also known as the Camp of Death because of the epidemics that have raged there in times past and present. Napoleon lost a very large number of soldiers there.

Villages as Targets.

"It is a beautiful country—orchards, hills and forests. German prisoners were building stone houses, gun parks and roads. There was an artillery range close by where we even had villages for targets.

"We reached the front on February 22—Washington's birthday. This was near Baccarat. Our first position was just outside the village of Pettoinville. We fired the barrage in the attack at Badonvilliers. Here the division had the honor of capturing the first land that was held by the Americans.

110 Days on One Front.

"We were on this Lorraine front 110 days, the American record for any division. Some claim it to be the record for the Allies on the west front, but I doubt this.

"We left the front on June 15 for other parts. We were on our way to the Chateau-Thierry front when the news of another German drive stopped us and we were placed north of Suippes on the Champagne front. This is just north of Chalons.

Was in Biggest Fight.

"On the night of the French Fourth of July, which is July 14, the attack started and I had the luck to be in the biggest artillery battle of the war. Fred Scanlan was gassed there. The Germans came over in mass formation, 12 waves of which never passed the barbed wire. They kept right on coming thru five different barrages and managed to reach the second line of defense. Their losses were then so great they had to fall back.

Their Last Great Stake.

"This was the battle they staked everything on. They never won any place after this. Bonar Law, the Englishman, called it 'The Gettysburg of the War,' and compared the counter attack at Chateau-Thierry to Vicksburg.

"We went from the Champagne front to Chateau-Thierry and followed the Huns to the Vesle river. In that advance the battles of Servigney, Lergy and Hill 212 took place. From there we went to St. Mihiel.

"I was runner at regimental headquarters in this fight, or farce, as we called the battle. The division captured Mont Sec where tens of thousands of French and British lost their lives. From there we were sent to the Argonne Forest battles near Verdun. I received by gas burn at Sommerag on Oct. 30.

Was at Sedan.

"I was in the fight of Nov. 1. We were before Sedan when the armistice was signed and had just made ready for a journey to some other front.

"All the burns healed quickly except the one on my foot and that did not bother me much until we got in to Luxemburg, when it began ulcerating. I left the bunch in good shape. They were billeted at farms and in houses on their march to Germany and will get along O. K. It had just begun to rain a whole lot and we sure were glad we did not have to fight in that kind of weather, and what is worse yet, the spring breakup."

WE ARE STILL DOING BUSINESS

While the fire of last week destroyed the stock in our LaBree Avenue store, we are prepared to supply the immediate needs of our customers at our Third Street store. The line is not as large as that in the gutted store, but is just as well selected. In fact anything that could be supplied out of the larger stock can be found at the smaller place of business, the only difference being that there is not so much of each kind.

We do not know how soon or under what conditions the larger store will be opened, but we do know that until such time as this is settled we will be ready to serve you as before.

We are offering some exceptional bargains this week. Come in and look them over.

SUN NEVER SHINES; GROUND NEVER DRY

OTHERWISE FRANCE SEEMS TO BE ALL RIGHT, SAYS SOLDIER.

Samuel L. Pope has been in France long enough to find out that he does not like the prevailing climate over there. "Sunny France" may make the native poets rave, but the American doughboy does not want it as a steady proposition, to judge by their letters.

"Hope I can be back in time to help on the farm next spring," Samuel writes. "I am tired of wet, sloppy France. The weather is mild but the sun never shines and the ground is never dry.

"We are having good quarters, plenty to eat and get mail occasionally and am enjoying good health. I have no real kick, but I am getting very anxious to get back to civil life again and home.

"We have been living in a chateau since our arrival in this town. We have electric lights, an open fireplace and I sleep in a real bed. So you see we are setting fine. In fact, this is the best place we have hit sience we arrived over here. There are only a few civilians here at present. There were none when we arrived. No business here, though. The town was occupied by the Germans until the signing of the armistice.

"Concerning our travels: We landed safely in Liverpool, hiked out to a suburb and stayed at a camp. It was from here I sent the cablegram. The next day we got on the train, went east for some distance, then south through Sheffield, Leicester, Oxford, Winchester and then to Southhampton. At one time while on the train we were within thirty miles of London.

"We stayed over night at Southampton and the following evening crossed the English Channel to Le Havre. It sure was a fast steamer, too. From Le Havre we traveled through Rouen, Nantes to Versailles, near Paris, passed Paris on the south, then down through Melum and stopped at a small town named Les Laumes. We stayed there nearly two week. From there we took the train through Di Jon and Besancon, to a little city called Nericourt. We hiked out to a farmer village where we stayed quite awhile. From there we hiked into Alsace to a town called Walfersdorf. From there we went to Danemaire, which was the next town. This was where our regiment saw active service.

"It was in a quiet sector but one night there was quite a racket. The doors of our billet shook and we could hear the putter of the machine guns, roar of the big cannons and see the star shell signals. I was at the infirmary at the time, six miles back of the lines. I never did have the opportunity to be up in the trenches. After some time we hiked to Belfort, from there we went thru by train to Epinal, Nancy and Toul to a town called Pagny on the Meuse river. We walked from here to a village called Tracey. The regiment didn't stay here long but Schlitzmeyed and I stayed with one of the companies. When the company left, we had a ride till we were with the regiment again. We landed here at Ainville and don't know how long we will be here.

"Our division was scheduled to take parts of the land around here at any cost. It would have started between twelve and twenty-four hours after the time the armistice was signed, so you see how lucky we were. Had the plans been carried out I am afraid many of the boys of the 88th would never have had the pleasure of returning home again. No doubt these plans had been worked out long in advance and the signing of the armistice was purely luck for the 88th.

"Last Tuesday I had the pleasure of visiting Metz. Quite a nice city. Everything went along fine until 6:00 p. m., when one of the boys and myself got on the wrong train. We asked a M. P., and he directed us wrong. We didn't know it until it was too late. Went sixty kilometers in the wrong direction, headed straight for the German frontier. The train only went to Hargarten, on the border, northwest of Metz. We were the first Americans in the town, stayed over night and took the train to Metz in the morning. My partner could talk German so he talked to some ex-German soldiers. They treated us fine."

MINNESOTA

(By George A. Koonze)

I was born in Minnesota,
Where there's plenty room and air
Where there's oak and pine and maple,
And the stately birch so fair;
Where there is no fear of failures,
When a man puts in his crop,
Where at night the song birds twitter
And a fellow feels Tip Top.
Take me back to the land of plenty,
Where the dairy cows abound,
Where the red barns and the silo
Filled with fodder will be found;
Where the clover and alfalfa,
With the corn and other grains,
Make the farmers independent,
With bankbooks when it rains.
Take me where the fleet deer scamper,
Where the ducks and grouse abound,
Where the pike and bass and brook trout
Strike and run your hook aground;
Where the lakes and parks are many,
Where highways can't be beat,
Where you take your little flivver
And beat it from the heat.
When this war and strife is over,
And the Hun gets his just due,
When the kaiser sweats in hellfire,
I'll be coming back to you;
Land of clover and alfalfa,
You are worth your weight in gold.
Take me back to Minnesota,
Let me die there when I'm old.

Soldiers' Insurance.

The Red Cross Home Service is called on to answer many questions about compensation and insurance. Compensation takes the place of the old time pension system. When the soldier entered the army, he went in to an extra hazardous occupation. Our government considers itself liable for injury or death, just as a factory or a lumber company would be. If a soldier is partially or wholly disabled, he receives a monthly payment, varying with the extent of his injury and the size of his family. The discharged soldier continues to receive this payment, even if the government reconstruction hospitals like that at Fort Snelling are able to give him back his full earning power. When a soldier has died, compensation is paid to the widow, to the children and to a widowed mother who has been dependent on the son for support. In these cases, monthly payments are made to a widow ($25) or to a widowed mother ($20) until she dies or remarries; to a child from $5 to $20 until eighteen years, or until marriage, if before that age. Insurance is something very different; it is an additional protection paid for by the soldier, and due to the beneficiary he has named. Go to the Civilian Relief committee for advice, or for help in filling out papers for any rightful claims. Attorney E. M. Stanton is chairman of the committee for Pennington county.

SPECIAL PREMIUM ON MARKET CATTLE

HOGS AND SHEEP IN SIMILAR CLASS WILL ALSO RECEIVE SPECIALS.

Every farmer in the vicinity of Thief River Falls who has a steer or market heifer either below or above 18 months of age or both, will do well to write to Superintendent C. G. Selvig of the State Agricultural school, Crookston, regarding the premiums offered for market cattle at the coming Winter Stock show to be held in the new Red River Valley live stock pavilion the week of February 10. The same is true of those who can exhibit three market hogs and three market sheep. These classes are not open to breeding animals. The Northern Packing company, Grand Forks, offers $25.00 cash to the champions in each of these three classes. One hundred and fifty dollars towards a $500 silo will go to the owner of the best steer. In addition, the Winter Show offers premiums from $20 to $12. There will be a good show of breeding classes and it is hoped in addition to have these three market classes well represented. If the modesty of the owner of good steers, high class barrows or wethers prevents him from writing Superintendent Selvig, any interested neighbor should do so and urge their exhibition. Stock raisers are urged to look into this matter as there are many in Pennington county who can show splendid stock.

PLANS TO RECLAIM MUCH WASTE LAND

SECRETARY LANE WANTS $100,000,000 TO MAKE FARMS FOR SOLDIERS.

Immediate consideration of the interior department's request for $100,000,000 for reclamation and occupation of 210 million acres of tillable soil in this country by returned soldiers was asked on Friday by Secretary Lane at an informal meeting by members of congress held in the house chamber. The plan of the department will not only provide for thousands of men discharged from all departments of the government, Secretary Lane said, but it will greatly increase the resources of the nation. Briefly the program contemplates that discharged soldiers shall be employed at a current wage on vast reclamation schemes in many states.

OUR CITIZEN'S DEMAND.

Fully Complied With—A Thief River Falls Resident Furnished It.

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Thief River Falls people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Thief River Falls and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully:

C. Froseth, prop. of Shoe and harness shop, 218 LaBree Ave., says: "In the harness business I am on my feet nearly all day and this, together with confinement indoors, caused me to have kidney trouble. I had bad spells of backache and every little move I made, sent twinges all through my body. The kidney secretions didn't pass regularly and were unnatural. When I was told to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did and soon after using them, I improved. I haven't had any more kidney trouble since using Doan's; they made a cure that has lasted."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Froseth had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Cosmic Dust.

When a "shooting star" strikes our atmosphere, its energy or motion is transformed into heat, from the friction produced by the air, and the "star" is literally burned to ashes. These ashes fall upon us in a continual shower, and constitute the greater part of what is commonly known as cosmic dust.

FAVORS FIVE YEAR CONTROL OF ROADS

NEW DIRECTOR-GENERAL SUPPORTS POLICY OF McADOO CONCERNING RETURN.

Policies of the railroad administration bill will in nowise be changed, Walker D. Hines, the new director general announced in his first newspaper conference.

Hines said he strongly favored McAdoo's plan for a five-year control of the roads. He expects to lay his case before congress at an early date. He did not say how vigorously he would press his views, but it was understood from other sources that the plan would be impressed continuously. The intermediate period of control under which the roads are now operating was upheld by Hines to be dangerous, and likely to disrupt the organization which McAdoo built up.

"A square deal for labor, a cordial recognition for its partnership in the railroad administration, fair treatment for the owners of railroad property and fidelity to the public interest," is the slogan which Hines says he has adopted.

Division Jottings.

E. F. Gallimore has been named as agent at the Brooks station, succeeding T. J. Briley.

Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Winnipeg division, is a business visitor in the twin cities this week.

P. J. Bower has resumed his post as agent at Radium after a short siege of the flu. C. F. Strock has been working in his place.

William Senslow relieved Agent J. J. Hoglin as agent at Fairdale, the latter being out of commission because of influenza.

J. R. Bartley is taking the place of Gilbert Gulden as call boy, the latter being granted a leave of absence for 30 days.

The last consolidation of depots scheduled for the Soo and the Great Northern was effected this week when the trains of both roads began running into the same terminal at Conway. This makes the sixth station at which this arrangement has been made, the others being Bisbee, Ardock, Omemee, Lansford and Roulette. Similar action may be taken at other points later on, this depending on whether or not the roads will continue to be managed by the government or turned back to the original owners.

J. D. Lambert, fireman, went down to Ogahmah this week to look after his farming interests. He is particularly interested in sheep raising and is devoting much of his time to looking after his stock.

Sigvard Eng, fireman, has been transferred to Adams from which point he will run hereafter.

Fireman Fred Larson went to Newfolden the first of the week to visit with his family.

J. C. Bird, pipefitter, is back on the job after a week on the sick list. His place has been filled during his absence by Conrad Klappenback.

Engineer L. B. Larimore was trying his hand at the engine dispatcher's job for a day or two the past week for the purpose of helping out.

John Jordahl is back as coal distributor after a layoff of ten or twelve days because of sickness.

About a dozen firemen have been placed on the waiting list by the letup in business. A number of them will be given work in the roundhouse until such time as things again brighten up while others will be sent to another division.

Not more than 30 per cent of the 1918 grain crop remains to be hauled from points along the Soo, and this will come very slow. The grain traffic has been steady and heavy ever since the embargoes were lifted and there has an enormous amount passed on to the big terminals.

Thus far this has been the finest winter for railroading in the history of this section. Master Mechanic Hendry says that he does not believe there has been another like it since the late seventies. The snow plow has not yet been called into requisition, but there is a considerable stretch ahead and railroad men are talking of the weather with their fingers crossed. Last winter was about as fine as could be expected, the rotary having been called out but eight times as compared with 45 times in 1916-17.

E. Rousch returned to work with the car repair crew on Wednesday after a siege of sickness. Peter Olson, another carman, is also back on the job after a short layoff for the same reason.

Oscar Eggerud, who underwent an operation at the Warren hospital last week, has returned to his home in this city, but will not be able to return to work for some time.

Be a Joy-Walker, "Gets-It" for Corns

2 Drops, 2 Seconds—Corn Is Doomed!

When you almost die with your shoes on and corns make you almost walk sidewise to get away from the pain, take a vacation for a minute or two and apply 2 or 3 drops of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

How Good We Feel...

Ever since DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS have been on the market, thousands of people both young and old have been testifying to the merits of this popular and time tried remedy for constipation and stomach disorders.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Simmons of East Columbia, Ohio, are typical examples. Mr. Simmons says:

"I have given DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS a thorough trial and they are the best medicine of any kind I have ever used. They are pleasant to take and pleasant in action and do the work without weakening the digestive tract. My wife has been bothered with constipation more or less all her life. When she began using DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS she got better results than she had ever been able to get with other remedies."

DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS are prepared especially for sufferers of constipation—the ingredients are such that they act surely, but gently on the bowels and assist in restoring healthful regularity. A box of these tablets costs only a few cents at any drug store. They taste like candy. Ask your druggist about them. He knows why they are the ideal laxative for old and young.

NEWS NOTES FROM GOODRIDGE

Mrs. M. O. Seavey.

Mrs. M. O. Seavey passed away at her home in Goodridge, Saturday, Jan. 11th, at 5:30 p. m., after an illness of one week. She contracted influenza Jan. 4th and complications set in which caused her death. Every effort was made to save this good woman who was so much needed in her family, but to no avail. Lizzie Josephson was born in Dodge county, [illegible] 17th, 1879, and was 39 years of age at the time of her death. She became the wife of Merton O. Seavey November 20, 1902, and seven children were born to this union, Mildred, age 15 years, Evered, 14 years, Lawrence, 13 years, Orris, 11 years, Howard, 9 years, Clifton, 3 years and Ralph, 6 years, who passed away Tuesday morning at 10:15 a. m. She is survived by her husband and the six children, her mother, Mrs. O. Josephson of Lyle, Minn. Three brothers, George and Carl Josephson of Goodridge; Alfred Josephson of Lyle, Minn. Five sisters, Mrs. A. W. Seavey and Mrs. C. S. Seavey of Blooming Prairie, Minn.; Mrs. C. H. Henderson of Aldon, Minn.; Miss Otillia Josephson of Minneapolis and Miss Rachel Josephson of Goodridge. The community was greatly shocked by the death of this beloved neighbor and friend and all feel that it will be long before her place can be filled by another. She was a loving wife and mother, and still found time to devote to church and Red Cross work. The husband and other relatives have the deepest sympathy of the community in this their hour of great sorrow. Deceased was taken to Lansing, Minn., for burial Monday evening. Mr. Seavey accompanied the remains.

Ralph Seavey.

Ralph Seavey passed away at his home Tuesday, Jan. 14th, at 10:15 a. m., after an illness of ten days, due to influenza and complications.

Ralph was born Dec. 9th, 1912 at Lansing, Minn., and was six years old at the time of his death.

His mother passed away three days previous and so makes a double burden for the father and other relatives to bear.

Little Ralph was a dear child with a sweet, sunny disposition and will be greatly missed by his little school mates as well as in the home circle. The body was taken to Lansing, Minn., for burial.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and sister, Mrs. M. O. Seavey, and our dear son, brother and nephew, Ralph Seavey, whom God, in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call to his home above.

Allies of Pneumonia

The poisons created by fermenting food-waste which constipation holds in the bowels are the allies that make it possible for pneumonia to fasten upon you.

The first question your doctor will ask is: "How are your bowels?" He knows how important it is that they be open and entirely free from food-waste, the importance of using a cathartic which will completely empty the entire digestive tract, including the lower bowel, where most poisons are formed.

Your druggist has a new, pleasant-tasting salts called SALINOS, which is fully effective if taken in cold water. It will completely empty the entire digestive tract. It is a remarkable preventive. Get a bottle for a Quarter (larger sizes Fifty cents and a Dollar.)

Be safe! Get it today! Take it tomorrow morning.

ST. HILAIRE

After a brief visit at her home in Bray township, Miss Dora Larson returned to Crookston, Wednesday, to resume her studies at the high school.

George Holden of Thompson, N. D., was here between trains on Wednesday of last week to attend the funeral of his nephew, Neil Dahl. A. C. Holden of Thief River Falls, another uncle of the deceased, was also here to pay his last tribute to the departed. Lee Weightler of Ada, a friend of the deceased, came up for the funeral.

Harold Holmes, who is a member of the naval aviation corps stationed at Pensacola, Fla., returned to that place the latter part of last week, after having spent a two weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes.

Miss Annie Norander left on Wednesday of last week for Eveleth, Minn. to visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. Sandberg.

The numerous friends of Mrs. A. H. Pitkin experienced a feeling of sadness when it was learned that she had passed away Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. I. R. Fisher, at Mankato. She has been very frail and in poor health for some time, but death was directly due to hemorrhage of the lungs caused by severe coughing. She was nearly seventy years of age at the time of her death and had resided in this village for several years until last autumn, when she decided to make her home with her daughter at Mankato. The ill health kept her at home most of the time, her rare personality and charm of manner attracted a large circle of friends. She was devoted to her family and the shock of her husband's sudden death, more than a year ago, was well nigh overwhelming, but her cheerful courage and indomitable will were remarkable. Mrs. Pitkin was a devout and faithful Christian and though her friends regret her departure, they are glad she has finally come into the Eternal Rest, for which she yearned. The remains were brought to Crookston, the old home town and gently laid to rest beside those of her husband. Mrs. G. W. Hooper and Mrs. E. F. Dann attended the funeral services at Crookston Friday.

Misses Esther Hoppe and Lula Allen went to Thief River Falls Thursday, the latter remaining to resume her studies at the high school.

Mrs. Hauge left for her home at Halstad Wednesday, after a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Hanson.

Andy Dahl was among the Thief River Falls visitors between trains, Friday.

S. S. Benson left Saturday on his return trip to Camp Travis, Tex. Upon being notified of the death of his brother-in-law, Neil O. Dahl, on Jan. 2, he obtained a furlough of twelve days, the greater part of which time was spent in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ludtke went to Crookston Thursday, after a visit at the home of Mrs. Ludtke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Olson and son Arndoll, visited at the B. Thompson home at Thief River Falls from Friday until Saturday.

Miss Anderson visited at Thief River Falls from Thursday until Saturday.

Arthur Avelson, who is in service in the U. S. navy, arrived from Philadelphia Friday, to spend a furlough of a week or more with his home folks and friends in this community. Arthur is well pleased with life in the navy and finds it very interesting and thrilling as well, for much of his time was spent with a submarine chaser on the Atlantic.

H. A. Olson autoed to Thief River Falls Friday afternoon and on his return was accompanied by Misses G. Olson, Esther Fricker and Selina Simonson. After week-end visits at their respective homes, the young ladies were taken to Thief River Falls on Sunday.

Miss Ruth Eckstrom, a daughter of Mrs. P. A. Eckstrom, passed away at the family home in Black River township, Saturday. She was about sixteen years of age.

Miss Christine Pederson was a south bound passenger to Ada Saturday, where she is to resume her employment at a bank, after a vacation of several weeks.

Miss Hazel Golngs, a student at the Thief River Falls high school, visited at her home in Sanders township from Friday until Monday.

The local public school re-opened Monday with a good attendance. Teachers and pupils were glad to be assembled again, after the long and rather quiet vacation.

Lee Beebe went to Thief River Falls Monday to undergo an operation.

The annual meeting of the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance Co., convened in this village Monday afternoon. Business was transacted; the following officers were re-elected for another year: N. K. Anderson, president; O. L. Larson, vice-president; N. A. Nelson, treasurer; J. O. Swanson, secretary; Ed. Aubol, director.

Miss Anna Vik was a Thief River Falls visitor Friday and went there again early this week, to remain, having secured employment.

Miss Edith Dahl returned to Devils Lake, N. D., to resume her duties as teacher, from which position she was called two weeks ago, by the death of her brother, Neil O. Dahl.

ADVICE TO "FLU" CONVALESCENTS

SPAIN AND ENGLAND REPORT INCREASE IN TUBERCULOSIS AFTER INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.

U. S. Public Health Service Warns Public Against Tuberculosis. One Million Cases Tuberculosis in United States—Each a Source of Danger.

Influenza Convalescents Should Have Lungs Examined—Colds Which Hang On Often Beginning of Tuberculosis. No Cause for Alarm if Tuberculosis Is Recognized Early—Patent Medicines Not to Be Trusted.

★ Beware tuberculosis after influenza. No need to worry if you take precautions in time.

★ Don't diagnose your own condition. Have your doctor examine your lungs several times at monthly intervals. Build up your strength with right living, good food and plenty of fresh air.

Washington, D. C.—(Special.)—According to a report made to the United States Public Health Service, the epidemic of influenza in Spain has already caused an increase in the prevalence and deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis. A similar association between influenza and tuberculosis was recently made by Sir Arthur Newsholme, the chief medical officer of the English public health service, in his analysis of the tuberculosis death rate in England.

In order that the people of the United States may profit by the experience of other countries Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States Public Health Service has just issued a warning emphasizing the need of special precautions at the present time. "Experience seems to indicate," says the Surgeon General, "that persons whose resistance has been weakened by an attack of influenza are peculiarly susceptible to tuberculosis. With millions of its people recently affected with influenza this country now offers conditions favoring the spread of tuberculosis."

One Million Consumptives in the United States.

"Then you consider this a serious menace?" was asked. "In my opinion it is, though I hasten to add it is distinctly one against which the people can guard. So far as one can estimate there are at present about one million cases of tuberculosis in the United States. There is unfortunately no complete census available to show exactly the number of tuberculosis persons in each state despite the fact that most of the states have made the disease reportable. In New York city, where reporting has been in force for many years, over 35,000 cases of tuberculosis are registered with the Department of Health. Those familiar with the situation believe that the addition of unrecognized and unreported cases would make the number nearer 50,000. The very careful health survey conducted during the past two years in Framingham, Mass., revealed 200 cases of tuberculosis in a population of approximately 15,000. If these proportions hold true for the United States as a whole they would indicate that about one in every hundred persons is tuberculous. Each of these constitutes a source of danger to be guarded against."

What to Do.

In his statement to the public Surgeon General Blue points out how those who have had influenza should protect themselves against tuberculosis. "All who have recovered from influenza," says the Surgeon General, "should have their lungs carefully examined by a competent physician. In fact, it is desirable to have several examinations made a month apart. Such examinations cannot be made through the clothing nor can they be carried out in two or three minutes. If the lungs are found to be free from tuberculosis every effort should be made to keep them so. This can be done by right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Danger Signs.

The Surgeon General warned especially against certain danger signs, such as "decline" and "colds which hang on."

These, he explained, were often the beginning of tuberculosis. "If you do not get well promptly, if your cold seems to hang on or your health and strength decline, remember that these are often the early signs of tuberculosis. Place yourself at once under the care of a competent physician. Tuberculosis is curable in the early stages.

Patent Medicines Dangerous in Tuberculosis.

"Above all do not trust in the misleading statements of unscrupulous patent medicine fakers. There is no specific medicine for the cure of tuberculosis. The money spent on such medicines is thrown away; it should be spent instead for good food and decent living."

The Suez Canal.

The plan of water connection between the Mediterranean and the Red sea goes back to early Egyptian history. Such a canal seems to have been constructed in the reigns of Seti I, and Rameses II, about 1300 B. C., extending from the Nile to Lake Timsah and thence to the Red sea.

A Successful Performance.

The assistant concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony orchestra asked his four-year-old son how he enjoyed an orchestral performance which he had conducted. The little fellow answered: "I watched you balancing yourself for two hours, daddy, and you didn't fall off the box."

SAVE THE BABIES

WE mean baby pigs. Every one is a possible 300 pounds of pork for the market at a time when the whole world is hungry.

Yet they are delicate, easily chilled and need clean, dry, warm quarters if they are to thrive. The better their quarters, the more pork you will sell.

Build a Warm Winter Hog House

with a concrete floor to make cleaning easy. Concrete doesn't absorb moisture or filth so you can have a real sanitary house and be safe from disease. Of course it will pay. The pigs you save from the next litters may more than return the cost of a modern permanent house.

Ask us for plans. We have two styles for you to choose from. While the weather is good lay in your stock of UNIVERSAL cement, lumber and roofing. You can get the best the market affords from our stock.

ENROLL BOYS IN WORK RESERVES

ORGANIZATION WILL BE CONTINUED AND ENLARGED AS PRODUCTION AID

LIEUT. HIATT IN CHARGE

NO DUES OR EXPENSES OF ANY KIND CONNECTED WITH MEMBERSHIP

Lieut. L. B. Hiatt, agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school, has been appointed enrolling officer for the local branch of the United States Boys Working Reserve. This organization has designated the week of Jan. 20 to 25 as national enrollment week. At this time all boys between the ages of 16 and 21 who are qualified for reserve membership will be given an opportunity to enroll. Last year there was a membership of 300,000 boys in the United States. The agriculture unit alone produced enough food to supply the army of General Pershing in France for a year.

Jobs For the Summer.

For boys who are attending school, the filling out of the enrollment card signifies their intention of spending their summer vacation in some form of productive work under federal auspices. If they have already secured suitable jobs for themselves, reserve membership will in no way interfere, but will further aid their interests in all ways possible. If the boy does not have a job, the reserve will do all in its power to secure him one satisfactory to his wishes and capacities.

The Boys' Working Reserve was organized in 1917 as an emergency measure under the U. S. Department of Labor. It is continuing its operation on the basis of the labor emergency, which promises to be present in agriculture at least. Above the labor problem, however, and as a basis for the continuation of the reserve activity, is the educational value to the boys themselves.

Has Strong Endorsement.

Sherman Dickinson, associate director for Minnesota, is laying much emphasis upon the educational factor. He has consulted with J. M. McConnel, the new state superintendent of education, and with Mr. Tonning, assistant superintendent, and has secured their full co-operation. E. M. Phillips, state high school inspector and director of vocational education, is the educational director for the reserve in this state. He sees great possibilities for the reserve as an aid in vocational education.

Boys becoming reserve members will have the advantage of federal backing and the combined influence of the many big men who are interested in the movement. William S. Hall of New York is national director; Judge Thomas D. O'Brien of St. Paul is state director; Governor Burnquist, S. O. Hartwell, B. B. Jackson and E. J. Hoke, superintendent of the city schools in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, and many others are doing what they can to aid in the work. The boys are further privileged to wear the uniform and receive the badges and honors for effective work.

COMING NOW FROM FIELD AND CAMPS

RAY LINDQUIST BACK FROM FRANCE—DR. SWEDENBURG RESUMES PRACTICE.

Ray Lindquist returned the first of the week, having been discharged from service in the army. He was among the first of those who have seen actual service in France to return to the city. Mr. Lindquist was in England for three weeks and put in about a month in France as a member of the 138th artillery. He has been in good health all through the campaign but is very glad to get home.

Dr. A. W. Swedenburg has returned to the city after having served for about a year as a lieutenant in the medical corps of Uncle Sam. He has been on duty at the training camps in this country. Dr. Swedenburg will resume his practice in this city, having rented the offices formerly occupied by Dr. H. G. Hieber.

Corp. Clarence Syrtveit of Lilo, arrived this week from Camp Cody, N. M., where he has been in training. Max Fred Krause of St. Hilaire is also among the arrivals. He has been at Camp Grant.

The boys are arriving so fast that it is impossible to keep track of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith this week received a notification to the effect that their son, George D., who has been with the American forces in France had landed in New York and expected soon to be on his homeward journey. The notification came through the Salvation Army.

Private Wm. Gilbertson was given his honorable discharge from service Jan. 7th at Camp Forest, Georgia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbertson of Hazel.

Wonderful reductions advertised. Mogensen's Big Removal Sale ad.

Lost Two Brothers in War.

Miss Marie Nelson, teller at the First National bank, left on Tuesday for Fall Creek, Wis., in response to a telegram announcing that the body of her brother, Lars, had arrived from France for burial. The young man died of disease in one of the American hospitals overseas. This makes the second brother of Miss Nelson who has died in the service, the first having also succumbed to illness while with the army in France.

Woman's Club Meetings.

There will be the regular meeting of the Woman's club held on Monday afternoon, at which all members are invited to be present.

Those among the members who are desirous of joining the history division are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Froehlich on Friday, when the matter of forming such division will be taken up.

Climbing on the Wagon.

Twenty-eight states have now ratified the dry amendment to the Constitution and more are expected as soon as their legislatures can climb aboard. The commonwealths having up to date signified their willingness to make the United States dry are: Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Carolina, Maryland, Montana, Texas, Delaware, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Arizona, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, Idaho, Tennessee, Maine, West Virginia, Washington, California, Indiana, Arkansas, North Carolina.

CHOOSE NEW NAME AND NEW OFFICERS

OXO MANUFACTURING COMPANY SUCCEEDS ECON-O-KLEEN FUEL CO.

The Oxo Manufacturing company was this week organized to take over the business of the Econ-O-Kleen Fuel company, manufacturer of an auxiliary fuel and carbon preventive for gasoline engines. A complete new set of officers and directors were elected, as follows: President, Dr. C. R. Crandall; vice president, F. C. Nielai; secretary, G. W. Connell; treasury, W. W. Prichard, Jr. The directors are: C. R. Crandall, Robert McGinn, P. O. Myhrum, F. C. Nielai, F. H. Herrick, A. S. Sapero and Dr. G. W. Booren.

Under the former name this organization had its share of the troubles which beset new, ambitious corporations, particularly where there is a lack of sufficient capital to start with. The product turned out is without question the best of its kind ever produced and this had the effect of piling in the orders so fast that the company's credit was strained to provide the raw material. It is understood that there are at present orders on the books aggregating in the neighborhood of 400,000 cans and the new directors will make the necessary arrangements for turning these out at once.

FIRST BREAKDOWN IN SEVEN YEARS

ONE ENGINE AT ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT IS OUT OF COMMISSION.

Do not use any more electric current than is absolutely necessary for awhile. Supt. Leonard Peterson and the powerhouse crew are walking around with their fingers crossed for fear the one remaining engine of the battery on which the city depends for light may give out, and then—kerosene and candles.

A drive gear cam broke without warning while the engine was running on Sunday and the part cannot be replaced nearer than St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Peterson says that there was no apparent reason for the part giving out, but he is not surprised. These engines have been running steadily since March 13, 1912, and only minor repairs have been found necessary during that time. The record is perhaps as good as could be achieved with any kind of power that might be selected.

All unnecessary lighting has been cut off and the one engine and turbines are keeping the city well lighted so far as the business houses and residences go. The street lights have been cut off, but as the moon has been particularly accomodating this has entailed no great hardship.

It is doubtful if the needed part will be here much before the first of February, the factory having notified Mr. Peterson that there are none on hand.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR AT GERMAN CHURCH

The annual meeting of St. John's German Lutheran congregation was held Tuesday afternoon. The reports of the different officers showed that 1918 was the banner year in the history of the church in this city. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, treasurer, reported receipts amounting to $2,395.63, which had been employed for the following purposes: On payment of church debt, $1,000; current expenses, $923.86; for benevolent purposes, $471.77. All outstanding obligations were paid and a neat balance left in the treasury with which to begin business for the year.

The pastor, Rev. F. J. Seltz, reported that the congregation now has a membership of 275, with 39 voting members, four being added at the meeting on Tuesday evening. Rev. Seltz was voted a substantial increase in salary and all officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. They are as follows: Vestrymen, H. Koon, sr., H. Roemhildt, August Krause; trustees, H. Koon, sr., Hans Anton, August Krause; chairman, Albert Geske; secretary, H. Wilken; treasurer, Dr. H. W. Froehlich; organist, Mrs. H. Roemhildt.

LIST OF PERSONAL TAX ASSESSMENTS

OPPORTUNITY TO COMPARE YOUR STANDING WITH THAT OF YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Just about the first job falling to the lot of County Treasurer John Gullingsrud when he assumed the office on January 4, was the getting out of the personal property tax list. A large part of the work has already been placed in the hands of the printer but only the city list apears today. The remainder of the county will be found in The Times next week.

There are 446 persons paying personal property taxes in the city of Thief River Falls this year. Of this number 124 are assessed for being in possession of moneys and credits. The total tax derived from this source is just about $1,000.

The heaviest tax payer in the personal property list is the Oen Mercantile company, whose assessment is $1,960.32. Next comes the Thief River Grocery company and the Tessum Seed, Grain and Supply company with $1,317.70 and $1,149.78 respectively. The Hanson-Barzen Milling company pays $813.52.

The four banks in the city pay a total of $4,022.55, of which the First and Peoples is let in for not far from one-half.

There are four brewing concerns still owning personal property in the city, their assessments totalling $195.90. The Hamm company of St. Paul is the heaviest contributor, being down for $92.14.

Following is a list of those paying over $100 in personal property taxes: John Aos, $205.35; Citizens State Bank, $771.75; J. P. Curtis, $255.59; E. A. Engler Lumber Co., $151.80; First National Bank, $437.26; First and Peoples State Bank, $1,824.41; Farmers & Merchants State Bank, $989.13; Farmers Elevator Co., $130.89; Maurice Giller, $252.82; L. Gill, $283.33; C. Gustafson & Son, $328.04; Hanson & Barzen Milling Co., $813.52; International Harvester Co., $267.17; Anton M. Langseth, $283.53; Lambert's Drug Store, $160.53; Chas. Lieberman, $157.26; Albert Lieberman, $302.76; Phillips & Laing Hardware Co., $186.18; Larson Furniture Co., $204.55; Loken Bros., $421.32; E. O. Mogensen, $236.16; McFarland Auto Co., $124.48; Minneapolis Bridge Co., $131.20; Manhattan Oil Co., $121.59; H. B. Newell, $137.37; Northwestern Drainage Co., $279.97; Olaf Neset, $177.91; Oen Mercantile Co., $1,960.32; O. N. Olson, $176.92; Dr. A. J. Paulson, $123.79; The Prichard Co., $655.76; Red Lake Falls Milling Co., $206.35; P. W. Sharp Printing & Mfg. Co., $220.74; The Sapero Co., $221.69; F. J. Stebbins, $229.07; M. G. Stageberg, $104.12; K. A. Sundahl, $135.18; Gilbert Sandum, $100.95; M. L. Swanson, $139.77; Standard Oil Co., $578.28; Thief River Iron Works, $310.26; Thief River Music Co., $115.06; Thief River Grocery Co., $1,317.70; Thief River Falls Creamery, $150.93; Tessum Seed, Grain & Supply Co., $1,149.79; The Times Company, $227.70; Zeh & Curran, $205.08.

Moving Entire House.

Contractor O. L. Ihle is superintending the moving of a good sized residence house right down Main avenue these days. The building was formerly located at 110 Main avenue south and owned by George Leimers. It has been purchased by E. O. Gullingsrud, who will move it out to his farm about seven miles east of town.

ADDITIONAL CASH FOR FIRE VICTIMS

Retains Office Quarters.

County Attorney Theo. Quale will not be housed with the rest of the county officials at the court house. There are no quarters suitable to the purpose in the building, particularly now that the judge of probate is also located there. Mr. Quale will retain his present offices in the McGinn building.

The other new officials are getting things settled in good shape. Judge of Probate Richardson has been busy labeling filing cases and indexing records to his own satisfaction and Treasurer Gullingsrud has made good use of the experience gained before he took over the office.

Get Phones Mixed.

Judge of Probate Richardson has been kept busy the past week answering telephone calls intended for Superintendent of Schools George M. Gunderson. The superintendent's office was formerly in the room now occupied by the judge and he fell heir to the old phone number, which is 309. Mr. Gunderson will no doubt soon be supplied with a new phone and number.

BASKET BALL GAME HERE ON SATURDAY

HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET WILL TAKE ON FAST RED LAKE FALLS BUNCH.

The Thief River Falls high school basket ball team will play the first home game of the season at the school gymnasium on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The boys have improved wonderfully of late and are confident of victory.

G. W. Connell, who is coaching the locals, believes he has a team able to clean up anything in this section as soon as they get a little more confidence. The late games have demonstrated that they are fast and willing while the raggedness evident in the game with Bemidji about three weeks ago has almost entirely disappeared.

The quintet went over to Warren last Saturday and trimmed the aggregation representing the high school of that city by a score of 33 to 18. Mr. Connell stated that his proteges played a strong game but that there is still room for improvement. It was one of the cleanest tussles ever witnessed in this section, there being but six fouls allowed in the entire game.

Following was the lineup at Warren: Forwards, Johnson and Schuster; center, Mostue; guards, Flattum and Nelson. Hadrath replaced Mostue; McGinn replaced Johnson in the second half.

The opportunity of a life-time. Mogensen's Removal Sale.

COMMENCES WORK ON NEW QUARTERS

ELABORATE FRONT BEING PUT IN PLACE FOR MOGENSEN'S STORE.

The material for the alterations to be made in the east room of the First National bank building prior to it occupancy by E. O. Mogenson, the clothier, arrived the first of the week and the work of taking down the old front was begun this morning by Contractor L. D. McAdams. It is expected that the job will take until the first of March.

The new store will be something unusual, if those who have seen the fixtures and appointments are to be believed. The front will consist entirely of glass and copper, the entrance being laid with non-skid tile. The borders will be of birdseye antique marble on each side of the 12-foot entrance. The backing for the show windows will be of quarter-sawed oak except where French plate mirrors are used. The entire room will be finished in rubbed oak.

Mr. Mogensen states that in the cities business men engaged in all lines are contemplating improvements to their buildings. He says to argue that labor and material are too high to warrant making any outlay of this kind now is wrong, as when wages are low and material cheap there is no business for anyone and improvements are impossible. Merchants everywhere are realizing this and getting themselves in position to benefit by the good times they feel certain are coming.

Take advantage of Mogensen's Great Removal Sale.

Has Paul Beaten.

It has always been supposed that Paul Midderigh of this city was the champion job holder of this neighborhood, but he will have to take a back seat to Sergeant Carsten Mead of Red Lake Falls. Paul is chief of the fire department, deputy sheriff, city fire warden, court house custodian and substitute patrolman, but that is nothing, as will be seen by the following:

"Mayor Theodore La Bossonierre last week appointed Sergeant Carsten Mead, recently returned from an officers training camp, chief of police at $90 a month. The office of chief, in addition to enforcing the law, carries the following positions: Fire warden, city water pumper, street commissioner, water rent collector, fire tender at the city hall, pumphouse and watertower house."

Christina Clauson Entertains.

Miss Christina Clauson entertained a number of friends at her rooms, 221½ La Bree avenue north, Sunday afternoon.

A delicious four-course dinner was served at one o'clock, after which they spent the afternoon listening to music and fortune-telling. The rooms were decorated with large bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen, C. L. Hanson, Miss Evelyn Grindeland, Swen Swenson, Miss Ione Thoreson and Miss Marie Nelson.

STATE PAYS LOCAL FAIR PREMIUMS

APPORTIONMENT COMES WITHIN $50 OF COVERING OUTLAY FOR AWARDS.

The Pennington county fair for 1917 was the most successful from a financial viewpoint of any held in this section of the state. Secretary N. W. Tarrant figures that while no fair broke even on last year's business, that held at Thief River Falls came the nearest to it of any in northwestern Minnesota.

A check for $892.52 was this week received from the state as the county's share of the appropriation made by the legislature for the purpose of aiding and encouraging fairs. This comes within $25 of meeting the outlay for premiums, the total of these amounting to $972.25.

The total indebtedness of the association is now about $3,200, which is only one-half as much as the fair at Fertile ran behind last year alone. The Crookston show came out but little better while the one at Red Lake Falls was about $700 to the bad on the year's business.

With the war at an end and conditions again assuming their normal status Secretary Tarrant looks for a good year in 1919. He will not be in charge at that time, having declined to be a candidate to succeed himself, but he believes that the show will be the best ever held here as the interest is greater than at any time since the organization of the association.

A Pioneer Gone.

Mrs. Gena Falk, wife of Casper Falk, died at their Rocksbury township home, Thursday, Jan. 2, of cancer of the stomach after a long illness. She was 63 years of age and had resided in what is now Pennington county for 35 years. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from the family residence, Rev. A. N. Skogerboe officiating.

Deceased was twice married, her first husband, Anton Langseth, dying in 1909. Three children were born to the couple, Olaf and Lena Langseth and Mrs. John Grau.

Seven years ago deceased was married to Mr. Falk, who also survives her.

Mrs. Falk was an energetic woman and kept busy almost to the last in spite of her ailment. One of her achievements was the knitting of 57 pairs of socks for the Red Cross committee.

Deceased came to this section of the state when it was a wilderness and remained to see the district wherein she was a pioneer become the most populous and prosperous in the entire county. She will be remembered with gratitude by the many whom she assisted during those early years.

A Tribute.

Back of the actual front there is a silent army all over the land, who has contributed a good deal in winning this war.

Chapters with its branches of Red Cross are scattered almost throughout every section and in every one of these organizations there is someone who stands foremost in sacrificing time and energy for this good cause.

In the death of Mrs. Casper Falk, Rocksbury branch of the Thief River Falls chapter of Red Cross has lost one of its most enthusiastic and faithful workers. Although she did not have any near relative in the army, she took a keen interest in this noble work. For the short time that this organization has existed she is credited with 812 hours' work for knitting alone. It shows what one can do where there is a will. Long live the memory of this good neighbor and co-worker.

On behalf of Rocksbury branch of Red Cross.

DOCTORS MUST REPORT VENEREAL DISEASES

Board of Health Passes New Rule.

The draft showed with unescapable figures the appalling prevalence of the venereal diseases, syphilis and gonorrhea, throughout the United States. When Minnesota, in co-operation with the federal authorities, undertook a crusade against these diseases, it was at once obvious that a change in the medical attitude was essential.

Reporting Cases.

These diseases are highly infectious, or, as we say, they are "catching." We have never known how many cases we have had in any community because up to the present time their existence has been kept a "professional secret" by each individual doctor. It is impossible to fight any scourge without a knowledge of its prevalence. Plainly the old idea of "secret diseases" would have to be abolished. But the State Board of Health had no intention of disturbing the confidential relations between physician and patient. Therefore, a regulation was adopted, which, while it makes it compulsory for every physician to report all cases coming to his attention, provides at the same time that the name of the patient need not be revealed, so long as proper care is exercised in protecting others from infection, and treatment is continued.

For the protection of others, however, the name is required the moment the patient exposes anyone else or discontinues treatment. Every report is invariably regarded by the Board of Health as strictly confidential. In this way it is possible to get at the number of cases and their location, while the individual who respects the rights of others has absolutely no reason to fear that his misfortune will become known any more than it has in the past.

Free Treatment.

Before the Board of Health undertook this work, many cases of both syphilis and gonorrhea have gone untreated because they were not recognized, or because the individual was unable to pay the cost of either the laboratory tests or of the long continued treatment often required before a complete cure was obtained. Today no resident of Minnesota need allow the expense involved to prevent his determining whether or not he has a venereal disease. The State will make blood tests and microscopic examinations for him, free of cost. Nor need he hesitate because of the cost of medicine and of repeated treatments. The special drug required for the treatment of syphilis is provided entirely free to all who are unable to pay.

Hospitals and Dispensaries.

In the larger cities free beds in the hospitals for those who are too ill to be about, are now being provided as rapidly as possible. Most cases, however, may safely remain at work while undergoing treatment. For these there have been opened free dispensaries with evening hours in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, for both men and women. These clinics are under the direction of trained specialists.

Quacks and Fake Drugs.

The old methods of the past induced hundreds of unfortunate victims of these diseases to seek relief through advertising quacks, or by means of patent remedies which were often recommended by ignorant druggists as "sure cures." Too late the sufferer awakened to the fact that he had thrown away not only his money but his chance of recovery as well. To protect such unfortunates from what is in reality a cruel exploitation of their ignorance, a law against advertising quacks is being drastically enforced, and no druggist today is permitted to sell any remedy which claims to cure either of these diseases.

Spurious Health Certificates.

Frequently even diseased women are able to procure so-called "health certificates" which purport to guarantee freedom from venereal infection. These certificates are utterly worthless. No reputable physician would ever give a woman such a card, not only for moral reasons, but because every physician knows the impossibility of guaranteeing any immunity from infection for even a few hours. They are, moreover, exceedingly dangerous since they give to such a woman's patrons an utterly false sense of security.

The Incorrigibles.

There are in almost every community certain individuals who in spite of every appeal persist in endangering the well-being of others. These must be prevented, by force if necessary, from spreading their diseases to their more conscientious fellows. How the social service department helps to guard society from this menace, and often is able to change the incorrigible into a self-respecting citizen, will be told in our next article.

PROTECTION OF VICE VICTIMS UNDERTAKEN BY THE STATE

The war has sent out its big, booming challenge for social democracy, and we not only want to make the world a safe place to live in, but a healthful place as well. It is said that the boy in the trenches has a better chance for his life than the new-born baby battling against disease, poverty, and parental ignorance. Why is this? Because we have preferred our old-time methods of patching up wrong and curing disease rather than reducing both, through the application of known principles of prevention.

Diseases Are Preventable.

Venereal diseases are preventable, but how? We must organize all the forces of the community to suppress prostitution, and alcohol; to substitute for them purer forms of recreation; to provide better housing and labor conditions; to help secure higher wages and shorter hours of labor; to secure better marriage laws in order to eliminate the possibility of the procreation of feeble-minded, insane, degenerate, and criminal persons.

But those unfortunates already existing must be cared for. The State Board of Health is providing dispensaries for medical care, and through its Social Service Department is equipped to render special aid to those who need it, both men and women. On the medical side it offers advice, and help to patients in securing medical treatment, and is able to arrange that the treatment is carried out until the patient can be pronounced cured. It is proven that many people do not remain under a doctor's care long enough to be completely cured; perhaps because of the expense or time involved, or because they do not understand the danger of stopping short of a cure. This contact with the individual offers a chance to educate him, as to the nature of his disease, and his duty to follow a regimen that will protect others from infection. This class of persons is amenable to friendly advice and control.

There are others who have no regard for the rights of others. It is to this class that prostitutes belong. Some more drastic measures are necessary in dealing with these hardened sex offenders, and sometimes they must be brought through the courts.

Need of a Woman's Reformatory.

Our greatest need at present for Minnesota is a reformatory or farm colony for women where they can be sent for an indeterminate period and studied and trained individually, and only returned to society when they prove themselves capable of normal living. Until we have such an institution we must try to help the girl who gets into the city workhouse, to make a fresh start, always realizing that failure may occur since the girl may be incapable of managing her affairs satisfactorily because of mental taint. The problem of venereal disease will not be solved until we make adequate provision as a state for those of abnormal mentality, who are prolific spreaders of disease because unable to control their sex impulses.

Protective Work.

Profiting by the experience of England, the state is employing women to protect young girls on the streets, in the parks, and amusement places, and in the vicinity of training camps. These women have police power, but seldom need to use it, as a warning is usually sufficient for this type of silly girl.

Then there is the girl who has left home to find work in a neighboring city without knowing any of the difficulties to be encountered. This girl may easily drift into vicious surroundings and form questionable friendships, unless the community can safeguard her at the right time. Then there is the girl who is a runaway from her home to a camp city, simply in search of adventure and attracted by the military uniform. This girl has not done anything criminal and need not be taken through the courts but she can be returned to her home by the protective officer. Her parents can be warned of the danger and by more careful supervision prevent a repetition of the episode. Perhaps her energies may be directed into other channels, such as girls' clubs, athletics, or the various forms of war work.

Then there is the older girl who is distinctly hardened and may practice prostitution clandestinely. It may be necessary to bring this girl into court and certainly an effort should be made to detach her from her former surroundings. It goes without saying that the girl who is a professional prostitute must be eliminated from our society and it is not too much to look forward to the day when this will be banished from our social life.

These are war times, and we want to keep our army the cleanest, and want the boys who have received new ideas of health and its value to come back to healthier communities. If your town hasn't thought of the problem of helping its boys and girls to better standards of living by providing the means through your schools, churches, and social agencies, it is time to begin, for we cannot have health unless we have clean minds, and clean bodies, living a balanced life of work and play.

In the following article the work of some Minnesota towns in organizing a campaign to attack vice will be told.

The Public Forum

A Christian Service Flag.

Editor Times: A Christian service flag is being distributed to the people of the Presbyterian church in Thief River Falls. The color is blue and the cross is red with the lower arm of the cross twice the length of the upper. These flags are to be hung in the windows of the residences where the people affiliate with the Presbyterian church.

I would like to call the attention of the other churches of the city to this movement and to invite each church to adopt such a Christian service flag as may express their loyalty to the Christian faith and yet distinguish them so that anyone walking on the streets could know the branch of the church with which they are affiliated. The red cross in the form suggested above is generally used. The color of the remaining portion of the flag could be varied to distinguish the branches of the church. Of course "Blue" is Presbyterian.

Such an expression of our faith and loyalty corresponds with the command of the Christ to confess him before men. It adds to the courage and Christian character of people to wear the badge unashamed. It is customary for organizations to distinguish their constituency in some such way. Open loyalty corresponds with the spirit and lessons of the time. The strength of Christian sentiment can make itself felt in this way even to the casual passer by.

The general use of these service flags would be a great convenience to the workers of the various churches in seeking to do their work without trespassing on the rights of others.

The idea was suggested from seeing the "Dry" cards in the windows of the houses in the twin cities. Since the Presbyterian Christian service flags were being made, I have observed that the same thing with one modification is being done in other places.

With thanks for your valuable space, I am,

Derivation of "Spruce."

It is interesting to observe the derivation of the word "spruce." From a number of early quotations it is clear that "spruce," a variant of "pruce," simply stood for Prussian, the form "spruce" rather than "pruce" [illegible]tablished partly by the German [illegible]sen," meaning sprouts, or young [illegible] and sprossen-bier, or spruce [illegible] is made of the sprouts of this fir.

Loyalty of the Lutheran Church

Being a Reply to Those Responsible for Attacks Upon Pastors and Members of the Organization.

By Rev. I. T. Aastad,
Pastor Norwegian Lutheran Church,
Thief River Falls, Minn.

There were a good many of us surprised and shocked to read in our daily papers a few days ago that the pastors of the Lutheran church had been instructed to preach German sermons. We also read that certain Lutheran chaplains in the army had been courtmartialed for disloyalty and were doing time at Atlanta.

Who can describe the loyal Lutheran's feeling upon reading such stuff. To say that he was outraged would be using the mildest word found in the language. Personally I know a large number of Lutheran pastors to whom it would not have been the safest thing in the world to give such instructions, say six or 12 months ago.

I even read the statement in some papers that the Lutheran church was subsidized by the Prussian State church, through the Kropp Seminary.

Now the press did not invent these stories, though some made a mountain out of a molehill. The reports are based on testimony before the judiciary committee of the senate. The accusations were fully answered by the secretary of the National Lutheran Council, Rev. L. Larson, and the senate ordered the answer inserted in the minutes immediately following the testimony. But the many friends of the Lutheran church in our community may not have access to these official records, therefore a brief answer in the columns of The Times may not be out of the way.

In the first place, if the German propaganda tried to instruct certain Lutheran pastors to preach the pro-German sermons, and if they succeeded to some extent, can the church be blamed for that? Did not the same thing happen in other denominations? Neither the church, nor any official in any division of the church has ever given any such instructions. But in the Norwegian Lutheran church, with which I am best acquainted, we passed the strongest resolutions of loyalty every year since the war started, pledging our all to support the government in its policy of justice and righteousness.

Now what of the many Lutheran chaplains convicted of disloyalty and doing time at Atlanta? The records of the adjutant general's office show that only a single one of all the chaplains in the army has been courtmartialed for disloyalty. He happened to have a German name and was charged to the Lutheran church although he was a Roman Catholic. Would anyone among us be unfair enough to blame the Catholic church for the sins of this one man?

But why should the Lutheran church time and time again be the subject of these vicious attacks? The Lutheran church was not born yesterday in this country, but its honorable history dates back to 1638—to colonial days.

The Lutheran king, Gustavus Adolphus, one of the noblest of men and the great champion of religious liberty, formed a society on July 2, 1626. The purpose of this society was to plant a colony here in the great, new America. Early in 1638 two shiploads were seen ascending the Delaware, freighted with the nucleus of the new state such as Gustavus Adolphus had projected. Peter Menuit was the leader. This happened six years before William Penn was born.

The plan and principles that this great Lutheran Christian king had outlined may be summarized thus: Here on the Delaware a free state was to be organized, where the laborer should enjoy the fruits of his toil, where the right of conscience should be preserved inviolate, and which should be open to the whole Protestant world, then and for a long time past engaged in bloody conflict with papal powers for the maintenance of its existence. Here all were to be secure in their persons, their property and their religious convictions. It was to be a place of refuge and peace for the persecuted of all nations, of security for the honor of the wives and daughters of those fleeing from sword, fire and spoilation—from homes made desolate by oppressive wars. It was to be a land of universal liberty for all classes, the soil of which was never to be burdened with slaves. Compare these principles with those laid down in the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

Every member of this colony was a Lutheran, and that is the origin of the Lutheran church in this country. The man who rang the Liberty Bell in 1776 was a Lutheran. The first speaker of the House of Representatives was a Lutheran.

The church in its teachings, as every Lutheran knows who has learned his catechism, has always stood for absolute loyalty to the government of our country. The Lutheran people have always been willing to shed their blood for the grand principles on which our form of government is founded. Read the history of the civil war. It can safely be assumed, and when the records are available it will be proven, that the percentage of Lutherans in the army and navy is as great in proportion to membership as that of any church.

Is it not a pity that anyone should be vicious enough to want to create the impression that the Lutheran church is a German church? The statistics some time ago showed there are 9,788 pastors, 15,266 congregations and a membership of 3,639,208 in the Lutheran churches of the United States. How many use the German language it is hard to say, but probably not over 30 per cent. In nearly all of these churches English is used also.

If any Lutheran has been disloyal and pro-German he has been so as a German sympathizer and contrary to the principles of the Lutheran church. Why should the Lutheran church be blamed for the sins of individuals committed under evil outside influences, any more than any other church? Certainly no one having authority in any division of the Lutheran church has in any manner given instructions to preach pro-German sermons. Every official act of the Lutheran church bears the stamp of loyalty. I challenge anyone to disprove this statement.

The state Church of Prussia is not Lutheran and the Lutheran church in America has never had any connection with it. The former kaiser was not a Lutheran. The court chaplain was not a Lutheran, although the press seems anxious to give that impression. Why the former kaiser needed a chaplain at all is one of the things hard to explain, but at any rate he was not a Lutheran or has any member of the house of Hohenzollern ever been Lutheran, but adherents of the Reformed church of the milder Calvinistic type represented by the Heidelberg Catechism. The Prussian king, Frederick III, on the 300th anniversary of the Reformation, abolished within his territory both the Lutheran and the Reformed churches and founded the Evangelical State Church of Prussia. Since 1817 the Prussians kings have been the heads of this church. The few Lutherans remaining outside this church were oppressed from 1817 to 1840 and only tolerated since 1845.

Regarding the Kropp Seminary not many words are needed. Pastor Paulsen founded a private institution for the training of ministers who should work in the Lutheran church of America, especially in the mission fields of Western Canada. The General Council sent a professor to teach at this institution. He served from 1913 to 1916. During the year 1913 two candidates from the school came to this country; in 1914 two more; in 1915 none. The Kropp Seminary received from this country $4,000 annually, paid by the General Council.

The position of the Lutheran church on the language question will be treated in a second article.

During the war the Lutheran church has given to the army and navy 81 chaplains. Over 100 more applied for commissions. Not one has been courtmartialed for disloyalty, although the information was sent out by the press that several are now "doing time."

This vicious propaganda against the Lutheran church will be closely looked up in the future.

SCHOOL NOTES

During mild weather, such as prevails this week, children should not bring lunches to school if they live within reasonable walking distance. The noon intermission is the most troublesome period of the day and the needless bringing of school lunches in fair weather makes it still more so.

Coach Connell's team won their first district game from Warren last Saturday by a score of 33 to 15. This goes over the top in a promising manner and presages a successful basketball campaign.

The school bells ring five minutes before opening morning and afternoon in order to have all pupils in their seats when work begins at nine and one-thirty. The first bell rings at eight-thirty and one.

Parents frequently make comment and even complain that the children in the first grade are not taught the alphabet before they attempt reading. This old method known as the A. B. C. was long since superseded in this country by the phonic and word method. When it is stated that the letter A has six different sounds and that E has five, it is evident that a letter does not always sound the same in every word. The facts are that letter teaching is incidental to beginning reading. There is no reason to fear that ordinary six year old children can not read with ease and expression at least six beginning readers during their first nine months in school. The local system is known as the Progressive but is somewhat modified by a part of the phonic drill of the Ward.

Where the housing facilities are ample it is considered a wise arrangement to organize the seventh, eighth and ninth grades into one school and the tenth, eleventh and twelfth into a senior high school. The next best plan is to organize a seventh and eighth grade into one school and the remaining four grades into another as is done locally. In both cases all teaching is special and more effective than under the old plan where one instructor teaches all subjects.

Some rooms report a hundred per cent attendance this week.

With the exception of one small locality in town the flu has practically run its course. Aside from the observations of the school nurse, the local physicians report very few cases. Parents are requested to send their children regularly to school now as it is considered entirely safe for the little ones.

It was decided at a meeting of the high school faculty last Friday to close the first semester on Friday, February 7, thus dividing the teaching year into two terms of equal length.

A sandwich sale at the high school last Thursday after dismissal replenished the Athletic treasury to the extent of $14.00. Next Saturday afternoon at one-thirty, the Red Lake Falls high school basket ball team will play the local boys at the Lincoln Gym. A lively contest is anticipated.

Mrs. H. O. Loken Entertains.

Mrs. H. O. Loken entertained informally at dinner at her home, 315 Second street west, Tuesday evening. A course dinner was served at seven o'clock.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lindquist, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen, Arthur F. Loken and Miss Agnes Wilson.

Wouldn't Take Advantage of Mogy's Error

FARMER PERHAPS FIGURED THAT HE HAD A BARGAIN ANYWAY.

E. O. Mogensen, the clothier, has one of these elaborate cash registers that not only tells the time of day and temperature of the room, but also gives complete information on all subjects connected with any transaction, including the age of the purchaser's wife and how long his grandfather has been baldheaded. It is almost an impossibility to make a mistake when this machine is treated with kindness and kept well oiled.

The other day, however, the register showed that ten dollars had somehow been rung up without the cash appearing in the till. "Mogy" pondered over this unusual circumstance for some time and decided one of the clerks must have given a customer too much money back in making change. He had begun the delivery of a lecture on the importance of being careful in matters of this kind when a farmer walked into the store and planked down the missing greenback. He explained that he had purchased a suit of clothes for $35 (guaranteed to be worth considerably more) and in paying for the garments had somehow contrived to escape by handing Mr. Mogensen himself two tens and a five. The mistake was not discovered until the man from the farm went to make some other purchases—and he hoped that no inconvenience had resulted from his oversight.

He was assured that everything was quite all right. In fact it was so very much and decidedly all right that the clothier grew quite enthusiastic on the subject and attempted to sell the gentleman a fur overcoat, nine suits of underwear and a pair of shoe-packs before allowing him to depart.

Farm Notes

BOYS AND GIRLS MAKE LARGE PROFIT.

Less than 19,000 boys and girls in Minnesota's boys' and girls' clubs during the season of 1918, grew or manufactured $441,990.69 worth of products at a net profit to the club members of $192,112.70. The actual totals were probably very much greater than this as reports from nearly 10,000 boys and girls are yet to be received. The figures come from T. A. Erickson, state leader of boys' and girls' club work.

FARMERS' GARDENS GIVE BIG RETURNS.

The farm gardens of Minnesota last season produced $4,198,462 worth of foodstuffs. This total was obtained from 83,776 gardens. If the rest of the farms of the state had maintained gardens with equal success, the total would have been millions larger. For this reason, R. S. Mackintosh, horticultural specialist of the Agricultural Extension division at University Farm, is calling on the county agents of the state to stimulate interest in farm gardens for the present year. "A garden in every home," is his appeal.

The best clothing for the least money. Mogensen's Removal Sale.

FARM DRAINAGE MEN IN UNUSUAL DEMAND.

The agricultural engineering division at University Farm is calling on drainage engineers, experienced drainage contractors and tilers, to register their names and addresses with the division at once. This call is based on the fact that the increased demand for food production is stimulating interest in farm drainage and that farmers are calling on the division for expert assistants.

Must close out stock. Mogensen's Removal Sale.

SHORTAGE OF CLOVER SEED IS REPORTED.

Robert C. Dahlberg, head of the state seed laboratory at University Farm, says that there will be a shortage of clover seed during the coming spring. He urges every farmer to save his seed with care and have it tested for germination in order to determine its value. The seed laboratory at University Farm, St. Paul will make germination tests without charge.

BANK INCREASE $1,000 PER DAY

TOTAL GAIN IN DEPOSITS FOR YEAR IN CITY IS $333,074.04.

$2,500,000 COUNTY TOTAL

EFFECTS OF GOOD CROPS AND HIGH PRICES REFLECTED IN REPORTS.

If increased bank deposits are an indication of prosperity Pennington county must be in a particularly fortunate condition at the present time. The banks are holding more money on deposit than at any other period of their history and the increase for the year is greater than ever before.

One year ago the three banks then doing business in Thief River Falls held total deposits of $1,666,601.85. On the first of the present year these same banks reported $1,859,697.81, a gain of $193,095.95. To this gain must now be added the amount held by one new bank, organized since Jan. 1, 1917, which reports $139,978.09, making the total increase in deposits in the city $333,074.04. If Sundays are deducted it will be seen that this represents practically $1,000 per day.

The ten banks in Pennington county have deposits of over $2,500,000, which is perhaps the high-water mark. For a short time in 1915 the country banks particularly were flush with money because of the bumper crop, but never before has the present figure been reached.

The fact that this money is placed on deposit would indicate that the farmers are not particularly anxious to liquidate any indebtedness they may have. The loans and discount figures do not disclose any great rush to pay off mortgages and other obligations, the debtors evidently preferring to keep a cash balance. The same condition is noted all over the Northwest. The probabilities are, however, that before spring there will be a decided change which may bring the deposit account down in an exact ratio with the loan and discount standing.

Look for Good Year.

Bankers generally are optimistic concerning the future. The guaranteed price for wheat insures a large acreage being planted next spring and it is certain that prices of other farm products will keep their usual relation to the basic staple.

There is every reason for looking forward to one of the best business years in the history of the country and the farming sections should be particularly favored.

Standing of the Banks.

Following is the report of deposits held by the ten banks of Pennington county at the close of business on Dec. 31. The first four on the list are located in Thief River Falls:

KILLS SELF AS WIFE LOOKS ON

NO KNOWN CAUSE FOR ACT

BEDRIDDEN WIFE ASKS THAT HE END HER SUFFERINGS FIRST.

While his aged and bedridden wife looked on without power to prevent the deed, Nels Hanson, a retired farmer residing at 216 Fourth street west, placed a revolver to his temple and pulled the trigger about 10:30 o'clock on Friday evening. The bullet passed clear through his head, death being instantaneous.

No Cause Known.

Hanson had been about the place as usual during the previous day and none of those with whom he came in contact noticed anything out of the ordinary. That he contemplated the step, however, is evidenced by the fact that he had left a note for his son, Peter, who conducts a restaurant at 109 East Third street, containing the request: "Take my body to Canby."

The Two Were Alone.

Mrs. Hanson, who has been unable to leave her bed for a long time because of rheumatism, and a niece of the dead man, Mrs. Edgington, who was asleep upstairs, were the only other persons in the house at the time. The latter notified Sheriff W. J. LaBree, to whom the wife told the following story:

Her husband had been sitting on a chair near the bed when he announced his intention of taking his own life. She asked him to make an end of her at the same time, but this he refused to do. Placing the revolver to his head without further argument he fired and hardly made a movement afterward.

Was Second Attempt.

It has been learned that Hanson made an attempt upon his life during the latter part of October, at which time he bought the revolver for the purpose. His aim was poor, however, and he only inflicted a slight wound at that time.

Was Well-to-do.

Hanson formerly resided at Canby and was reported well-to-do. The body was taken to that city for burial on Monday evening. Besides the wife the following children are left: Peter, a resident of Thief River Falls; Walter, Lavina and Emma, Foam Lake, Sask.; Ella, Willow River, S. D.; Ida, Canby, Minn.; Clarence, Sanborn, N. D.

PAVING COMMITTEE MEETING POSTPONED

SEVERAL MEMBERS ABSENT FROM CITY—WILL BE HELD TUESDAY.

The meeting of the city council and the citizens' committee appointed to assist in reaching a decision regarding the matter of paving, has been postponed until next Tuesday evening, which is the regular meeting night of the council. A number of the members are absent from the city this week and as it is very much desired that all be present when the matter is taken up, the session scheduled for last Tuesday evening was called off.

This paving proposition is without question a matter of greatest interest to the people of the city at the present time. The opinion of the business men particularly is all in favor of going at the work of making preparations at the earliest possible moment, although they all realize that the actual paving operations can perhaps not be started until next year.

Certain of the council members have been investigating the question of costs and will be in a position to tell something definite in this respect at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

MEMORIAL CANVASS TO BEGIN AT ONCE

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED AND WILL MEET WITH COUNTY BOARD IN MARCH.

The Pennington County War Memorial committee held its organization meeting at the court house yesterday afternoon, fifteen of the precinct chairmen appointed being in attendance. Supt. J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls was elected president of the committee, County Auditor T. P. Anderson, secretary, and N. A. Nelson of St. Hilaire, treasurer. Gilbert Haavi of the town of North and Peter Engelstad of Rocksbury, were selected to act with the officers as an executive committee.

It was decided to start the campaign for funds at once with a view to completing the work by the first of March. The committee will at that time report the results of its labors in time to bring the matter before the board of county commissioners at the regular March meeting.

Nothing was done regarding the nature of the memorial as this will depend somewhat on the success attending the efforts of the solicitors. It was also deemed inadvisable to even speculate on this matter before the commissioners had time to consider the subject more thoroughly.

The memorial, whatever shape or form it may take, is to be representative of the entire county. Every person, old or young, will be asked to give something toward it, the amount being left entirely to the contributors themselves. It is felt that all are equally interested in the matter and that the principal idea should be to see that every person who is willing should be represented.

PENNINGTON GETS SMALLEST AMOUNT

COUNTY AWARDED LESS THAN RED LAKE FOR HIGHWAYS.

Allotments from the road and bridge fund to 86 Minnesota counties, as announced this week by the state highway commission, show an apportionment of $10,000 to Pennington county. This was the smallest amount received by any county in the northern half of the state. Polk county's share is $25,000, Beltrami gets $27,000 and Red Lake $19,000.

These allotments are in addition to the state's program of highway improvement, consisting of trunk line roads extending through or within a number of the counties mentioned.

ANNUAL CREAMERY MEETING FEB. 5TH

DINNER TO PATRONS AND FRIENDS FOLLOWED BY ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Notice of the annual meeting dinner to friends and patrons of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association was sent out this week. The date is Feb. 5, and the dinner will be served at the Lutheran Free church at 12 o'clock while the meeting will be held at the Commercial club rooms immediately afterwards.

The report of the secretary is expected to show that the season just closed has been the best in the history of the creamery. Not only have prices been exceptionally high but the number of patrons has been largely increased—and the territory from which the plant draws supplies greatly extended.

The policy followed by the management of notifying the patrons of any change in the price and market conditions of butter has been of great value in keeping them posted as to conditions, present and prospective. This plan has kept the dairymen and the creamery in constant touch and is another feature of the general service plan inaugurated by this creamery.

Secretary E. J. Overland has been on the sick list for the past two weeks and has therefore been unable to get up the annual report. This work has been entrusted to B. E. Dalquist.

RED LAKE FALLS SALOONS TO OPEN?

UNLESS LEGISLATURE STEPS IN SUCH WILL BE THE CASE AFTER FEB. 5.

With the announcement of the Minnesota public safety commission that its orders are to be nullified after Feb. 5, unless the legislature acts, Red Lake Falls will come once again into the limelight of publicity as the one oasis in the vast arid territory of northwestern Minnesota, and it will once again be the Mecca for the thirsty, though probably not for long. The federal war time prohibition goes into effect July 1, 1919, and in about a year the federal amendment will apply.

Red Lake county was dried up Aug. 13, 1918, under Order No. 43 of the public safety commission, the order to remain in force three months after peace treaties have been ratified, but the action of the commission in rescinding all orders after Feb. 5 will void this provision.

Red Lake county is wet by county option, a vote having been taken on the question in March, 1916, and inasmuch as the city council of Red Lake Falls has granted licenses to several saloon keepers, which licenses are still in effect, the rescinding of the commission's order will remove the last bar to opening up the saloons for a five-months' period.

For Bridge At Outlet.

At a meeting of the Bemidji Commercial club last week resolutions were passed urging the construction of a bridge over the outlet of Red Lake. Copies of the resolutions will be sent to Congressman Knutson and Senators Nelson and Kellogg.

CAMPAIGN FOR ARMENIAN AID

DRIVE WILL BE MADE SUNDAY AFTERNOON TO RAISE $2,000 IN COUNTY.

NEED IS MOST DESPERATE

T. H. LIDEN HEADS COMMITTEE OF CITIZENS IN CHARGE OF MOVEMENT.

For a generation Armenia has been robbed and despoiled. During the war just closed a condition which had been bad for years was made indescribably worse.

The people have been driven from their homes and their property destroyed. The men have been murdered and there are more than 400,000 orphans who must have immediate help or perish from hunger and want.

Ask For $30,000,000.

The people of the United States have been asked to raise $30,000,000 for the purpose of aiding those unfortunates and the share of Pennington county has been set at $2,000. An organization for the purpose of soliciting funds for this cause was formed this week with the following officers in charge: Theo. H. Liden, chairman; George L. Sterns, vice chairman; Miss Effie Hamry, secretary and treasurer. Rev. Albin A. Larson of the First Swedish Lutheran church, and Rev. James A. Orrock of the Methodist church, were added to the officers as members of the executive committee. At a meeting of this committee held on Tuesday evening it was decided to make a drive for funds on Sunday afternoon, all churches recognizing this as a purely religious and charitable work. The canvass must be completed by Feb. 1 and the returns made to Miss Hamry not later than Feb. 5.

Is County Campaign.

The campaign for funds will be carried on in every township in the county. Any agency which can in any manner aid in giving publicity to this undertaking is asked to call attention to the desperate need of these stricken people in the Near East. The purpose of the drive will be explained from the pulpits of the different churches on Sunday and a general drive inaugurated in the afternoon. Chairman Liden appointed the following as chairmen in the different townships of the county:

Bray, C. A. Lindquist; Black River, Felix Anderson; Cloverleaf, E. A. Strand; Highlanding, A. Hammerstein; Hickory, B. Bjornarna; Deer Park, O. M. Mandt; Kratka, O. O. Hafdal; Goodridge township, Christ Urdal; Goodridge village, H. B. Rockne; North, T. K. Rynestad; Norden, Peter Voldness; Numedal, H. Johnson; Mayfield, Carl G. Olson; Polk Center, Hjalmer Johnson; Rocksbury, S. O. Loe; Reiner, T. Morken; River Falls, John Sheggrud; Smiley, B. B. Hammer; Silverton, Henry Hanson; Star, C. O. Elg; Wyandotte, Elias Peterson; Sanders, N. K. Anderson; village of St. Hilaire, R. J. McKercher and Mrs. C. Biglow.

The Need Is Urgent.

J. B. Jackson, formerly consul of the United States at Aleppo, writes as follows:

"The only thing the matter with your statement is that it is not strong enough. The urgency of the demands are far beyond estimation. The 120,000 or so dependent persons in Aleppo and vicinity have no other resource for bread, and once the relief stops these people will disappear from the face of the earth. Disease is rife even among the permanent inhabitants, irrespective of race or religion, and the deported Christians will be in an absolutely hopeless condition without the funds that have been and must continue to be sent to them.

"The local relief distributing committee in Aleppo is very trustworthy and all funds forwarded there go to reliable men who are intensely interested in the work in every particular. The fact that we are able to save so large a number of the deportees is ample evidence of the effectiveness of the relief work.

"I heartily endorse the statement of Mr. Tarler, which should be accepted in detail."

All Should Assist.

No sum is too small to help in this matter. In order to call the attention of our people more particularly to the situation a number of business and professional men are paying for the advertisement appearing on another page of The Times this week. Read it over and be prepared to donate to the extent of your ability when the solicitor calls.

Returns From France.

Harry L. Bakken, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken, arrived this morning after several months of service with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. He was wounded in the arm and was sent home about the time hostilities ceased. He has been stationed at Fort Snelling lately while awaiting his discharge from the service.

Merchants Leave For East.

Albert S. Lieberman, the clothier, left Saturday evening on a buying trip to Eastern markets. Before returning he will visit New York for the purpose of personally making his selection of goods for the spring and summer trade. He will probably be gone about two weeks.

H. O. Loken left on a tour of the Eastern markets on Sunday night. He will put in considerable time at Cleveland and may continue on to New York. On his return trip, which will be in about two weeks, he will also make a tour of the wholesale houses at Chicago and Minneapolis for the purpose of personally choosing the goods for the spring opening at the big department store.

PARENTS' MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL.

There will be an important meeting held at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, Jan. 29, at which parents are particularly invited to be present. The matter of health inspection in the schools will come up for discussion and other matters of interest to the public generally will come up. The doctors of the city are expected to be present for the purpose of explaining any matters concerning the value and necessity for such inspection.

TURKEY SUPPER; CLUB ELECTION

FIRST GET-TOGETHER MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN HELD THIS YEAR.

ASK PROSPECTIVE MEMBER

BRING HIM ALONG AND GIVE HIM GREATEST FEED OF HIS LIFE.

A sure sign that old times and normal conditions are again returning is the announcement of a turkey supper to be served in connection with the annual meeting of the Commercial club this evening. The supper hour is 6:30 o'clock and the election and general meeting will be held immediately afterwards.

Is Improvement Event.

This will be the most important session in nearly two years. The last annual meeting came at a time when everyone felt as if all they cared to do in the way of keeping up commercial club work was to maintain life in the organization. The war was on and everything else was of secondary importance. Now things are different and the club should be ready to take up the work of replacement and reorganization. There is any amount of it to be done right here in Thief River Falls and Pennington county and it is none too soon to begin.

The supper will be served by Julien Provencher of the Hotel Evelyn and will cost 65 cents per plate. Mr. Provencher informs the committee that he has secured 83 pounds of the finest turkey obtainable and will see to it that all the things that go to help make the great American bird most appetizing will be forthcoming in abundance. Everyone is supposed to eat all he wants and then pass his plate for more. The only requirement is that he shall be able to sit up and take an interest in the proceedings following the supper.

Bring a Doubter Along.

Secretary G. Howard Smith makes a good suggestion. He wants every member to bring along some man who is a resident of the city but has failed to join the club. It is Lieut. Smith's intention evidently to fill the visitor full of turkey, cranberry sauce and other concomitants, give him a good cigar, permit him to listen to an outline of the program proposed for the year and then get his membership application.

In any event, all members should be present. There are so many things to be discussed at this meeting that some part of the program is certain to be of particular interest to everyone.

NAPLIN INTRODUCES ROYALTY TAX BILL

WOULD ALSO ABOLISH PENALTY ON UNPAID REAL ESTATE TAXES.

Senator O. A. Naplin this week introduced a bill providing for the abolishment of penalties upon unpaid real estate taxes and allowing the payment of interest upon such taxes.

He also heads the list of senators who introduced Senate File No. 91, which provides for a royalty tax. His colaborators on this measure are Senators Johnson, Lee, Romberg and Schmechel.

Senator Naplin has charge of the legal work on the side of Senator Wilcox in the contest case brought by Senator Sullivan, he being the only lawyer in the senate elected by the Nonpartisans.

In the House Representatives Sortedahl and Berve introduced a bill providing for the carrying on of further experimentation on peat lands.

STOCK PAVILION AT FAIR GROUNDS

BREEDERS' ASSOCIATIONS WILL GET BEHIND MOVEMENT AT ONCE.

COUNTY FAIR AUG. 6-7-8

FULLER AGAIN ELECTED PRESIDENT; SMITH SECRETARY; ANDERSON TREASURER.

A definite plan for providing the funds necessary in order to erect a new stock pavilion at the Pennington county fair grounds was adopted at the meeting of the association held at the office of Judge N. W. Tarrant on Saturday night. The three stock breeders' associations in the county will guarantee to raise a part of the money and the Fair association will provide the balance. No sum was set as the goal of either organization but the general impression seemed to be that the fair board should sell a sufficient amount of stock to equal whatever amount the stockmen may appropriate.

Fair Again in August.

It was decided that the fair should again be held early in August, the time being definitely fixed upon as Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 6th, 7th and 8th. Last year the first three days of the week were selected, but the results were hardly satisfactory.

The Officers Elected.

Herbert Fuller was chosen president for the fourth time. He has been a conscientious worker for the upbuilding of the association during his entire term of office and to his efforts is in a great measure due the success which has attended the fairs of late years. Albert Johnson was re-elected first vice president, the same procedure being followed in the case of Fred Beerbower for second vice president. Both are good men and are earnestly working to build up agriculture and stock raising in the county.

N. W. Tarrant, who served one term as secretary, refused a re-election and the choice fell upon G. Howard Smith, who will hereafter add this exacting job to his other secretarial positions—viz, the commercial club and the Merchants' association. He can be depended on to look after the hundred and one details of the post with the utmost fidelity. A. J. Anderson was elected treasurer in place of N. J. Anderson, who asked to be excused.

To Extend Water Main.

A committee composed of Daniel Shaw, A. J. Anderson and Herbert Fuller was appointed to wait on the city council with a request that a small pipe be extended from the end of the system on Fourth street to the cattle sheds and other places on the grounds. The distance is not great and the cost would be small.

Will Sell Stock.

It was decided that an attempt should be made to dispose of some of the stock of the association to the business men of Thief River Falls to help the fair finances. It was pointed out that the assets of the association total about $15,000 while the indebtedness is only $3,200, the stock being therefore worth all it costs. This plan was considered as being preferable to asking for donations to keep the organization going.

Will Rent Fair Grounds.

The cutting of the grass on the fair grounds has always been an undertaking that cost more than was received for the hay. It was therefore decided to rent the grounds out as pasture for cows and sheep during the summer months and Fred Beerbower was given full charge in looking after the matter.

Directors' Meeting.

The fair directors will meet on Saturday evening, Feb. 1, for the purpose of making up the premium list, deciding on the nature of attractions to be employed at the fair, etc. The premium list will this year be ready for distribution by April 1, in order to give exhibitors an opportunity to prepare their displays.

Season tickets will this year be sold and the merchants will be asked to help in disposing of them.

Building Association Elects.

The annual meeting of the Red Lake Building and Loan association was held at the office of the secretary, D. B. Bakke, on Tuesday afternoon, when the following officers were re-elected: President, Bernhard Knudsen; vice president, N. J. Anderson; secretary, D. B. Bakke; director, Capt. Hovland. Halvor Loken was elected treasurer to succeed J. P. Curtis. The report of the secretary showed that the affairs of the association are in very good shape.

Wants Soldier Records.

Thos. A. Way has been appointed chairman for Pennington county, of the Minnesota War Records commission.

The purpose of this organization is to make a complete record of the activities of Pennington county soldier boys in the war. Questionnaires are on hand and will be furnished upon application.

Returned soldiers will please call personally, if possible.

The parents or relatives of deceased soldiers are urgently requested to call, so we can make an accurate record for these men.

Relatives of soldiers still in the service may fill blanks.

This work is done under the supervision of the State Historical society. It will be a part of the history of Minnesota's part in the great war.

A Good Showing.

The Times is this week publishing the annual statement of the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company, which shows that concern to be in flourishing condition. The fire loss paid during the year was very small, amounting to only $497. There were 353 policies issued during the year, the amount of risk underwritten being $693,310. The total number of policies in force is 1,645, representing a total of $2,325,642.

ELKS WILL STAGE CHARITY CARNIVAL

RECEIPTS WILL GO TOWARD RELIEVING DISTRESS WHEREVER FOUND.

The Elks of Thief River Falls and vicinity will hold their winter charity carnival about the middle of February. A committee was appointed at the last meeting to make all the necessary arrangements and a complete program will be announced later.

Particular care will be taken to keep the expenses down to a point which will permit of a surplus remaining after the necessary disbursements have been met. For this reason it was not thought advisable to arrange for any elaborate affair but merely to provide a day's and evening's amusement for those who wish in this manner to aid in a good cause.

Manager A. J. Lawrence of the Princess and Lyceum theatres, has offered the use of the last named house for a moving picture show in connection with the carnival. There will be no cost to the Elks except for the film rental. It is the intention to secure one of the very latest and best of the moving pictures to be found at that time and to give three performances. There will be other features put on in addition to the moving picture, mostly of a musical nature.

All the receipts after expenses are paid will be used in carrying out the charity undertakings which are always a part of the Elks' general program.

BASKET SHOOTERS DOING GOOD WORK

WALK ALL OVER RED LAKE FALLS—ADA HERE NEXT SATURDAY.

It is going to take a real basketball team to defeat the Thief River Falls boys—on their own floor at least. Last Saturday afternoon they administered a severe drubbing to the quintet from Red Lake Falls and are preparing to do the same to Ada next Saturday. The boys from Red Lake were outclassed from the start and never had a chance to win. The home team simply swept them off their feet and the game resulted in a score of 55 to 4.

Ada is said to have a good team and there may be another story to tell next week. The Norman county bunch is coming over for a tussle on Saturday afternoon and there is considerable speculation as to the outcome.

On Thursday of next week the locals go to Crookston and it remains to be seen whether or not they can handle themselves on a strange floor with the same speed and precision that they display when putting up a fight on their own premises.

Dr. Douglass a Captain.

Dr. J. E. Douglass, who has been with the United States army since early in the war, writes to have the address on his copy of The Times sent to Camp Devens, Mass., instead of Ft. Ogelthorpe, Ga., at which post he has been stationed for a long time. The doctor now has the rank of captain.

CONDUCT TRACTOR SERVICE SCHOOL

A two-day service school—five sessions in all—will be conducted at the C. Gustafson & Son Implement salesroom on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 17 and 18 for the purpose of giving instructions to tractor owners in the handling of their machines. While this demonstration is being put on by the Avery company in conjunction with the local concern, owners of any other make of tractor are welcome to attend.

This school should prove of much value, particularly to those who will begin the operation of a tractor for the first time this spring or who have had trouble in getting the best results out of their outfits. The instruction will be along practical lines and will be conducted by an expert from the Avery factory.

AGENT IS NAMED BY FARM BUREAU

LIEUT. J. J. M'CANN CHOSEN TO SUCCEED THE LATE R. P. WHITE.

FOUR APPLICANTS PRESENT

GRADUATE OF MINNESOTA COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND EXPERIENCED MAN.

J. J. McCann, until recently a lieutenant of artillery in the United States army, was on Tuesday afternoon selected by the directors of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association as executive agent to succeed the late Ross P. White.

Lieut. McCann was formerly county agent for Morrison county, leaving that position when he entered the army. He is a graduate of Minnesota Agricultural college and comes with the very highest recommendations as a thorough agriculturalist and one who understands fully the problems of the men engaged in agriculture in this section.

Assumes Duties At Once.

Lieut. McCann returned to Little Falls after his appointment for the purpose of closing up his affairs there. He will begin his duties as agent here on Monday morning, retaining the offices used by his predecessor in the Auditorium.

Four Candidates Present.

The successful applicant was selected from a class of four young men, any one of whom would without doubt have been acceptable. The others were Arthur Enerson of Glencoe, W. A. Peters of St. Paul, and Dan T. Sullivan of Ft. Atkinson, Wis. Like Lieut. McCann, the others had just been discharged from service in the army and carried excellent credentials. W. E. Morris, state leader of county agents, was present and while he did not make any recommendation, was well pleased with the selection made. Mr. Morris stated after the meeting that he had been closely affiliated with the new agent in times past and was certain that he would give the bureau highly satisfactory service.

All Were Strangers.

The directors of the bureau had never seen any of the candidates before their appearance here and were guided only by their own judgment, based on what they learned of the qualifications of the men after questioning them. The fact that the vote in favor of Lieut. McCann was unanimous would indicate that the men in whose hands the matter was left believed that they had found just the person needed to carry on the work begun by Mr. White. The directors were all present with the exception of Mr. Noper. The board is made up as follows: Hans Anton, president; R. J. McKercher, vice president; Paul Engelstad, secretary-treasurer. Besides these there are the following representatives of different organizations in the city and county: Supt. J. H. Hay, schools; Fred Beerbower, fair association; V. C. Noper, shipping association; Robert McGinn, county commissioners; A. J. Anderson, commercial club; Harry Woolson, farm clubs; Stewart McLeod, William Denhart and Emil Larson.

SHIPPERS EXPECT HEAVY MOVEMENT

STOCKMEN GET GOOD PRICES WHEN DEALING THROUGH ASSOCIATION.

The Pennington County Livestock Shippers association, through their local manager, Emil Griebstein, recently shipped three carloads of stock to the South St. Paul market, this being the first consignment sent through the association for some time. So satisfactory were the results that it is likely shipments will be regular hereafter. The owners received one-half cent per pound more on an average for their stock than was offered by buyers and the handling of the shipment through their own agency was but little more trouble than selling it on the farm.

The Shippers' association started out about two years ago with every promise of becoming a factor in the live stock industry of the neighborhood, but high prices paid for cattle, hogs and sheep right on the farm resulted in their selling where there was least trouble in making deliveries. Now that conditions are again becoming normal and the supply more nearly equals the demand they are finding that their association may serve a good purpose.

Good For Cass Lake.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: The Cass Lake Times is very proud of the fact that during the past year the city paved the main street, built a new armory, several bridges and did other good work. Cass Lake has good reason to be proud of their accomplishments, especially during a year when so much of the resources and time of Americans were demanded by the nation for war.

THE FIRST DRY NATION.

The United States of America will be the first nation in the world to climb aboard the water wagon. Russia was supposed to have been made dry at the outbreak of the war, but it is well known that the prohibition did not extend very far.

After the first day of July next there will be no more booze of any kind manufactured, sold or shipped into the United States for beverage purposes. The country will be absolutely and uncompromisingly dry from one end to the other.

It now looks as if every state in the Union would endorse the proposed federal amendment to the Constitution. There is some doubt concerning the attitude of New Jersey, but if that bailiwick wishes to gain a peculiar and rather unenviable notoriety by being the only black sheep in the family it no doubt has a perfect right to do so.

When the states started coming they came fast. At capitals where it was expected there would be a lively scrap over the proposition it went through with hardly an effort being made to stay its course. It was realized, of course, that there was no use in hanging back. When Nebraska came in the 36 required for a majority were secured and the others might as well make it unanimous.

Thus ends a long, uphill fight. It is not necessary for a man to be very old in order to remember a time when any person who advocated the total abolition of the liquor traffic was regarded as a crank and an object for commiseration. It was a fad and its only votaries men with long hair and woman with short. Alcohol was necessary—always had been necessary and always would be.

All that is past now and the country will be better for its passing. Whatever may be the opinion as to the wisdom or necessity for making such sweeping change, the one thing certain is that the American saloon as we have known it in the past is gone, never to return. It is commonly stated that for this the saloon itself is to blame, and to a large extent this may be true. The fact of the matter is, however, that the falacy of all arguments in favor of alcohol as a beverage was proven so conclusively that the people themselves were convinced and wiped out the dangerous nuisance. It may be that they did a more thorough job than was absolutely necessary, but that remains to be seen.

A DEVELOPING SECTION.

The report of General Manager H. W. Protzeller of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway, printed in another column of The Times this week, proves that eastern Pennington county is developing faster than any other section of the state. The amount of products hauled to Thief River Falls over this 20 mile stretch is surprising and the figures will prove illuminating as well.

The grain movement hardly forms a reliable basis for comparison. Conditions over which the fermer has no control enters too heavily into all calculations where wheat and similar products are concerned to make these of much value as indicators of progress. For instance there was nearly four times as much wheat shipped over the road the past season as in 1917, but not quite as much as in 1915.

It is the live stock and dairy products figures that are most interesting. These show the true advancement of any section and in this case they are of a most satisfactory character. During the four years the road has been in operation the shipments of livestock increased from 924,312 pounds to 2,306,500 pounds, while the butter record shows a consistent gain. During the past year it was 351,620 pounds, the nearest previous record to this being made in 1916 when it was 348,076 pounds.

An item of more than ordinary interest is found in the amount of petrolium products shipped into the section. These amounted to 263,000 gallons last year as compared with 162,750 gallons in 1917. This proves that tractor farming is being followed to a greater extent than ever before and may also indicate that there are more automobiles—a sure indication of prosperity.

The people in the eastern end of the county are patriotic. In spite of the larger population they cut down their flour consumption by 20 barrels as compared with the year before and required 330 less barrels of sugar. They also consumed less coal.

There is a great future ahead of that section and the right kind of people are settling there. You can safely pin your faith to any community where farming is done with tractors and livestock shipments increase a million and a half pounds in four years.

STANDS ALONE IN ITS CLASS.

Newspaper publishers, like business men in any other line, have a right to feel a just pride when they find that their product is endorsed. The trouble with them is they seem to take it for granted that everyone realizes the relation a newspaper bears to the community and very seldom deem it worth while to call attention to its standing.

Last week The Times published a statement of circulation that proved an eyeopener to practically every man and woman in the community. So far as we know it was the first time a newspaper in this section ever took the pains to lay before its patrons just exactly what it has to sell, inviting them at the same time to walk up and inspect the goods.

The statement showed that The Times circulation is now practically 4,000 copies each week. That out of this total 3,001 copies are circulated right in Thief River Falls trading territory. What is known in newspaper parlance as the "single list"—papers going to subscribers at a distance and consequently of no great value to the local advertiser, account for 972 of the total. To the national advertiser, however, space in these papers is worth as much as though all were circulated locally.

This outside list of nearly 1,000 is larger than the total number of papers printed by many publications of rather high standing in this state. When a publisher has reached this figure he is apt to consider his paper among the topnotchers, and as a general thing he is right. That's what places The Times practically in a class by itself. There are other weekly papers in the state with circulations as large, but only in old, thickly settled communities is one found able to make a better showing.

Last week 864 papers were sent to homes right here in Thief River Falls. In St. Hilaire, where there is a paper printed, the list totals 247, while the people in the neighborhood of Goodridge received 137. The government figures that 100 boxes is a fair average for a rural route, but The Times in two instances at least goes better than one paper to each box. On Route No. 1 there are 98 subscribers; on Route No. 2 there are 102, and on Route No. 3, 107 patrons take the paper. There are two star routes running out from the postoffice in this city and on these the carriers distribute 89 and 84 papers respectively. We have been informed by persons who should know that on one of the routes in Pennington county The Times goes into all but four mail boxes.

Men whose business it is to figure out such things have arrived at the conclusion that every paper printed is read by five persons before it is finally used to adorn a shelf or build a fire. If fifty per cent of this statement is true it means that 10,000 persons read some part of The Times every week.

This is rather a respectable clientele and one of which the publishers have a right to feel proud. Experts who have examined the subscription list assert that no other paper in the state covers its field so thoroughly.

The Times has something of definite value to sell and stands ready at all times to prove it.

NOT QUITE THROUGH.

There is one war activity in which the people of Pennington county must engage before they are through. This does not apply to War Savings Stamps and Certificates, which are an investment, but to an enterprise of entirely different nature.

The boys are entitled to something in the way of a memorial and it should be one in which the entire county has a share. Every community just now has this matter under consideration and when all plans are completed practically every county in the United States will have a lasting monument of some kind commemorating the part taken in the great struggle by the young men from within its borders.

A committee has been appointed to work out the details and the matter of finances is not expected to present many difficulties. The nature of the memorial and its location are, however, questions not so easily decided.

The location will have to be selected with a view to the future. For years it has been the intention of succeeding county boards to acquire sufficient land for a community center, it being realized that a new court house will be a necessity before long. The present site is perhaps as good as any that could be selected for the purpose and there is ample opportunity to acquire as much more ground as may be needed.

The entire block bounded by First street, Second street, Main and Knight avenues should be secured now while the price is reasonable. This would place the county and city buildings all within one square, with the exception of the public library, which is located across the street from the courthouse. There would be ample room left for a small park which would make a most appropriate setting for the memorial.

This is only one of the suggestions made, but it seems to be the one most favorably considered. Other propositions will doubtless come up and the merits of all should be carefully looked into. This may safely be left to the committee of officials and citizens appointed for the purpose by the board of county commissioners. The main idea just now is for all to agree that something of the kind shall be done.

THEIR HELP NOW NEEDED.

It has been some time since the business men of Thief River Falls have been asked to contribute anything toward the maintenance of the Pennington county fair association. They will no longer be overlooked.

At the meeting last Friday evening it was decided to solicit the help of the business men in financing the fair—not by soliciting donations, but through the sale of stock in the association.

Shares in the corporation will not bring any such returns as Standard Oil, for instance, but are good property nevertheless. The assets of the corporation at the present time are figured at $15,000 while the indebtedness is only about $3,200. The property owned by the association is becoming more valuable every year and the receipts at the fairs are steadily growing.

It is not as a business proposition that the merchants will be asked to become stockholders, however. Their assistance and good will are needed to make the fair a success, and just now the cash is also needed. As an aid to business the fair is worth a great deal more than it costs and as a means of bringing the townspeople and farmers together it has even a greater value. In helping the organization to get on its feet the business men will be helping themselves and there should be no difficulty in getting them to take enough of the stock to wipe out the present indebtedness.

CLUB MEETING THIS EVENING.

Don't fail to attend the Commercial club meeting and supper tonight. The event will usher in a season of great activity and it is probable that a general program for the coming spring and summer will be discussed.

It is particularly desired that every member of the club bring with him some man who is not affiliated with the organization. There are a number such in the city and every one of them should be on the roll of the club. They are as much interested in the work to be undertaken as anyone and should be glad to be among the active workers. If they come to this meeting and supper, see what is contemplated in the way of community improvement, and are brought to realize that the club is working for the good of the entire community, they will not longer hold back.

But do not fail to be there yourself in any event.

Hal Stanton Returns.

Halvor Stanton, son of Attorney E. M. Stanton, returned Tuesday from Camp Dodge. "Hal" enlisted nearly a year ago and his previous experience as a cook made it a foregone conclusion that he would be selected for this important department of the service. It was only a short time after his acceptance that he was ranked as "first-class." During the recent flu epidemic there were 22,000 men fed at the camp for some time, which shows that there was work for quite a number of cooks.

Stanton was started with contingents for Europe on a number of occasions, at one time reaching New York, but the orders were changed at the last minute and he would again find himself in charge of some kitchen at Dodge. He has been in good health all the time and rather enjoyed the experience.

Anna Sophie Waale.

Anna Sophie Waale passed away at the Physicians hospital, Jan. 19, the cause of death being influenza.

Anna Waale was a daughter of Halvor Waale of Kratka. She was born at Kratka, Feb. 27, 1910, and was 8 years, 10 months and 22 days old at time of death.

The remains were interred in the Telemarken cemetery near Kratka, Jan. 22.

Civil Service Exams.

CHURCHES PLAN GREAT ACTIVITY

"NEW ERA MOVEMENT" OF PRESBYTERIANS IS THE FIRST STEP.

REV. BARACKMAN EXPLAINS

ASSISTING CHURCHES IN DEVASTATED EUROPE PART OF PROGRAM.

Rev. R. L. Barackman and Mrs. R. E. Fillmore have just returned from Minneapolis where they attended a district conference of the Presbyterian New Era movement. It was an inspiring event and the message they bring home will accomplish much of good for the community.

"The New Era movement is not designed to make Presbyterians of everybody," said Mr. Barackman. "It is simply a real live, united movement of all the 1,600,000 Presbyterian communicants in the United States of America toward accomplishing the tremendous task confronting the church as a result of the world war. That task is the betterment of mankind in ways that the war has as yet failed to accomplish. The war was fought for Christian ideals. Now that the war is won it is the church's duty to carry out these ideals to their ultimate fulfillment.

Will Aid Stricken Churches.

"As samples of the church's new conception of its relation to world affairs, the Presbyterians will spend this year a half million dollars for the relief of stricken protestant churches in the war zone, and another half million dollars for returning soldiers and sailors who went to the war from Presbyterian homes. They plan to increase by 100 per cent their expenditures for educational, benevolent and missionary work. They plan to spend for these objects an aggregate of $13,000,000 this year and perhaps $75,000,000 in five years. The Presbyterians believe that in five years the New Era movement can accomplish more for humanity than the war accomplished with all its sacrifices, and they are marshaling all their forces as comrades of the New Era for a world-wide crusade under the banner of their Prince of Peace.

Help Underpaid Pastors.

"The church is planning to do something more adequate for its ministers," continued Rev. Barackman. "It plans to increase underpaid pastor's salaries $1,000,000 this year. The total expense of the church this year will, in addition to the $13,000,000 for benevolences, be $27,000,000 for local church expenses.

"Thief River Falls will benefit by the New Era movement through sharing in the recreation of the spirit of fellowship and brotherhood among our own people, through the thinking by each individual of his personal duty in community terms, through the solving of such local neighborhood and social problems as confront us, through the Christianizing of the community. The New Era movement is essentially a spiritual force, cultivating personal and home virtues, reviving the family altar, evangelizing the people, spreading the gospel through the community, and administering practical aid and comfort to those in need or distress.

Will Exert Full Force.

"The church has always considered these things its duty but it has been like the American people—a giant not exerting its full power. The war woke up America. The New Era movement is the resistless force of the reawakened church to win the world for Christ.

"The New Era movement is in harmony and sympathy and co-operation with similar movements in the Methodist church, the Baptist church, the Congregational church and other protestant bodies."

Miss Cora Williams of Adger visited with Miss Hannah Peterson, Friday and Saturday.

Swift & Company's 1918 Earnings

How They Affected You

During the twelve months ended Nov. 2, 1918 (its fiscal year), Swift & Company transacted the largest volume of business on the smallest margin of profit in its history.

Profits of the meat business—under regulations of the United States Food Administration—were limited to a maximum of 9 per cent on capital employed but not to exceed 2½ cents per dollar of sales.

Swift & Company in the regulated departments earned 7.57 per cent on capital employed and 2.04 cents per dollar of sales, out of which had to be paid interest on borrowed money and taxes. Here is how these earnings affect you.

Live-Stock Raiser—

Swift & Company killed 14,948,000 head of livestock, which weighed alive, 4,971,500,000 pounds.

Swift & Company made a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound liveweight.

Consumer—

The sales of our meat departments were 4,012,579,000 pounds on which our earnings were less than ½ cent per pound.

The per capita consumption of meat in the United States is given as 170 pounds. If a consumer purchased only Swift & Company's products he would contribute only about 78 cents a year, or 1½ cents a week as profit to the company.

PROGRESS SHOWN BY ROAD REPORT

EASTERN PENNINGTON COUNTY RAPIDLY BECOMING GREAT PRODUCING SECTION.

REPORT OF ELECTRIC LINE

LAST YEAR'S GRAIN CROP BETTER THAN IN BUMPER SEASON OF 1915.

The best indications of a country's prosperity and development are obtained from the reports of transportation companies showing the amount of the products of the country transported for sale in other communities and the return products carried from other communities for consumption in the home territory. The territory around Thief River Falls is almost purely agricultural, hence the products taken from this district will be all products of agriculture and the majority of the products shipped in will be products of manufacture.

The report of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric Railway, which has just been made public by General Manager H. W. Protzeller, for the four years, 1915 to 1918 inclusive, is very interesting to all the people in this vicinity, because it shows very conclusively and accurately the progress in the whole territory east of this city.

Grain Increase 100 Per Cent.

This report shows that the year 1918, in the amount of grain produced, was considerably more than 100 per cent better for the farmers of this district than the year 1917, and that it was also better than the bumper year 1915, in spite of the fact that a very large territory was hailed out during the summer. Also the figures for 1918 do not show the true amount of grain produced during the past season as there is still a very large amount of grain in the farmers' hands and in the elevators unshipped. One of the most encouraging facts is that the amount of flax shipped was almost twice as large as that shipped in any other one year. This is conclusive proof that an ever increasing amount of new land is being broken up and put under cultivation.

Hay Shipments Large.

That the farmers of this vicinity possess large natural resources that have never before been taken advantage of is shown by the fact that until the shortage of hay in Dakota during 1917 drove many of the Dakota farmers to this vicinity for feed for their stock, not one ton of hay had ever been shipped out of this territory. During the years 1917 and 1918 a total of 3,774 tons of hay was shipped and marketed by the enterprising farmers. This alone netted these men a very considerable sum. The hay in this community is usually very abundant, of good quality and commands a good price. There is no reason why the farmers should not obtain this money in large sums from now on.

350,000 Pounds of Butter.

The fact that this country is fast becoming a leading livestock and dairy producer is shown by the fact that in 1918 a total of 2,308,500 pounds of livestock was marketed, being an increase of almost 300 per cent over 1915. It is certain that any country that can triple its livestock output in four years is fast on the way to fame and fortune. Also during the past year 351,620 pounds of butter was shipped, an increase in four years of more than 40 per cent. Most of this butter was shipped to the New York market where it commanded a good premium.

Saved Sugar and Flour.

It is proven that the people of this territory are very patriotic and have complied with all of the requests of the U. S. Food Administration by noting that in 1918 there was consumed 10 per cent less flour and 46 per cent less sugar than in any previous year. Even at that the immense amount of flour, sugar and salt shipped into this community would feed a good sized army for many days. Another indication of the same spirit is shown by the fact that a saving of 234 tons of coal was made.

Tractors on the Increase.

An item of special interest is the amount of gasoline, kerosene and other petroleum products used. In 1918 a total of 263,010 gallons was shipped in, being an increase of almost 100 per cent over 1915. This proves that a very large number of tractors are operating and getting the soil in condition for continually increasing crops.

When we consider that a total of 19,864 tons of freight was hauled on this 20 mile line during one year we can readily believe that the "Source of all Wealth is in the Soil" and that the farmers of eastern Pennington county are digging it out in good shape.

WILL EXHIBIT AT CROOKSTON SHOW

PENNINGTON COUNTY HERDS TO BE REPRESENTED AT WINTER SHOW.

The P. B. Conklin herd of prize-winning Guernseys will be represented at the Red River Valley Farm Crops show to be held at Crookston next month. The probabilities are that there will be other exhibitors from this county but Mr. Conklin is so far the only one who has announced his participation as a certainty.

Secretary W. V. Goussere of the Red River Valley Livestock association is busy receiving entries for the first winter livestock show to be held in the new pavilion at Crookston the same week as the Farm Crops show, February 10-14. Over 150 head of pure bred cattle, sheep and hogs are already entered. There will be room for 100 more.

The livestock sale which will be held February 12 promises to be well attended by Pennington county farmers who are always alert when it comes to the live stock game. The sales list is to be issued soon.

Many prominent breeders will be present. Besides Duncan Marshall of Alberta, Professors H. H. Kildee, C. W. Gay, W. A. McKerrow and W. H. Peters have been secured by Superintendent C. G. Selvig of the State Agricultural school, insuring the best livestock talent obtainable in the Northwest.

The stock judging contest to be held on Monday, February 10 is interesting several communities in the vicinity of Thief River Falls. Farm club members are eligible and in addition there is a new division including a team of three residents of a township who may also enter this contest. The show stock will be judged on February 10, 11 and 12. Besides offering $2020.00 in premiums, special prizes and cups are offered. The Northern Packing Company, Grand Forks, offers $25.00 each for the best steer, the best market hogs and best market sheep. Various Valley associations and the different breed associations are also co-operating. A large number of visitors are expected from points in Dakota and Minnesota.

The pavilion is fully enclosed and will be ready by February 1. The remarkable weather of the past two months has made it possible to have all in readiness for the Valley's first big winter show.

LAMPERT NAMED STAMP CHAIRMAN

WILL HAVE CHARGE OF BABY BOND SALES DURING PRESENT YEAR.

COUNTY TOTAL IS $80,000

CAMPAIGN WILL BE PUSHED, SLOGAN BEING "FINISH THE JOB."

The new chairman for 1919 of the Pennington County War Savings Stamp organization is L. A. Lampert of Thief River Falls. Mr. Lampert's appointment has been announced by A. R. Rogers of Minneapolis, chairman of the control committee, Ninth Federal Reserve District War Loan Organization. Changing from last year's system, both the Liberty Bond and War Savings Stamp sales have been united for the district under Mr. Rogers, although by counties separate organizations will be maintained for the two duties. The central committee in making this appointment recognized Mr. Lampert's success as organizer and efficient business man, according to Mr. Rogers. Mr. Lampert is cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank which he helped to found about a year ago.

Succeeds Mr Thronson.

Mr. Lampert was formerly a resident of West Union in Todd county. He was appointed after a conference with E. A. Williams, formerly superintendent of Todd county schools. Mr. Williams is now in organization work for the district war loan organization. Mr. Lampert takes the place of T. M. Thronson, who filled the position of county chairman efficiently after the death of George G. Johnson, the 1918 appointee as county chairman for W. S. S. but who because of other duties could no longer serve as chairman of the committee.

Must Finish the Job.

With word of Mr. Lampert's appointment Mr. Rogers sent a report that up to December 15, 1918, last date for which figures have been fully compiled, Pennington county had bought $79,009.35 worth of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps. He urged that every resident keep in mind the advantage of consistent saving, especially when it can be coupled with the most direct aid to the government now possible, that of loaning it funds with which to "Finish the Job". That is the slogan of the 1919 W. S. S. campaign.

The Best Security.

The new issue of stamps, both the 25 cent Thrift Stamp and the $5 War Saving Stamps are on sale now at all postoffice, banks and other agencies which sold them last year. During the month of January the War Saving Stamps cost $4.12. In January, 1924, they will be redeemed by the government with interest which will make their worth to the owner an even $5. The treasury department characterizes the War Saving Stamps as "the only security in the world which must increase in value".

Woman's Week Meetings.

The women are assured the best program of addresses, demonstrations and clinics ever arranged in connection with the Farmers' and Women's Week meetings under the auspices of the Northwest School of Agriculture to be held at Crookston the week of February 10. Misses Rockwood and Ferris are in charge assisted by Mrs. T. R. Sewall, Mrs. H. C. Cavanor and others. The program includes a hat clinic to be conducted by Miss Ingebrand of St. Paul. This will be a feature that all will appreciate. A food contest, survey of reconstruction and health problems, addresses by Pres. Burton, Dean Coffman, Mrs. Winter and others will make a most important week for Northwestern Minnesota women. Thief River Falls should be represented at these meetings with the other communities in this part of the state.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

They contain only old-fashioned, soothing oils combined with strength-giving and system-cleansing herbs, well known and used by physicians in their daily practice. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are convenient to take, and will either give prompt relief or your money will be refunded. Ask for them at any drug store, but be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Accept no substitutes. In sealed packages. Three sizes

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets

Does Your Child Act Like this?

DON'T punish your children by forcing them to take nauseating oils and medicine when they are bilious, constipated or have bad colds. Compelling the child to take disagreeable medicine against its will often does more harm than good.

DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS are particularly fine for children. Pleasant to take because they TASTE LIKE CANDY and can be chewed. Children do not have to be coaxed to take them, and their gentle but effective action on the bowels restores healthful regularity promptly.

When your child is cross, feverish and peevish because of stomach disorders, give it one of Dr. Miles' candy-like Laxative Tablets. They take them readily and ask for more.

Not only are DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS desirable for children, but for adults as well. You will find in these tablets a safe, harmless and effective medicine for constipation, biliousness, sick headache and other bowel complaints.

They cost only a few cents—your druggist has them. Ask him about them.

PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
LONG BURNING PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO

SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smokemotor, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pike with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport!

Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what ails your particular smokeappetite!

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Toppy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and—that classy, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

POSTOFFICE GAIN $550 PER MONTH

GREATEST INCREASE FOR ANY ONE YEAR IN HISTORY OF CITY.

LARGER QUARTERS NEEDED

BUSINESS CONDUCTED IN SAME ROOM AS WHEN RECEIPTS WERE $5,000.

The annual report of Postmaster John Morgan shows that the business of his office during the past year increased $6,533, the total being $27,817.70 as compared with $21,284.70 for the previous twelve months. This is the best showing made in any one year in the history of the city.

The receipts for the last quarter of the year were $8,102.64, which comes within a few dollars of equalling the total for the entire year of 1907, at which time the office was advanced to second class.

The War Savings Account.

According to Mr. Morgan's statement the total received at the office by reason of its being the central accounting point for the 11 officers of the county in the sale of War Stamps and Certificates was $60,785.18. Of this amount fully 95 per cent was sold through the Thief River Falls office direct.

The number of parcels handled increased over the previous year by 33 per cent while the pieces of registered mail increased 39 per cent.

Is Cramped for Room.

That the present quarters are too small to accommodate this amount of business has long been evident and the government has taken notice of the fact. When it is remembered that the postoffice has been located in the present quarters since 1905, when the business amounted to less than $6,000 per year, it will be recognized that the force has been working under a handicap. Even postoffice inspectors admit that it is a mystery how such an enormous amount of work can be turned out in such a small space without serious errors resulting, and it speaks well for the efficiency of Mr. Morgan and his associates that no office in the state has a finer record in this respect.

Something May be Done.

That Thief River Falls will have a new postoffice building is certain, but just when this may be expected is another matter. The war stopped all improvements of this kind and they have not yet been resumed. When the government is again ready to make appropriations for purposes of this kind the people of Thief River Falls should be in a position to put forth a claim that will attract some attention.

Record for 14 Years.

Following is a table showing the receipts at the office for each of the years from 1905 to 1918 inclusive:

Year	Receipts
1905	$ 5,767.37
1906	7,222.00
1907	8,156.26
1908	8,654.13
1909	9,009.49
1910	10,376.70
1911	11,251.70
1912	12,468.13
1913	16,088.80
1914	17,348.28
1915	20,250.64
1916	20,333.43
1917	21,284.92
1918	27,817.70

TO SPECIALIZE IN IMPROVED PRODUCT

CREAMERY TO CONVERT PART OF SUPPLIES INTO BUTTERMILK DIRECTLY.

In order to make certain that there shall not be a surplus of milk at the creamery, no matter how much the receipts may increase, the directors have decided to add another product to the output of the institution. Prepared buttermilk will hereafter be on sale at the creamery through the spring months at least and it may be possible to continue the production even longer.

Prepared buttermilk is not secured by churning but is produced directly from the sweet milk by the addition of certain ingredients. These are harmless and simply have the same effect on the milk as sending it thru the churn. In one respect at least it is superior to the buttermilk secured through the ordinary method as the whole milk is utilized, the butterfat being thus retained.

There is a growing demand for buttermilk at the creamery and this plan will insure a steady supply as well as provide a market for milk at all times. Buttermaker Hazelrud has had much experience in the preparation of the new article and guarantees that it will please the most exacting.

Rural School News

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

A Rural School Spelling contest for the benefit of the pupils of the rural schools of the northwestern counties, will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, Minn., on Monday, Feb. 10, 1919.

The rural schools of our county who desire representation at this contest should, through their teacher, notify this office not later than Jan. 29, 1919.

The information and rules regard- question marks, and the punctuation ing Rural Spelling Contests—by Miss Grace Sherwood, Conductress:

Each county may send two representatives. These are to be chosen at the discretion of the county superintendent. The railroad fares of contestants will be paid by the Farm Crops show organization and free entertainment will be furnished them.

The contestants must be from a one-room school, or from a grade below the eighth in a consolidated, graded or semi-graded school. Pupils from a district where a high school is maintained are not eligible.

Prizes will be given as follows:

(a) Written (1) $10.00; (2) $5.00; (3) $2.50; (4) $1.00; (5) $1.00.

(b) Oral (1) $5.00; (2) $2.50; (3) $1.00; (4) $1.00; (5) $1.00.

In addition to these prizes a banner will be given to the county having the highest average.

The contest will consist of (1) an oral test of twenty-five words, (2) an oral spell-down; (3) a written test of 50 words; (4) a written dictation exercise. This exercise will be marked on the following points: Correct spelling of words, capitals, periods, of a direct quotation.

The rules as far as the county contest is concerned are as follows:

(1) Every teacher who desires his or her school represented, is advised to conduct at least one weekly local contest from the time of his or her notice of the contest.

(2) Observe Miss Sherwood's rules.

(3) Keep a record of the winner of each weekly contest.

(4) Conduct a final contest of the weekly winners a day or two before the county contest. If there be a tie as to winners in this final contest, let both be represented at the county contest.

(5) Get the parents' consent as to the transportation of your representatives to the county contest to be held at 10 o'clock a. m., Feb. 1st, at Lincoln school, Thief River Falls.

Wishing the teachers unbounded success in this undertaking and hoping our county's representatives will bring back some of these prizes, I remain

Yours truly,
GEO. M. GUNDERSON,
Co. Supt. of Schools.

Woman's Club Notes

The meeting of the Woman's club held Monday afternoon was one of the best of the club year. Women of Thief River Falls are beginning to feel they cannot afford to miss any of the club meetings and the attendance is increasing weekly. The after-war work of women is as important as the work during the war. Women are to be the potent factors in the Americanization movement which is to be taken up actively in this community some time in the near future. C. A. Pitkin, at the request of the Minnesota Public Safety commission addressed the club on this movement telling how and why women's organizations could actively engage in this work. A club Americanization committee will be appointed later.

The history section has a program outlined which is closely allied to this movement. It is taking up the growth of personal liberty. Miss Peterson of the high school faculty is the chairman of this section. Miss Minn Rock is secretary. Miss Frissell is the leader of the next program which will be held at Mrs. Shaw's home a week from Friday.

The music section will meet with Mrs. Halvorson, chairman, next Monday evening. Miss Grindeland is chairman of the program committee and announces that this section will study American composers. Community singing will also be organized.

Perhaps the most important civic undertaking the club has ever attempted is the charity work it has recently taken over. It is planned to work throughout the whole county, and will use the same branch organizations as in the Red Cross. In this way, the Woman's club will get in touch with all the women of Pennington county, and a future plan of having other Woman's clubs formed as country auxillaries is being formulated. Mrs. J. J. Richter is the chairman of this section. First ward chairman, Mrs. F. H. Gambell; second ward chairman, Mrs. M. Connolly; third, Mrs. E. E. Zeh; fourth, Mrs. E. N. Schutt; secretary, Mrs. T. A. Way; chairman for country branches, Mrs. Craik; supervisor of work business, Mrs. E. O. Mogenson. The former Red Cross rooms in the Auditorium are to be used if permission can be obtained from the Council. Mrs. G. Halvorson gave a short talk on community singing and led the club while it sang two or three songs. Mrs. E. E. Zeh reported the progress of the work of the committee which is attempting to exterminate the sparrows. Mrs. A. Haggen presented a paper on poets of today and illustrated her paper by reading some poems. Mrs. Albert Johnson was unable to be present and Mrs. Halvorson gave a short talk on "Minnesota Musicians" and sang three songs written by Minnesota composers. The secretary then read a letter from the Fair board in reply to the one from the Woman's club, protesting the low-grade carnivals and asking that they be not a feature of the next year's entertainment. A reply formulated by the executive board was approved by the club body. It reads as follows: "Replying to your letter of January 10, the Woman's club wishes to thank you for your co-operation and would say it would seem presumptuous on our part and entirely unnecessary to make suggestions for suitable amusements for the Fair in 1919, as we feel the Fair Board is entirely competent to select clean entertainment that will more nearly meet with the approval of the majority of the people in Pennington county. If, however, the Fair Board wishes the club to plan with them, we would be very glad to do so. Assuring you of our heartiest co-operation. Mrs. Nicholson, secretary."

The club then adjourned to meet a week from next Monday.

Pay Teachers For Time Lost During Recent Epidemic

DISTRICTS MUST LIVE UP TO CONTRACTS IN ALL CASES.

A question having arisen as to whether or not school districts will be required to pay teachers for their time while the schools were closed by reason of the recent influenza epidemic, I requested County Attorney Theo. Quale to give his opinion on the subject. He appealed to Attorney General Hilton, and I herewith submit for the information of teachers and the public the correspondence passing between the two on the subject.

GEO. M. GUNDERSON,
County Superintendent.

"Clifford L. Hilton, Attorney General, St. Paul, Minnesota. Dear Sir: I understand that your office has rendered an opinion as to the payment of wages of a school teacher during the time when school is closed by reason of an epidemic. May I be favored with a copy of this opinion?

Very truly yours,
"THEO. QUALE,
"County Attorney."

Following is a copy of the communication referred to:

"Mrs. Ada P. Conger, Supt. of Schools, Becker, Minn. Dear Madam: Yours of November 19th addressed to Clifford L. Hilton, Attorney General, is before me for attention.

"Where schools are closed because of an epidemic of disease, teachers therein, not themselves afflicted with the disease, and ready, willing, and able to perform their duties as teachers during the time schools are so closed need not make up the time lost, and are entitled to compensation for the period during which the schools are closed. This is so provided the contracts entered into by and between the teachers and the school district do not contain a stipulation providing that compensation may be deducted for the period during which schools are closed on account of an epidemic of disease.

"If, during the period schools are closed on account of an epidemic of disease, a teacher leaves the district with the consent of the school board, and is not able to return in time to take up her duties when school again starts by reason of negligence on the part of the school board or one of its officers, such teacher cannot be deprived of compensation by reason of her absence during the first few days of school.

"A school board has no authority to withold compensation from teachers, until the time lost by reason of the closing of schools on account of an epidemic of disease has been made up by such teacher, where the ordinary form of teacher's contract has been used, for under the conditions heretofore stated, the board is without authority to compel such teachers to make up the time lost.

"Yours truly,
"M. J. BROWN,
"Assistant Attorney General."

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY.

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Thief River Falls. No Thief River Falls resident who sufferers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. Geo. Williams, 412 Main Ave., N., Thief River Falls, says: "I used many remedies for kidney trouble and backache but had no permanent relief until I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store. This remedy not only cured my back but made me feel better in every way. I am only sorry that Doan's didn't come to my attention sooner." (Statement given September 29, 1910.)

On November 30, 1917, Mrs. Williams said: "During the past seven years Doan's Kidney Pills have done fine work whenever I have used them for kidney weakness. I hold Doan's in the same high estimation as when I first endorsed them."

Mrs. Maria Hendrickson.

At the ripe old age of over ninety years, Mrs. Maria Hendrickson quietly passed into the great beyond last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Wilson. She was seriously ill only a few days previous to her death but had gradually grown quite feeble of late and at her advanced age when vitality is low, death as a result was not wholly unexpected.

Mrs. Hendrickson was born in Christiania, Norway, and had spent the greater part of her life in that country. There she had been married and raised her family. She had become a widow, forty years ago and immigrated to this country about 32 years ago. Coming directly to this section of the country she was one of the pioneer settlers and had seen this country develop from a wilderness into a rich farming country. The past 23 years of her life have been spent at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilson, by whom she has been tenderly cared for. She has many friends in this community, with whom she frequently visited before growing too feeble, and her wise counsel and cheerful encouragement were greatly appreciated by them.

The deceased is survived by three daughters namely: Mrs. Karl Peterson of International Falls, Minn.; Mrs. A. S. Wilson, of this village; a daughter in Norway, and one son, Fred Hendrickson of Spoooner, Minn., besides a number of other relatives.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon by Rev. Grimsrud. The out-of-town relatives at the funeral were the daughter and son, Mrs. Peterson and Fred Hendrickson, and a grand-daughter, Mrs. J. Sieff of Red Lake Falls.

Carl Johnson drove to Thief River Falls Friday afternoon to transact business.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Burkee were Sunday guests at the Arne Vik home, south of the village.

Mrs. D. Patterson and Mrs. F. Berglund and son were among the Thief River Falls visitors, Friday.

Miss Ida Engh left Saturday for Hillsboro, N. D., after having spent a few weeks with her home folks.

J. Colter arrived early last week from Swan River, Canada, for a visit at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. Ortloff, and with other relatives in this community. After a brief visit at Thief River Falls, also, he left for Grand Forks on Saturday to visit his mother before returning to his home.

After having spent a furlough of a few days with his home folks west of the village, Arthur Avelson left Thursday for Philadelphia to rejoin the unit of the U. S. Navy, with which he is connected.

Last week this village welcomed the return of four well known young men, who were recently mustered out of army service. Henry Kolstad arrived on Tuesday from Camp Forest, Ga. He was among the last men from this county to enlist and had hardly reached the training camp when news of the armistice was received, but illness probably hindered his earlier discharge. Iver Lind, who has been in the service for some time, was retained as instructor at Camp Pike, Ark., instead of being sent overseas. He was recently transferred to Camp Grant, Ill., where he was mustered out. Edward Vik arrived Friday from Camp Dodge, where he had received his discharge, after having seen considerable overseas service. Ralph Roy arrived Saturday having been employed for some time at clerical work in various military camps.

Turkey Proceeded to Attend to the Armenians

By William Howard Taft

Now why the need of money for the Armenians? You know their story? Abdul Hamid was the Sultan of Turkey. He was the sweet-scented individual who in 1896 deliberately directed the killing of 100,000 Armenians. Who are the Armenians? They are one of the oldest Christian peoples in the world. They lived in a province that lies north of Mesopotamia, east of Asia Minor, west of Persia and south of the Black Sea. It is a province of mountains and valleys—not only rich but fertile. 1,800,000 Armenians lived in that country, cultivating the valleys and made them "blossom as the rose". The Turks hated them because they were Christians; hated them because they were industrious, and enjoyed the prosperity that comes from industry.

Later when Turkey entered the great European war as the ally of Germany, she invited German officers into her army. Her army was shortly officered by German officers, who directed that army to go into Armenia and deport 1,800,000 Armenians, which they did. 600,000 escaped. The other 1,200,000 were driven by that army to the desert of Mesopotamia and Syria, and in the drive the army deliberately killed men, women and children, by rifle ball, by bayonet, by knife, by driving them over precipices, by driving them into deep running rivers—600,000 men, women and children! Half of them were deported to Asia and half to Mesopotamia. Out of those deported nearly 400,000 died of starvation.

Then Germany turned the Caucasus over to Turkey; Turkey proceeded to attend to the Armenians—in that kindly, fatherly way! That is the story!

A friend of mine who was on the border of Persia told me that he had gone to a German officer and said "For God's sake, can't you stop the butchery of these men, women and children?" and the German officer clicked his heels together and said "Stand back, the time for mercy has passed".

This is the story of that unfortunate people. The Syrians, Greeks and Jews in Western Asia have suffered the same kind of barbaric treatment. The Armenian and Syrian Relief has been organized for some years to care for these unfortunate, sorely distressed people. It has received and most efficiently expended more than $12,000,000. Each cent that you give will go for actual relief. Feeble, helpless, starving millions cry for food. I urge you to give generously of your bounty.

"Dollar Getters" or "Dollar Givers," Which?

By David Hinshaw

America has been called the "Land of the Almighty dollar," and certain surface indications in our national make-up have partly justified this characterization. The folks of the vast country west of the Alleghenies are scarcely more than two generations removed from pioneers who wrested life and fortune from Nature. Many of those on the Atlantic seaboard are immigrants from Europe, who have come to this land of opportunity and promise to better themselves and their children. The struggle for advance, comfort and means still in our blood, therefore, occasionally gives us the appearance of "dollar getters." But the great majority of us have fully appreciated that money making is not our fundamental aim.

The fine spirit of equality, the certain elimination of class lines which exist in Europe, the gradual removal of chronic poverty should have characterized us as practical idealists. But we were judged by appearances. Then came the Grat War.

We entered this war for no material gain, but that autocracy might be forever crushed from the earth; that small nations might be protected from large nations; that the agreement between one nation and another nation might be sacred and binding. We ask nothing for ourselves; we insist only that humanity shall be benefited. Now we are being acclaimed as the world's greatest idealists.

Because we entered the war late and the surface of our home life and our industry has been barely scratched, it is our particular duty to see this great effort through to the very end. More than four million persons are looking to American generosity for their very lives. The big task is all but completed. One corner alone needs to be cleaned up. America must finish the job. Impoverished, stricken Europe can help but little. When America has cleaned up the last corner, the Near East, as she will certainly do, we will be known as the land of "dollar-givers," not the land of "dollar-getters."

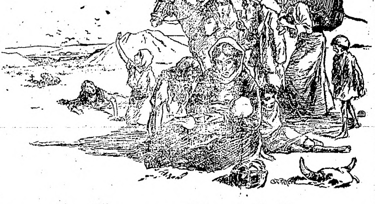
nn

Space Contributed by Business and Professional Men of Thief River Falls

I, therefore, again call upon the people of the United States to make even more generous contributions than they have made heretofore * * * * to help re-establish these ancient and sorely oppressed people in their former homes on a self-supporting basis.

Woodrow Wilson

THE WHITE HOUSE
29 November, 1918



"They shall not Perish"

PRESIDENT WILSON has asked all Americans to rally generously to the support of the Committee for Relief in the Near East, whose campaign comes January 12-19

The need is urgent. Four million refugee women and children, the victims of Turkish lust and brutality, are starving and dying.

There is only one possible source of help—America. The other nations of the world can scarce bind up their own wounds. Upon what we do—you and I—depend the lives of these millions of helpless women and children. They must not perish—they shall not perish.

The Government has asked the Committee for Relief in the Near East to undertake the rescue work among these victims of Turkish oppression. During the past year the Committee has cared for over 900,000 refugees who otherwise would have perished.

There are now 4,000,000 dependent upon the Committee for relief. Of this number 400,000 are children, many of them little more than babies, whose parents have died of privation or been murdered by the Turk.

To carry on this work a minimum of $30,000,000 is needed immediately.

Where Your Money Goes

Give! Every penny of every dollar you give goes to relieve the suffering of some starving refugee. None of it is used for administrative expenses either here or abroad. These, even to the cost of cabling the money—are met privately from funds especially solicited for the purpose. During the past year the Committee has spent in actual relief work $50,000 more than it has received in contributions, the difference representing the interest on daily balances.

The money is cabled to the field through the American State Department, and is administered there by United States Consuls, American educators, doctors, and other responsible agents already on the ground and thoroughly familiar with the needs.

No direct money aid is given.

What Your Money Buys

The funds are used for the purchase of food, clothes, and other supplies absolutely essential if America is to save these stricken Eastern peoples.

$30,000,000 will feed and clothe for six months three million refugees, all in desperate need, and all entirely dependent upon American aid for the bare necessities of life.

In addition, it will restore to their homes the nearly two million of these refugees now in exile in Egypt, the Caucausus, Persia and the remote districts of Turkish Empire.

It will buy seed, farm implements, cattle and sheep to enable them to become again an industrious, self-supporting people. If this program is carried through, the present sufferers will within a year need little or no further help from outside.

Every dollar subscribed goes to the Relief Work

All expenses are privately met

All funds are cabled through the Department of State

All funds are distributed through U. S. Consuls or American Agencies

Our Government is prevented from giving aid

The Red Cross is not organized for Relief Work in these sections

17 cents a day, $5.00 a month, $60.00 a year will keep one of these unfortunates alive. Can you save less than one life?

Give! Give! Give!

Make your contributions payable to

Shop and Railroad News

E. F. Dolan has received letters from T. J. Rowan and W. D. Boyce, formerly of the dispatcher's office here, in which they state they have no idea when they will be permitted to leave Manchuria. Both are now located at Harbin and say it looks as if it will take 20 years to civilize the natives sufficiently to make it possible for the Americans to come home. Several interesting photographs were sent by Mr. Boyce. One shows where 37,000 car wheels are collected while another shows 54,000 pairs. One of the photos is of a steel bridge blown up by the Bolshiviki and another where $50,000 worth of copper wire is stored in one place. The letters were written on Dec. 27 and arrived here on Jan. 21.

Agent W. E. Baker of the Great Northern, treated a number of young folks to a sleighride party on Sunday afternoon. He hitched a coasting bob behind his auto and started with the load for St. Hilaire. When a mile or so from town the joy-riders managed to upset the conveyance and were dumped out in the middle of the road. Mr. Baker knew nothing of the accident and kept right on feeding the juice to Old Reliable. After he had gone a couple of miles he noticed that his tow was slewing badly and looked around, only to find that the passengers were missing. He started back and found the latter huddled against a strawstack in a rather vain endeavor to keep warm.

A. L. Chapman has been put on as day dispatcher at division headquarters here. Orders were received to arrange matters so all dispatchers would have two days off each month instead of working every day as has heretofore been the custom. A. J. Odin, chief dispatcher, took advantage of this order and went on his two-day leave, the chief's work devolving upon E. F. Dolan. The place formerly occupied by Mr. Chapman in the telegraph office was taken by E. E. Blair, who in turn has been succeeded by D. M. Hemmesh.

A branch of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks has been organized in Thief River Falls. B. H. Baxter of Seattle, an organizer for the brotherhood, was in the city and succeeded in securing every eligible man and woman as charter members, there being 23 all told. The organization will be perfected and officers elected as soon as the charter arrives from national headquarters.

Railroad business is not as brisk as in the early part of winter, although the traffic shows an improvement over last week. According to well-posted men in the service there are still at least 5,000 cars of grain to come from the West so that a brisk movement may be expected at any time.

D. L. Emery, who has been serving in the army, returned to work for the Soo on Monday and was put on as agent at Fonda, relieving M. L. Pearson, who in turn succeeds H. B. Pfeiffer, agent at Forest River, on a 30 day leave of absence.

Misses Selma Simonson, ticket cashier; Elvina Jonas, clerk in the office of Car Foreman G. J. Conklin, and Albina Doucet, stenographer in the office of City Agent H. A. Pratt, will leave Saturday evening to spend Sunday in Minneapolis.

Phillip Lundberg, car repairer, was taken suddenly ill with acute appendicitis on Saturday and rushed to the Physicians' hospital where he was at once operated on. He is reported as getting along all right.

L. M. Halvorson has checked in as agent at Whitman in place of O. R. Crowser, who has been transferred to Wanger as regular agent.

C. B. Bartless, machinist's helper, is at the Physician's hospital in this city for the purpose of undergoing a minor operation.

Henry Ward was switched from his job as fireman to that of coach cleaner this week because of a lull in business on the road.

John Kassa, car repairer, leaves this week for Turtle Lake, Wis., where he will undergo treatment for rheumatism.

Fireman Arthur Johnson is taking the place of Julius C. Olson at the coal chute, the latter laying up for a short rest.

Berger Wold is able to visit around again after having undergone an operation for appendicitis at the local hospital.

Miss Marie Stensrud, car cleaner, visited with friends and relatives in St. Paul the first of the week.

C. A. Joslyn of the car repair department, is a business visitor in the Twin Cities this week.

J. O'Conner, special roadmaster for the Soo, was in the city on business Friday night.

Engineers Fred Dablow and J. E. Nelson were visitors in Minneapolis this week.

Fred O. Larson, hostler helper, is spending the week visiting friends at Superior.

James Neseth, car man helper, is off the job this week because of sickness.

Pipefitter John C. Bird is reported on the sick list.

Thief River Falls, Minnesota
Feb. 17 and 18

Five sessions—The morning, afternoon and evening of February 17th and morning and afternoon of the 18th.

This service school is given free by the Avery Co., and C. Gustafson & Son, and is going to be a great help to all who will attend. If you now own or intend to buy a Tractor; if it be an Avery Tractor or any other make of Tractor, this service school is going to be a great help to you. This school is not—What kind of a Tractor shall I buy, as much as—How can I learn to Run a Tractor? What Care should I take in starting my new Tractor, and in the future how should I care for a Tractor?

A very large attendance is expected at this Service School, and a very interesting and good time is assured. Remember the dates, February 17th and 18th, and for further particulars ask

The Government Acts Against Vice Diseases

The cleanest body of young men ever assembled—such is Uncle Sam's army, and the army and navy are backing him up in what is the biggest campaign against sex immorality, and the consequences of sex immorality, that the world has ever seen.

To carry out the attack meant the setting aside of our ages-old prudery and evasion of facts. It meant public discussion of diseases heretofore faced only by doctors, and small groups of reformers. But prudery when weighed in the balance against the health of a few million American boys had small chance of survival, and none at all when we once realized the part it played in reducing the fighting efficiency of our forces. American mothers and fathers want their boys to come home to them as healthy morally and physically as they left. American women are awakening to the truth that this problem has the greatest significance for them and for their children. The American Army and Navy are fully alive to the fact that a more efficient force could be obtained through the eradication of venereal diseases, then by eliminating wounds. This last statement may sound incredible, but the experience of our Allies proved it in the first years of the war. Read what Surgeon-General Gorgas has to say on the subject:

"To the Commanding General the loss is greater for a man who contracts gonorrhoea, than for a man who is shot through the thigh, and even if the Commanding General could lay aside all question of morality, he would probably choose the eradication of venereal diseases, rather than the prevention of wounds."

Suffered From Scourge.

Before the draft we knew little or nothing of the extent of our own danger. But with the draft came physical examinations and we could not longer evade the appalling facts. Our country, like the countries of Europe, was suffering from a scourge which costs more in life, happiness and money than all other diseases combined. It was shown, moreover, that these diseases are not confined to any one class of men, but that they exist in families of every class; that they are not diseases of large cities alone; the small town and the country district produce proportionately quite as large a number of cases. Obviously the situation called for the open-minded attention of every intelligent man and woman in the United States.

The Federal Government went into the campaign against these diseases first and foremost because they put thousands upon thousands of fighting men on the sick list, with a loss of millions of dollars and invaluable training time. To let them alone as has been the policy of the past was to play straight into the hands of the Kaiser. First of all then the Government set out to protect our military forces from carriers of venereal disease to keep them "fit to fight." Practically all prostitutes are known to be such carriers. Therefore prostitution had to go. Today there is not a single red light district within many miles of any military camp or naval station.

Up to the Individual.

Some men, in spite of all efforts, nevertheless expose themselves to disease. Therefore in every camp is established expert medical care for infected men. The regulations also provide for the fixing of the responsibility of exposure upon the soldier himself, and he knows well the price he must pay in terms of advancement and coveted privileges.

Preventive measures are not by any means all medical and legal. The boy himself must understand as boys have never understood in the past, the nature and consequences of sex immorality. To this end are provided lectures, motion pictures, exhibits and pamphlets. This education is in no sense "preachy." Neither is it morbid. The facts are stated frankly, but the appeal is most of all to his patriotism and sense of fair play in the avoidance of risks which will diminish his fighting powers.

Removing Temptation.

Again, since experience has shown that the greatest number of infections have occurred through a lack of normal interests, every effort is made to bring to the boys athletic sports, concerts, movies, books, etc.

The fighting soldier thus provided for, there remained his comrade, the soldier of the munition factory, the war-workers all over the country. Today he is being informed and helped along similar lines, and the mightiest campaign of education ever known in the world is under way.

It would be a mistake to suppose this work confined to men alone. It soon became evident that if the women and girls were not enlisted in this fight, the success of the program would be limited. Washington founded a Woman's Section of the War Department, whose duties are not only to protect young girls from their folly and ignorance, but to educate all women in these facts which are of paramount importance to them and to the race.

It is to the glory of our government that it has launched the first consistent blow against a scourge which is even more disastrous to the integrity of nations than war itself. The second blow must be delivered by the civil authorities.

How Minnesota has come into line to do her part will be shown in a succeeding article in this paper.

MINNESOTA BACKS UP THE GOVERNMENT

Adopts Means to Fight Vice and Disease.

When the Government first began to study the cost of venereal diseases to the army and navy, in money, in fighting days, and in general morale, almost everyone thought that a higher percentage of these diseases would be found among the regulars than among our boys who had come from our home towns. The draft, however, showed that we were wrong in our supposition. In other words, these infections were not a product of army life, but the boys brought these with them from all over the country. Plainly then, if the War Department's attack on venereal diseases was to meet with any real success, the civil communities must come to the rescue. The second step therefore was the gaining of the co-operation of all the states in a nation-wide campaign. Today practically every one is engaged in some form of warfare against these diseases.

Minnesota was among the first to enter the list. A Bureau of Venereal Diseases was established under the State Board of Health with a plan of attack which was based on four clearly defined approaches, each of which will be considered in these articles.

In the first place, we recognized, as did Washington, that as long as public prostitution is allowed to persist unchecked, little can be done to control the spread of these diseases. Therefore, drastic repressive action against the trade is proposed. There are in this state adequate laws for such repression. Why are they not enforced? Chiefly because public opinion has not yet awakened to the need of such repression. It matters not at all how well drawn a law may be so long as the public is indifferent to its enforcement. Moreover, every law which interferes with business, has immediately arrayed against it all the power of the interests interfered with. Commercial prostitution is under the usual conditions one of the most profitable of businesses. Again, many sincere public-spirited individuals honestly believe that it is not possible to control this ancient evil. These persons have never truly studied the question with unprejudiced minds. Careful investigation has shown repeatedly that practically all prostitutes are infected with diseases which are infinitely more serious to the individual, to the race, to the army, than tuberculosis, than smallpox, than any of the recognized scourges. Therefore, it is idle to urge the freedom of the individual in this matter.

It is fully admitted that innate depravity is by no means the sole factor, or even the largest factor, in the problem. Eventually we hope to go after the contributory causes—the problems of non-employment, of ignorance, of bad housing, of broken homes, of feeble-mindedness, and of many others. We know that they too are tied up in all this. But now we are at war. Our primary concern is for our army. We cannot wait to eliminate these mistakes of our civilization. No one hopes to change the natures of men and women by legislation, but experience has shown that we can, through sanely enforced laws, prevent thousands of our fighters from being incapacitated by disease. Therefore we have no choice. For the present at least, it is disease, not sin nor social disharmony, which we are combating.

Within the last decade many careful scientific efforts have been made both in Europe and in this country to study the problem from every angle. As a result, experts today are unanimously of the opinion that it is entirely practical for every community to do away with commercialized vice, if those in authority are willing to undertake a strict law enforcement policy backed by an intelligent public. In our own state no segregated "red light" districts are tolerated. Therefore much of the legal end of the state work is concerned with the tracing and following up of individual prostitutes, and the making of their "profession" a most unprofitable and precarious business. Only when the number of infections traceable to a single diseased woman is considered does the importance of every case eliminated become obvious.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

(By L. R. Hiatt, Lieut. Inf. U. S. R. C., in charge, Boys' Working Reserve, Pennington County.)

Wilson Sees Work For Farm Bureau. That the county farm bureau, such as exists in every county in Minnesota, representing the farm folk and controlled by them, and co-operating with the United States Department of Agriculture and the extension division of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, can become a tremendous educational agency, is the belief of A. D. Wilson, head of agricultural extension work in the University of Minnesota. Mr. Wilson believes that the county farm bureaus, through the co-operative relationship mentioned, can work wonders in making available to all of the farm people of the state, the mass of useful information about farm and farm home problems which has been accumulated by progressive farmers of the state, by the agricultural department of the University and by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Fitting Memorials For War's Heroes. Memorial groves for the heroes of the great world war are recommended by E. G. Cheyney, head of the forestry division of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota. Mr. Cheyney believes that every city and village should plant a grove in proportion to its size as a loving tribute to its young men who took part in the war for freedom. As a state memorial, Mr. Cheyney also suggests a double row of trees the entire length of Jefferson Highway from Iowa to the Canada line.

This week, January 20-25, has been designated by the United States Department of Labor, as Enrollment Week for the Boys' Working Reserve. The Boys' Working Reserve is a branch of the U. S. Dept. of Labor, and works in connection with the Federal Employment Bureau, and it's purpose is to mobilize for productive service, chiefly on the farms, all physically fit American boys from 16 to 20 years of age; to see that their education is maintained; and to prevent and exploitation of their labor.

Last year Minnesota boys to the number of 2,000 enrolled in the Reserve and worked on farms during their summer vacations. This year the plan is to enroll 8,000 Minnesota boys for productive work during the summer months.

Although the Army and Navy are being demobilized and the young men are returning to their home communities, there will be need for every able-bodied boy between the ages of 18 and 20 on the farms and in industries during the summer vacation, if the United States is to carry out its program for feeding the hungry in the war-ridden nations, such as France, England, Belgium, Armenia, and Serbia.

Before the war the United States exported 5,533,000 tons of foodstuffs annually to Europe. In 1918 this amount had, because of the war exigencies, increased to 11,820,000 tons. Just before the armistice was signed, Mr. Hoover estimated that 17,500,000 tons would be needed for 1919. If, in addition to this demand we should undertake to export foodstuffs to Germany, Austria and Turkey, the amount needed would be no less than 20,000,000 tons.

Membership in the Boys' Working Reserve is entirely voluntary. Last year over 200,000 American boys enrolled and as a result of their efforts a quantity of foodstuffs was produced sufficient to feed a million men in France for a year, and valued at $75,000,000.

Lieutenant L. R. Hiatt, of the agricultural department of the Thief River high school, is in charge of the enrollment of boys in Pennington county, and any boy between the ages of 16 and 20 years who wishes to enroll, may do so by seeing Lieutenant Hiatt any time this week at the high school building. Boys outside of Thief River Falls who wish to enroll may do so by writing Lieutenant Hiatt, enclosing a three-cent stamp to cover cost of postage for enrollment card and enrollment pin.

An enrollment pin, issued by the U. S. Department of Labor, will be issued to each boy enrolling, and after six weeks' satisfactory service has been rendered on farms or in some other form of industry, a bronze service badge will be given each boy.

Last year boys were enrolled for only farm work, but this year it is proposed to permit boys to enroll for any form of industry. Boys who work on their fathers' farm are allowed to enroll and are given the same credit as those who enroll to work on farms where they are not acquainted.

The Pennington County branch of the State Boys Working Reserve will work in connection with the Minnesota branch of the Federal Employment bureau at St. Paul, and in case employment cannot be found for Pennington county boys in this vicinity, efforts will be made to locate them elsewhere in the state, preferably in nearby counties.

It is not recommended that boys leave school before their school year is finished, and no encouragement will be given to boys who may desire to do so.

Farmers who desire help on their farms during the summer months should write or telephone the Thief River Falls high school office, where their labor needs will be listed, and every effort made to secure reliable help for them. In case there should not be a sufficient number of boys enrolled to meet Pennington county farm labor needs, the matter will be taken up with the Federal Employment bureau at St. Paul and that bureau asked to help locate satisfactory help.

There are no fees or charges for those who enroll, or for those desiring to secure the services of enrolled boys.

C. Gustafson & Son Recontract for Avery

Local Implement Dealers See Greater Demand This Year For Good Line Of Power-Farming Machinery.

We wish to announce to the readers of our paper that G. Gustafson & Son, progressive implement dealers of this city, have again been able to secure the agency for the coming season of the Avery line of Motor Farming, Threshing and Road Building machinery.

To those who know the Avery line this will be glad news. The "Avery" includes a number of sizes of tractors so there is a "Size Avery Tractor for Every Size Farm," also a "Size Avery Thresher for Every Size Threshing Run." Besides these machines, the line also includes a Motor Cultivator and Planter, which has been hailed as the greatest invention since the days of the Grain Binder.

The five larger sizes of Avery Tractors are all built alike on the same standardized design. They are equipped with many exclusive features, such as renewable inner cylinder walls, patented sliding frame, adjustable crank shaft bearings, and the wonderful invention—the Avery Duplex Gasifier Fuel System—one of the most important units in a tractor, which turns kerosene or distillate into gas and burns it all. In all competitive tests, etc., the local dealers say that Avery tractors have proven to be real kerosene burners. In fact they build the only perfected opposed type of motor with a sliding frame.

Their experience in handling tractors has shown them that in looking over different makes of tractors, they are fully convinced of their good judgment in choosing the Avery line because they felt it was the most reliable, economical, durable and accessible tractor on the market. Besides, they report that the company is a big one, owning three big modern factories located at Peoria, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis. Their product is in the hands of thousands of users and is making good in all 48 states of this country and in 61 foreign countries.

Besides the complete line of machinery named above, Avery Company makes the little 5-10 H. P. Model "B" Tractor, which sells for $550.00 f. o. b. Peoria. This is the smallest and lowest priced tractor built. Not only this; this little machine has proven to be very satisfactory on farms of fifty acres or less.

Those who are interested in Motor Farming Machinery should see C. Gustafson & Son of this city, as they will be very glad to talk with them relative to their Power Farming Machinery requirements.—Adv.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country. Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with is the place to have your printing done, no matter what kind it may be.

Reconstruction days are here. The Government is fast relinquishing all restrictions and it is your patriotic duty to do your share of Reconstruction work.

The war has made all of us put off lots of things that should have been done. Now they must be done. You owe it to yourself, your surroundings and to the welfare of this community to start work at once.

Influenza Prevention

Avoid colds, and influenza has less chance to fasten upon you. But to avoid colds you must keep your blood, kidneys, lungs and skin pores in condition to fight them and throw them out of the system. This you cannot expect to do if you allow food-waste to remain in your system, to ferment and fill your blood with the dangerous poisons it creates. You must see that your bowels are thoroughly emptied regularly every day.

This is easy to accomplish if you use SALINOS, a new really pleasant acting salts which your druggist can supply you. SALINOS is pleasant in action and will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel, where most poisons are formed. You can take it in cold water without interfering with its effectiveness.

You should take it first thing in the morning. Get a bottle today for a Quarter (large sizes Fifty cents and a Dollar.) Be safe! Take SALINOS tomorrow morning.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

"What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed!

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

Why Butter Is High

Experiments in nutrition of animals and man recently concluded by Dr. McCallum of Johns Hopkins University brought the startling discovery that a certain amount of butter and milk is indispensable for growth and health. The U. S. Government after investigating Dr. McCallum's work was convinced that it was necessary to add butter to the army and navy rations and that it was impossible to substitute for cow's butter. This required many millions of pounds of butter, which the government commandeered from storage holdings and creameries. That's the reason for the present shortage and the extreme high price.

SCHOOL NOTES

The senior class has engaged Mrs. C. A. Pitkin to direct the presentation of the annual class play. This assures the success of the entertainment and guarantees a continuation of that excellence which has been characteristic of the high school plays several years past. The proceeds are for the purpose of securing a class memorial and to meet other necessary class expenses.

Red Lake Falls put up a stubborn fight last Saturday, but were far from the form necessary to meet such a team as the locals. The score was 55 to 4 in favor of Thief River Falls.

For the first time in three weeks all the teachers were in their places last Monday. The attendance of pupils this week is also excellent.

The school nurse began a physical examination of all the school children on Monday. The card records created by this action will serve as an intelligent basis for future treatment of defectives. When it is stated that more than half of the young men recently in the service were discovered to be more or less imperfect, physically, at conscription time, it is not to be wondered at if half the school children will be found unable to score 100 per cent physically.

The system of penmanship taught in the local schools is known as the Palmer. It is the most popular system extant, and is probably the most effective method of presenting writing today. Even the work in the first grade is as carefully graded and developed as in any other grade.

In reply to an inquiry of a local English teacher for the reasons that prompt the state to demand four years of English study in Minnesota high schools an excellent one was given by a senior boy. He stated that in a democracy where every adult ought to have an intelligent knowledge of governmental procedure, and know state papers, political platforms and newspaper and magazine discussions, that a knowledge of English is very essential to enable him to do this.

Young Men For the Navy.

Uncle Sam wants 200,000 young men to man the ships of his fleets. Ages 17 to 35. Good pay and promotion. If you care for education and travel join the Navy.

The United States Naval ships traverse the whole globe. A four-year cruise in the navy is worth more than a four-year course at any recognized college in the United States.

Transportation will be furnished applicants for enlistment from any city or town in Minnesota or North Dakota to Minneapolis, Minn., and if they are not accepted they will be sent back home at the expense of the Government.

For particulars apply to your postmaster or write to the United States Navy Recruiting Station, 408 Second Avenue South, Minneapolis, Minn.

BIG SAW MILL JOB IN FRANCE

HENRY ROGERS SUPPLIES INTERESTING FIGURES ON OPERATIONS OVER THERE.

PALS IN SAME COMPANY

GEORGE BORDEN AND HOMER ANDERSON ALSO WITH THE TWENTIETH ENGINEERS.

Letters from the boys in France will in all probability no longer tell of battles and campaigns. A few of the tardy writers may describe some of the scenes at the close of the war, but for the most part Times readers will have to be satisfied with accounts of milder occupations than actual trench work.

Henry J. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Rogers of Steiner, was one of the boys who went across on the torpedoed Tuscania. He is with the 20th engineers and has not been in the actual fighting lines. His letter is most interesting, nevertheless, as it gives a very good idea of the enormous amount of work other than actual fighting necessary in order to maintain an army.

"I have been enjoying The Times' Soldier Letters for a long time," he writes, "so will send a few lines to let you know what we have been doing."

Company Horseshoer.

"George Borden, Homer Anderson and I are in the 16th company. George is working in the shop, Homer is driving team and I am company horseshoer and blacksmith.

"We get a copy of The Times nearly every week and you can bet we get all there is in it—even to the advertisements. (I wish I was home to get one of those bargain mackinaws the clothiers are offering.)

"We are in the southwestern part of France now and have our camp all in shape for winter. We live in little frame barracks, a squad to each shack and will have a regular imitation home when we get all fixed up. The soil here is sandy so we will not be bothered with mud even if it is rainy.

Much Lumber Sawed.

"I guess you folks know the Twentieth are all forestry troops. I think there are seventy-two companies in all. We sure hit the ball this past summer. I will quote a few figures from a late official bulletin to show what we have been doing. Up to the first of Jan., 1917, the forestry division in France had cut 321,000 feet of lumber and 12,000 ties. When the armistice was signed the eighty-one sawmills operating were producing 2,000,000 feet of sawed and round stuff every working day. On December 1st, 1918, we had cut a total of 272,000,000 feet, including 2,728,000 railroad ties, 38,000 piling, 2,739,000 poles and 692,000 cubic meters of fuel wood. This gives a fellow an idea of the supplies necessary to maintain an army the size of the American Expeditionary Force.

Trees Are Good Size.

The three companies that were formerly the sixth battalion are now in or near this town. The 18th company has been running its mill a couple of weeks and the 16th and 17th will be sawing in a week or two. The timber we cut is from ten to thirty inches on the stump. It is all pine and is tapped for resin and turpentine for years before being cut.

Wine Has a "Kick."

"I was sort of amused by one of the letters in The Times last week. The lad who wrote it said there was considerable wine used here, but it was light and non-intoxicating. I guess it is light alright as it usually seems to go to a fellow's head. He can feel as if he owned two-thirds of France and all of Germany by spending from two to thirty francs for a bottle of wine—the grade of the beverage depending on how long it is since pay day.

Look For Three Things.

"You know there are just three things we look for now—mail, pay-day and home-going. Now I don't want our friends to get the impression that we are intemperate, but there are a few fellows in this man's army that are—slightly inclined to overdo it.

"We have good mail service. The Christmas parcels are coming now, (Dec. 18) and we will have 'beaucoup' eats for a while.

Not Much Butter.

"I see in another letter from the boys in an eastern camp, that Uncle Sam only gives him butter once a week whereas he used to get it every day at Fort Snelling. I guess they were breaking him in easy. We have been over here eleven months and had butter twice, I think. Of course we get jam and oleo ocassionally.

"Our diet here reminds me of a remark one of the Steiner boys made at a restaurant feed in Thief River Falls a couple of years ago. He said: 'There is lots of meat and potatoes, but not much butter or sugar.'

The One Big Feed.

"We had a big feed Thanksgiving day. Here is the menu: Turkey with dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, cream tomato soup, sweet corn, baked beans, celery, apple and pumpkin pie, cake, cinnamon rolls, oranges, walnuts, cocoa. We have been doing penance ever since by living on slum and carrot soup. Oh! It's a great life if you don't weaken.

"Well I am afraid I will be imposing on your space if you happen to print this, so will close by saying we are all proud of the way Thief River Falls and all of Minnesota went over the top in the Liberty Loan drive."

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is an organization that should have the honor and support of every Christian man and woman throughout the land. This cannot be doubted when we look upon the noble work that is being done by our women in relieving suffering and bringing back Right which has been wronged.

At a regular meeting last Tuesday, Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. J. O. Sether, a resolution was adopted and which is one of the grandest of its kind. After being attested before a notary it is sent to the National headquarters to be forwarded to the peace conference, demanding the trial before an international tribunal, and punishment of all offenders of the Central European powers and their allies, whether as principal or accomplice of all offense, committed against life of humanity throughout its Womankind.

We have been told by eyewitnesses and we can readily understand that those unspeakable horrors could not have been committed had they been sober men. Not until God's people remove the stumbling block, the liquor traffic, from this world's highway, shall God hear this universal praise: "Praise Him all creatures here below."

We wear the white ribbon because it is a plea for purity in life. It preaches the prohibition of the liquor traffic. It is a prayer for home protection. It is a promise of hope to the tempted, and help to the suffering. It phophecies the coming of Christ's kingdom in all hearts, all homes and all governments.

Resolution.

WHEREAS, There is overwhelming evidence that in the present war the armies of the Central European powers, and of their allies have been permitted and encouraged to commit, and officers and men en masse have actually and persistently committed every form of sexual offense against the women of every country they have entered;

WHEREAS, such offenses are crimes under the laws of war as well as under the laws of peace, as well under the common law of nations as under the municipal law of every nation which is even superficially civilized; and under the Hague convention; and

WHEREAS, such crimes are a monstrous insult to the dignity of womanhood, and strike at the heart of society, the home. Their commission by the Germans and their allies was deliberate, wholesale, and authorized. Silence at this time means that the violation, enslavement and compulsory ruin of women and girls will become established by force of precedent as a permitted custom under the laws of war, and that precedent must be destroyed;

And inasmuch as more than a million women have unitedly appealed to the women of all countries to join them in denouncing this infamous and sinister attack on the common life of humanity thru its womanhood;

THEREFORE, we, women of the United States hereby:

1. Associate ourselves with the women of France in their appeal which is annexed hereto.

2. Demand the trial before an international tribunal, and punishment, on conviction as a criminal, of every officer, soldier or civilian of any of the said Central Powers or any of the allies who shall be accused, whether as principal or accomplice of any sexual offense against a woman in the course of the war.

3. Declare our own deliberate feeling, judgment and position to be that all women so injured by a despicable enemy ought to be treated and regarded, not as ashamed, but as wounded in war. We implore our Allies to confer that status on them, both officially and in the public mind.

Furthermore, we direct our committee in charge to deliver these resolutions, duly authorized, to each of the governments (including our own government) allied against or any or all of the said Central Powers and their allies in the present war, and to each of the societies associated in the appeal of the French women, and to arrange, so far as possible, for their publication in every allied country.

Adopted by Local W. C. T. U., representing All Christian People, Jan. 14, 1919.

NO ACTION NOW ON CITY PAVING

NO FURTHER MOVE BY CITY COUNCIL AT TUESDAY EVENING MEETING.

SALARY RAISE IS REFUSED

POLICE FORCE MUST CONTINUE LABORS AT FORMER COMPENSATION.

At the meeting of the city council held Tuesday evening the matter of paving again came up for informal discussion, but owing to the apparent lack of action on the part of the recently appointed paving committee and also the objection of several citizens to the paving proposition at this time, no further development occurred. The belief that this is an inopportune time to start an extensive paving program seems to prevail and it is now apparent that some hustling will have to be done by paving advocates if anything is to be accomplished in the near future.

Billiard License Granted.

The first matter to come up before the council on Tuesday evening was the matter of granting a pool and billiard license to J. P. Legler of Cando, N. D., who has leased the basement room in the Citizens bank building for this purpose. After considerable discussion and the hearing of objections on the ground that according to the last official census of the city another such license could not legally be granted, a motion to issue the license was unanimously passed by the council. The point brought up by objectors is the fact that a city ordinance provides for not more than one such license for each one thousand inhabitants of the city. As the last official census of the city was taken in 1910 and the population of the city at that time being only 3,700, the objectors held that the fourth license could not legally be granted. The fact that the population of the city at the present time is known to be in excess of 5,000 evidently carried the desired weight with the council, and the license was accordingly granted.

Next to come up for consideration was the matter of the city printing for the present year. Only one bid, that of the Times company, was submitted. This bid was unanimously accepted by the council and The Times was named the official paper of the city for the year 1919.

No Raise For Police.

An application for increase of salary by the chief of police was next brought up for consideration. A motion made by Alderman Froseth and seconded by Alderman Olson, providing for an increase of ten dollars in the salaries of both the chief and the night patrolman was turned down by a vote of four to two.

The matter of a new sewer lift in the third sewer district was given some consideration by the council and several citizens from that part of the city were heard on the proposition. It was decided that something definite would have to be done in the matter soon, and the prevailing opinion at the meeting seemed to be that a motor lift similar to the one now in operation on the East Side should be installed in place of the present system. This would necessitate the erection of a small building in the center of the street intersection, but it was pointed out by Leonard Peterson, superintendent of the water and light department, that this structure could be made sufficiently ornamental and attractive as not to be objectionable to property owners in the vicinity.

New Auditorium Flag.

City Clerk A. H. Akre was instructed by the council to order a new flag to be placed on the auditorium flag pole. A flag, 8x16 feet in size and made of the best procurable material, was decided upon. The old flag has been torn to shreds by the weather and consequently has been an eyesore for some time.

After approving a sidewalk resolution affecting property owners on Davis avenue and passing the usual batch of bills, the council adjourned until the next regular meeting.

NOT IN FAVOR OF WEARING BUTTONS

RESPECT FOR THE MEMORY OF ROOSEVELT SHOULD TAKE DIFFERENT FORM

February 9 is Roosevelt Memorial Day and every citizen of the United States will be expected to show his or her respect to the memory of the dead ex-president. Thief River Falls will join in this expression of sorrow but not in the rather cheap and common manner suggested in some quarters.

This week Mayor Penney received a suggestion from some person or concern in the Twin Cities urging that a sufficient number of Roosevelt buttons be provided to supply the school children and as many others as wished to wear them. The buttons would contain a picture of the late statesman together with the words "In Memoriam," and were to be paid for by popular subscription and given to the children free of charge.

Mayor Penney consulted a number of our leading citizens on the subject with the result that the plan was very generally vetoed. The feeling almost everywhere expressed was that the wearing of this button among a lot of others on the lapel of a coat or pinned on a waist would hardly be calculated to impress upon the minds of children any particular thing in connection with the life and services of Theodore Roosevelt. It was considered a far better plan to set aside an hour for the contemplation of the work done by him. This idea will be followed generally in the churches and it is probable that the same program will be used in the schools.

DISCUSSES PAVED HIGHWAY PROGRAM

C. A. FORBES EXPLAINS ADVANTAGES—MAP OF PROPOSED ROUTE.

Never has a proposition so taken hold of the people of Minnesota as that which has for its purpose the linking of all county seats through a system of paved highways. That the bill providing for a vote on a constitutional amendment empowering a bond issue of millions of dollars for the purpose will pass the legislature is certain, and every indication now points to its ratification by the people at the polls two years hence.

C. A. Forbes of the state engineer's office, was in Thief River Falls yesterday and explained the purpose of the Swenson bill at a meeting held in the Commercial club rooms. His remarks dealt largely with the cost end of the enterprise and he showed where the saving would be much greater than the expense. Those present went away satisfied that the plan is as workable in Minnesota as it is proving in Illinois and that the amendment will be authorized as soon as the people get a chance to vote on it.

Thief River Falls will be on what is known as Route No. 32 of the proposed road system. This route begins at a point on Route No. 8 east of Crookston and joins Route No. 11 at Greenbush, running through Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls, Middle River and Greenbush. This is almost a straight north and south line. From Thief River Falls there is a similar highway projected westward to Warren. The route as now laid out misses Clearbrook entirely but strikes Gonvick.

DRAINAGE BILL IS INTRODUCED EARLY

NORTHERN SENATORS ASK APPROPRIATION FOR RED LAKE PROJECT.

The following measures of particular interest to the people of this district have been introduced by northern Minnesota legislators during the past week:

S. F. 217—Nord, Cumming, Naplin, Hegnes—Making an appropriation to drainage commission to be expended in paying states of cost of Red Lake river drainage project and providing assessment for other land benefited.

S. F. 161 — Naplin — Legalizing mortgage foreclosures by advertisement upon real estate in certain cases.

S. F. 171—Naplin, Romberg, Looman—Proposing an amendment to the constitution of the state of Minnesota to provide for the levy of tax of creating a fund to insure owners of growing crops against losses of hail.

H. F. 201—Berve, Day, Flahaven, Holmquist—To provide for the levy of a tax for the purpose of creating a fund to insure owners of growing crops against losses by hail.

Visited His Old Home.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson returned Saturday from a visit to his old home in Iowa. This was the first trip to the section in 23 years and Mr. Anderson had a most enjoyable time among former friends. He also attended the convention of county auditors held at the Old Capitol building in St. Paul and was present at the sessions of the Minnesota Tax commission. It was the most extended trip made by Mr. Anderson since he assumed the office of county auditor four years ago.

The tax commission took up many items of interest and endorsed the proposed paving highway system for the state. A number of changes in the tax laws were recommended and these will be presented through the legislature at the present session.

Two Tractor Schools.

Tractor manufacturers evidently recognize in this section a field of great future activity. Factory experts will be here on two different occasions next month for the purpose of giving free instructions in the care and operation of tractors. The International Harvester company will send a man here on Feb. 6 and 7, while the Avery company will follow suit on Feb. 17 and 18.

C. Gustafson & Son, local agents for both lines, state that the schools will probably be held at the band room of the Auditorium, although this has not yet been definitely arranged.

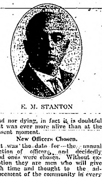
STANTON CHOSEN CLUB PRESIDENT

UNANIMOUSLY SELECTED TO HEAD BOOSTER ORGANIZATION DURING 1919

NO TALK OF DISBANDING

MORE REASON SEEN FOR CONTINUING WORK NOW THAN EVER BEFORE

If there were any residents of the city or environs inclined to the belief that the Thief River Falls Commercial club was a moribund organization, keeping up a semblance of energy simply because no one wished to lead the funeral procession, they would have received an altogether different impression had they been present at the annual meeting last Thursday night. The club is neither dead nor dying, in fact it is doubtful if it was ever more alive than at the present moment.



E. M. STANTON

New Officers Chosen.

It was the date for the annual election of officers, and decidedly good ones were chosen. Without exception they are men who will give both time and thought to the advancement of the community in every way possible, and that is what the club is for.

E. M. Stanton was unanimously elected president. He did not seek the job, but neither did any of the other men chosen. F. H. Herrick was made first vice president after trying in vain to get out of it. W. W. Prichard, Jr., early announced that he was not a candidate but was made second vice president anyhow. L. A. Lampert is the new treasurer, and the remainder of the board of directors is composed of the following representative citizens: E. O. Mogensen, Hans Anton, G. A. Penney, Math Barzen, and E. M. Bennes. Messrs. Barzen, Mogensen and Prichard have served on the board before, the others being new men—and good ones.

Was Fine Supper.

Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel had provided a fine turkey supper which was partaken of by 81 members. This would indicate that if there is a lack of interest in club work it does not extend to the famous "feeds." After supper the members proceeded to business without any delay. Short addresses were made by a number of those present, all tending to prove that any who were of the opinion that the club was dead or ready to die certainly had another guess coming. The tenor of all remarks was that the organization should not only be maintained, but should be made more aggressive and effective than ever before. In order to get a line on the sentiments of those present a vote was taken directly on the question: "Shall the Thief River Falls Commercial club be continued?" The result was a unanimous affirmative.

Include All Classes.

After this matter was definitely decided there were a number of suggestions presented as to the best plans for going ahead with the work. The concensus of opinion was that every civic activity in the city should be represented on the board of directors and for this reason men engaged in manufacture, jobbing, retailing, and farming, as well as traveling salesmen and railroaders were sought as candidates for the positions. Every line except that of railroading was finally drafted into the service and this vacancy will be filled as soon as a man can be found who will serve and who is deemed properly representative of the interests of this large class of our citizens. It was decided that the dues for the traveling men and railroaders should be cut in two, it being recognized that they would be gone from the city a good share of the time and would therefore not receive the same benefits from their membership as those who remain here continuously.

For the Soldiers.

A committee was appointed to work with the home guards and Mayor G. A. Penney, the latter acting on behalf of the citizes generally, in providing aid for the returning soldiers. C. A. Pitkin of the Commission of Public Safety, will also be a member of this committee, which will to a large extent have charge of matters connected with the return of the boys. These members will not only act as a committee to see that the boys are well treated while in the city, but will also look out for their employment in cases where such service is requested or needed. The free use of the club rooms was also extended to all returned soldiers.

Was Good Meeting.

It was the best club meeting in many months and one of the best ever held. The idea actuating every man present was one of helpfulness and home service. All of which is as it should be.

HEAVY SLUMP FOR BUTTER AND EGGS

FORMER DROPS OVER 20 CENTS PER POUND IN TWO WEEKS.

Butter took a slump of three cents a pound in a single day this week, making a decline of 19 cents since January 13. Egg prices followed in the smash at the high cost of living and were quoted from 2½ to 3 cents a dozen lower, a drop of from 13 to 15 cents a dozen within a few days.

A number of retailers in the cities face prosecution by the federal authorities because they continued to charge fancy prices for butter and eggs despite the large reduction in the wholesale prices.

Butter sold at wholesale on the Chicago market on Monday from 50 to 51 cents a pound and eggs from 53 to 54½ cents a dozen.

Meat prices also dropped. Pork fell from 30 to 22 cents a pound, while veal and lamb sold for four cents a pound less.

Buttermaker Lars Haselrud, in calling the attention of the patrons of the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery to these conditions, says: "The slump in the butter market the last two weeks was heavier than anything seen before. Butter dropped in price from about 70 cents a pound to slightly over 50 cents in less than two weeks.

"These sharp declines always happen when the price of any food product goes higher than people are willing or able to pay. The price of 70 cents a pound for butter, which prevailed for some months, was higher than the average household could stand and substitutes were generally used. Then the production increased a little, a small surplus accumulated, and prices tumbled down."

RUN SPECIAL TO CROOKSTON FAIR

WILL MEAN LARGE ATTENDANCE FROM HERE IF PLAN IS SUCCESSFUL

WEDNESDAY IS SELECTED

CATTLE SALE AND PRINCIPAL SPEAKING PROGRAM ARE THE ATTRACTIONS

ARE YOU GOING TO CROOKSTON FEB. 12?

In order that the committee in charge of the proposed excursion to the Mid-Winter Show at Crookston on Wednesday, Feb. 12, may have something on which to base their estimates, it is requested that all those who contemplate making the trip will notify either G. Howard Smith or A. J. Anderson. It is desired that at least 150 signify their intention of going in order that an approximately correct figure may be presented to the railroad officials before the date set.

The people in this part of the state will be given an opportunity to attend the annual Red River Valley farm crops show at Crookston one of the four days—probably Wednesday, Feb. 12. Pennington and certain sections of Marshall county have never been properly represented at these shows, the railroad schedule making it difficult for the people to make the trip. The importance of these fairs to the region has always been recognized and under more favorable conditions the attendance from the vicinity of Thief River Falles would be much larger.

Want Special Train.

A. J. Anderson and others this week interested themselves in the securing of a special train over the Great Northern on Wednesday, Feb. 12. City Agent W. E. Baker at once took the matter up with the officials of the road and the probabilities are now that a train will be run for the particular benefit of the people of Pennington and Red Lake counties. If this can be arranged the special will start from Thief River Falls at about seven o'clock in the morning, returning the same night. It is not likely that any reduction from the regular fair can be secured, but this is not deemed so important. The main thing is to get the train.

Crookston Men Interested.

The local boosters for the fair have been assured that Crookston citizens will do everything in their power to make the railroad officials see the matter in the right light. A. D. Stephens and Supt. C. G. Selvig are lending their influence to that of Thief River Falls men and the outlook for a train is now decidedly bright.

Wednesday's Program.

The big stock sales take place on the day selected for the excursion. In the forenoon dairy cattle, sheep and swine will be on display and sale, while the afternoon will be given over to beef cattle. The annual meeting of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held in the afternoon and there will be addresses by Duncan Marshall, Prof. H. H. Kildee and Andrew French. At the livestock breeders' banquet in the evening the speaker will be Thomas Fletcher Brooks of Marion, Ohio.

Engine Repairs Coming.

According to word received by Superintendent Leonard Peterson of the city light and water department, the repairs for the Diesel engine at the power-house, which has been out of commission for the past two weeks, were shipped yesterday by express from St. Louis and it is expected that the engine will again be in shape for service by the first of next week. Considerable delay has been experienced in getting these repairs as the company which manufactured the engine did not have the necessary parts in stock and they had to be turned out from the factory. While the absence of street lights and a few shut-downs have caused some inconvience to our people, regular service has not been interfered with and this can be considered fortunate when the seriousness of the breakdown is considered.

NURSE REPORTS ON RESULTS OF WORK

INTEREST IN SUBJECT SHOWN BY GOOD ATTENDANCE AT MEETING.

The meeting at the Lincoln high school last evening called for the purpose of discussing health matters, was very well attended, the parents present showing a keen interest in the matter under consideration. Miss Laura Haggart, school nurse, reported on the progress of the examination thus far made and also gave an outline of the plans under way for connecting up the results of her investigations with the work in the homes.

Miss Haggart found that out of 200 children thus far examined about 50 per cent were troubled with adenoids, while about 75 per cent were handicapped to a greater or less degree by defective teeth.

The primary object of the meeting was to point out to parents the importance of the work being done by the school nurse, to enlist their aid in this health canvass, and to lay stress upon the necessity for affording her free access to the homes at all times.

All the doctors in the city were present and voiced their approval of the work undertaken, stating that it would prove of immense value in safeguarding the health of the children.

Mrs. Gay Halvorson, representing the Woman's club, announced that there would be a community sing at one of the theatres in the near future and urged participation by as many as find it possible.

COUNTY RECEIVES $20000 FOR ROADS

MISTAKE IN FIRST REPORT SENT OUT THROUGH DAILY PAPERS.

County Auditor Anderson and County Engineer Martz have this week called the attention of The Times to an error appearing in the paper last week. It was stated that the share of Pennington county in the state road and bridge fund distribution was $10,000, such being the report sent out by the daily papers of the state. It appears that Pennington county is to receive a total of $19,800, of which sum $16,840 will be for construction and $2,960 for maintenance.

This total is $2,400 less than last year's allotment, the sum at that time being $22,200.

BUREAU IN CHARGE OF NEW MANAGER

J. J. M'CANN TAKES UP WORK AT OFFICE OF FARM ASSOCIATION

The office of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association is in charge of a new man this week, Lieut. J. J. McCann having assumed command last Monday morning. As yet he has only had time to go over the work of his late predecessor, Ross P. White, of which he is making a careful study with a view to completing the many projects begun by that energetic agent.

Lieut. McCann comes here from Camp Lee, Va., where he was an artillery officer. The war stopped just a little too soon for him to get into active service, but he had considerable experience right here at home, having been stationed at Camp Taylor, Ky., before going to Camp Lee.

"The people here, and particularly the farm bureau members, seem to me like a fine, enthusiastic lot," said Lieut. McCann, "and I anticipate considerable pleasure in working among them. They realize that the county agent is only partly responsible for the success or failure of the work undertaken by the bureau and seem more than willing to help all they can. Mr. White seems to have been a vary popular agent and his work evidently was highly satisfactory. I am going through his records as rapidly as possible with a view to carrying out the plans he had in mind first of all, at the same time giving the necessary attention to the problems incident to the opening of spring."

Lieut. McCann was formerly county agent for Morrison county and is well acquainted with Minnesota conditions generally.

CREAMERY HAS BEST YEAR YET

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS HIGHLY PROSPEROUS CONDITION.

PAID FARMERS $189,000

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY.

A glance at the annual report of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association, which is in preparation by the secretary and will be submitted at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held in this city next Wednesday, shows very conclusively that the dairy industry in this section is fast becoming a mighty factor in bringing wealth to the community. The report shows also that the creamery is an institution responsible in a great measure for the prosperity of the farmers of this locality. When it is considered that the total receipts of the creamery during the past year were well over $225,000, it can easily be seen what this institution means to the farmers of the territory surrounding Thief River Falls.

Business Shows Increase.

While during 1917 the creamery received a total of slightly over a million pounds of cream, in 1918 the total is well over one and a quarter million. Last year the patrons of the creamery were paid by check and cash the total of $133,000—this year the sum increased to more than $189,000. The report of the creamery in its complete form as it will be presented by the secretary at the annual meeting has not yet been fully prepared and for this reason many of the detailed figures cannot be given in this issue. The Times will publish the complete statement next week.

Competent Men in Charge.

Much of the success of the creamery is due to the capable and painstaking work of the men in charge. The greater part of the burden has been borne by Sec'y E. J. Overland and Buttermaker L. Haselrud, who are both entitled to much credit for the competent manner in which they have discharged their duties. What the future holds in store for the Thief River Falls creamery is, of course, hard to tell, but if the future is to be judged by the past it is safe to say there is not an institution in the Northwest which has brighter prospects for continued growth and prosperity.

Annual Meeting Wednesday.

The annual meeting of stockholders will be held in this city next Wednesday, Feb. 5. Following the usual custom, the stockholders, patrons and other friends of the creamery will attend a big dinner to be given in the basement of the Lutheran Free church at noon, after which the regular meeting will be held in the Commercial club rooms. The election of officers will take place at the meeting and it is desired that all stockholders be present.

Army Officer Here.

Maj. Hawkes, stationed during the war at Camp Dix and Camp Custer, was in the city for a couple of days last week, a guest during the greater part of his stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins. He was not an active service officer, but successfully superintended the transfer of between 8,000 and 9,000 men to France. His work in this country consisted mostly of assigning the men to different units. Maj. Hawkes was taken sick just before being ordered to the front and returned as a casualty. He has not yet fully recovered his health but is improving steadily. His description of the American army established in France proved most interesting to the many who met him here.

MECHANICS TO HOLD CONVENTION HERE

COMMERCIAL CLUB ROOMS TO BE SCENE OF THE MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Mechanics Mutual Benefit association will be held at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Friday, Feb. 14, with sessions during the afternoon and evening. Besides the election of officers for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention, a good program is in preparation and it is anticipated that the convention will be one of much interest and benefit for all who attend. At a recent meeting of the Commercial club the rooms were tendered the association for use during the convention.

The Mechanics Mutual Benefit association is composed of blacksmiths and allied mechanics. It comprises the northwestern part of the state and at present has a membership of well over one hundred. Plans are being made to entertain nearly twice as many delegates as last year, when about twenty-five were in attendance. Isador Fortier of Oklee is president of the association, while C. C. Gulrud of this city is treasurer.

ARE THESE THINGS WORTH WHILE?

The suggestion that the Thief River Falls Commercial club be disbanded and quit business as an organization certainly met with a chilly reception when the time came for considering the matter. There had been considerable talk to the effect that it might be better at the present time to quit trying to maintain the organization, but when it came to a showdown no one could be found who had ever entertained any such notion. The vote to continue the club was unanimous and the decision that it should be made more aggressive and effective in the future was most emphatic.

People who claim that the club has been of no value during the past couple of years do not know what they are talking about. In many respects these years have been the busiest in the entire history of the organization. The work undertaken has not been of a booster nature, but no patriotic community has been engaged in boosting. The aim of the club has been to do whatever possible to help in winning the war, and this was enough of a contract for the time being.

So far from having been idle during the past two years the club can perhaps show a more extended program of actual achievement than for any other similar period of its history.

Here the Red Cross has held its meetings and planned its programs.

From these rooms the various Liberty Loan Drives have been launched.

Farmers from every section of the surrounding country have found the quarters of great convenience for meetings.

The Woman's club has used the rooms for its regular and special sessions.

Whenever one of our churches has had a special war welfare movement on foot the preliminaries were gone over and the campaign started from here.

All patriotic gatherings other than those to which the public was invited have been held in the Commercial club rooms.

The Farm Bureau association has been made welcome and farm clubs invited to make free use of the accommodations—which invitation has been very generally accepted.

Whenever road improvement has been discussed the club rooms has been the place of meeting.

The Retail Merchants association uses the quarters as a general meeting place.

The Thief River Falls Creamery association has held its annual meetings there and is doing so again this year.

The Soldiers' Memorial committee and the organizations having in charge the various undertakings for soldier welfare have used and are still using these rooms.

The secretary's office, which is a part of the club, has been a general clearing house for information of every kind pertaining to the city and section.

Are these things worth while? If you think so jump in and help make the commercial club the best organization of its kind in this section. Being a member will help. Being both a member and a worker will help a whole lot.

THE MID-WINTER SHOW.

The annual show of the Red River Valley Farmers association will this year be the best in the history of the organization. The dates for the exhibit are Feb. 10 to 14 and it will be held at Crookston. A new live stock pavilion will make it possible to pay particular attention to this feature of the show and special inducements have been offered to secure a large assortment of farm crops generally.

The speaking and entertainment program is of unusual interest, some of the best-known men in this section of the country as well as Canada being down for addresses. President Burton of the state university, is one of the drawing cards while the others are of only slightly less note.

Pennington county people have not always taken as great an interest in this district show as the event deserves. This is partly due to the inconvenient train schedules which make it impossible for a person to get to the Polk county seat and back the same day. In order to get around this it is now suggested that a special train be run on Wednesday, Feb. 12, leaving Thief River Falls in the morning and returning the same night. If this can be arranged it is certain that a large crowd will attend.

Crookston should lend its aid to Thief River Falls in securing this train. If the habit of attending the district mid-winter fair can once be established it will not be long before our people will take as much interest in its success as do the residents of that city. It is the sectional argicultural show for the district and will eventually prove of much value.

BREAKING JUST RIGHT.

Many items in the way of construction material have already gone down considerably in price and it is but reasonable to suppose that others will follow soon. This was all needed in order to start one of the greatest building booms in the history of the country, and observant men everywhere believe that the coming summer will be one of unusual activity. Building and general construction operations of every kind have been held back during the war and will now have to make up for lost time.

This is particularly fortunate. The men coming back from the war or being released from activities connected with the war in this country will have to find employment without any loss of time. The more construction work there is under way the better it will be for them.

Counties and cities will make a special effort to proceed with improvements that may have been contemplated or are partially completed. This is in line with the government's request that every effort be made to speed up work so that there shall be no unemployment by reason of demobilization. It is a sort of patriotic duty to find something for these men to do and as prices of materials are again becoming normal there is no reason why any postponed undertakings should be longer delayed.

This provides another good reason for going ahead with the paving of our streets in the near future. It will provide work at a time when work will be badly needed if a serious situation is to be avoided. Even the necessary preliminary undertakings would employ quite a few men during the entire summer and by next winter conditions will in all likelihood have resumed nearly their normal status.

THE OCEAN AT OUR DOORS.

Whatever the result of the war may be with regard to other matters, it is practically certain that Liverpool will continue to be the world's clearing house for wheat. And however national boundaries may be changed when things are finally straightened out, it is just as certain that the great wheat-growing regions of the United States and Canada will be as far away from Liverpool as they were before.

If Liverpool is to fix the price of American wheat it will be decidedly to the American farmer's interests to get as close to the English port as possible. This cannot be done in terms of actual miles, perhaps, but a project on foot will, if successful, make a decided difference in the amount he has to pay for getting his products there.

This project is nothing less than bringing the ocean into the heart of the continent by utilizing the St. Lawrence river and Welland canal. The United States and Canada are vitally interested in the success of such an enterprise and it may be one of the things to be undertaken in the very near future.

The enterprise, which is second only to that of the Panama canal in importance, would give to the Northwest all the advantages of the inland seas. It would mean a rearrangement of railroad rates in favor of the people of the Northwest and hold out unlimited possibilities to the wheat growers of this section.

The average pre-war rate on wheat from Duluth to Liverpool was fourteen cents a bushel, while the average pre-war rate to Buffalo was two and a half cents. With the eliminating of the necessity of breaking bulk at Buffalo and the reloading at New York, a saving of at least six cents a bushel could be made by shipping the wheat directly from Duluth to Liverpool. What this would mean to Minnesota and the Northwest would be figured in millions annually.

Thief River Falls has a direct interest in this project outside of general benefits sure to result. As the recognized assembling point for practically all grain grown to the west, north and east, and with the shortest and most direct railroad line to the head of the lakes, it would be the logical primary terminal for the immense traffic certain to follow connecting Duluth with the ocean.

WAS BOUND TO COME DOWN.

The drop in the price of butter and eggs was to be expected. When a commodity reaches a point where its cost is out of all proportion to related products it is bound to come down with a bump.

Creamery officials and dairymen have anticipated just such an ending to the soaring price for butter. For this reason they requested the government to fix the price so as to prevent loss when the break came, but while the necessity for such regulation was probably recognized it was put off until too late. The matter should have been attended to when it became evident that butterfat was getting out of bounds—say when it was bringing between 50 and 60 cents per pound. This would have prevented its going above 70 cents a short time ago and breaking to 46 cents when the crash came. Dairymen would have welcomed such regulation, even though it would temporarily have lowered their receipts.

There is no danger of butter getting to a point where it will not bring a good profit. The price will finally settle at somewhere near its normal worth and the sensation and annoying fluctuations will cease, making for steadier trading and better demand. The producer cannot figure that he is losing anything through this drop in prices—he has simply been reaping the benefit of a condition with which he had nothing to do. The consumer will be greatly benefitted, and it will be admitted that he also can stand some slight amount of benefitting.

The farmer's products have already begun to come down and he will voice no very great objection providing the things he must buy will follow suit. To hold these at or near their present level while the price of the things he has to sell keep tumbling is going to cause trouble.

ALL ARE GOOD MEN.

The selection of Edwin M. Stanton as president of the Commercial club will meet with the approval of every member of the organization. There is no doubt but that Mr. Stanton would prefer some other man might have been chosen, but the demand for his acceptance was so general that he could hardly refuse.

He will make a clear-headed, capable executive. He understands fully just what is required of a man in his position and knows exactly the purposes of a commercial club. While Mr. Stanton ought perhaps to feel complimented because his fellow-citizens were so unanimous in declaring him the right man for the place, the club is certainly to be congratulated on securing his services.

The other officials and executive board members are all representative men who have the future welfare of the city and section at heart. They will give the club a progressive business administration and this is what is needed just now. No better selections could have been made and there is no danger of the club standing still while in their charge.

Open Letter to Senator Penrose

GIFFORD PINCHOT CALLS UPON PENNSYLVANIA MAN TO WITHDRAW.

Senator Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania will under the priority rules followed in Washington since the foundation of the republic, be the next chairman of the senate finance committee, the most important in that branch of congress. Much opposition to his selection has developed within his own party and there is a general demand among the Republicans of the country that he withdraw and leave the place open to a man whose reactionary record is not so objectionable. The following open letter, written by Gifford Pinchot, is perhaps the most severe exposition of Penrose's unfitness for the place. The letter is addressed directly to the Pennsylvania statesman:

"There is a matter of great importance to the Republican Party to which I would like to direct your attention. Before doing so, I want to recall that I ran against you for the United States Senate in 1914, and was beaten. I had no complaint to make at the time, and I have none now. I mention it merely because there will be a tendency on the part of certain persons to attribute this letter to disappointment or spite. I can assure you honestly that it has nothing to do with either.

"Someone, however, ought to take the burden of writing you this letter. In the absence of any sign that some one else is going to do it, I have decided to assume the duty and write it myself.

"Like millions of other Republicans, I am anxious to see the Democrats beaten in 1920. Like them, I see in the possibility of your election to the Chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Finance one of the principal obstacles in the way of such a victory.

"It is well known that the middle West will cast the deciding vote in the next Presidential election. The middle West knows you mainly as the most perfect living representative of the worst type of politics in America. Indeed, I am inclined to think it is fair to say that no other man in our history has ever represented to so many Americans all that is worst in American public life. If this is true, it is a record, and you are entitled to whatever credit goes with it.

"The people of the United States know that the great monopolies are your friends, and that you accepted a check for $25,000 from the Standard Oil Company and thanked them for it.

"They know that you have always been the champion of the liquor interests.

"The women know that you have steadily worked and voted against equal suffrage and child labor legislation.

"The farmers know that in 1911 you voted for the Canadian Reciprocity Bill, which left farm products unprotected and put a high tariff on trust products.

"The railroad men know that you voted against a bill providing for block signal systems on all railroads, which would make travel much safer for employes and public alike.

"The wage earners know that the American Federation of Labor has officially declared you to have been 'uniformly hostile or negligent to Labor's interests in the United States Senate.'

"The Progressives know that you opposed Roosevelt in the Republican National Convention of 1912, when the people of Pennsylvania had declared overwhelmingly for him. They know that you were largely responsible for the split in the Republican Party in 1912 and the election of a Democratic President.

"The progressive Republican Senators are fully aware of the danger to party harmony and success in 1920 through your candidacy, and they have been fighting it hard.

"The name of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance will be inseparably attached to the coming Republican tariff bill, which will probably be more widely known and discussed by our people than any other bill before the next Congress. It will be argued by the Democrats that you could not be chairman of so important a committee and in charge of so crucial a bill unless the Old Guard were in control of the Republican Party. This argument is likely to be effective with great numbers of progressive Republicans, as well as with Democrats disgusted with Wilson and anxious to vote against him if they can.

"If you write the next Tariff bill, the people will believe, and they are likely to be right, that it is unduly favorable to special privilege and monopoly. The Payne-Aldrich Tariff bill was fatal to the Republican Party in 1912. What would a Penrose tariff do to it in 1920?

"*You are a liability. The individ*ed support of all the forces you represent would fall far short of carrying the Republican Party to victory in 1920, even if the liquor interests had not lost their stranglehold on American politics.

"On the other hand, the Republican Party cannot win against the Democrats unless the farmers, the women, the progressives, and some of the organized workers vote with us. Your name as Chairman of the Committee on Finance would go far to insure their hostility to the Republican Party.

"The obvious fact is that you ought not to be Chairman of the Committee on Finance. The mere possibility is a Republican misfortune. You know, better than any other man, what a burden you have been to the Republican Party. You cannot fail to know just how much the success of the Republican Party in 1920 means for the welfare of the nation, and how you are standing in the way.

"If you are not a good enough Republican, are you a good enough American to withdraw your name?

County Public Health Ass'n.

"Every county in Minnesota has some money coming to it from the Minnesota Public Health association for expenditure in 1919 for public health, and especially for tuberculosis," says Miss Elizabeth Bray of the Minnesota Public Health association who is organizing the counties of the state for public health work. "There is but one best way for the county to obtain its share of the fund, and that is to organize a County Public Health association. All counties hoping to receive the benefits of the new arrangement should organize as soon as possible. In case they do not organize they delay the allotment of their share, and may lose it, for all funds not used by March 1, 1920, revert to the National association.

Mrs. T. P. Hornseth Surprised.

A number of ladies surprised Mrs. T. P. Hornseth on her birthday, Monday afternoon at her home west First street. They brought lunch and a birthday gift and spent the afternoon sewing and listening to music.

Those present were: Mesdames A. O. Henry, E. B. Bakke, S. A. Hanson, J. J. Weeks, Nels Larson, G. Granum, H. Langseth, O. Williams, E. Evenson and O. Tessum.

"I'm Not Constipated Now"

For the man at the desk Constipation is a common ailment. His habits of life are such that his bowels become sluggish and if neglected the result is serious.

Read the experience of J. R. Grosch of La Crosse, Wis.

"For the past two years I have had stomach trouble and was badly constipated. My business was such that I was without physical exercise all day long. I tried many remedies, and recently tried DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS. I found them to be exactly what I needed. I never used any medicine that acted so naturally and without any griping or cramping."

Any man, woman or child suffering from constipation and its attendant ills, who will try DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS will find in them a safe and effective medicine. They are pleasant to take—taste like candy—no trouble to get children to take them—can be chewed. Costs only a few cents a box at any drug store.

STOCK INCREASE 4 HEAD PER DAY

THIS IS AVERAGE FOR PENNINGTON COUNTY DURING PAST SIX YEARS.

GAIN IN COWS IS STEADY

FIGURES SHOW MILKERS INCREASING AT RATE OF 270 PER YEAR.

There are in the neighborhood of 30,000 head of cattle, sheep and hogs in Pennington county at the present time, according to the tax records. A careful tabulation has been made by A. J. Anderson, assistant cashier of the Citizens' State bank, who is greatly interested in the development of the live stock industry in the county.

Mr. Anderson's figures show that there are 6,428 cows and 9,986 head of other cattle, while the sheep number 3,130 and the hogs 9,986.

Increase Has Been Steady.

Mr. Anderson finds that since the year 1913 the increase, particularly in cattle, has been steady. As concerns cows there has not been a year in which a decrease has been noted, while in only one instance did the total for other cattle fall off. This was in 1915, which year showed a decrease in this division of less than 100 head. Otherwise the movement has been steadily forward.

Average is Surprising.

During the six years covered by the figures the number of cows increased from 6,428 to 9,986, or 1,628 for the period. This does not look very imposing until it is discovered that the average for each year of the six is 270, or 22½ cows for every month.

The figures further show that live stock of all kinds has increased during the same period by practically 9,000 head, the total in 1913 being 20,576 as compared with 29,530 at the present time. This is equivalent to 125 head per month on an average. Horses are not included in this tabulation.

The Comparison.

Following is a record of the number of head of each kind of stock reported for the county for the years 1913 to 1918 inclusive:

	Cows	Other Cattle	Sheep	Hogs
1913	4,800	6,055	1,755	6,053
1914	4,971	7,444	1,971	7,444

Grygla Wants That Railroad

(From the Grygla Eagle.)

A railroad leading from some station south to some point either northeast or northwest has been talked of so much and for so long a time that it has become almost a passing joke. At the time the Electric Line was built it was thought that a line somewhere in this section was a certainty, but it failed. Why? The main reason given was on account of the war, the high cost of material, the scarcity of help and the production of this country. Now the war is practically over. The great demand for iron and its products for war purposes is past. Help will soon be plenty. Why not have the railroad? No part of the United States has developed faster, under like conditions, then this part of the state, still it is almost to a standstill because everything that is produced here has, of a necessity, to be hauled to Goodridge or some railroad point west, all the way up to 50 miles, and it requires half the load to pay expenses, to say nothing of the time. Nearly every acre is taken up by someone, but a large per cent is vacant because the owner cannot afford to live on it and raise crops with no profitable market.

It is safe to say that if a road was built into or through this section, that it would not be long before there would be an actual, bona fide farmer on 75 per cent of the land, the production for shipment would be doubled many times and naturally many times as much supplies would be shipped in. Why one or more railroads should not be built into or across this country this coming summer will be hard to explain. The land is level, no deep cuts or fills to hinder, the country is as dry and as solid as any country, grading is easy and could be done cheap, the right-of-way and depot grounds would cost very little and the benefits in a score of ways, both to the public and the railroads would be beyond measure.

But a very few miles away the supply and cost of wood is serious, when thousands of cords of wood are going to waste in this section every year.

There are hundreds, if not thousands, of bushels of as good potatoes as a man ever ate, either thrown away in the spring or fed to stock because it cost so much to get them to market. Many carloads of cattle are sold in this vicinity every year and have to be driven 20 miles from this town to Goodridge for shipment. All this would be doubled many times if we had a road.

Upon inquiry at the different business places in town we found that about 500 tons or freightage had been handled for this village alone during the past year, and it is safe to say that as much more has been handled by the adjoining territory. It is hard to see any possible excuse for not building a railroad into this section this coming season.

FARM BUREAUS SEEK PERMANENT PLACE.

The farm bureaus of Minnesota are making an effort to persuade the legislature to appropriate funds permanently to establish the work of county farm bureaus. A conference to consider such legislation was held at the state capitol, St. Paul, Saturday, January 18. Delegates from nearly every county in the state were present and look for the success of their plan.

EVERYBODY HIT BY INCOME TAX

VERY FEW WILL ESCAPE SWEEPING PROVISIONS OF NEW LAW.

LYNCH EXPLAINS SYSTEM

URGES EVERY TAXPAYER TO BEGIN FIGURING HIS INCOME.

Edward J. Lynch, collector of internal revenue for the district of Minnesota, has issued the first of a series of instructive papers which he calls the Income Tax Educational Series. It is the intention of Mr. Lynch to follow this with other similar instructions concerning the new income tax in order that every person in the state may acquaint himself with its provisions.

Not many persons who have reached their majority in Pennington county will escape paying taxes under the provisions of this act, and the instructions will be read with a great deal of interest. Every phase of the matter is well covered and anyone who is not clear as to the meaning of the particular section which applies to his case is invited to write Mr. Lynch at St. Paul for further enlightment.

"The big income tax drive of 1919 is now under way, and every preparation is being made to handle the largest collection in the history of income tax," says Mr. Lynch. "I am not waiting for the final passage of the new revenue bill by congress, nor for the new regulations and blank forms to be issued. To get this big tax in and get it accurate and complete, I urge that we all begin now."

Review Expenses Carefully.

"The income tax obligations imposed by the old laws, as well as the measure now in Congress, consist of two distinct operations. One is to file return or statement of all items of income and items of deductions allowable by law, and to do this within the period named in the law. The other is to pay the tax, if any is due.

"Neither of these obligations can be met without a careful review of income and expenditure for the tax year. That is the big job right now, and that is why I say the income tax drive is already under way. Everywhere the pencil is busy. The old year is done; all its fruits are gleaned; and every person who fared well, or earned a good competence, must analyze his own case in cold figures.

Will Help Taxpayers.

"When the new bill is enacted into law, I will have the proper return forms distributed throughout the district, and everybody will be informed of the date when the sworn return must be filed. It is my plan to send my men out to central locations, and to have them travel through the district, aiding taxpayers in the preparation of the returns and in deciding doubtful points. He will go right to the people with the income tax, and with the cooperation which the public can give the government men, the returns will be filed by everybody who comes under the law's provisions, the right taxes will be paid, and the district will have done its full patriotic duty toward the government's support.

"Meanwhile, let me say again, there is no need of delaying the preparation of figures. Anything that congress does now will not affect the amount of a person's earnings for 1918. Let us avoid the belated throwing together of figures that may hit or miss. Guesses cannot be accepted as the basis of taxation. It is clearly the duty of every person to compile correct figures and ascertain whether his income for 1918 was sufficient to make necessary a sworn return.

Will Reach Everyone.

"The year 1918 was a banner year for salaries and wages, and the high war prices brought unusual profits to the average small tradesman and to the farmer. The opinion in Washington is that a million citizens and residents will make this year their first income tax returns.

"All signs indicate that the income tax this year will reach nearly every working man and woman, and nearly every merchant, shop-keeper and farmer. Not all will have to pay the tax, but nearly all will be obliged to make a sworn statement of the year's income.

"I am therefore advising every unmarried person who earned $1,000 or over during the year 1918, and every married person, who together with wife or husband, earned $2,000, to sharpen his pencil and figure out how he stands.

"He must ascertain accurately his gross income from all sources. There's his salary or wages, including overtime pay and any bonus received as additional compensation. A married person having children under 18 who are working should include the earnings of such children.

"If he sold any property at a profit, the gain must be computed and included in gross income. If he rented any property to other persons, the total rents received in the year must be ascertained, and from that figure a deduction may be taken for taxes paid on rented property, the necessary minor repairs, fire insurance, any interest he may have paid on mortgage, and a reasonable allowance for annual wear and tear of the rented property. The balance is included in gross income for the year.

Bonds are Exempt.

"Interest on bank deposits, whether withdrawn or added to his bank balances, must be included in all calculations of income. Bond interest received during the year must also be included, except interest on municipal, county or state bonds. Interest on United States Bonds need not be included by the ordinary bond-holder who purchased small amounts. Holders of large amounts of Liberty bonds, however, should ask their bankers to write to my office for the rule applying to tax on such interest.

"Dividends on stock shares are income, and must be included in the gross figures, although the law does not impose the normal tax on distribution made by domestic corporations.

Rule For Merchants.

"A person buying and selling merchandise must find his profits for the year on the following basis: First, ascertain the gross sales or total cash receipts. Then add together the inventory at the beginning of the year and the purchases of goods for resale. From this latter sum subtract the inventory of goods on hand at the year's end, and the result is the cost of goods sold. This cost, plus necessary expenses incurred solely through conduct of the business, is to be deducted from the gross sales, and the result is the net earnings of the business.

"A professional man arrives at his professional income by ascertaining the total of fees for service and deducting therefrom all expenses connected directly and solely with his practice.

"A farmer must figure up all income derived from the sale or exchange of products during the year, whether such produce was raised on the farm or purchased and resold. He is allowed to deduct from this total his expenses of the year connected with the planting, cultivation, harvesting and marketing of the crop, or the care, feeding and marketing of live stock. He is not allowed to deduct the amount expended in 1918 in purchasing stock for resale; but when such stock is sold its cost is to be deducted from sale price in ascertaining the gain to be included in his return of income. The cost price of stock bought prior to 1917 cannot be deducted as in the case just cited, if such cost was included in the deduction made in the year of purchase.

Must Count all Grains.

"The farmer is not required to include in his income tax computation the value of farm produce consumed by himself and family. But in cases where he exchanges produce for merchandise, groceries, etc., the market value of the articles received in exchange must be included.

"All other items of income arising during the year through personal service, business or trade, through use of property or money, should be added into the gains for 1918.

Exemptions are Few.

"Everybody wants to know what income is exempt from tax. Very few plums that fall to the average may be legally disregarded in figuring up his 1918 income. Gifts and bequests can be eliminated; also proceeds of life insurance received by the beneficiary of an insured person. A person who cashed an endowment policy need report as income only that portion which exceeds the total of the premiums he paid in all years on that policy. Annuities are not taxable, unless the person received in the year payments which represent, when added to all prior payments on the annuity, an amount greater than the original cost of the annuity. Dividends or unexpired life insurance policies are not taxable income; but dividends on paidup policies must be considered income. Alimony is not income to the recipient, nor is it an allowable deduction on the part of the person who pays.

The General Deductions.

"From the total of all items of income, there are certain deductions allowable by law. All interest paid on personal indebtedness and all taxes paid during the year are deductible, except Federal Income and Excess Profits taxes, inheritance taxes and assessments for local improvements, such as sidewalks, sewers, etc. Losses incurred in business or trade are allowable, also losses arising from fires, storms, shipwreck or other casualty, or from theft in cases where such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. Losses incurred outside of a person's regular business are allowable to the extent of gains reported from similar transactions within the year. Debts due to the taxpayer actually ascertained to be worthless during the year are deductable.

Allows for Depreciation.

"Depreciation on property used in a profession, in business, or in farming is another item that may be claimed as a deduction. The storekeeper may claim depreciation on his fixtures, and on his delivery horses and wagons, but not on his stock held for sale. The professional man may claim similar deduction on his instruments; and, in the case of a physician who maintains a team or auto for making his calls on patients, reasonable depreciation may be claimed. The farmer may claim depreciation on his farm buildings, aside from his personal residence, also on his farm machinery, his work horses and farm work wagons. The theory of depreciation, in connection with the Income Tax, is that wear and tear caused by use in earning income is a real expense in the earning of that income. The rate is determined by the number of years that the property ordinarily would be useful, and the cost of the property is the basis of the computation. If the property suffering depreciation was bought or acquired prior to March 1, 1913, the market value as of that date is used, instead of the cost in figuring depreciation.

ARMENIAN FUND GETS BIG BOOST

PENNINGTON COUNTY LIKELY TO GO OVER TOP AS USUAL.

QUOTA NOT YET REACHED

TOTAL SUM COLLECTED IN THE CITY TO DATE IS $600.

The soliciting committee for the Armenian Relief Fund met with considerable success while making the rounds of the city on Sunday afternoon and made a good start towards the ultimate goal set at the beginning of the campaign. The latest report from the committee indicates that about $600 has already been secured in the city and no serious trouble is anticipated in securing the additional $200 necessary to go over the top. Pennington county as a whole was alotted a quota of $2,000, which leaves $1,200 to be collected in the rural districts and villages. While no definite reports have yet been received from these places by Chairman Theo. H. Liden, it is thought that no trouble will be experienced in any case to get the required amounts.

Business Men Liberal.

The business men of Thief River Falls have been very liberal in their donations to this good cause and deserve credit for their liberality. Donations throughout the residence districts of the city have also exceeded expectations and only in very rare instances have the soliciting committees been turned down. One donation, that of $30 from Miss Minnie A. Mattson, an employe at the Tri-County Sanitarium, is worthy of especial mention as showing the whole-hearted spirit with which our people come to the aid of their less fortunate fellows.

The Soliciting Committees.

The city was divided into 27 districts for the purpose of making a thorough canvass, and the following teams of solicitors were placed in charge of each district:

1—Mrs. Theo. H. Liden and Mrs. Nels Berg.
2—A. J. Anderson and Theo. M. Thronson.
3—Miss Anna Brokke.
4—J. L. Bean and Ole Prestebak.
5—Miss Florence Prichard and Miss Anna Lonson.
6—Ole Granum and Wm. Bangen.
7—Miss Nettie Ove and Miss Olga Gulrud.
8—Miss Sophia Eide and Miss Josephine Weeks.
9—Miss Gertrude Sandum and F. E. Hunt.
10—Miss Ruth Bamford and Miss Laura Haggart.
11—Miss Helen Barackman and J. C. Holte.
12—Miss Lovina Adams and Miss Emelia Hoorn.
13—Miss Julia Costello and Miss Margaret Guider.
14—M. T. McFarland and Ole Snustad.
15—Miss Josephine Phillipson and Miss Christine Clausen.
16—Miss Borget Iverson and Miss Inga Iverson.
17—Miss Anna Brokke and Miss Christine Giefer.
18—Miss Alma Peterson and Miss Gerda Mortenson.
19—Ted McGinn and Fred Holzknecht.
20—Miss Effie Hamry and Miss Cora Russell.
21—Roy Halseth and Carl Froseth.
22—R. H. Ross and G. W. Connell.
23—Miss Kathryn Hinderman and Arthur Liden.

26—Carl Christofferson and Olaf Neset.
27—Miss Jeanette Oftedahl and Miss Hilma Liden.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HEALTH CRUSADERS

WILL BE TRAINED IN IMPORTANCE OF PERFORMING DAILY HEALTH CHORES.

School children all over the United States will engage in a health tournament conducted by the Modern Health Crusaders and the Junior Red Cross. The contest will open February 9 and last until May 24. The Little Citizen's league, the Boys' and Girls' clubs, the Boy Scouts, and other school activities are actively cooperating in the Minnesota tournament. Competition will be waged for the pennants awarded the groups showing the highest rank earned by the performance of simple health rules.

The Minnesota Public Health association, Old Capitol, St. Paul, is the state representative of the Modern Health Crusaders, and will send out supplies in accordance with instructions received from local Red Cross committees.

Since the Junior Red Cross is financing the tournament, all supplies will be sent free of charge to the schools.

The teacher in each school is to be the leader of the "combatants," and will be expected to retain her battalions in the sturdy observance of the rules of health and the daily performance of the "health chores."

Stanton-Townsend.

Edwin M. Stanton, Jr., son of Attorney E. M. Stanton of this city, and Emily Bridget Townsend of Missoula, Mont., were united in marriage on Saturday by Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant. The groom has for some years been a resident of the Malcolm country in Beltrami county, where he has a homestead, but during the past year has spent much of the time in Montana. The bride is a Montana lady and is said to be very popular among a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Stanton are at present enjoying a short wedding trip but have not yet definitely decided where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tessum Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. Gynther Tessum were pleasantly surprised Sunday evening by the members of the Norwegian Lutheran church. At seven o'clock a delicious supper was served to one hundred and fifty persons. The basement was decorated in pink and white, with a number of flowering plants.

The evening was spent listening to music and speeches from several of those present, after which a purse was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Tessum.

The following took part in the entertainment:

Violin solo—Miss Aucilga Sorenson
Address—Rev. I. T. Aastad
Address—Mrs. T. Reep
Address—J. J. Weeks
Address—Miss Alma Peterson
Address—Gynther Tessum.
Piano solo—Miss Forde.

ABOLISH PENALTY ON UNPAID TAXES

SENATOR NAPLIN'S BILL PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT OF INTEREST INSTEAD.

Considerable misunderstanding exists as to the exact purpose of the bill introduced in the state senate by Senator O. A. Naplin with reference to the abolishing of the penalty on unpaid real estate taxes. The idea seems to be to substitute an interest charge for the penalty prescribed by the present law. In order that our people might have an opportunity to see for themselves just what is intended, The Times requested Senator Naplin to send a copy of the bill for publication. Here it is:

"Section 1. All penalties, not including costs, upon unpaid real estate taxes are hereby abolished. In lieu of such penalties, all real estate taxes not paid prior to June 1, of each year, shall draw interest from said date at the rate of one per cent each month, or fraction thereof, until paid, and any county treasurer who shall make out and deliver or countersign and receipt for such taxes without including such interest therein shall be liable to the county for the amount of such interest: Provided, that when the taxes charged against any tract or lot of land exceed one dollar, one-half thereof may be paid prior to June 1, whereupon no interest shall attach to the one-half so paid, and thereupon the remaining one-half may be paid at any time prior to November 1, following, without any interest charge attaching to such last one-half: Provided that if such last one-half is not paid on or before November 1, interest shall be charged thereon from November 1, at the rate of one per cent per month, or fraction thereof, until paid."

NEW PHONE RATES FOR LONG DISTANCE

SYSTEM OF CHARGES ORDERED BY POSTMASTER GENERAL BURLESON.

The telephone company on January 21 put into effect the new regulations governing charges for long distance telephone calls, which were recently ordered effective on that date by Postmaster General Burleson. The order places long distance telephone rates throughout the United States on a uniform basis. The new ruling makes no changes in local rates.

The principal change from the former method of determining long distance telephone rates is that instead of one class of service there are several, each with a different rate. The basis of all charges on long distance telephone calls under the new regulation is the "station to station" rate. This is determined by the air line distance between towns. The rate is computed for the initial period of conversation on the basis of five cents for each six miles up to 24 miles and five cents for each eight miles beyond that distance.

The "station to station" service is the cheapest and quickest form of long distance communication. It is furnished at a lower rate than other classes of service because it requires a minimum amount of work on the part of the long distance operators and "ties up" the wires for a shorter period than when a particular party must be summoned to the telephone.

In addition to "station to station" service, a "person to person" rate, an "appointment" rate, a "messenger call" rate and a "report charge" are quoted for calls to points on which the "station to station" rate is 15 cents or more. The "person to person" rate is charged for messages where the calling party asks to talk to a particular person. It is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate.

Miss Jeanette Jendrum, who has been visiting with her sister, Eva, for a couple days, left for the cities Wednesday evening.

Mrs. A. Watson returned to her home in this city Tuesday evening from Olso, where she has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Robinson, for the past few days.

KID CONCERT NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

YOUNGSTERS' BAND WILL GIVE FREE ENTERTAINMENT AT AUDITORIUM.

There will be a free concert by the Juvenile band at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, Jan. 6. Leader D. J. Cordes has been working on the program to be presented and has one which offers variety enough to please all tastes.

The juvenile band has been the musical standby during the war. The old band, one of the best in this section, was badly disrupted by reason of the members joining the army, and the youngsters have had to serve whenever band music of any kind was required. They have done very well and their services generally appreciated.

The invitation to this concert is general. All that is asked is that people show interest enough in what the lads are doing to be present.

The program outside of the band numbers has not yet been arranged but it is likely that there will be solo numbers, both instrumental and vocal, to give variety to the proceedings. A number of soloists have offered their services in order to help the boys out and these will doubtless be accepted.

Mrs. Anna Tollefson.

Mrs. Anna Tollefson passed away at her home in Reiner township, Jan. 27. The cause of her death was pneumonia and she had been ill but five days.

Mrs. Tollefson was the wife of Henry Tollefson and was 30 years, 3 months and 28 days old at the time of her death. She was born in North Dakota, Sept. 2, 1888.

Besides her husband, deceased leaves two children. The remains were shipped to Climax, Wednesday, her parental home, and will be interred Friday afternoon.

AUTO TRIP OF 110 MILES IN JANUARY

USED SHOVEL BUT ONCE AND THEN ONLY FOR THE EXERCISE.

Fifty-five miles and return by automobile over a country road in northern Minnesota during the last days of January is rather an unusual achievement, but the feat was accomplished by Dr. A. J. Paulson on Tuesday. Called to Thorhult in a hurry he started from his office at 8:30 in the morning. He arrived at his destination a little before 11:30, having covered the 55 miles in less than three hours. This would not be a bad record for summer driving and is the best yet hung up in the mid-winter cross-country tournament.

Dr. Paulson states that the road for the greater part of the way was almost perfect. In only one place did he find drifts sufficiently deep to make shoveling necessary and he says that the Oakland might have plowed through this obstacle only he was getting chilly and needed the exercise anyway.

There has been some talk of a base ball game at the fair grounds one of these fine days, but the plan had to be abandoned because most of the players are serving in the army.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of the unclaimed letters at the postoffice at Thief River Falls, Minn., for the week ending Jan. 25, 1919. If not called for within two weeks from the above date they will be sent to the Dead Letter Branch at Chicago, Ill.:

Anderson, Mr. Joy E.
Anderson, Mr. Simon
Calhoun, Miss Margaret
Hanson, Miss Alice
Larson, Mr. Fred O.
Mohn, Mrs. Margaret
Rundhaug, Mr. F. F.

When calling for the above letters please state that they were advertised.

WOUNDED SOLDIER IS NEARING HOME

RAYMOND STAGEBERG IS BACK IN UNITED STATES ONCE MORE.

Raymond Stageberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Stageberg of this city, is another of the local boys who has had a taste of real war. He was among the first from this section to reach France and saw much active service before receiving a wound in the leg which incapacitated him from further activity. Raymond left France Dec. 24 and since his arrival in this country has been stationed in the base hospital at Camp Grant, Ill.

The young man has had rather a hard time of it as his wound was very severe and several operations have been necessary in order to make it heal properly. A telegram received by his father yesterday from the camp commander bears the news that Raymond has undergone still another operation, which his many friends here hope will be successful and that he will soon regain full use of the injured limb. An interesting letter from Raymond was handed to The Times for publication but too late to appear in this issue. It will be found in the regular soldier letter department next week.

SHORT CALENDAR FOR COURT TERM

GRAND JURY IS CALLED FOR TUESDAY, FEB. 4—13 NEW ACTIONS.

The regular winter term of the Pennington county district court will convene on Tuesday, Feb. 4, Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, presiding. The calendar indicates that the session will be a short one, there being but 13 new cases filed. There are four actions hanging over from last term and there are nine personal property tax cases.

BILL TO MAINTAIN WHEAT GUARANTEE

PROGRAM FOR KEEPING 1919 PRICE PLEDGE GOES TO CONGRESS.

An administration bill appropriating $1,250,000,000 to enable the government to carry out its guarantee to the farmer of a price of $2.20 a bushel for the 1919 wheat crop was transmitted to the chairmen of the Senate and House agricultural committees yesterday by the Food administration.

Passage of the bill may mean that approximately $300,000,000 virtually as a bonus, will be given the wheat raisers of the Northwest by the government in carrying out its guarantee. Bankers say that the distribution of this sum, which is to make up the difference between the fixed wheat price and the competitive market price, will place the Northwest in strong financial position. The spending power of the farmer, they point out, will be increased tremendously.

The Northwest raises almost a third of all the wheat grown in the United States. The 1918 wheat crop estimate is 917,000,000 bushels, of which 280,000,000 bushels were grown in the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana.

TO PRACTICE FOR COMMUNITY SING

ALL INTERESTED WOMEN INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING ON MONDAY.

There will be a program of particular interest presented at the meeting of the Woman's club on Monday. The regular topics for the session are "Indian Legends," by Mrs. Daniel Shaw, and "The Army and Navy," by Mrs. W. J. LaBree.

The club will hold a community sing on Feb. 6, at one of the movie performances and will practice for this appearance on Monday also. As this will be the only opportunity for chorus training before the event, it is very much desired that all those who possibly can do so, will be present.

The Woman's club has started in as though the intention was to make this a year of great activity. The interest in the work is general and the attendance at the meetings very good. Members are making a special effort to keep themselves in good standing by the prompt payment of dues, but there are still a few who have neglected this important matter. As working funds are running low the hope is expressed that this oversight will be corrected as soon as possible.

Elmer Iverson, who has been visiting with Miss Emelie Fossum, for a short time, left for U. S. S., Illinois, Wednesday evening. Miss Fossum and Mr. Iverson both belonged to the class of 1912.

Mrs. J. P. Swanson, who has been visiting with her daughters, Mrs. A. Anderson and Miss Sarah Swanson at Lancaster, for some time, arrived Wednesday evening to spend a couple days with Mrs. T. S. Brokke.

Mrs. H. Miller returned to her home at Fergus Falls last Saturday after a few days in this city visiting with her daughter, Miss Dorothy Miller.

Misses Kate and Alvina Jonas left for Plummer, Wednesday evening to visit with friends for a short time.

D. Davis of Winnipeg arrived in this city Wednesday evening and visited with his sister, Mrs. C. Fiterman a short time enroute to Minneapolis.

Miss Mamie Nelson returned to this city Monday morning from her home at EauClaire, Wis., where she has been for the past two weeks, visiting with her parents.

At the Princess.

The week at the Princess opens this evening with "The Forbidden City," starring Norma Talmadge and Thomas Meighan. This is a beautiful story with Chinese settings.

Friday night there is a particularly good comedy drama with Shirley Mason and Ernest Truex in the lead. It is called "Good-bye, Bill." This shows how a Yank soldier and an American girl make a fool of the kaiser.

"Boston Blackie's Little Pal" is the title of an unusual picture featuring Bert Lytell and which will be shown in connection with "A Fight For Millions" on Saturday evening.

The Sunday and Monday special is Maurice Tourneur in "Sporting Life." This is the first offering by this famous actor since he became a producer and is said to be one of the best high-class comedies ever presented.

The big special of the week comes on Tuesday night when Viola Dana leads in "Blue Jean." This is an old stage favorite rewritten for the screen and its melodramatic nature should lend itself admirably to picturization.

Charles Ray in "The Law of the North" is the offering for Wednesday. It is one of those wonderful Alaskan pictures, full of big men and tense situations. One of the real worth-while productions of the past year.

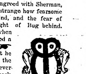
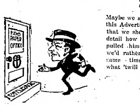
A Fable in Slang

By our own

Brick Wall Mason

Now the outlook wasn't brilliant as he lamped about the place; anyone could see his finish if he didn't change his pace. All his shelves with goods were burdened, bought by box and barrel and bale, in a market that was tilted and had cost him scads of kale. With the season fast advancing and with goods that ought to sell, he at least agreed with Sherman, war most certainly was—Well, it is strange how fearsome fancies flit across the troubled mind, and the fear of going "bughouse," left the thought of Bug behind. In days ago when trade was brisk, when he felt so sure and snug, he'd refused a Selling Service represented by a Bug. With his business prospects brightest he declined with such disdain, that the "Print-Smith" who had asked him never spoke of it again. But, thought he, with storm clouds rising, better seek most any port than to drift in troubled waters ending in the Bankrupt's Court. So he beat it to the print shop, to Ye Ed. began to moan "What's that Advertising Service, beat it in my ivory dome."





Maybe we should have a moral to adorn this little tale 'bout this Advertising Service turning "Stickers into Kale." And that we should give in detail how the Service pulled him thru, but we'd rather spend the same time showing what 'twill do for you.

Satisfaction That Satisfies Here

Letters from the BOYS

NOT ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THE FRENCH

BERTEL BACKE WILL BE GLAD TO GET BACK HERE AGAIN.

That France is a nice enough place to look at and also a very romantic place to read about, but decidedly objectionable as a permanent place of residence, seems to be the concensus of opinion among the American soldiers now stationed in that country. At least this is the reasonable deduction if the general tone of the letters received by home folks from the boys is taken as a basis for conclusions. In common with thousands of others, Bertel L. Backe, a well known young man of this city, expresses his general disgust with conditions in that country. A letter from him under date of Dec. 14, recently received by his father, Lars Backe, is as follows:

"Am writing this letter on a rough board table by candle light and am using this date to wish you all a Merry and Happy Christmas. I expect to be here until spring as they are sending back the sick and some of the favored divisions first, as they are no doubt entitled to this recognition. Am sorry to say our company commander is very close on passes and doubt very much if I can get a chance to visit any of our relatives in Norway.

"The French are great wine drinkers, and it is sold openly in cafes, restaurants, candy stores, etc. Very few signs of drunkenness are noticeable at any time, the Americans being most in evidence. The camp commander at this place allows us to drink light wine and beer from 6 p. m., to 8 p. m., but many get rum, cognac and whiskey on the sly. The camp commander at Brest did not permit any drinking.

"Living conditions in France are away out of sight and you really get much less for your money than in the United States. For instance, lemons are three for a franc or 20 cents; chocolate is 20 cents. The bank buildings are very small and simple and paper money is the principal medium of exchange. As a whole the French people are a chattering class, quite snappy and talk through their noses. The country is very beautiful, but disagreeably wet and sloppy. Our entire company has a cold or catarrh and even myself had to finally succumb but manage to keep in fair physical condition.

"Those of you back home who know little or nothing about army life and imagine us to live in clover, should have our places for a week. I can safely say that Camp Grant, with its sewers, water works and entertainment privileges, is like paradise compared to conditions here. At present our unit is billeted in barns so that I really consider myself fortunate at least in having dry sleeping quarters. We are expected to work on Sunday the same as on any other day, each company being called on in turn for whatever labor is needed. It is not very hard and we have, of course, considerable time to ourselves.

"The trip is good for any man—tends to broaden his vision of life and to make him appreciate more fully what a good country the United States is after all. How the people here can skate along through the mud in their quaint wooden shoes, live crowded like bees, see-saw back and forth with their limited occupations of small financial returns, and be comparatively contented and satisfied, is a conundrum too deep for me to attempt to solve. They are five hundred years behind the times, to judge from the American viewpoint.

"The sentiment of the American soldier can correctly be judged by the following remarks alleged to have been made by a negro soldier who recently returned to America after serving with the army in France: 'Statue of Liberty, if you'se ever gwine to look me in the face again, you will have to turn around as I sure am never gwine to leave these shores again.' Which expresses my feelings to a dot."

SPENT CHRISTMAS IN GERMAN TOWN

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ARE WELL TREATED BY NATIVES FOR ENDING WAR.

A couple of weeks ago The Times, in its "Twenty Years Ago" column, stated that in the corresponding week of 1898 Amund Myrom fell down stairs and borke his collar bone. The instance was incorrectly reported at that time, the victim of the accident being Harry Myrom, the little son of Amund. This young man is now with the American expeditionary forces in France—or rather in Germany—as will be seen by the following letter to his parents, who still reside on the old place:

"It is Christmas day so will write a letter home. You will very likely be surprised to see that I am now in Germany. We arrived here on the 22nd. We are staying with a German family in a small town called Dries. Seems rather queer here after being with the French so long.

"There are four of our boys staying with a German family. They treat us fine and remind me of what you tell about Norway. Last night we ate 'velling' with them for supper. They are anxious to do everything they can for the American soldiers as they say they like them for having ended the war. There are seven kids in this family and they want to play with us all the time. Am sure they will be sorry when we leave.

"We can understand the German language a great deal better than the French. Presume this is because of its nearer resemblance to the Norwegian. Stayed up until after 12 o'clock the first night talking with them, so you see we get along all right.

"Seems queer to be so far away from home at Christmas time. Never imagined last year that I would be in Germany now. It is all right, tho, as I have seen many interesting sights I never expected to see.

"It has been raining most of the time since we arrived, but the last two days have been nice. The grass is green and as I sit here I can look out on the hills, many hundred feet high. They are covered with evergreens and are very pretty. There are wild grapes up there, they tell us, so this would be just the place for Thorwald.

"Don't know how long we will stay in this country. Expect the Americans will have to remain quite awhile altho I do not think there is longer any danger to be feared from Germany.

"I hope it will not be long before we are allowed to go home, as I would surely like to get there by spring. I have not received any Christmas package yet but I think it is here and that I will get it tonight or tomorrow. Had a big dinner today, and also cigarettes and candy. Not like the Christmas up home but it was all right at that.

"Came thru Belgium and Luxemburg on our way here so we have traveled thru four countries now. Am in the best of health."

GRYGLA BOY WRITES FROM FAR FRANCE

ARTHUR ERICKSON, SERVING UNCLE SAM OVERSEAS—WELL KNOWN HERE.

The following soldier letter, which appeared in a recent issue of the Grygla Eagle, will be of interest to the many friends of the Erickson family in this locality. Thief River Falls is the birthplace of Arthur Erickson and he attended school here for several years. The family now resides at Grygla. The letter follows:

"Les Launes, France, Dec. 15, 1918. Dearest Folks: Well, I received your welcome letters Friday night. I sure was glad to get them as I had given up all hopes of hearing from you we were relieved. We got about four leted in this small village. We have been here four weeks next Tuesday. Those two letters were dated the 16th and 18th of November, and I was glad to hear that everything was all right at home.

"I suppose you would like to know how I fared out at the front. We stayed in England only two days from Liverpool to Southhampton, then Havre, France to Bordeaux. From there we had a four-day box car ride, we suspected that we were going to the front to replacements. The day I wrote that letter was the day we started forward. We marched all night in the rain and in the morning we were looking down at Grand Pree. We were on one side of the Pass and the Germans on the other and the little town in the center. There was also a river running thru it. About six o'clock we went forward again, under artillery fire. That was an awful job to cross that river, as the water was up to my arms, and the current was swift. The most of us got across alright. We forgot all about our gas masks, and if Jerry had known that he could have made short work of us, we dug in for the night after we crossed. The Germans sure did shell us that night. The next morning we went after the hill itself. We had to make two attempts to drive them out. We were in that mess for eleven days before we were relieved. We got about four days rest and we had to go into it again, on Nov. 1st. That was the day they hit the whole German line that sent us within 46 ulo (58 miles) of Germany. There was only about 60 of us left in my company, so you can see we had it tough. We were under machine gun snipers and artillery fire. Will tell you more when I get home. We are supposed to move this week.

"Well, father, I am glad you have been able to get through alright, and mother, how are you, and have you been getting the allotment, you didn't mention it in your letter.

"Tomorrow I am going on the sick-report for the first time, to get a tooth pulled, as I can't chew on one side.

"So Alvin is sick. Well, he has my sympathy. This army in war time is awful tough.

"Say, mother, I guess I won't be able to see Sweden, and am not sorry, as I have seen enough of Europe to last me some time.

"Greet all the rest for me, but must quit now as it is time for retreat. From your loving son, Arthur Erickson."

GERMANS SEEM TO LIKE YANKS BEST

WILLIAM MIDDERIGH WRITES AS IF HE MAY STAY IN FRANCE.

After having looked in vain for a letter from his son William, until he began to fear for his safety, Deputy Sheriff Paul Midderigh this week received word from him stating that he was well and comparatively happy in Germany. "Bill" has the honor of being the first man to enlist from Pennington county, joining the colors as soon as the recruiting office was opened.

"I am not in France at the present time, but in a different country entirely. I am with the late enemy and staying right with the German people. They think the world of the American soldiers and say that they are 'good' while the French soldiers are of no account. Guess they say that because we whipped their army and brought peace.

"I know you think that you have done a great deal of traveling through France, but I believe I have you beaten. I was at Chateau Thierry and have been on the Toul front. From there we went to Verdun and to the Argonne forest where the Germans had their stronghold.

"I would naturally like to get back to the United States but I do not think you will ever see me there again."

Private Midderigh, who is with Company A, Third Ammunition Train, has relatives in both France and England and has evidently decided that he may as well stay now that he is over there.

Art Aphorism for the Day.

Painting is not done for exhibitions; refined work is smothered and "shouters" come off better. . . . One is only a great painter on condition of being a master workman. . . . A fine picture, of which one admires the effect at a distance, ought equally to bear analysis when one looks at it near to. . . . The execution of a fine painting is agreeable to the touch.

IN ARMY UNTIL JOBS ARE FOUND

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT TURN SOLDIERS LOOSE EXCEPT AT OWN REQUEST.

HOME COMMITTEE AT WORK

COMMERCIAL CLUB AND HOME GUARDS WILL LOOK AFTER THEIR WELFARE.

Quite a number of Pennington county soldiers have already returned from the war and this movement may be expected to increase steadily from now on. Thus far there has been no trouble in finding employment for them, their former jobs being in nearly every case open and waiting. As their numbers increase, however, it is likely that some will have difficulty in finding congenial employment at once and a committee has been appointed to render assistance wherever this is needed. Mayor G. A. Penney, Chairman Charles A. Pitkin of the Pennington County Commission of Public Safety, and Capt. W. B. Fuller of the home guard, will work together in this matter, selecting such other assistants as they deem necessary in order to satisfactorily carry out the work.

May Stay in Army.

To solve the problem of unemployed discharged soldiers, the war department has ordered that no man be discharged from any army until such time as he can obtain employment in civil life.

It is announced that orders have been telegraphed to all department and division commanders at Secretary Baker's direction to retain all men who desire to remain temporarily in the service, without prejudice to their subsequent discharge to take employment.

Imposes No Obligation.

The order follows:

"All commanding officers will take steps to insure that every enlisted man in their command understands thoroughly that the war department does not desire to discharge any soldier who cannot secure civil employment. It will be made clear to every soldier that where he would normally be discharged under orders for demobilization, he may remain temporarily in the military service at his own written request until such time as he can secure employment. The fact that he requests to remain in the army temporarily does not in any way operate to compel him to remain in the army for a long period of time against his will. A man who would normally have been discharged if he had not expressed his desire in writing to remain in the service, may thereafter be discharged from the service at his own request, whenever he thinks he may secure employment. All such men are retained temporarily under the above authority and will be attached to the most convient unit and where their services will be most useful."

Will Help Families.

In connection with this policy adopted after orders were issued last week for demobilization of the combat divisions in the United States, it was said that action to prevent a large proportion of these men from facing unemployment was taken not only to protect the soldier individually, but because of its effect upon employment conditions throughout the country.

Another aspect of the new policy is that the families of married soldiers will continue to draw their allotments from the government during this temporary service. For the time being, at least, the war department will have ample work to keep the men busy in handling demobilization of other troops and in storing war material and in similar tasks.

Furniture Bruise.

Wet the part with warm water double a piece of brown paper five or six times, soak it and lay it on the place; apply on that a hot flatiron till the moisture is evaporated. If the bruises on the furniture are not gone, repeat the process. After two or three applications the dent or bruise will be raised level with the surface.

The Public Forum

The following communication, appearing recently in the Minneapolis Journal and signed "A Soldier's Mother," has been handed to The Times with the request that it be reproduced:

A Soldier's Mother Writes.

To the Editor of The Journal.

I wish to thank you for your timely editorial entitled "Red Tape's Cruelty to the Soldiers." Permit a word from a soldier's mother. When we kissed our boys goodby and hid our pain, proud of them and of the opportunity to give what was dear to us for our country's sake, we never dreamed that the coming days and weeks would drag into months as we waited anxiously for tidings of their welfare. We trusted our government to safeguard the precious letters from our boys and to speed the home letters to them by the most direct route, feeling sure they would realize that these American boys were "strangers in a strange land." But little by little plaintive appeals from the boys came across the water asking for letters, although we faithfully and devotedly wrote week after week. We know now to our sorrow, especially after hearing the inadequate postal condition arraigned by Senator Hitchcock and Congressman Miller, that our boys have cause for complaint. We have read of German frightfulness, but for intense heart anguish let me refer the public to the slow, tortuous casualty list and the inefficient manner of handling the soldier's mail. My son is now in a hospital in France convalescing after a severe illness. This is the second time he has had to be in confinement, and no mail comes his way. Is this the reward our government metes out to these brave fighters to deprive them of their mail and money also? As one of the mothers I demand an explanation. Where do our letters go that are plaintly addressed and carry the guarantee of good faith in the postage stamp? And who has the authority and right to destroy them?

—A Soldier's Mother.
Minneapolis, Jan. 15.

Do You Want to Know Both Sides?

Swift & Company's 1919 Year Book, just out, tells you

What Swift & Company's profits were in 1918,
The truth about the Federal Trade Commission's investigation,
Why the prices of butter and eggs are so high,
And many other vital facts.

Whether or not you agree with us after reading this Year Book, you will at least know both sides.

You will find it interesting; Americans like to hear about big things done in a big way.

You will also discover that we are merely human beings like yourself, doing in the best possible way a necessary service.

Legislation is pending in Washington; as a good American citizen you want to know both sides of this question. It concerns you, as well as one of the most important industries in the country.

A Lower Butter Market

The slump in the butter market the last two weeks was heavier than anything seen before. Butter dropped in price from about 70c a pound to slightly over 50c in less than 2 weeks.

These sharp declines always happen when the price of any food product goes higher than people are willing or able to pay. The price of 70c a pound for butter, which prevailed for some months, was higher than the average household could stand and substitutes were generally used. Then the production increased a little, a small surplus accumulated, and prices tumbled down.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

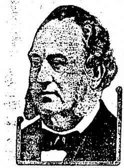
National Prohibition Party Organized in Chicago by 500 Delegates.

EARLY STANDARD BEARERS

Eighteenth Amendment Has Never Been Favored by Leaders Because of Odds of 10 to 1 Against Its Passage.

The National Prohibition party is just fifty years old, its semi-centennial falling on September 1, 1919. It was born in Farwell hall, Chicago. The convention numbered about 500 persons from 19 states.

The formation of the party was probably first discussed in public at a Pennsylvania state temperance convention in 1867. Temperance leaders had failed to get much consideration from the Republican and Democratic parties and were feeling the need of independent action. The Good Templars, an order of total abstainers organized in 1851 at Utica, N. Y., were also working to this end.



James Black.

The call for the Chicago convention originated May 29, 1869, in the grand lodge of the Good Templars of Oswego, N. Y., which appointed a committee to convene a national gathering to organize a political party favorable to prohibition legislation. This committee consisted of John Russell, Detroit, Mich.; Daniel Wilkins, Bloomington, Ill.; J. A. Spencer, Cleveland, O.; John N. Stearns, New York, and James Black, Lancaster Pa. At this convention the party was organized, a platform was adopted and a national committee was appointed, with John Russell chairman.

The first national nominating convention assembled in Columbus, O., on Washington's birthday, 1872. It named James Black for president and John Russell for vice president. Black was one of the founders of the National Temperance Society and Publication house, an organizer of the famous Ocean Grove (N. J.) Camp Meeting association and a prominent Good Templar. Upon his death in 1893 he left his "temperance library" of 1,200 volumes to the National Temperance society. Russell, the "Father of the Prohibition party," was a Methodist minister and a leading Good Templar. His newspaper, the Peninsular Herald, was the first to advocate the formation of a separate political party for prohibition.

Notwithstanding the worthiness of the cause and the candidates, the public support at the election of 1872 was not enthusiastic. The total of the votes received by Black and Russell was but 5,607.

In 1876 Green Clay Smith of Kentucky and Gideon T. Stewart of Ohio were the candidates. They polled 9,737 votes. In 1880 Neal Dow of Maine, with H. A. Thompson of Ohio as running mate, appealed to the country. General Dow was widely known as the author of the Maine prohibition law, but he succeeded in getting only 10,366 votes.

Candidates and Their Vote.

The Prohibition convention of 1896 split the party over woman suffrage and money. The "free silver" minority formed a Liberal party, with Bentley of Nebraska and Southgate of Illinois as its standard-bearers. They polled about 13,000 votes.

The feature of the Prohibition campaign of 1900 was a tour of the country by the candidates and a corps of speakers by special train. In 1912 the Prohibition convention renominated the candidates of 1908. The candidates since 1884 and their vote are as follows:

1888, Clinton B. Fisk, New Jersey, and J. A. Brooks, Missouri, 249,945 votes.

1892, John Bidwell, California, and J. B. Cranfill, Texas, 270,710 votes.

1900, John G. Woolley, Illinois, and H. B. Metcalf, Rhode Island, 209,469 votes.

The National Prohibition party, curiously enough, has been rather opposed to prohibition by constitutional amendment. In the last Year book (1916) we read:

"Although the Prohibition party may be said to be committed by platform declaration to the adoption of a national prohibition amendment, when placed in power, the program of the party has never contemplated agitation for a nonpartisan amendment to be enforced by administrations not favorable to prohibition. . . . The general opinion seems to favor admitting the desirability of the amendment as the end to be accomplished, at the same time emphasizing its impracticability as a method, and denying its necessity as a condition precedent to securing national prohibition. . . . The odds are so overwhelmingly against the ratification of an amendment that they cannot possibly be overcome through any reasonable expenditure of time, money and effort so long as the liquor traffic exists to fight for its life."

The National Prohibition party is certainly right about the apparent odds against the adoption by congress of a constitutional amendment and its ratification by the states. There have been 1,757 amendments to the Constitution proposed and 18 of them have been passed. Herein lies the marvel of the ratification of the eighteenth amendment in about thirteen months.

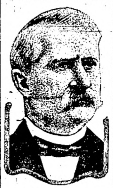
It has been figured that the chances against the passing of an amendment are 10 to 1. The case is put thus:

The chances against ratification are 2 to 1 in the house of representatives, and 2 to 1 in the senate, and, therefore 4 to 1 in congress. That is: Should the measure pass either house by unanimous vote, the one-third opposition in the other house would block it in congress as a whole; in other words, the resolution must be supported on the two chances in each house, while if the opposition scores on its one chance in either house, the measure fails. The chances in the state legislatures are 6 to 1 against the resolution; hence, in the congress and the legislatures combined the chances are 10 to 1 against passage. In other words, the measure might pass both houses of congress unanimously, and be defeated as a whole by the one chance in the states. It might pass either house of congress and all of the legislatures unanimously, and be defeated by the one chance in the other house of congress.

St. John Makes a Stir.

John P. St. John was the first Prohibition party candidate to make a real stir in the political world. What he did in the campaign of 1884 was long remembered. St. John was born in Indiana and in the Civil war was lieutenant-colonel of the One Hundred and Forty-third regiment, Illinois volunteers. He was twice elected governor of Kansas on the Republican ticket and was defeated for re-election to this office in 1882 by anti-prohibition Republicans, who thought him too warm a friend of the temperance cause.

Frances E. Willard and a delegation of women presented an enormous petition to the Republican national convention, urging consideration for the prohibition forces. The story of that time was that the petition was not only laid on the table but thrown on the floor, where it was found the next day, much the worse for wear.



John P. St. John.

Anyway, Miss Willard took her grievance to the Prohibition party. The Prohibition party offered the nomination for president to St. John, with William Daniel of Maryland for vice president. St. John accepted the nomination. He was an effective speaker and campaigner and he went out after blood—and especially Republican blood. He carried the war into New York, considered a "doubtful" state in the exciting struggle of that campaign between James G. Blaine and Grover Cleveland.

St. John jumped the Prohibition vote from 10,368 votes to 150,626 votes. What is more, he polled enough votes in New York to defeat the "Plumed Knight" in that state and, as it turned out, in the nation. The feeling of the time is indicated by the fact that St. John was burned in effigy in more than 100 cities.

HEROES OF WAR ARE RETURNING

BATTLE SCARRED VETERANS ARRIVE DAILY FROM STAGE OF GREAT DRAMA.

HAD GREAT EXPERIENCES

PENNINGTON COUNTY MEN MAKE GOOD WHEREVER DUTY CALLS THEM.

Harry L. Bakken, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken, the first wounded soldier from this city to return from France, was the center of attraction among his friends the latter part of the week. He arrived Thursday morning from Fort Snelling, where he had been stationed following his arrival from France a short time previously, and returned to that place Sunday night to receive further treatment from the army surgeons and to arrange for his final discharge from the army. Bakken received an ugly wound in the left arm on October 15 during the fighting in Argonne Forest and it is doubtful if the member will ever fully regain its former strength. The bone of the arm near the shoulder was completely shattered and it has only recently healed to the extent that it became possible to remove the plaster cast. The army surgeons are, however, using every expedient known to surgical science, and hold out hopes for the complete restoration of the wounded arm.

Saw Much Service.

Although naturally reticent and not much given to talking of his own experiences, enough was gleaned by a Times representative from Harry during his short stay here to convince the most skeptical that this soldier had seen real war and lots of it. In the first place Harry remained but a very short time in this country after going to camp, being sent on his way to France in a few weeks. After a period of training over there the 82nd division, of which he is a member, was sent into active service. From that time, which was during the early part of July, Harry was in continual combat with the Hun until he was wounded on October 15. From that time until December 21, the date of his departure for home, he was stationed in a hospital receiving treatment for his wound.

In Most Big Drives.

Private Bakken took part in many of the greatest and most sanguinary battles in which the American forces were engaged, among them being Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, and the great drive through Argonne Forest. It was in the last named battle that he received the wound which incapacitated him for further service. When asked his opinion of life in the trenches and army life in general, Harry naively replied: "It's sure a great life if you don't weaken."

Release Date Not Known.

Private Bakken expected to be released from military life in a short time but does not know just when he will receive his discharge. Much will undoubtedly depend upon the opinion of the army surgeons who are caring for the wounded soldier, as they will in all likelihood not care to let him go until they have done all in their power to put the injured arm back to its original status. Harry has not yet decided what he will do after his release from the army, although it is likely that he will return to his former position as carrier on rural route No. 1, which position he had held for some years prior to his advent into military life. Under the policy of the government in such cases a returned soldier has the right to resume his place in the mail service in preference to the man who has held it during his temporary absence in the army.

Akerlund Had Experiences.

Gust H. Akerlund, a member of the first contingent of men to leave Pennington county under the selective service act, has seen his share of the war. He began his training at Camp Dodge and later spent some time at Camp Pike. He secured a transfer to the regular army in order to get to the front as soon as possible and became a member of Company A, 58th infantry. Akerlund has been in overseas service for nearly a year, and has had his share of the fortunes of war.

On Torpedoed Steamer.

Akerlund's exciting experiences began when the British troop ship Moldavia, upon which his regiment was crossing the English channel, fell a victim to a German torpedo in May, 1918. He escaped from the fracas with his life although 53 of his comrades made the supreme sacrifice. To add to his pleasures, the very first night he spent in France the village in which he was stationed suffered a severe air attack from the Huns, but Akerlund managed the second time to escape without injury. After a period of training he first entered active service at Chateau Thierry, where he went clear though the memorable campaign without a scratch. After the conclusion of this interesting tete a tete with the Hun, Akerlund took part in the Argonne Forest pleasantry and everything went well with him until early in the morning of October 5, when he was severely wounded in the hip by a piece of shrapnel. In spite of his wound, however, he stuck to his post until two o'clock in the afternoon and helped to carry his wounded lieutenant to a place of safety.

Expects to be Home Soon.

The last letter received from Akerlund was written just before Christmas and he had at that time been released from the hospital and was stationed at a rest camp expecting soon to be sent home. His family has not yet received notice of his arrival in this country, but are daily expecting to hear of his return.

Lost An Arm.

Wilhelm Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson of Highlanding township, stopped in the city on his way home for a short time on Friday. This young man lost an arm in the Fiume campaign when a section of explosive shell hit him, causing gangrene poisoning later. He entered the service from Alexandria and was with the Fourth division.

Anderson has been ordered to report at Fort Snelling on the 6th for the purpose of having an artificial arm fitted. The measurements for the member have already been taken and it will be ready for delivery soon after the final fitting has been made. He will also be mustered out of the service at the same time.

CLEAR RECORD FOR BASKET SHOOTERS

WIN FROM ADA BY SCORE OF 40 TO 17—CROOKSTON IS NEXT.

The Thief River Falls high school basketball team is getting in line for championship honors. Last Saturday afternoon on the gymnasium floor in this city the Ada team was defeated by a score of 40 to 17 after a fast and interesting game, the Norman county town being thus added to Warren and Red Lake Falls in the list of the vanquished. Next Thursday the boys go to Crookston for the purpose of taking on that strong aggregation on their home floor and while it is fully realized that the hardest tussle of the season so far is ahead, the team is just as confident of winning as in any of the previous encounters.

On Feb. 7 the locals will play either Stephen or Argyle and on the 28th their ancient enemy, Fosston, will be their opponent. Should they come out of these impending struggles victorious they will represent the district at the state meet to be held at Carlton college, Northfield, on March 20, 21 and 22. This is the aim now and with three victories and no defeats as their record, there should be an excellent chance of carrying off the district honors at least.

Coach G. W. Connell has been drilling his charges in teamwork and believes they will be able to give a good account of themselves in any company. The lineup last Saturday was as follows: Schuster and Johnson, forwards; Hadrath, center; Flattum and Nason, guards. McGinn substituted for Flattum in the last half. The same team will defend the school at Crookston with the exception that Mostue will play center and Hadrath will join McGinn as substitute.

MUSICAL PROGRAM BY WOMAN'S CLUB

EXCELLENT PROGRAM RENDERED MONDAY EVENING AT HALVORSON HOME

An impetus to the artistic life of the city was gained in the first program of the musical section of the Woman's club given at the home of Mrs. Gay Halvorson on Monday evening. The work of this group fills a need which has long been felt in Thief River Falls, giving an opportunity for those who have studied and who care for music and the drama to get together for an evening of study and pleasure. This section has been enlarged to take in those in the community who are interested in the drama.

The first part of the evening was given over to business and plans for a Community Sing at the Princess theatre on Thursday, Feb. 6. Miss Grindeland then led the section in a practice for this event, after which the following program was given:

Carnaval .... Grieg
Miss Laura Forde
Mifanwy .... Dorothy Forster
"Danny Boy," Old Irish Air ....
.... Weatherly
Miss Carine Landahl
Kol Nidrei .... Max Bruch
Miss Ausilga Sorenson
Reading, "The Singer" ....
.... Charles Hanson Towne
Miss Una Nelson

An Aristocratic Steer.

The champion steer in the Red River Valley shown at the winter stock show at Crookston the week of February 10 will win $45.00 in premium money besides having his picture "took." He will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at a fancy price as he will be a quality animal. There is much speculation as to what county will land this honor. Will Pennington county live stock men try for it? If they do they can make a mighty good showing. There are classes for steers above 18 months, under 18 months, and for market sheep and hogs. In addition pure bred cattle of all breeds, beef and dairy, will be exhibited as well as pure bred swine and sheep. There is room for 250 head in the new cooperatively built live stock pavilion located next to the armory at Crookston.

Returns From France.

Private Alvin C. Olson, a member of the 338th field artillery, 88th division, arrived in the city Wednesday evening direct from Bordeaux, France. He is here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Marie Olson, and his sisters, Mrs. T. Snyder and Mrs. E. Richards. Private Olson was among those who arrived in France just too late to take part in any of the fighting. He says he had an enjoyable time all the way through and considers it a great adventure.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Yager moved this week onto their farm seven and one-half miles east of the city, where they will reside this year. Last Thursday afternoon a number of their friends surprised them at their home in the city and this was repeated by another group in the evening. The afternoon and evening was very pleasantly spent and the self invited guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Yager success and happiness in their new home.

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"
Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.
You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." Don't be insulted by imitations. See that you get "Gets-It." "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

"Get the Drop" on That Corn—Use "Gets-It" and the Corn Is a "Goner"!

Isn't It Awkward

HAVE you ever gone into a store and offered a ten or twenty dollar bill in payment of goods purchased, and then have you been forced to wait long moments while the clerk frantically searched the till for the correct change or ran down to the bank to "split" the bill?

INSTANCES such as this mean a waste of time both for you and for the shopkeeper. And you can avoid all this inconvenience by the simple device of keeping a checking account.

COME in to see us and we will gladly supply you with a checkbook.

Try The "Want Ad Way"

Mill Work

Whether your reconstruction efforts consist of entirely new buildings or simply remodeling, you can't be too careful about getting the right kind of Mill-work.

You will want Mill-work that is not only made of the best and thoroughly seasoned lumber, but you also want the best of workmanship throughout. You want the joints to fit perfectly. You want the doors and the windows to close evenly without unsightly and draft-producing slits. And above all you will want something that you can be proud of and that will remain an asset to your building.

Then see us. You will look far and wide before you will find any Mill-work that can beat ours at any price. And at the prices we charge, you will actually save money.

The Prichard Co.
"Bill and Harry"

TOWNS ORGANIZING TO ATTACK VICE

Elimination of Venereal Diseases Must be Included in Reconstruction Plans.

All signs point to a speedy ending of war. But almost before we shall have finished rejoicing in our victory, problems upon problems are bound to confront us. Nor will the reconstruction time have the thrill and exaltation of war to speed us along. Living for one's country through all manner of exasperating difficulties often puts a man's patriotism to severer strain than dying for it on the battlefield. Our boys have done their part gloriously. Now it is up to all of us who have stayed safely at home to show those who will soon be coming back to us again, that we have taken to heart the lessons of the war; that we have gained a new sense of the worthwhileness of every human life and of the community's obligation to give every man, woman and child in it a fair chance.

War Lessons.

Perhaps no lesson of the war has been so convincingly driven home to us as those associated with our reckless waste. And no waste has been more extravagant and cruel than that of the human health and energy through our ignorance of the common rules of hygiene and right living. In Minnesota, of 10,000 young men called to the colors, 13 per cent were disqualified for physical unfitness. This number does not include the much greater one of venereal-disease cases, since the men are not disqualified for these.

Plainly then every community in Minnesota must awaken to a new understanding of the importance of health measures of every kind. Particularly must it awaken to those health problems which concern youth and education. Of these none is so far-reaching as those of sex health and moral integrity.

The Community Must Help.

It has been shown in former articles how the United States undertook a nation-wide campaign to fight venereal diseases. The War Department found almost immediately that it needed the help of each state. The state in its turn requires the co-operation of the cities, towns and villages. Every possible resource in money and scientific knowledge has been brought by Uncle Sam to this struggle. If successful, the gain in health, happiness and money will be incalculable. It can only be truly successful, however, if every community will do its part.

What Is to Be Done.

In the first place a community must be informed as to actual existing conditions. Already certain towns have appointed a group of leading men and women to act as a central body through which the specific needs of the community may be determined and met. Here are some of the questions upon which each should inform itself: What is the attitude of the local officials toward vice? What provision is there for the diagnosis and cure of infected individuals who are too poor to pay a physician's fee? Are hospital accommodations available? What are the conditions of the schools? How are youthful sex offenders cared for? Is a policewoman or probation officer or nurse indicated? Are there any recreational facilities for the young people other than vulgar movies and dances? Are the laws controlling the sale of liquor observed?

Help Offered.

The Bureau of Venereal Diseases of the State Board of Health stands ready with advice and support for any group of citizens who will undertake this work. Should a condition or an individual case require investigation, one of its trained investigators will be sent to the town for this purpose.

Probably all districts need educating before they will awaken to the importance of these problems. The bureau will co-operate here too. It will send you lecturers; pamphlets of information may be had for the asking; a traveling library of books will be loaned to you; personal letters requesting advice will be answered.

The State Board of Health and its Bureau of Venereal Diseases belong to the people of Minnesota. It is your money which makes its work possible. The bureau was primarily a war emergency measure. Its object today is not the protection of soldiers alone. It is determined to make Minnesota a happier, healthier place for you to live in during the war and after.

You want your town to be a clean one when you welcome back the boys. They have earned that. For such cleanness eternal vigilance and intelligent enthusiasm is necessary. Get together, determine to do something right away, then call in the machinery at the Capitol in St. Paul to help you.

We must show these boys of ours that we can make good in our way as they have in theirs—for our country's sake.

(Signed) MABEL S. ULRICH,
Supervisor Social Hygiene Education,
Minnesota State Board of Health.

LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN OF SEX EDUCATION

University Normal Schools Support Plan.

In preceding articles it has been shown how the war precipitated a new attitude on the part of both individual and nation toward social hygiene and those devastating diseases which are spread through sex immorality. At the outset, when the War Department began its crusade against these diseases, it was obvious that plain speaking would be required. You cannot rid a nation of a scourge by keeping quiet about it. Thus, although our policy of silence toward all subjects related to sex was centuries old, it had to give way before an enlightened understanding.

Minnesota's Bureau of Venereal Diseases, in offering its co-operation with the War Department, recognized from the beginning the importance of arousing the public first of all to the need of facing these matters honestly and squarely, without prejudice.

Publicity.

The people of the state have the right to know the truth concerning the prevalence, the dangers, the contagiousness and the curability of venereal diseases just as they have become informed of the facts of tuberculosis and smallpox. Particularly must it be shown how unnecessary is their hideous cost to every generation in life, happiness and money, and by what methods this cost may be averted. That the people may be informed of these matters accurately the educational department of the State Board of Health offers free lectures whenever audiences can be obtained. Pamphlets are distributed for the asking; traveling exhibits, one for men and one for women, are sent to fairs, or to communities which desire to undertake educational and health work. A moving picture film, "Fit to Fight," prepared by the War Department for use in the camps, has been purchased and is used with lectures for boys and men. Talks are also given to employes in factories, stores, etc., as well as to clubs and various organizations.

It is the aim of the bureau through this publicity, not alone to spread a knowledge of venereal diseases, but also to let it be known everywhere throughout Minnesota that the State Board of Health offers free diagnosis and free treatment for everyone who is unable to pay the fee of a private physician or laboratory.

Prevention.

But sex education does not concern itself with disease alone. Prevention of these particular diseases is not only a medical problem, but it is one which involves moral character as well. Moral character has its roots in early life. Therefore every effort is being made to help all those who deal with young people to understand the normal development of children, and the need of preventing and counteracting the demoralizing effect of ignorance, of unclean talk and thought as well as of acts. Immorality in later years can usually be found to have had its beginning in a base and vulgar interpretation of sex. Therefore it is of the highest importance that parents, teachers, nurses, in fact all those who have to do with children, should be made aware of this specific responsibility. Courses of study for all these groups are offered:—to facilitate the work, a traveling library has been assembled which will be sent to any community if one responsible person will agree to insure its return.

University and Normal Schools.

Today the State University and all the normal schools have instituted such courses in sex education. Their primary aim is to assist the future teacher or community worker to an understanding of the part which sex plays normally in the development of boys and girls so that they may be able to help surround our youth with influences which will make for healthy, happy marriage and parenthood rather than sex disaster and wretchedness.

The Importance of Recreation.

Finally it is recognized that nothing is of greater importance to the health and morals of young people than the right kind of fun. The federal government finds it worth millions of dollars to fill the leisure time of our boys in training with wholesome recreation. Sports, athletic contests, singing, good plays and movies, books, all are used to provide a wholesome outlet for the ever-mounting, restless energy of youth. We have learned that this energy, when it is denied such a legitimate outlet, all too often overflows into channels which lead to bodily and mental degradation—to venereal disease.

Minnesota has not as yet any fund for work along recreational lines. But the Bureau of Venereal Diseases is doing what it can to arouse the people to the fact that if such an expenditure of public moneys is necessary to keep boys "fit to fight," certainly some corresponding efforts should be made for those of our sons and daughters, whose health, bodily and spiritual, will be so essential in the building up of that great democracy of the future which alone justifies warfare.

(Signed) MABEL S. ULRICH,
Supervisor Social Hygiene Education,
Minnesota State Board of Health.

UNITED STATES WILL NOW TRY EXPERIMENT OF PROHIBITION

Astonishing Action of an Individualistic People With a Strong Sense of Personal Liberty Is Brought About by Lessons of the Great War—Additional Legislation Planned to Enforce New Law—Will "Wets" Contest?—Ratification Details.

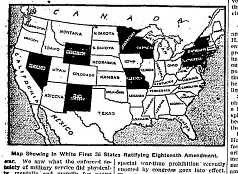
The United States of America has entered upon the tremendous social experiment of national prohibition of the manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic drinks. There will be abundant time to give the experiment a fair test since the prohibition is by constitutional amendment. To all appearances this mandate by the American people against the use of alcohol is intended to be absolute and final. We have written it into organic law—into magna charta—in the form of the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The experiment is a tremendous departure from previous tendencies of the American people. We are an individualistic people, with a strong sense of personal liberty. Yet here we have set out to regulate personal habit, not by statute, but by constitutional amendment.

And the manner of the passing of this constitutional amendment is quite as remarkable as the amendment itself. Action on the seventeen previous amendments to the Constitution has taken between nine months and forty-three months, an average of about two years. The resolution providing for this eighteenth amendment was passed by congress December 17, 1917. On January 16, 1919, its ratification by the states is accomplished.

What has brought about this ratification so quickly? Obviously the National Prohibition party has had practically nothing to do with its accomplishment. The answer evidently is that the war has brought it about.

Prohibition is both an economic question and a moral question. The war set the American people to looking at prohibition from both viewpoints. We got accustomed to the thought that grain was better eaten as food than swallowed as liquor, inasmuch as we were told that food would win the war. We saw what the enforced sobriety of military service did physically, mentally and morally for young men who had indulged in liquor in peace times.



Map Showing In White First 36 States Ratifying Eighteenth Amendment.

Some of our allies got into the war in a hurry because they had to—Belgium and France to save their lives, Great Britain to save its national honor. America took its time—a long time—and gradually worked itself up to the determination to fight. Doubtless much consideration of prohibition was a part of this slow process. So that when the opportunity came the states of the Union went over the top just about as the American marines and doughboys did in the Argonne.

Text of Amendment.

Following is the full text of the prohibition amendment on which state legislatures are voting:

JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, two-thirds of each house concurring therein, that the following amendment to the Constitution be, and hereby is, proposed to the states to become valid as a part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of the several states as provided by the Constitution:

Section 1—After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Section 2—The congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 3—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several states as provided in the Constitution within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the states by the congress.

CHAMP CLARK, speaker of the house of representatives.

THOMAS MARSHALL, vice president of the United States and president of the senate.

I certify that this joint resolution originated in the senate.

JAMES M. BAKER, secretary.

The amendment was passed by the senate on August 1, 1917, and passed by the house on December 17 of the same year. It was passed by the senate with the house amendments on December 18. The vote in the senate was 65 to 20 and in the house 282 to 128.

Ratification by the States.

The next step was ratification of this amendment by the states through their legislatures. This called for affirmative action by thirty-six states within seven years. Mississippi was the first state to ratify, both senate and house taking action January 8, 1918. Three other Southern states followed in January—Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina. Then came North Dakota. Other states followed in the order named, Nebraska being the thirty-sixth and completing the ratification.

While the amendment under its provisions does not become effective until one year from the date of its ratification, it seems likely that the country will become permanently dry July 1 next. This is the date on which the special war-time prohibition recently enacted by congress goes into effect. That law prevents the manufacture and sale of intoxicants for beverage purposes and remains in force until the demobilization of the nation's war armies is completed. Doubtless that emergency war-time measure will be effective over the several months that will elapse after July 1 until the constitutional bone dry act, now adopted, becomes effective.

Additional Dry Legislation.

During the year following ratification congress and the several states will be called upon to pass legislation to enforce the amendment and to provide penalties for violations. It is probable a large force of agents under the direction of the commissioner of internal revenue will have to be appointed to enforce the law. Each state will have to provide machinery for the enforcement of the law in addition to the machinery provided by the federal government.

It is likely this additional legislation will be pushed through as fast as the drys can push it. In some parts of the country at least they purpose to take full advantage of their victory.

For example, in Illinois a forecast of the Anti-Saloon league is this: In addition to the "search and seizure act" an act rigidly restricting the handling of liquor for medicinal, manufacturing, sacramental and scientific purposes; legislation covering doctors' prescriptions, which must be issued by a bona fide physician in writing, dated, diagnosing the illness and the purpose of its use; all railroad records of liquor shipments must be kept; drastic legislation regulating sale by druggists, with heavy penalty for violation.

The drys presumably will not confine their efforts to enforcing the law. They will doubtless take the question into politics of all kinds and make it an issue. They announce, for instance, in Chicago that they will ask all candidates for mayor to declare themselves on the strict enforcement of dry legislation. They will make it an issue in the spring campaign and will oppose any aldermanic candidate who does not toe the mark.

Will the Wets Contest?

Will the wets contest the legality of the whole proceeding from the start? They may. January 14 in San Francisco a court order was secured temporarily restraining Gov. William D. Stephens from signing the ratification of the amendment. It was indicated that similar action might be taken in certain other states. It was said at the office of the California Grape Growers' association that such action is possible in 12 other states. The states, according to the association, are: Arkansas, Colorado, Maine, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Missouri and Nebraska.

In these states, it was said, all legislative actions can be, under the law, referred to the people, and that in many of them the people have 60 days in which to take a referendum.

Anti-Saloon League.

The dry side of this legal proposition is thus set forth by the Anti-Saloon league:

"Article V of the federal Constitution provides that the legislature or a state convention is the only body which can ratify an amendment to the Constitution. Congress is given the power to say which one shall have the authority. Congress had chosen the state legislatures as the bodies to ratify the federal prohibition amendment. A state referendum therefore would be illegal and void."

The Anti-Saloon League of America has probably had more to do with bringing about prohibition than any other one agency. It was founded in 1895 and is nonpartisan and nonsectarian. Its purpose is the extermination of the beverage liquor traffic. It is a coalition of the Anti-Saloon League of the District of Columbia, the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio and 45 other national, state and local temperance bodies. It has branches in all states. It is expected to have an active part in providing legislation for the enforcement of prohibition under the eighteenth amendment.

It is possible that the wets may also attack the legality of the action of congress. By some the view is held that the amendment was not properly submitted to the states by congress; that it was adopted by two-thirds of a quorum present and voting, whereas according to the Constitution it should have been adopted by two-thirds of all members elected. If the resolution submitting the amendment were to be declared unconstitutional it would lead to much questioning, for virtually all of the amendments to the Constitution have been adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members present rather than a two-thirds vote of all members elected to congress.

Amendments of the Past.

The first national prohibition amendment was proposed by Senator H. W. Blair of New Hampshire as early as 1876. It provided for the prohibition of the manufacture, sale, importation and exportation of spirituous distilled liquor for beverage purposes. He introduced such a bill nine times between 1876 and 1890; in 1886 he changed it to include all alcoholic liquors.

Senator John D. Works of California introduced into the senate in 1914 a bill providing for the prohibition of spiritous liquors, excluding wines and beers. It received no support from the national prohibition advocates.

December 10, 1913, Congressman Hobson of Alabama introduced the famous "Hobson resolution." The original resolution placed the enforcement of the law in the hands of the national government, but it was so amended as to divide the responsibility between the state and federal governments, in order to secure the support of certain advocates of "states' rights." The original resolution was amended eight times by Hobson himself and was finally voted on December 22, 1914, receiving 197 votes, 258 being necessary to carry through the house. It never came to a vote in the senate.

When Does Prohibition Prohibit?

Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, author of the amendment, holds that national prohibition will go into effect

Senator Morris Sheppard.

January 16, 1920, certification and announcement of ratification being merely a matter of form. It is needless to say that the wets do not accept this view and that effort to delay the formal proceedings will be made, preliminary to contesting the legality of the ratification.

At any rate, it is formally announced that such a contest will be made. It is likely that the wets rely more on the referendum proposition than on the question of votes.

COMPARES SYSTEMS OF SECURING FUNDS

THEO. H. LIDEN GIVES INTERESTING DATA ON WAR RELIEF WORK.

Editor Times:—With reference to the number of campaigns which have taken place in the United States this last year in order to raise money for carrying on the war, for the upkeep of the Red Cross work, the Y. M. C. and other relief work, I would like to present a few figures, which the reader can digest at his convenience.

We have, during the last year, sold liberty bonds; subscribed to the United War Workers; donated to the Red Cross and other relief work, the amount of which ran close to $800,000 from Pennington county. If this amount was taxed to the real-estate and personal property taxpayers of this county, the rate of taxation would be 145 mills to every dollar assessed valuation. For example, if your property had an assessed valuation amounting to $1,000, your tax would amount to $145.00.

The slow process in collecting these vast amounts by taxation will show that it would be folly to do so. For instance, the assessments made in 1918 would be collected as current taxes in year 1919. A large part of this would go delinquent and sold in 1920; of this part would run at 12 per cent until expiration of redemption which would take place in 1922. And who would pay the 12 per cent? Or who would suggest such a way of collecting, except in cases where you can bond the county and extend the payments for a number of years?

We have at this time a campaign going on in this county to raise $2,000 for Armenian and Syrian relief. The head of this mission is Dr. J. L. Barton, a former missionary to Turkey and foreign secretary since 1894 of the American board of Congregational Foreign Missions; Dr. G. H. Washburn, an eminent physician, who has spent many years in Turkey; and Mr. W. W. Peet, business manager and diplomatic representative of Turkish missions. We should have no reason to doubt the honesty or ability of these men, whose records prove their stability and character of the past, and they are also entitled to our confidence in the future, which requires their honest and intelligent service.

Many states have already subscribed their quota. Utah, the first state over the top, raised its quota in one day; Michigan reports $575,000 raised up to date; Ohio with a quota of $1,600,000 has already raised $1,000,000; Southern California has nearly raised her quota of $500,000; Denver reports Colorado campaign nearly finished. Let us all join hands and put Minnesota over the top, in the most worthy cause to save the lives of 400,000 starving children and millions of adults—mostly women.

I am certain if we could see and realize the misery and immediate need of these unfortunate war sufferers, we would not hesitate to extend to them the little amount of $2,000 from this county. The holy word of God gives promise of recompense for only a glass of water to one of his needy ones; then how much more if you are willing to sacrifice some of your time and money in order to save a starving child? I am sure if some day you should meet one of them face to face, they would thank you from the bottom of their heart, knowing that you were the good angel who gave them bread when they were hungry, clothing when they were naked, and shelter when they had no home; and then you shall receive your reward.

I wish to thank those who have already given and only hope that each and all will help, so that we can do our share of the work.

Yours for success.

THEO. H. LIDEN,
County Chairman for Armenian and Syrian Relief.

O. W. Carlson, fireman, is a visitor in the cities this week.

John S. Gassow, engine dispatcher, is back at work after a layoff of a couple of weeks.

Fireman H. F. Erickson is back on the job after having been on the sick list for some time.

M. F. Burrows has been put on as warehouseman at Devils Lake vice J. W. Bower, resigned.

Superintendent W. A. Barnard returned from a business trip to Minneapolis Monday morning.

A. H. Carlson, car department, went to the cities on business last Friday, returning Sunday morning.

E. H. Gulden this week relieved Agent E. K. Ingebretsen at Lancaster, the latter being on the sick list.

Louis Gruette, formerly residing at Ogema, has joined the coach force and has moved here with his family.

J. E. Preston has been made station helper at Halma. R. L. Greenlaw has accepted a similar post at Calaway.

A. E. Peterson returned this week from service in the army and has been put on as station helper at Newfolden.

Griffith Jones, carman, is in St. Paul this week on business connected with the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen.

D. L. Emery has returned from army service and has been made regular agent at Fona, relieving M. L. Parsons, who in turn takes the place of H. P. Pfiffer at Forest River. Mr. Pfiffer has a leave of absence of three weeks.

Phil. Lundberg, car man, is at the Physicians hospital in this city, recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Master Mechanic S. S. Woodruff came over from Enderlin and spent Sunday looking over conditions at this terminal.

Mrs. H. A. Pratt, bill clerk at the Soo freight offices, left the first of the week for a visit to her former home, Stillman, Ill. Her place is being filled by Mrs. W. H. BonDurant.

R. A. Fillmore, dispatcher, resumed work Sunday after a vacation of two days; C. W. Stuart at once started on his two-day layoff, leaving to spend the time with friends in Minneapolis.

Engineer C. H. Sjoberg fell on the slippery sidewalk while on his way to work the other day and was rather severely shaken up. No bones were broken and he stayed in retirement but a short time.

Dispatcher Phillip Bryant is enjoying his two-day layoff period this week. The new rule which gives dispatchers two days each month to themselves is one that meets with their enthusiastic approval.

C. E. Strock checked in as agent at Greene, N. D., succeeding O. R. Stavenau, who was transferred to Whitman, where he relieves L. M. Halvorson. The latter went to Alexandria as night operator, taking the place of B. Bergsten.

Sigvald Eng returned this week from one of the army camps and has resumed his old position as fireman. Mr. Eng has been a resident of Adams for some time but will move his family to Thief River Falls for the purpose of making this city his home.

Grain and live stock is now being shipped entirely on permit. Only four cars of wheat per day is accepted for either Minneapolis or Duluth on the division, while only one car of barley can be shipped. Hogs are shipped only on permits. Congestion at the city elevators and in the stock yards is given as the reason for this order.

Harry L. Ward has succeeded Miss Mary Stensrud as coach cleaner. The latter was the only woman employed in this capacity on the division and while she gave general satisfaction her dismissal is in line with the company's intention of replacing women with men in positions of this kind, now that there are plenty of the latter to be had.

Miss Selma Simonson, ticket cashier; Miss Albina Doucet, stenographer in the office of City Agent Pratt, and Miss Alvina Jonas, clerk in the office of Car Foreman G. J. Conklin, spent Sunday in Minneapolis. That is, they spent a part of the day there. A freight wreck held their train up at Buffalo and they did not get to the big city until after noon. As they had to leave again about five o'clock the visit was rather unsatisfactory.

The City Churches

St. John's Lutheran Church, F. J. Seitz, Pastor—Services at Thief River Falls next Sunday forenoon at 10:30. Sunday school at 9:30. Wednesday night at 7:30 biblestudy meeting on prophetic subject. All are welcome to these meetings.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Representative Peterson introduced a bill in the state legislature reducing the railroad fare within the state to 2½ cents per mile and prohibiting the issuing of passes to state officials and employes.

Rev. and Mrs. Logan came up from St. Hilaire to look after the church work in this neighborhood.

The weather during the week was unusually severe and frosted faces, fingers and toes were reported every day.

Paul Midderigh made a trip to Woods camp and fell between the horses while unhitching from the sleigh, and was badly bruised. He was suffering from the grippe at the same time and had also frozen his face on the trip so that he had troubles enough for one man.

Henry Bye and W. I. McCrum returned from their claims in the Red Lake country.

Paul Midderigh and Joseph Jerome returned from the Lake of the Woods region with about $400 worth of furs and 700 pounds of fish.

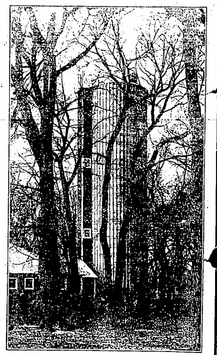
RIBCEMENT STAVE SILO



What Is This Silo?

It is made of slushed staves.
It has a 4 1-2 inch rib.
It is pointed up on the outside.
The hoops are offset, giving a ladder to work on.

Why Is It Better?

The slushed stave is 3 times stronger than the ordinary stave.

The slushed stave is water-proof.

The staves are 2 1-4 x 12 in. x 30 in. with a 4 1-2 in. rib. Weighing 74 lbs. each.

The pointing up of the outside relieves the strain on the staves, thereby making it unnecessary to double hoop.

It has a continuous door.

The silo itself is an ornament to any farm.

The inside wash in connection with the pointing up of the outside gives a double seal which makes it impossible for the silo to leak.

This silo can be bought NOW for $278 and up, according to size.

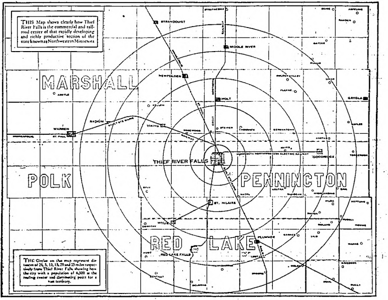
What We Have to Sell — CIRCULATION

The accompanying map shows the city of Thief River Falls, the trade center of a vast territory. The object of this advertisement is to show the business men of Thief River Falls how completely THE TIMES covers this territory each week. Many years have been spent in building up this tremendous circulation. Thousands of dollars have been spent in getting the paper into every home in this territory and now, with a subscription list of 4,000, we submit a complete summary of our list to the business men of Thief River Falls with a feeling of pride and satisfaction.



THIS Map shows clearly how Thief River Falls is the commercial and railroad center of that rapidly developing and richly productive section of the state known as Northwestern Minnesota

SCHOOL NOTES

Frequent calls are made on the school office for teachers for rural schools, the wages offered being $65 or $70 per month. The supply of rural teachers is always very limited and, strange to say, it is much easier to secure teachers for town schools than for the country. In this connection it is interesting to note that the new normal at Bemidji will be organized particularly for the training of teachers for the rural schools.

Ada and Crookston are teaching Saturdays to make up lost time. The former reports this plan unsatisfactory, and the latter claims it works fairly well. The local schools tried it last spring under the stress of war conditions and found it quite unsatisfactory. Many school will adopt the scheme of teaching ordinary holidays, which are not religious in character, and will also lengthen the school year, as is planned locally.

Parents ought to advise with their children as early as the first year of high school in order that wise choice of high studies be made. As nearly all high school work is elective it is found that pupils are continually entering what might be termed educational blind alleys. These lead nowhere and are a constant loss to pupils, through the fact that the studies therein have little or no bearing upon the line of work chosen for life.

One hour of last Friday afternoon was devoted to a program in honor of the former students who have done service for their country in the great war. One year ago, on January 24th, the school service flag was appropriately dedicated and at that time it was understood and agreed that on every recurring January 24th, for all time, suitable exercises in honor of the school soldiers would occur. In the local school calendar no date will stand out more prominently hereafter than January 24th.

By defeating Ada last Saturday the local basket ball boys have won three district games. Next Thursday evening they play at Crookston against a good team. The boys are going strong and their supporters confidently expect them to Pershingize the Crookstonites.

In the schools today there are no more Norwegians, Swedes, Irish, Scotch or any other representatives of foreign nationalities. Neither will a child admit he is Norwegian-American, French-American, or any sort of hyphenate. They are American—just plain, pure American. If further particulars are required, they can confess they are of various national origins, which is true and proper. Americanization of all peoples of foreign extraction, and possibly of not a few native borns who have lost their national bearings, is one of the important and essential school duties resulting from the war.

The agricultural department of the high school is in receipt this week of a Wheat Products Exhibit, which will be placed on exhibition in the agricultural department laboratory in the Washington school. This exhibit shows the twenty-four processes thru which wheat passes in milling, together with the various wheat products, including the different grades of flours, bran, shorts, and middlings. The exhibit is a contribution of the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company of Minneapolis.

Fifteen high school students are contesting for places on the high school livestock judging team which it is expected will go to Crookston some time during the Red River Valley Livestock Show and Sale to be held February, 10-14, to compete with other high school teams of the Red River Valley in judging livestock at that show. The keenest interest is being taken by the students and they are working over-time in order to get into as good condition as possible in the extremely limited time available. Last Saturday morning the contestants, under the conduction of Lieutenant Hiatt, in charge of the agricultural department, obtained practical judging experience in scoring and judging horses about the city, including the fire department team of Percherons.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

BOY MAKES $115.00 ON TINY GARDEN.

Ralph Baerman, a 17-year old boy of Rushford, Minn., made a net profit of $115.06 on a garden of one-tenth of an acre last summer, and won the championship as a member of the boys' and girls' garden clubs of Minnesota, according to reports of T. A. Erickson, University Farm, state leader of boys' and girls' clubs. The district champions were: Southern Section—First, Irene Johnson, Blooming Prairie, Steele county; second, Glenn Tuttle, Owatonna, Steele county. South Central Section: First—William G. Grass, Shakopee, Scott county; second, Jeanette Simon, Wheaton, Traverse county. Northern Section: First—Margaret Peters, Lancaster, Kittson county; second, Esther Storlen, Hallock, Kittson county. North Central Section: First—Ellen Erickson, Mora, Kanabec county; second, Thyra Sorenson, Askov, Pine county. The champion club of the state was that of Winona, the next in rank being that of Owatonna.

FIRST DAIRY CALF CONTEST DECIDED.

Walter Sohre, aged 16, of Good Thunder, has written his name in the history of boys' and girls' club work in Minnesota by winning the state's first dairy calf contest with a pure-bred Holstein, which grew from 346 pounds to 748 pounds in 169 days under Walter's care. T. A. Erickson, University Farm, has just announced the winners in the contest. William Dack, of Zumbrota, with another Holstein won second place, and Vivian Randall, a 10-year old girl of Ellendale, with a Jersey calf, won third place. The dairy calf contest in the future will be a three-year project.

BILL REORGANIZES DRAINAGE SYSTEM

PROPOSITION TO BE PLACED BEFORE ENGINEERS' AND SURVEYORS' ASS'N.

Senator F. L. Cliff's bill for a state drainage system, and the plans of the Tri-State Flood Control association for the establishment of flood control districts in Western Minnesota and Eastern North Dakota will be placed before the Minnesota Engineers' and Surveyors' association at its annual meeting in St. Paul, Feb. 13, 14 and 15.

Senator Cliff explained his bill now before the legislature, in which he proposes to completely reorganize the drainage system of the state, provide for a survey and a state-wide system in which basins shall be definitely defined. He proposes to do away with the present drainage commission composed of the governor, state auditor and secretary of state and substitute a commission which will devote its time exclusively to the drainage problem.

A. B. Knerecher of the flood control association insisted that flood control and drainage should be kept separate, except that the commissioners of flood control districts should have something to say with regard to drainage within their districts. The drainage basins he favored, provided they were made large enough. He would have the entire Red River valley, for instance, included in one basin.

The drainage committees of the house and senate will hold hearings at which farmers and others will be heard on the drainage proposition before it is taken up at the meeting of engineers.

First Drunk of Year.

The long spell of inaction in municipal court due to the absence (or scarcity) of strong drink in this section of the state, was broken last Friday when a local young man appeared before Judge N. W. Tarrant under a charge of "drunk and disorderly," preferred against him by Night Policeman Jerry Kelly, who had picked him up the night before. The young man readily admitted that he had been "drunk and disorderly," but stoutly maintained that he had not been drinking booze in any form. He stated that he acquired his jag through imbibing in a patent medicine concoction known as "Beef, Iron and Wine," which he admitted must have considerable "kick" as what transpired after he had the stuff in his system was not quite clear to him. Judge Tarrant decided that the case required the same treatment as if the regulation ingredients had been used to produce the jag and accordingly assessed a fine of five and costs, which the young man paid.

BIBLE COUNTERPART OF HUN'S DOWNFALL

NUMBER "ELEVEN" HAS CONNECTION WITH END OF WAR.

Perhaps few people have noticed the strange fact that the number "eleven" played a prominent part in the closing days of the great war. Such is the case, however, for investigation will disclose that the armistice was signed in the eleventh month of the year, on the eleventh day and at the eleventh hour of that day. Pondering over this strange fact has made a citizen of Thief River Falls wonder at its possible significance. It occurred to him that the Bible might furnish a clue and accordingly he took down the Good Book from its accustomed place on the shelf and began to investigate.

The method pursued was as follows: He turned to the eleventh book of the Bible, which proved to be "Kings." He then turned to the eleventh chapter and to keep up with the third appearance of the figure eleven in the armistice matter, looked up the eleventh verse of that chapter. Here is where the strange part of it all comes in, for it seems that this verse fits recent events generally and the case of the vanquished Hun in particular. If anyone is inclined to doubt the application of this part of scripture, he should read it for himself. Here it is:

"Wherefore the Lord said unto Solomon, Forasmuch as this is done out of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant."

U. S. LED MOVE FOR TEMPERANCE

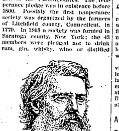
Many Societies to Fight Alcohol Organized Early in Nation's History.

WOMEN ACTIVE AS LEADERS

John B. Gough, Reformed Drunkard, First Crusader to Win Fame by Success at Home and Abroad.

When the movement which has now brought about prohibition began in the United States it was called the "temperance movement" and the phrase "temperance question" embraced all the problems in connection with the use and abuse of alcoholic drink. Temperance, of course, primarily means moderation, while prohibition, as used in this connection, means a form of sumptuary legislation abolishing the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. In the early days "temperance" was loosely used; sometimes it meant moderation and sometimes total abstinence. Many of the first crusades were against "spirits"—distilled liquors as distinguished from wines and beer. Early temperance pledges were often framed to draw this distinction. However, the word temperance as used in the titles and constitutions of reform organizations soon came to mean total abstinence.

This temperance movement, which shows signs of bringing about prohibition in many parts of the world, began in the United States. The temperance pledge was in existence before 1800. Possibly the first temperance society was organized by the farmers of Litchfield county, Connecticut, in 1779. In 1808 a society was formed in Saratoga county, New York; the 43 members were pledged not to drink rum, gin, whisky, wine or distilled spirits except by a physician's advice, in illness or at public dinners, under penalty of 25 cents.



John B. Gough

The Massachusetts Society for the Suppression of Intemperance was organized in 1813. The American Temperance society was founded in 1829. Thereafter organizations of various kinds came thick and fast, many of them securing large memberships. Among them were the Sons of Temperance of New York (1842), Order of Rechabites (1835), Society of the Washingtonians (1840) and Good Templars (1851).

In 1873 began the Woman's temperance crusade in Ohio. Women held prayer meetings in saloons in this campaign against alcohol. This movement grew so strong that in 1874 in Cleveland the National Woman's Christian Temperance union was formed. The same year Francis Murphy's Blue Ribbon Temperance mission attracted public attention.

John B. Gough.

Prohibition — or temperance — has made many men and women famous; probably some of these foes of liquor and the saloon will be remembered for all time. Among the names familiar to most Americans in this connection are those of John B. Gough, Neal Dow, Frances E. Willard and Carrie Nation. All four made their mark in widely differing ways and the personality of each is interesting.

John B. Gough attracted public attention first. He achieved world-wide fame and furnishes a remarkable example of what in these days is called a "come-back." He was born in Sandgate, England, in 1817, and died in Frankford, Pa., in 1886.

A Quaker in Worcester, Mass., induced him to sign a total abstinence pledge. This was the turning point in his career. He set out to tramp New England, lecturing on temperance at 75 cents a lecture. He delivered 380 lectures the first year—and found himself locally famous. He mingled the pathetic and humorous so successfully and made his lectures so entertaining that thousands who had no interest in temperance went to hear him. For the next 17 years he spoke only on temperance and addressed more than 5,000 audiences, making two long temperance campaigns in England. He had the power over an audience that comes from experience, purpose and natural eloquence. Robert J. Ingersoll at his best could sway an audience no more completely than this reformed bookbinder. Next Gough turned his attention to general lecturing and made a fortune. His books have been translated into many languages.

WILSON VISITS FRONT

Makes Trip to Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood and Rheims.

No One Can Put Into Words His Impressions Received Amongst Ruins, President Says.

Paris, Jan. 29.—His first trip to the devastated regions and battle front has been made by President Wilson. Chateau Thierry and Rheims being visited. At the end of a tour that took him through a dozen razed villages and ending at the ruins of the historic cathedral at Rheims, he made this comment:

"No one can put into words the impressions I have received amongst such scenes of desolation and ruin."

That was Mr. Wilson's only expression of his feelings after a trip that every Frenchman has been hoping he would make before he takes part in deciding what is to be exacted from Germany for the devastation of Northern France.

Motor to Chateau Thierry.

The party then proceeded by motor to Rheims, passing through many ruined villages and along the old fighting lines where evidences of combat are still to be plainly seen. After visiting Rheims the President and his party boarded a train, returning to Paris. The last part of the motor trip was made in a swirling snowstorm.

Sees Belleau Wood.

The first fighting ground was reached as the party neared Belleau wood, immortalized by the gallant fighting of the American marines. The motor cars turned off the main road and crawled through back lanes to bring the President close to the place where the fighting took place.

Col. Edward M. Watson of Martinsville, Va., who commanded an artillery battalion in the fight and was later chief of staff of the Seventy-seventh division in the Argonne fighting, stood beside President Wilson and Brig. Gen. Wm. A. Harts and told the story of the battle in detail.

ALL TO BE HOME IN 6 MONTHS

Gen. March Says 300,000 Yanks Will Arrive Monthly From France.

Washington, Jan. 28.—General P. C. March, chief of staff, informed the senate military committee that shipping arrangements had been made by which 300,000 men might be transported home monthly, and that all of the American Expeditionary Force could be returned home and demobilized within six months.

How many Americans will be held abroad in the Army of Occupation is to be determined by President Wilson, General March stated, but more Americans already have been designated for return home than originally proposed by Marshal Foch. He indicated that 10 divisions had been suggested as America's contribution to the Army of Occupation.

SECRETARY OF LABOR WILSON URGES DEVELOPMENT AS RECONSTRUCTION MEASURE.

Public works of all kinds that will give employment to men demobilized from the army and from the war industries should be put under way at once as a reconstruction measure, according to Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, who, in a statement outlining his views on this subject, points out that not only will the transition from war-time conditions to a peace basis be facilitated thereby, but that a work of great permanent value to the nation will be accomplished.

States, cities, towns, in fact all governmental divisions, ought now, he believes, to make up for the reduced construction due to the war. The government's obligation to provide employment for the returning soldiers and the necessity for many forms of improvement in municipal and state equipment render such a program essential at this time, he holds.

The secretary's statement follows: "I am of the opinion that from the time we restore ourselves to our normal postwar activities, the demand for peace-time production will be so great that there will not be the remotest possibility of securing any reduction in the wage rates from their present basis. I feel further, that the manufacturer who fails to take into consideration the prospects of the future and who, in a hope of securing a cheaper labor or cheaper raw material, does not build up his organization and maintain it during the possibly brief period of readjustment, will be handicapped in securing his share of the business afterwards; because he will be handicapped thru lack of working forces in his factory.

"It therefore seems to me that the situation resolves itself into taking care of the possible problem in the interim between our ceasing war activities and the time when we have assumed our natural postwar activities."

Samuelson-Grant.

Harry Samuelson and Janane Grant, two young people of Walsh county, North Dakota, having no doubt learned of the neatness, despatch and thoroughness with which Judge N. W. Tarrant performs wedding ceremonies, came to this city last Thursday to have the job attended to by that gentleman. The knot was duly tied in the presence of B. G. Samuelson and George Doland, who acted as witnesses, and the happy young couple departed the following day for their future home across the line in North Dakota.

BRAVELY MET A SOLDIER'S DEATH

TRIBUTE PAID TO GEORGE S. POSTON BY CAPTAIN OF HIS COMPANY.

HIT BY SHELL FRAGMENTS

RISKED LIFE AS A DISPATCH BEARER WHERE DANGER WAS GREATEST

Among the brave young men from Pennington county who answered the call to duty as a soldier in the war just closed and who will not return is George S. Poston, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Poston of this city. More than the usual amount of interest has centered in the fate of this young man because of the conflicting reports received concerning him. It was not until after the close of the war that the fact of his having fallen in battle was established beyond a doubt, although he met death while on duty with his command on the night of Oct. 8.

Last week a letter was received by Mrs. Poston from Capt. Charles E. Wise, 132nd Infantry, commanding the unit to which George Poston was attached, giving an account of the circumstances surrounding his death. The letter, which shows the high regard in which the young man was held by his officers, is as follows:

Sorrow Amid Rejoicing.

"Dear Mrs. Poston: In the midst of the general rejoicing following the successful close of the great world war, we think of those who have sacrificed their all in the cause of liberty. It is to you, the bereaved mother of one of these heroes, that I am writing this in the hope that I may in some measure answer the questions in your mind with reference to the sad event.

"On Oct. 6 our battalion was attached to the Fourth division and assigned to a sector in Bois de Fay—a wood between Septsarges and Dun-sur-Meuse. This sector proved to be a very dangerous one and brought out the real man in everyone.

Stood Out Prominently.

"One of those who stood out most prominently was George Poston. He was a company runner and time and time again he took messages thru shelled areas, never faltering. He could always be depended on to carry out his task.

Struck by Fragment.

"On the night of Oct. 8 he was sent back as guide for the ration party. The rations were secured and the return trip begun. As the party was crossing a valley south of Bois de Fay the Germans put down a heavy barrage and a fragment from one of these shells hit and instantly killed George Poston. When the news was brought to me I was greatly shocked. His death meant a great deal to me, both personally and in the carrying out of the work in hand.

Was Himself Wounded.

"I hope you will pardon this delay as I was wounded on Oct. 12 and returned to the company on Dec. 24. If there are any questions you have in mind, do not hesitate to ask them."

FIRST LOCAL MAN TO DIE IN BATTLE

ELMER J. ECKLUND KILLED ON FIRST DAY OF ALLIED DRIVE.

A letter received this week by Miss Eva Ecklund, sister of Elmer J. Ecklund, the first soldier from Pennington county to fall on the battlefields of France, gives details concerning the brave young man's death which it has heretofore been impossible for the relatives to obtain. The letter is from a soldier who fought in the same company with Private Ecklund, and who knew him well. It is as follows:

"Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Jan. 31, 1919. Dear Friend: I received your letter and will try to tell you something of Elmer's death. Elmer was in the same company as I was, and was killed on July 18, 1918. I was wounded a few hours after Elmer had been killed. It was at the Soissons front and on the first day of the big Allied drive. Elmer was hit in the right side by an artillery shell and died almost instantly, I am quite sure. In all probability he is buried in a military cemetery near the front where he fell. That would be near Villers-Cotteret, or between there and Soissons. As to your being able to get any of his personal belongings, I hardly think you will be able to get any. That question has been asked of me several times concerning other boys and I always have to answer it the same. It is impossible to get things like that unless they are left with someone who gets instructions where to send them, etc.

"I never knew of Elmer suffering any from shell shock, although after the scrap at Cantigney he was quite nervous for a while. Elmer always was a first-class soldier and was very well liked by all members of the company. If there is any more news about Elmer that you would like, I will be ready and glad to tell you, providing I know enough of it. Yours respectfully, Frank Parkman."

At the time of his death Private Ecklund was a member of Co. L. 28th Infantry, having been transferred from the 32nd division to the 1st division, a part of the regular army.

Soldier Memberships.

Any of the returned soldiers who wish to become members of the Commercial club should apply to Secretary G. Howard Smith for cards showing that they have been duly admitted. The probabilities are that the boys will not take advantage of this offer unless their attention is called to the matter and club members are urged to inform all with whom they have any dealings that such rule has been passed by the club. The soldiers will be honorary members and as such entitled to all the privileges of the club rooms.

BANKERS OFFER TO AID STOCK BUYERS

WILL LOAN MONEY AT SIX PER CENT FOR PURCHASE OF PURE BREDS

Anticipating that a number of the live stock men of Pennington county may wish to secure some of the pure bred stock to be offered at the Red River Valley Farm Products show to be held in Crookston next week, the bankers of Thief River Falls have offered to advance the money necessary for such purchases at six per cent interest. It is understood that similar action has been taken by the bankers in nearly every section of the district which will have the effect of greatly stimulating interest in the sale as well as help those who may not at the present time feel able to secure one of these animals because of the lack of immediately available cash.

The offer is in line with the progressive view of the livestock situation taken by bankers generally. They were among the first to realize the importance of having the section recognized as a stock-raising rather than a grain growing region and have steadily encouraged every enterprise calculated to assist the farmers in getting started in the right direction.

The fair at Crookston will offer an exceptional opportunity for those who wish to secure pure bred animals of native breeding and the action of the banks in reducing the interest charge on money borrowed will place those within the reach of many who would not otherwise be able to meet the outlay necessary at this particular time.

SPELLING CHAMPS AT DISTRICT MEET

MISSES PAULINE ENGELBART AND ALICE SWANSON WILL ENTER CONTEST.

Pennington county will be represented at the district spelling match held in connection with the Farm Crops show at Crookston next week, the defenders of the community's reputation in this respect being Miss Pauline Engelbart of St. Hilaire, and Miss Alice Swanson of Kratka. At the preliminary elimination contest in the office of County Superintendent G. M. Gunderson last Saturday evening these two secured the highest averages, receiving marks of 88 and 86 respectively. Other contestants and their standings were: Emil Johnson, city, 84; Hulda Torstveit, St. Hilaire, 84; Huldah Odegaard, St. Hilaire, 85; Melvin Engelstad, city, 83; Ann Harder, St. Hilaire, 78; Esther Anderson, Hazel, 78; Wildayene Denhart, 78; Julia Runnestrand, city, 64.

Thief River Falls high school will not be represented at the district oratorical contest this year. Closing down the schools during the influenza epidemic has made it necessary to devote every minute to work of the most essential nature only and the teachers of English find it impossible to devote the time necessary to the training of contestants.

TO OPEN SALOONS WITHIN FEW DAYS

SUCH IS REPORT COMING FROM RED LAKE FALLS—WAR ORDERS RESCINDED.

Saloons will be reopened in Red Lake Falls in the course of a few days, it was announced Wednesday afternoon when it became known that the Minnesota Public Safety Commission had rescinded all orders relating to closing of that territory. Several former saloon men are said to be getting busy ordering stock and getting their places in order for a rushing business, which they expect to hold until July 1, when national wartime prohibition will go into effect. This ruling also applies to Plummer.

A bill was introduced by Senator James Cummings, Polk county, and F. H. Peterson, Clay county, establishing a 50 mile dry zone around the Red Lake Indian reservation. It is specifically aimed at the towns of Plummer and Red Lake Falls.

HANS ANTON IS CREAMERY HEAD

ELECTED PRESIDENT AT ANNUAL MEETING YESTERDAY. ENGELSTAD SECRETARY

BIGGEST YEAR'S BUSINESS

GAIN FOR PERIOD IS $23,000.00 GREATER THAN TOTAL BUSINESS FIVE YEARS AGO

When last year the officials of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association reported a gain of more than $35,000 since the first of February, 1917, it was considered that a most unusual record had been made. It was not much of a showing, however, when compared to that of the past year.

Gain $200 Per Day.

The report of Secretary E. J. Overland showed that the total business for the year was $232,492 as compared with $159,360 at the time of the last annual meeting. This is an increase of $73,132, or over $200 per day. This gain alone comes within $17,000 of equalling the entire business of 1914—only four years ago. It is greater by $23,000 than the total reported for 1913.

While such phenomenal rate of increase has not been maintained throughout the history of the creamery in this city, every year has nevertheless shown very satisfactory progress and the future looks brighter than ever. In the seven years from 1912, when the report showed a business aggregating $40,000, the output of the institution has increased $182,000, or at an average rate of $26,000 per year, which is $500 per week for the entire period. If there is any other business or enterprise of any kind can anywhere equal this no report of it has been permitted to reach the public.

New Officers Elected.

Hans Anton of Sanders township, one of the most consistent boosters for the creamery in the entire section, was elected president for the ensuing year, succeeding C. Christenson, who has served with signal ability during the past two years. Henry Pope of Rocksbury was elected vice president, and S. O. Lee, also of Rocksbury, treasurer. The selection of a secretary was a matter less easily disposed of, the choice falling on Peter Engelstad of Rocksbury, one of the best known dairymen in the Northwest. It was decided that all secretarial work must be done at the creamery and that the salary of the secretary should be $100 per month. Jens Letness of Silverton was selected to make up the other member of the board of directors.

A Great Dinner.

The annual dinner given by the stockholders to the patrons and friends of the creamery was of the usual high order. The dining room of the Lutheran Free church was crowded and all present did ample justice to the excellent viands provided.

Supt. of Schools J. H. Hay made the welcoming address at the meeting held in the Commercial club rooms in the afternoon. He spoke in his usual happy vein and complimented the dairymen present on the excellent showing made by their creamery during the past year. He suggested that a protest be sent to those in charge of the university of Minnesota because of their action in serving oleomargarine to the students of agriculture. This he considered as entirely wrong and believed that the creameries of the state should take notice of it. Mr. Hay also advised against reaching out too strongly for business within the territory of other creameries, urging the necessity for cooperative institutions of this kind pulling together and putting up a solid front against the centralizing plants. He also bespoke the hearty support of those present for the project to erect a memorial for the home-coming soldiers. He wound up his remarks with the prediction that within a very short time the reports would show a business of a half instead of a quarter million dollars.

Wants No Carnival.

Henry Pope asked that the meeting go on record as being opposed to carnival companies at the county fair and his remarks were received with every indication of approval.

R. K. Calloway considered the surplus of cash in the bank too large and wanted it divided in the shape of dividends to the stockholders. Hans Anton and others pointed out that new buildings would soon be necessary if the business kept growing and suggested that a sinking fund be established against such contingency. Mr. Calloway did not get far with his proposition.

Business by Months.

Treasurer Bernhard Knudsen submitted his report, which showed that the receipts for the year were greater by $8,436.91 than the disbursements. He also read a report of the business done during each month of the year, as follows:

January, $9,935.03; February, $12,035.87; March, $18,831.35; April, $15,468.83; May, $17,489.05; June, $26,788.86; July, $32,809.57; August, $14,154.53; September, $19,618.97; October, $22,984.09; November, $15,933.32; December, $16,091.41.

Secretary G. Howard Smith of the Commercial club announced the running of an excursion to Crookston on the 12th and asked all those who contemplated attending to make the fact known. There was a goodly number of hands raised and many others stated later that they would take in the show. The train will leave at 7:30 in the morning and return the same night. The regular fare will be charged.

CONTRACT LET FOR BRIDGE AT KRATKA

PRICE IS $7,875 AND STRUCTURE IS TO BE COMPLETED BY JUNE 1

The Minneapolis Bridge company was yesterday awarded the contract for the construction of a steel bridge over the Red Lake river in the township of Kratka. The contract price is $7,875 and the time for completion expires on June 1.

The bridge proper will be 115 feet in length with a 15-foot approach at each end. The requirements of the war department are that all such structures must be 10 feet above the high water mark. The contract calls for a 16-foot roadway.

This will make the second bridge built by the county over the river in the eastern end of the county in two years. The other is located in Highlanding township, six miles from the site of the proposed structure, which is about the same distance straight south of Mavie.

BRISK MOVEMENTS IN LAND FORESEEN

DEAL INVOLVING 260 ACRES NEAR CITY NEGOTIATED THIS WEEK.

F. B. Conklin, who for some years has been farming the old Knox place at the northern edge of the city, this week completed a deal whereby he becomes the owner of the Kirby farm of 260 acres located just east of town. For the coming season at least Mr. Conklin will probably arrange to handle both places.

This transfer may be said to open the spring realty drive in this county, although a number of purchases of farm lands have been made during the winter months. Farms in northwestern Minnesota will be in greater demand during the coming season than ever before, conditions being such that farming is bound to be one of the best paying businesses which a man can engage. Real estate men say they already have a large number of inquiries for particulars concerning land and that the opening of spring will see many new settlers arrive.

In nearly every instance the inquirer states that his intention is to engage in dairying and diversified farming, proving that the advertising received by the section during the past few years has been most effective.

HAVE CIRCUS AS FEATURE AT FAIR

MANAGEMENT WOULD PROVIDE MOST UNUSUAL LINE OF AMUSEMENT

ALSO WANT FLYING MEN

BELIEVE THAT AIRPLANES ARE OF GREAT INTEREST TO ORDINARY CITIZEN

Maybe they have hit upon just the thing. Some sort of a compromise between the objectionable carnival company and an altogether puritanical amusement feature is wanted in order to please everyone interested in the success of the Pennington county fair and the directors believe they have solved the problem. They propose to rent a regular circus for three whole days, during which time they will have the sole management of its affairs.

The idea was given serious consideration at the meeting of the directors on Saturday evening and the plan is not at all impossible. There are a number of very good small circuses looking for just such dates, any one of which could provide something in the line of entertainment that would be the talk of the entire section. Contrary to general opinion, circus people are perhaps the cleanest class of performers, morally speaking, of any catering to the amusement-loving people today and the objection attaching to most carnival companies would therefore be removed. The plan is worth giving serious consideration.

Also Want Indians.

It is possible also that there will be a number of Indians invited to come in from the reservation to give an exhibition of their tribal dances. This will seem like a strange proceeding to persons in other sections of the country who believe that the white inhabitants of northern Minnesota still live in dread of Indian outbreaks. As a matter of fact an Indian is today almost as great a curiosity on the streets of Thief River Falls as he would be in Des Moines or Indianapolis. It might be a good idea to have this Indian dance as it is likely that with the passing of the present generation of Red Men there will be none left in this neighborhood who know any more about the usages of their forebears than do their pale-face neighbors.

Committees Appointed.

The committees in charge of the different departments of the fair were appointed at the meeting, as follows: Committee on revision of premium list and stock rules, Fred Beerbower, Albert Johnson, H. C. Woolson and F. B. Conklin. Mrs. J. H. Hardesty was again placed in charge of the woman's building. She will make all other appointments and have full control of the exhibits. A general committee to have charge of the solicitation of funds for the erection of a new stock building was appointed, the members being Fred Beerbower, Albert Johnson, W. J. LaBree, N. J. Anderson, L. A. Lampert and G. Howard Smith. These will select subcommittees in every township for the purpose of carrying on the work.

ERSKINE DEFEATED IN RATTLING GAME

LOCALS ARE IMPROVING TEAMWORK AND LOOK LIKE CHAMPIONS.

If the Thief River Falls' high school basketball team can maintain its record when playing away from home it will mean the championship of the district, which in turn, places the boys within reaching distance of state leadership. The record for the local basket shooters now stands four games won and one lost. The next game is with the Stephen high on Friday night and Coach Connell's bunch figure on taking this one easy.

The game with Erskine on Tuesday evening was one of the best of the series. The boys showed excellent teamwork, while in passing and following the ball the result of continuous drilling was very much in evidence. The improvement in the team during the past two weeks is most marked, the tendency to work with a view to securing individual recognition is held down, the net result as it affects the entire team being only considered.

The score in Tuesday night's game was 30 to 20, the locals having the situation well in hand at all times. Erskine played a clean, fast game, but was at no time dangerous. The particular bright star on the visiting team was the young fellow who played center during the first half. He was right there all the time and had both speed and accuracy.

The lineup of the team was as follows: Schuster and Johnson, forwards; Nason and Barzen, guards; Flattum, center. Hadrath replaced Barzen in the second half.

NOTED WOMAN WILL SPEAK HERE SOON

MRS. F. M. BURTON TO URGE BUILDING OF COMMUNITY HOUSES

A campaign of the greatest importance to the young men who are being mustered out of military service will soon be undertaken throughout the entire country. It is a strictly non-sectarian movement for the erection of community houses at central points as a memorial to the men who offered themselves when the country called and who are now returning to again take up their life as civilians.

Mrs. Frances M. Burton, wife of the president of the university of Minnesota, has become deeply interested in the work and is making a speaking tour of the state for the purpose of calling the attention of the people to the importance of the undertaking. She will be at the Auditorium in Thief River Falls on Monday evening, Feb. 17, and every man and woman is invited to come and hear her.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, who recently returned from a state conference of the Y. W. C. A. at Minneapolis, where the matter was discussed and the preliminary plans laid, has been made district chairman for ten counties in this neighborhood. She has appointed Miss Olive Booren to have charge of the work in Pennington county and will make her selection of chairmen for the other counties within a short time.

Men and women of wealth in all parts of the country have taken this matter up and the question of funds is perhaps the smallest item. Mrs. Bishop states that the people of Pennington county will perhaps not be called upon to raise more than $150, whatever else is required being furnished by the national committee. The wholehearted support of every community is wanted, however, and it is to awaken people to the necessity for this that Mrs. Burton is appearing. As she is a speaker of note and a woman of recognized ability, her address will be well worth hearing.

On Short Visit.

Senator O. A. Naplin came up from St. Paul last Saturday night and stayed until Monday evening, there being a recess of the senate until Tuesday. He stated that nearly every member of the upper house was tired, having put in a siege of decidedly hard work. The now famous Wilcox-Sullivan contest case was settled on Saturday, the senate deciding to call for another election to decide the issue in Washington county. With this matter out of the way Senator Naplin predicted that legislation would move along rapidly. He also said that there were a number of matters of particular interest to the people of the Sixty-fifth district scheduled to come up before long.

GRAND JURY FINDS THREE INDICTMETNS

ONE FOR BOOTLEGGING, ONE FOR GAMBLING AND ONE FOR FRAUD.

The Pennington county grand jury adjourned Wednesday afternoon after having been in session two days. Three indictments were returned, as follows:

John Papberg, charged with introducing, storing and keeping intoxicating liquors in dry territory.

Martin Williams plead guilty to a charge of gambling. Has not yet been sentenced.

Gust Swenson, charged with larceny. It is alleged that he took orders for goods among the farmers of the county, receiving part payment for same and then failed to deliver the wares paid for.

The first civil case called for trial is not yet completed. It is brought by C. Gustafson & Son against John Bratrud and involves payment for a tractor.

Only two more cases on the civil calendar remain to be disposed of. There are a small number of court cases but these are not expected to take up a great deal of time.

Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, is presiding.

CROOKSTON TRIP IS NOW ASSURED

COMMERCIAL CLUB COMPLETES ARRANGEMENTS FOR SPECIAL TRAIN WEDNESDAY

MANY FARMERS ARE GOING

INTERESTED IN LIVE STOCK SALE TAKING PLACE ON THAT DATE

Wednesday, Feb. 12—the big day of the Red River Valley Farm Crops exhibit at Crookston—will see the largest number of Pennington county men in attendance since these fairs became a feature of northwestern Minnesota development. The Thief River Falls Commercial club this week completed arrangements for a special train to leave here at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and returning the same evening. This will make it possible for the farmers of the section to attend with the least possible loss of time.

Dairymen Will Go.

At the meeting of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association on Wednesday the matter was up for discussion and many of those present signified their intention of joining the excursionists. They are particularly interested in the sale of dairy cattle which takes place on Wednesday and wish also to inspect the new live stock pavilion at the fair grounds. This is one of the best and most modern buildings of its kind in the entire Northwest and Pennington county farmers are particularly interested in this feature of the show as something of a similar nature is contemplated for the fair grounds in this city.

Tickets Now on Sale.

It has been deemed advisable to sell tickets for the excursion before the event in order to get some idea of the number who will attend. The committee in charge feels certain that enough will be sold to meet the expense, but in case there is a shortage the business men of Thief River Falls have guaranteed to make it up. There is no danger of their being called upon, however, as there will be a larger number go from St. Hilaire and Hazel besides those making the trip from here.

Soldiers Admitted Free.

President C. G. Selvig of the general committee, has notified the cities in the neighborhood that soldiers will be admitted to the exhibition free of charge, the cost to others being 50 cents. Fred Beerbower has charge of the soldiers' tickets in Pennington county and these may be had by applying to him.

Want Big Turnout.

Those in charge of this outing are particularly anxious that the county and city shall make a good showing. It is certain that every business man who can possibly get away will make the trip and the hope is that the representation of farmers will be fully as good.

The program for the day is without question one of the most interesting ever announced for an occasion of this kind. Experts in every line of agriculture from practically every section of the country will be present and the features outside the regular fair will alone be worth more than the cost of making the trip.

ALL RESTRICTIONS ON FUEL REMOVED

NEITHER PRICE NOR AMOUNT PURCHASED ARE LONGER CONTROLLED.

Daniel Shaw, county fuel administrator, this morning received the following self-explanatory order from Chairman J. F. McGee of the state board:

"A telegram received today definitely terminates the activities of the federal fuel administrators everywhere. All restrictions are removed and coal, both anthracite and bituminous, moves as it did in pre-war times, and the dock companies are not restricted as to prices they may charge. They may ship coal out of zone limits and retail dealers are no longer bound as to the margins on which they sell either anthracite or bituminous. In other words, all restrictions imposed upon the coal trade in Minnesota are at an end, and of course, this means that your duties as local fuel administrator have terminated and your control over fuel in this state has reached an end. Orders have been issued from Washington to begin closing up. You will in the course of a few days receive instructions that will govern you in closing up your work.

"Let me ask as a patriotic citizen, if you discover conditions coming into existence in your locality that threaten fuel famine or disaster, to advise me and I shall call the matter to the attention of Dr. Garfield and try to avert any such conditions."

History of the Great War For Times Subscribers

Cards will be mailed to all of our subscribers this week explaining this unusual offer and all are requested to fill in, sign and promptly return these cards to this office. This is absolutely necessary.

SCHOOL NOTES

The last period Friday afternoon will be devoted to a memorial exercise by all the schools, in honor of the late Colonel Roosevelt. His staunch Americanism and vigorous advocacy of a high standard of citizenship appeal particularly to students of United States history.

It was a toss up throughout the game last week between Crookston and the locals as to which team would finally win. Good fortune and nothing else waited upon the Crookstonites and gave them the long end of the 19 to 15 score. The contest was held in the Crookston armory.

This week closes the first half of the school year. A new program for the high school takes effect next Monday at which time some new half year subjects will be introduced.

A teacher's school work rarely ceases with the close of the afternoon the truth is that in the upper grades and the high school not a few teachers rarely leave the building until five o'clock and frequently until almost six and even then carry home papers to examine. The constant faithfulness of these faculty members is well known and appreciated and the result of their efforts are easily discernable.

The health meeting held at the Lincoln last week was well attended. The several addresses by the local physicians and the school nurse carried many useful and interesting items of health information and instruction. It is quite generally admitted that public health and the child's physical condition are fundamental—are really the starting point in all educational processes.

Two rooms in each building are required weekly to contribute some clothing or wearing material to the local organization or auxiliary of the Woman's club, which has recently been organized to care for any cases wherein assistance is needed that children may be clothed and made comfortable and sent to school.

Woman's Club Notes

The meeting of the Woman's club held Monday in the Commercial club rooms was marked by enthusiasm and interest in the work to be done in the next few weeks. Two important club events are scheduled for the near future; the first is the visit of Mrs. Allen, State President of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, who is to be a guest of the Club, Saturday, the 17th at a luncheon, after which Mrs. Allen will address the club. It is hoped that every club member will meet Mrs. Allen. The following Monday the club is to have the privilege of hearing another prominent woman speak, Mrs. Marion L. Burton, wife of the President of the State University, who will address the club on community houses and recreation for girls.

The recently formed Social Welfare section of the club asked that old clothing be sent to the schools by children. It will then be collected by members of the club, renovated and remodeled at the club rooms. Magazines of recent issue are also desired. These are to be sent out to the country school houses where social centers are to be formed. Scraps of new cloth to be used in making comforts are needed at the work rooms. This section reported a twelve dollar donation from Mr. Barnard.

Mrs. Mogensen, chairman of the scrap book committee, asked that all scrap books be returned by next meeting. There are forty still out.

The club voted that an Americanization committee be appointed. This will be announced later.

Mrs. Gay Halvorson led the club in singing songs which will be used at the Community Sing at the Princess, Thursday, Feb. 13. Miss Blanche Johnson was at the piano.

G. Howard Smith then addressed the club in behalf of the Fair board. He assured the club women of the deep appreciation of the Fair board in the interest of the Woman's club and asked for its help in making the 1919 fair the best in its history. He spoke of the desirability of having a change from the past two or three years, and the necessity for clean entertainment. He also asked the co-operation of the Woman's club in getting enough people for a special train to the Northern Minnesota Development Association at Crookston next week. In this connection a letter was read from Mrs. Selvig, telling of a special woman's program of speakers and discussions planned for this meeting, and urging Thief River Falls club women to attend.

Mrs. Hardisty read a paper prepared by Mrs. LaBree about the Army and Navy. Mrs. Fillmore gave a paper on Indian Tribes and Mrs. Dan Shaw, one on Indian Legends of Minnesota. All of these papers were unusually interesting and were thoroughly enjoyed by the club members.

The annual mid-winter breakfast of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs will be held at the Radisson Hotel, Feb. 22. Mrs. John Sherman of Washington, D. C., head of the conservation department of the General Federation of Women's clubs, will be the principal speaker. A number of women from the local club are planning to attend.

Minnesota Gets in With First 36 to Certify Dry Vote

PROMPT ACTION BY OFFICIALS BRINGS STATE IN VAN OF MOVEMENT.

Minnesota got in under the wire after all as one of the 36 states to make the nation dry by ratifying the national prohibition amendment. The official proclamation issued recently by Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state, includes Minnesota in the list of 36, although in point of time Minnesota was 40th to act. Prompt action by Minnesota officials in certifying the resolution of the legislature to Washington enabled Minnesota to get on the honor roll.

Alamaba, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusettes, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Back from Quantico.

Bemidji Sentinel: H. Mayne Stanton, former editor of the Sentinel, and for the past year in the service of his country, returned yesterday from Quantico, where he has been stationed for some time. Mr. Stanton has been honorably discharged and after a few weeks' vacation will announce his plans for the future. Enroute home he visited at New York.

GLAD TO GET BACK TO GOOD OLD U.S.A.

FRANK J. SATRE RETURNS AFTER LONG PERIOD OF SERVICE OVERSEAS.

A letter was received this week by F. T. Satre from his son, Frank, who was one of the first young men from this county to volunteer for army duty after the outbreak of the war. Sergeant Satre has recently returned from France, where he had been in service for over a year, and is at present stationed at Fort Totten, N. J. He, in common with nearly all other returned soldiers, was mightily glad to get back to the good old U. S. A. His letter is full of interest and it is here reproduced for the benefit of Times readers:

"Dear Father: I suppose you have been expecting to hear from me ever since you received my telegram. I really should have written, but I have been so unsettled and busy until the last few days that it has seemed impossible. I may as well start from the beginning and go over the whole thing.

"We left Is-sur-Tille, France, otherwise known as Camp Williams, or in army parlance as A. P. O. 712, on Dec. 6, 1918, arriving at Brest, France, on the morning of Dec. 9. We stayed in that benighted hole until Dec. 31—rain pouring down every day and all of our men working on details fixing the place up. It sure needed it as most of our men coming back will embark for home there. It was our most disagreeable experience while over there and I am sure none of our fellows want to see the place again. I would rather be up on the front any time.

"As I have said before, we stayed at Brest until the last day of December and then marched to the dock and embarked on the cruiser Seattle, leaving port the same day. The trip home was uneventful but, like Brest, was mighty unpleasant as we had about 2,500 men on the boat, counting the crew, and the only time you could find room to move around was when the weather was rough. That would make almost everyone sick and would give those of us blessed with strong stomachs the place to ourselves. There were a lot of boys from Minnesota aboard and they seemed to be a fairly good sort but our men didn't mix with them much, as you see our men were all volunteers and regular army men. We had rather rough weather coming back, about the roughest I have ever seen, and so we did not sight land until the morning of Jan. 12. About 3 p. m. we passed the Statute of Liberty and we all took a solemn oath never to let the lady see our backs again. Most of us are going to do our best to keep our word. We docked at Hoboken, N. J., and there was a large crowd at hand to give us a welcome home. Everybody seemed glad to see us, but I know that every soldier in that old cruiser felt happier over it than the crowd of New Yorkers. We cheered everything we saw. We even cheered the cars, every man thinking about the difference between American boxcars and the French kind that carry a sign saying, '40 homme or 8 chevaux,' which translated means, '40 men or 8 horses.'

"The Red Cross girls, Salvation Army lassies and Y. M. C. A. men brought us gifts of candy, gum, cigarettes and newspapers, and showed us a good time in general. We stayed in the boat over night and the next morning a little tug took us over to Long Island. From there we went by trolly to Camp Mills, getting there in time for dinner. Most of us were not very hungry, however, as the Red Cross people gave us cakes and coffee at the station. It was about the first real cake we had eaten since leaving New York over thirteen months before and it sure tasted like more.

"The government has made Camp Mills a fine place, quite different from what I have been told it was last winter. The barracks are all frame, and they all have nice big heaters in them—and all the coal you want to burn, great contrast to France, where you get nothing but coal dust that will not burn, and that is limited. We stayed at Camp Mills until Jan. 16, and then we were sent to this place to be demobilized. My work started as soon as we arrived here, while at Camp Mills I found time to go to New York and take in the Hippodrome matinee and the evening performance at George M. Cohan's theatre. There was too much work getting our papers in order that our men might be transferred or discharged, to take time to eat. Our work was finished on the 22nd and on that day all of our men who had enlisted in the army after April 2, 1917, were sent away to different camps near their homes and the rest of us were transferred to companies in this post. It was the end of our outfit, an organization with a history dating back to 1822, and it made me feel rather sad, but I suppose it will happen to the whole army. I would like very much to visit you folks for a short while and unless I get sent to Los Angeles I surely will. With love, Your son, Sergeant Frank J. Satre, 4th Co., Ft. Totten, N. Y."

DAVID H. BACKUS BACK FROM FRANCE

FAMOUS AMERICAN ACE, WELL KNOWN HERE, HAS RETURNED HOME.

David H. Backus, former resident of Thief River Falls, who has won fame as an aviator in the great war, returned home last week from France on the transport Minnekahda. Since leaving this city Lieut. Backus made his home at 578 Holly avenue, St. Paul. Lieut. Backus won signal honors in the service, and in recognition of his services was awarded the distinguished service cross with bronze oak leaf and recommended for the French croix de guerre and palm. During all of his exciting experiences Backus never received a wound from the enemy although he took part in dozens of combats.

As an instance of his bravery, it is cited that Backus on one occasion attacked eight German airplanes singlehanded when he had espied them while on a solitary flight. The Boche pilots were stunned momentarily by the daring of the lone Yank and before they had recovered from their surprise he had sent one crashing down in flames. Within 15 minutes he downed two more of the enemy and then flew back to his own lines. This unusual exploit earned the D. S. C., with the bronze oak leaf which is awarded only for some special deed of valor. The other plane Backus is credited with was downed in single combat, the Boche being sent down in flames from a height of 10,000 feet.

During the great offensive Backus was constantly on duty in the air and had many scrimmages with the enemy. Previous to the Argonne drive he had seen much service with a French squadron. After spending a few days in New York, Backus will proceed to his home at St. Paul.

WOUNDED SOLDIER REMAINS CHEERFUL

RAYMOND STAGEBERG WRITES CONCERNING EXPERIENCES IN GREAT WAR.

Although it must be conceded that the lot of the wounded soldier is not the most pleasant in the world, still it seems that the lads who were so unfortunate as to fall victims to Hun bullets during the recent unpleasantness are bearing up under their misfortunes in a philosophical manner and remain cheerful in spite of the fact that they have been confined for weeks and months in hospitals. A sample of this kind of cheerful courage is furnished by Raymond Stageberg, a Thief River Falls lad, who is now at Camp Grant, Ill., after having made the return trip from France in a wounded condition. His father, T. O. Stageberg, is in receipt of the following letter from the lad:

"Camp Grant, Ill., Jan. 23. Dear Folks: I'm some closer to home, don't you think? If I can do that well in the next month I'll be right at home. I left France on the 24th of December and have been traveling almost all the time until now. I had a fine trip coming back. We went away south so the weather was nice and warm. We ate Christmas dinner on board ship and had real turkey, too. Also had a real dinner New Year's day. I met a fellow from St. Paul, a sailor, on the ship and he treated me fine. Nothing too good for me on the ship.

"When I got to the hospital at Hampton, Va., I met a nurse from Minneapolis and it was the same story there, so I've been getting along fine. I expect to stay here at Camp Grant until I get well. Will try and get away for a week or ten days when my wound heals, but I may have to be operated on again. There is some old crushed bone in the wound that keeps decaying preventing the wound from healing. It's nothing to worry about, though. I'll be walking on this leg soon, and it won't be long until I will be home to surprise you, all dolled up in a new uniform.

"When we came here they took our clothes away from us and put us to bed. I get up and walk around the ward on my crutches. While I was in Hampton, Va., they didn't put us to bed, so I got a pass one day and went to Norfolk. This is quite a large town and I bought a new suit and shoes so I'm ready to go home. I had some pictures taken in Hampton and when I get them I'll send you some. Received the snapshots you sent me in France. They sure look natural and all the folks look when you write. Greet all the folks the same.

"Where is Truman now? Did he get across? Send me his address that were kind enough to write when I was in France, also tell them I would be glad to hear from them now as I may be here for some time yet.

"Will close now, hoping to hear from you soon. Raymond Stageberg, U. S. Army Base Hospital, Ward 26, Camp Grant, Ill."

GETTING OVER THE FLU?

Have you had the flu or pneumonia? Then sleep more, exercise more in the open air, breathe deeply, drink more water, eat more sanely and avoid getting over-tired unless you are eager [illegible] which, if history repeats itself, will sweep over the country in the wake of the present epidemic.

DEMAND IS CROWDING CLOVER SEED SUPPLY.

The demand for clover seed is great though the season for seed orders has hardly opened, and the supply is going to fall short, says C. P. Bull, professor of agronomy at University Farm. To help the situation, those who have a surplus of clover or alfalfa seed should report to Mr. Bull at University Farm, as secretary of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association.

Engineer on Visit.

Engineer C. P. [illegible] left on Saturday morning for [illegible] where he will be the guest at his parental home during the day. He was accompanied by his two eldest children Henrietta and Elmer.

MARSHALL COUNTY WILL NAME SHIP

PENNINGTON'S NEIGHBOR TO NORTH WINS SIGNAL BOND SALE HONOR.

Marshall county was one of the six counties in the Ninth Federal Reserve district to win the honor of naming a battle tank through high distribution of Liberty Bond sales. That privilege has now been changed to the right to name a new ship.

Miss Jean Stevens will have the honor to act as sponsor for the United States ship "Marshall." The details of the launching will be prepared soon between the shipping board and the treasury department. The naming of a ship is a privilege worth while and the people of the county are to be congratulated. Pennington county was not able to reach the coveted goal and for this reason the people here will have to forego the honor of having a ship named in its honor.

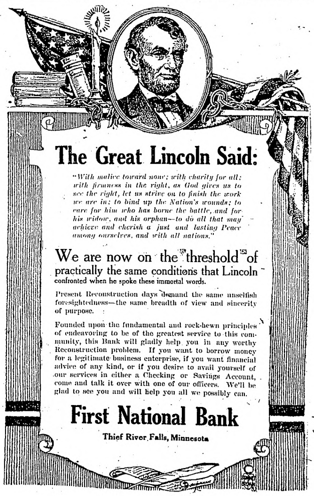
"Quality" Fully Describes Times Work



The Great Lincoln Said:

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wounds; to care for him who has borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all that may achieve and cherish a just and lasting Peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

We are now on the threshold of practically the same conditions that Lincoln confronted when he spoke these immortal words.

Present Reconstruction days demand the same unselfish foresightedness—the same breadth of view and sincerity of purpose.

Founded upon the fundamental and rock-hewn principles of endeavoring to be of the greatest service to this community, this Bank will gladly help you in any worthy Reconstruction problem. If you want to borrow money for a legitimate business enterprise, if you want financial advice of any kind, or if you desire to avail yourself of our services in either a Checking or Savings Account, come and talk it over with one of our officers. We'll be glad to see you and will help you all we possibly can.

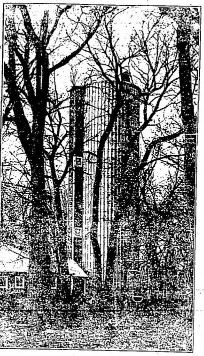
A Silo Which Makes the Cream Checks Grow

Four Points to Consider in The Purchase of a Silo

The Cost, Efficiency, Durability and Erection



No Sour Ensilage in this Silo.

We are in a position to sell you a cement silo which will cure the ensilage without any loss and will last a life time. We will not only furnish the material but we will erect the structure at a cost to you less than you would pay for a wood silo. We complete the silo and turn it over to you ready for filling.

Consider the guaranteed price of wheat, the prospects of another bumper crop, the probable shortage of farm labor and you will come to the conclusion that your time will be too valuable to waste in erecting a silo. FORTY PER CENT OF THE FINAL COST OF A SILO IS IN THE ERECTING. Make a contract with us and we will have the silo ready for you to fill long before your corn is cut.

The SHRINKAGE and EXPANSION of wood in WOOD SILOS permits air to enter the silo barrel and as a consequence sour ensilage, which is worthless, results. There is no chance for air to get into our silo.

Our silos are permanent structures and will not blow down. A cement stave silo erected by our experts will add at least $1,500.00 to the value of your farm. It is the best investment that you can make. Come in and talk it over with our manager.

START BUILDING NOW, IS DEMAND

GOVERNMENT URGES EVERYONE TO HELP IN RECONSTRUCTION WORK.

TIMES TO HELP CAMPAIGN

THIS PAPER WILL CARRY NEW DEPARTMENT ON BUILDING TOPICS.

"Build a Building."

That's to be the slogan throughout the country during the coming spring and summer months. And there's a reason, and a good one!

No building other than that which was absolutely necessary has been done during the past year. Government restrictions, made necessary by the war emergency, practically stopped all construction work. Now these restrictions have been removed and there are many reasons why building plans should be revived and carried out as speedily as possible. The buildings are needed, their construction will add to the general prosperity of the community and, last but not least, the work will provide employment for the soldiers who are now being discharged.

Thief River Falls should not and undoubtedly will not be behind other communities in this particular. Many residents not only of Thief River Falls but of the surrounding country were planning new homes or other buildings, or improvements on old buildings, when war put an end to these activities. Now there is no reason why these plans should not be revived and, as stated, there are many reasons why they should be carried out.

New Home Building Department.

For the benefit of its many readers who will want to make building plans during the next few months, The Times has established a new Home Building department. It will be found on another page of this issue. On this page we will publish each week an article written by William A. Radford, editor of the American Builder and one of the best-known architects and greatest authorities on building subects in the United States. Each of these articles will present detailed plans and drawings for a home, or, in some cases, for barns, poultry houses and other farm buildings.

Readers of The Times will be able to obtain from this department not only ideas but definite plans for any type of building that they may have in mind.

The Times wishes, also, to print all the news regarding building plans and building operation in Thief River Falls and vicinity, and asks its readers to give it information of their own plans and any others of which they may have knowledge. News of this kind is of general interest and its publication will benefit the entire community. Construction work of a useful character is a boon to the community. It puts money into circulation where it will do the most good—at home. It improves labor conditions and brings added prosperity to every resident of the community.

Government Behind Movement.

The United States government itself is behind this "Build a Building" movement. William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, issued a statement recently, calling on individuals as well as state and municipal authorities to begin at once the building projects that had been stopped to release labor and materials for war purposes. Secretary Wilson summed up the situation when he said:

"Lack of dwelling accommodations and lack of public conveniences in the way of roads, bridges and public buildings are a serious detriment at this time, when we are anxious to pass through the readjustment period with all speed. There is another and equally serious side, however, namely that with the lack of building activities many of our returned soldiers who are skilled in various building trades will find themselves out of employment on their return to this country.

"I have no thought of advocating wasteful or unnecessary building, for that would be a poor solution of a most serious problem; but I do feel that if we can secure from public authorities and private individuals an early intention to start work in the construction of buildings, sewers, waterworks, bridges and similar undertakings, all of which are vitally necessary, we will not only be increasing the total substantial value of our country, but we will in a measure be establishing general economic conditions during the period of reconstruction."

Materials and Labor Plentiful.

It is apparent that there will be no dearth of either materials or labor for the building that is necessary during the next year or two. As a starter the United States Steel corporation has announced a reduction in the price of building materials but, as a matter of fact, the advance in the cost of building during the last few years has been far less than in almost any other line, and incomes have increased in a much greater proportion.

Lack of dwelling accommodations has created a bad condition in many places. It has increased rents out of all proportion to the increase in the cost of construction and the necessity for increased incomes of the owners. This condition will be maintained until such a time as there have been provided more homes.

The farmers, who have greatly increased their production of food under the stimulus of high prices and the appeals of the government, lack many buildings that are necessary for the efficient operation of their farms. This sort of building, like all others, was halted by the war industries board. All restrictions now have been removed and everyone is free to carry out his building plans.

"Build a Building" will become exceptionally popular this spring and summer and everyone who has had such a thought in mind during the period of anxiety will do well to get busy and formulate his plans. Let the building experts advertising in The Times assist you in the matter of planning as well as in the selection of the proper materials. They will be glad to serve you and their experience is at your command.

A Double Bereavement.

Carl Klemonson, 32 years of age, a well-known and respected resident of Highlanding township, died last Saturday from hemorrhage, following attacks of influenza and pneumonia. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three children, the latter ageing 19, 8 and 2 years respectively. Interment was at Highlanding cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

Deceased was a son-in-law of Peter C. Wold, former county commissioner. While Mr. Wold was busily engaged in lending whatever aid was possible to the family of his daughter, he received word from Minneapolis announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. Dorothea Wold, who passed away of paralysis at the advanced age of 84 years. Conditions at home made it impossible for Mr. Wold to attend the funeral.

THINGS SHAPING FOR FARM CROPS SHOW

FINAL TOUCHES BEING MADE ON PROGRAM AND OTHER DETAILS.

Arrangements are shaping well for the Eighth Annual Red River Valley Farm Crops and Stock Show, which opens Feb. 10 at Crookston. The new live stock pavilion which is being erected by the Red River Valley Live Stock association will be ready for use. The building is located right next to the large Company I Armory, where the Farm Crops Show and meetings are held, and the poultry show will be in the large stock annex, a new building being erected just east of the two larger buildings—the Armory and the live stock pavilion—and will be connected by passageways with each building.

It is expected that arrangements will be effected for running a special train between Detroit and Crookston and return on the North Pacific, and on the Great Northern from Thief River Falls to Crookston and return. It is also probable that special trains will be run, leaving Crookston the evening of the big live stock sale, Wednesday, Feb. 12, to get people home on the lines going to Moorhead and going to Glyndon on account of the regular trains on these two lines leaving too early to permit of taking in the evening program.

The Times has been requested by the Farm Crops Show management to extend to all returned soldiers and sailors of this vicinity a cordial invitation to visit the Farm Crops and Stock Show on complimentary admissions. Officers and directors of the several organizations connected with the Farm Crops and Stock Show have been furnished with admission cards for soldiers and sailors or they may be obtained by addressing C. H. Zealand, secretary of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, Crookston, and enclosing anything that will satisfactorily evidence that the writer is a returned soldier or sailor.

The Farm Crops Show management announces that a special committee has been at work making arrangements that will insure ample accommodations for all who will wish to remain over night. It is urged, however, that reservations be made before going to Crookston, or if not before going, rooms should be reserved immediately on arrival as it is more or less of a troublesome matter to locate rooms in the late evening.

Undergo Operations.

Mrs. Ole C. Evenson, wife of one of the warehousemen at the Thief River Grocery company's plant, was taken to the Physicians hospital last week, an operation for appendicitis being found necessary. She is reported as getting along well at this time and out of danger.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Carl Olson, wife of the foreman at the shipping room, was stricken with the same complaint and taken to the hospital. An operation was also performed in her case and she is apparently on a safe way to recovery.

This has naturally taken hands away from this business to some extent and to make the labor shortage at the wholesale house more acute George Templin, another shipping room man, is down with the quincy.

Mrs. O. Brenan returned Saturday to her home at Middle River, after a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Gustafson, of this city.

Build a Building

OUR PEOPLE, BOTH IN THE CITY AND COUNTRY, HAVE PATRIOTICALLY MET EVERY DEMAND AND REQUEST OF THE GOVERNMENT DURING THE WAR. NOW ANOTHER AND EVEN MORE IMPORTANT SUGGESTION IS ADVANCED. IT IS THIS:

Carry Out Every Contemplated Building Operation
NOW!

This will mean work for our returning soldiers. It will insure a speedy adjustment of all after-the-war labor problems. It will mean getting the country back on a peaceful and productive basis in the shortest possible time.

We ask you to read the article on this building subject on this page of The Times. The editor is simply following the lead of observant men all over the country in urging that any contemplated building undertaking be entered upon this spring. You will gain nothing by delaying and are almost certain to be money out.

Build a Building Now

And let us help you with the plans. Our experience is at your service. We are equipped to furnish you with everything you may need for any kind of a building, but whether you buy our supplies or not, DO NOT DELAY IN GETTING TO WORK. We have studied building conditions for years and KNOW that there will be no better opportunity later on. Materials are liable to be higher before they go lower, so act at once. By so doing you will be serving your country and protecting yourself.

AN UNTIMELY RETREAT.

It looks as if the people of Thief River Falls were going to back away from the paving proposition and permit the entire program to go by default. The few who are opposed to the plan are always on hand and most energetic in their attempts to prove that the work should not be undertaken. On the other hand, the far-sighted progressives seem inclined to let the matter rest, satisfied that they have advanced a meritorious measure as far as possible at this time.

The city council, while not actually saying so, acts as though the enterprise might as well be considered dead, at least for the present. The members were ready to go ahead with the preliminary work, leaving the actual paving to be taken care of when conditions were right, but even this proposition received so little backing on the part of the citizens that the administration could hardly be blamed for not wishing to shoulder the responsibility.

All of which is too bad. There are so many sound and unanswerable arguments to be advanced in favor of undertaking the work at this time that the victory of the obstructionists is absolutely unearned. Everyone admitted that the streets should have been paved long ago and even went so far as to say they were sorry the matter had not been attended to, but they were afraid of the cost at this time. They lost sight of the fact that it is doubtful if material will go much lower for many years to come and that the employment of labor at high wages is something that every American citizen should wish at this particular juncture. Evidently these people never took time to figure that as soon as labor and materials become cheap everything else must follow suit. When wages go down business must suffer and it will make less difference whether or not the streets are paved. There will be no money in circulation in that event and consequently no object in making the town attractive to visitors, while business men and others will have to be satisfied with things as they are or compelled to see them grow worse.

Every citizen should be anxious to see good wages everywhere. One way to insure such condition is to provide plenty of work. If every city in the land sets itself against improvement it will mean just so much more labor thrown into other fields with the result that wages must come down. So well is this known that the Government has requested states, counties and cities generally to get every possible improvement under way during the next couple of years. The work will be needed in order that the wage scale shall be maintained at a reasonable level when the readjustments incident to demobilization are to be faced. It is even suggested that legislative bodies embark upon undertakings not absolutely necessary at this time in order to meet the situation. Better put a mortgage on the future than fill the country with idle men.

Paving our streets would be but a single drop in the bucket as a labor factor, it is true, but if every city in the land followed the course taken here there would be trouble. The decision to abandon the proposition at this time is to be refretted, no matter from what angle the subject is viewed.

THAT WHEAT GUARANTEE.

Even right here in the wheat-growing Northwest there are people quite seriously concerned over the possibility of the government's losing money by reason of keeping faith with the farmers on the wheat price guarantee. They do not go so far as to say that the guarantee should not be lived up to, but regard the outlook as omnious nevertheless. They are very foolish for borrowing so much trouble.

The Saturday Evening Post is not printed in a wheat-growing region. Neither is that publication interested particularly in boosting the farmers' side of the proposition at the expense of the rest of the country. What it says on the subject may therefore be taken as the unbiased opinion of observers whose sole and particular ambition it is to see that anything printed and for which they are responsible is as near right as possible. The following may consequently be of some assistance in calming the fears of those who see only financial disaster ahead unless the government breaks faith with the farmer. The article appeared as an editorial in last week's Post:

"A good many people are excited over the wheat outlook. Do not join them yet awhile. The Government has guaranteed two dollars and twenty-six cents for every bushel harvested in the United States next summer. A big area was seeded last fall. No doubt a big area will be seeded next spring. If it all comes through to the threshing machine in good condition there will be a big crop—a billion bushels or more. Australasia has available wheat, now that shipping restrictions are relaxing. India will have wheat to spare. Europe may harvest more wheat next summer than last. Wheat in the open market may be worth only a dollar and a quarter a bushel. Buying the American crop at two-twenty-six may let the Government in for a billion-dollar loss.

"But a long, melancholy procession of gentlemen have gone broke figuring on the wheat harvest after the grain was knee-high, and part of our crop has not even been planted yet. It will be eight months, with multitudinous chances of bugs and weather, before the last of it is cut.
